COP STRENGTH AT PSEs TO BE RAISED

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, August 7: Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik Friday gave his go-ahead to a plan for rationalisation of 905 posts in Odisha Police and creation of six police stations in various districts, a release from CMO said.

The state government's decision to increase the staff strength at police stations will enable PSEs to deliver efficient citizen-centric services and control crime efficiently.

A significant decline in Maoist menace due to security force's response and developmental activities in the infested areas has enabled the state police to re-deploy manpower in police stations in other areas.

The CM had recently directed the DGP to make more personnel available at police stations by way of rationalisation.

The CM also approved the creation of six new police stations in various districts by bifurcating existing police stations. And the existing PSEs that are to be bifurcated are Khandagiri PS, Angul town PS, Jharsuguda town PS, Bhanjanagar PS, Bhadrak (rural) PS, Bhadrak and Tihidi PSEs.

The rationalisation will make a difference in strengthening 220 police stations and six outposts in 21 police districts in the state, the release said.

Director General of Police Abhay through his official twitter handle, thanked the Chief Minister for sanctioning 905 new posts at 220 police stations across the state.

Meanwhile, Commissioner of Police Sudhanshu Sarangi, in a press briefing, expressed his gratitude to the CM for formally giving his approval for establishment of a police station at Bharatpur and increase the cops' strength at 16 police stations and one outpost in the Commissionerate Police.

The new police station at Bharatpur, carved out of Khandagiri police station, will have six sub-inspectors, three assistant sub-inspectors, 21 constables along with an inspector in-charge.

Locals in Khandagiri area have been demanding upgradation of the outpost at Bharatpur into a full-fledged police station.

Similarly, the cops' strength in Balipatna PS, Chandaka, Nayapali, Chandrasekharpur, Airfield, Baliana, Mancheswar, Lingaraj, Jatni, police stations has been increased. The staff strength at Banamalipur outpost under Balipatna police station has been increased too.

Hockey skipper tests Covid +ve

AGENCIES

Bangalore, August 7: Indian national men's hockey team skipper Manpreet Singh, along with three of his teammates, has tested positive for coronavirus after reporting to the national camp in Sports Authority of India's National Centre of Excellence here. This was revealed since as a proactive step, SAI made it mandatory for all athletes, who reported back to the camp to take a rapid COVID-19 test upon arrival. Since all the athletes who tested positive had travelled together, there is a high likelihood that they contracted the virus while travelling from their hometowns to SAI, Bangalore.

All four tested negative in the rapid test. However, since Manpreet and Surender began to display virus symptoms later, they along with other 10 athletes who had travelled together were given the Quantitative RT-PCR test Thursday and the four have been found to be positive. Though the test results have still not been handed over to SAI, the state government has informed the test results to the SAI.

Road safety classes in schools from this year

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, August 7: With an aim to curb fatalities on roads by creating awareness among school students, the state government has included road safety in the textbooks of students between Class-V and Class IX.

Students will learn basic road safety rules and regulations like wearing helmets, seatbelts while driving, driving on left side, among others. The government has already included road safety as a topic in the curriculum of teacher's training programmes being imparted at existing teachers' training institutes. From next academic year, the topic will come up in Class-X syllabus. The government has also decided to observe Road Safety

Day in schools once in a week. This day will feature painting, quiz and debate competitions on road safety among students.

"We have included road safety in the school curriculum. Students will learn it in schools from Class-V to Class IX. However, it may change as new education policy-2020 has come into effect. Following the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), we will revise our entire school curriculum," said director of State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT) Gangadhar Sahoo.

Similarly, community education programmes will be conducted in roadside villages with an aim to train 3,500 participants at regular intervals. To provide critical care to accident victims, the government also planned to set up trauma care centres (TCCs) in each of 30 districts. So far eight have been made functional.

Fatalities on roads have not stopped even during lockdowns. At least 360 people were killed only in April and May. As police personnel are busy in Covid management duty, it was decided to strengthen enforcement activities by RTO officials, sources said.

To check technical problems on roads, the transport department has conducted audit of all roads. The concerned agency has also recommended necessary measures to fix it. Out of 2,946 km length of national highways under the PWD, audit recommendations have been implemented for 475 km. Each year, 500 km road will be modified.

Rlys to end Rajera Khalasi system; no fresh hiring

AGENCIES

New Delhi, August 7: The Railways is set to end a colonial-era practise of appointing khalasis or 'bungalow peons' who worked at the residences of senior officials, following an order from the Railway Board barring any new appointment to the post.

In an order issued August 6, the Railway Board has said the issue regarding telephone attendant-cum-dak khalasis (TADKs) is under review.

"The issue regarding the appointment of TADK is under review in Railway Board. It has, therefore, been decided that any appointment of fresh face substitutes as TADK should not either be processed or made with immediate effect. Further, all cases approved for such appointments since 1st July 2020 may be reviewed and position advised to Board. This may be complied with strictly in all railway establishments," the order said. Upon joining railways as temporary staff, TADKs become Group D staff following a screening process after a period of around three years.

In earlier days, officers posted in remote areas or working in the field during odd hours would be provided a TADK to ensure security for his family as well as do odd official work like take phone calls or ferry files. These TADK staff would usually become ticket examiners, porters, mechanics for air-conditioned coaches and cooks in the running room. However, over the years, the role was relegated to that of domestic helps and then to office peons, officials said. Amid complaints of abuse and ill treatment, the Railways had ordered a review of the post.

SERUM INSTITUTE TO PRODUCE 100M DOSES OF COVID VACCINE FOR INDIA & LMICS

AGENCIES

New Delhi, August 7: Serum Institute of India (SII), the world's largest vaccine manufacturer by volume, has entered into a new landmark partnership with Gavi, The Vaccine Alliance and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, to accelerate the manufacture and delivery of up to 100 million doses of COVID-19 vaccines for India and low-and middle-income countries (LMICs).

The collaboration will provide upfront capital to SII to help them increase manufacturing capacity now so that, once a vaccine, or vaccines, gains regulatory approval and WHO prequalification, doses can be produced at scale for distribution to India and LMIC as part of the Gavi COVAX AMC mechanism as early as the first half of 2021.

The funding will support at-risk manufacturing by SII for candidate vaccines from AstraZeneca and Novavax, which will be available for procurement if they are successful in attaining full licensure and WHO Prequalification. SII has set an affordable ceiling price of $3 per dose. The arrangement also provides an option to secure additional doses if the vaccines pillar of the ACT

Accelerator sees a need for it.

"In an attempt to make our fight against COVID-19 stronger and all-embracing; SII has partnered with Gavi and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to advance the manufacturing and delivery of up to 100 million doses of future COVID vaccines for India and low and middle income countries in 2021," said

Adar Poonawalla, CEO of Serum Institute of India.

"The rampant spread of the virus has rendered the entire world in an unimaginable halt of uncertainty. And to ensure maximum immunization coverage and contain the pandemic, it is important to make sure that the most remote and poorest countries of the world have access to affordable cure and preventive measures. Through this association, we seek to ramp up our constant efforts to save the lives of millions of people from this dreadful disease."

SII shares a long history of successful partnerships with Gavi and pharmaceutical companies to manufacture vaccines that protect against meningitis, severe diarrhea, pneumonia and measles. This collaboration further underscores India's proven-track record in developing safe and quality vaccines.

Renu Swarup, Secretary, Department of Biotechnology said, "India has a proven track record of manufacturing safe and cost-effective vaccines not only for India, but for the world. Over the last decade, Government of India has encouraged innovation, and supported the Indian vaccine industry to manufacture high quality, affordable indigenous tools and products to benefit India and the world. We are very happy to see SII enter this global partnership to respond to the global health crisis posed by Covid-19."

NITI picks 6 ideas from state's aspirational dists

POST NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi, August 7: In order to promote innovative ideas in backward districts across the country, the NITI Aayog has compiled a series of best practices implemented by several aspirational districts, including six from Odisha.

According to NITI Aayog, sharing of best practices and their subsequent replication by other districts form the very edifice of cooperative federalism model that aspirational district program seeks to promote. Instead of expecting every district to reinvent the wheel, dissemination of such innovative ideas allows them to learn from each other and provides a head start in finding solutions to common problems.

The NITI Aayog has selected the practice of bike ambulance, auto ambulance and delivery van to promote institutional deliveries in Kandhamal district of Odisha. Being a tribal area, traditional healing systems are given more importance over institutional systems leading to several deaths. To bring the community on board, the district doubled its efforts for increasing the demand and supply side interventions. Five 'Bike Ambulances' and 11 'Janani Auto vehicles' were deployed in remote pockets. Seven Maternity Waiting Homes (MWHs)

Bringing all pregnant women together at these hospitals resulted in discussions regarding their lifestyle, food habits and sharing of experiences.

In order to reduce the infant and maternal death, 'Ama Sankalpa Rath Yatras' were organised to spread message about precautionary measures for maternal and child health in Rayagada aspirational district of Odisha.

In Koraput, the incidents of Malaria-related deaths were very high due to hilly terrain, forest cover, inadequate health facility coverage and low education levels. To combat this, Mission API-10 was launched July 15, 2017. The two main interventions under API-10 include use of Long Lasting Insecticidal Nets (LLINs) coupled with supply side interventions, complemented by bottom-up incentives and nudges such as 'bell ringing' as reminders to use nets and night patrolling by ASHA/AWW/Volunteers. This initiative to create awareness about malaria has brought down the Annual Parasite Incidence (API) to 2 in the affected area.

To promote quality education in Gajapati aspirational district, the state government has launched 'Teach Gajapati' campaign under the 'Mo School' Abhiyaan. It is an initiative where the alumni of respective schools, interested public and community at large, participate in the overall development of schools.

In order to provide potable water to households in hilly and tribal regions of Kalahandi district, water from springs is collected and distributed for drinking and irrigation purposes through gravity flow system taking advantage of the undulating terrain. Perennial stream water is harnessed in an elevated zone and utilising gravity power, water is brought to the lower-level through PVC pipe along with contours, intermittent outlets and controlling devices.

Konark man cremated after 15 hours for COVID-19 fear

POST NEWS NETWORK/AGENCIES

Bhubaneswar, August 7: State Friday registered its highest single-day spike in novel coronavirus cases as 1,833 more people tested positive for the infection, while the death toll soared to 247 as 12 more patients succumbed to the disease, an official of Health and Family Welfare (H&FW) department said.

The new infections reported from 29 of the 30 districts have pushed the state's coronavirus caseload to 42,550, added the official.

As many as 1,118 new cases were reported from quarantine centres, while 715 people tested positive for the infection during contact tracing exercise, said the official.

Khurda district, which includes Bhubaneswar, reported 298 fresh cases - the highest so far - followed by Ganjam (279), Rayagada (152), Cuttack (124) and Sundargarh (110), the official said, adding that the remaining districts registered less than 100 fresh infections each.

Ganjam and Sundargarh districts registered three fatalities each, while Mayurbhanj, Kendrapara, Sambalpur, Bhadrak, Dhenkanal and Gajapati reported one death each. Mayurbhanj and Dhenkanal registered their first COVID-19 deaths, the official pointed out.

Meanwhile, the state registered an all-time high single-day recovery of 1,810 patients, Friday.

The recoveries include 700 from Ganjam, 202 from Khurda, 147 from Cuttack, 136 from Gajapati, 116 from Dhenkanal and 106 from Sundargarh. With this, the total recovered cases of Odisha stand at 28,697.

The state, Thursday, tested a record number of 16,055 samples for COVID-19, taking the total number of tests conducted so far to 6,16,646, the official added.

While Bolangir with a report of 588 COVID positive cases declared a complete shutdown for four days, Nabarangpur district with 342 cases, declared three-day shutdown in the district.

The state government has already declared weekend shutdowns in Ganjam, Khurda, Cuttack and Gajapati districts besides the steel city of Rourkela during the August following a rise in virus cases.

Bhubaneswar, August 7: The body of a 25-year-old man was left unattended at his residence at Mankaragoradi village in Konark for more than 15 hours as relatives and villagers stayed away suspecting him as COVID-19 infected, officials said Friday.

The man had died Wednesday and his family was forced to arrange PPE kits and other protective gear before the body could be taken to the cremation ground on the outskirts of the village.

None was ready to carry his body on their shoulders as is the practice for fear of contracting the disease. His body was instead carried to the local cremation ground in a cycle cart the next day. The last rites were performed Thursday afternoon, the officials said.

According to sources, Vichitra Rout, a tractor driver in the area, had been suffering from high fever for the past few days and was diagnosed to be afflicted with typhoid. Rout was asked by the community health centre where he was being treated to undergo the COVID-19 test, his family members said.

Rout was the sole breadwinner of the family.

He was referred to the district headquarters hospital in Puri for the test but when he was taken there August 4, work at its outpatient department had been suspended as some health workers there had contracted coronavirus. Rout was therefore referred to a hospital in Bhubaneswar. However, he died Wednesday before arrangements could be made by his family for taking him to the Capital City, they said.

By then, rumour had spread in the area that he had fallen prey to COVID-19 and the villagers shunned the family. Even the relatives showed reluctance in making arrangements for the last rites and none came forward to help the family.

Konark Notified Area Council (NAC) executive officer M Srinivas said that when he came to know about the plight of the family he sent some officials with PPE kits to the village. The NAC officials convinced the villagers to arrange for the last rites by taking the required safeguards.

Srinivas said the doctor who was treating the man had informed them that Rout was suffering from typhoid for a long time and had prolonged fever. However, the man died before the COVID tests could be done and it was not confirmed whether he was infected with coronavirus.

The hesitant relatives agreed to help in the cremation after they were given PPE kits. The villagers, however, kept off.

The body was wrapped in a plastic sheet and taken to the cremation ground on a cycle cart by his cautious relatives in PPEs, their faces covered with masks and gloves on their hands. Only some close relatives were present during the cremation, Srinivas said.

Low-key Ganesh Puja in Silver City this year

POST NEWS NETWORK

Cuttack, August 7: This year the Silver City will observe the Ganesh Puja in a simple manner, said Cuttack Mahanagar Shanti Committee Friday.

As per the decision taken by the Committee, the Puja panels in the city won't opt for big tableaux to celebrate the Ganesh Puja. The Puja committees have been asked to worship the clay idols of Lord Ganesh at their permanent pandals. They cannot erect temporary pandals on public places to observe Ganesh Puja.

Moreover, the Puja committees have been told to immerse the idols in nearby local bodies. The Mahanagar Shanti Committee has also imposed restrictions on grand processions during the immersion of idols. In a related development, the Shanti Committee has also issued a guideline for Durga Puja panels in the city to collect holy soil for shaping of idols. "Only five persons from each Durga Puja committee in the city can collect the holy soil on the occasion of Janmashtami. We will take decisions on the organisation of this year's Durga, Kali and Kartikeswar Puja by considering the Covid-19 pandemic situation in later stage," said an office bearer of the Shanti Committee.

The Shanti Committee, meanwhile, urged Durga Puja panels in the city not to book any orchestra or cultural troupe in advance for this year's Dussehra celebration.

"The Covid-19 positive cases in the city are rising day-by-day. We have asked clubs and Puja committees to organise Ganesh Puja in a simple way. They have been asked to follow social distancing and other precautionary measures strictly during the festivals," said the Shanti Committee office bearer.

Tiger repopulation project in Satkosia comes a cropper

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bantala, August 7: Satkosia sanctuary is one of 50 tiger conservation projects in the country.

But, the sanctuary is allegedly losing its significance due to lack of safety and management in the tiger conservation efforts. The ambitious tiger repopulation project in the sanctuary by way of relocation has not been successful. This has posed a question mark on the future of the sanctuary.

The forest department has not yet found out any plausible reason for the vanishing of tigers and failure of the repopulation effort. The tiger repopulation, which was launched in 1980, has flopped due to lack of coordination among the stakeholders from the government departments to local populace.

It was learnt that the forest and tourism departments have not really extended proper coordination in the matter of tiger conservation, hamlet relocation from inside the sanctuary and improvement in livelihood of locals.

It is worthy to mention that when tigress Sundari had killed a man, the department could not even arrange a vehicle and public address system to carry out awareness drive among the people.

At that time, a group, keeping in mind the elections, had reportedly opposed the tiger repopulation effort. As a result, the forest department could not take right step in this direction.

Though Satkosia hosts a perfect setting for tiger conservation, lacunae in conservation efforts, management and coordination among all stakeholders - community, line departments, political leaders, conservationists, researchers, experts and social activists - have been real culprits for its failure

CONSERVATION MESS

Two years ago, the state government had welcomed a tiger and a tigress - Mahavir and Sundari - under India's first inter-state tiger relocation project. In the summer of 2018, the tiger Mahavir was relocated from Panna Tiger Reserve in Madhya Pradesh to the Satkosia. A few days later, tigress Sundari was also sent to Satkosia from MP's Bandhavgarh. Mahavir died some months later

In 2004, the department's census had put the number of tigers in Satkosia at 18 while the number of leopard was 32. Sadly, these big cats were found to have vanished over the years, but the department has no answer as to how they disappeared

In 2009, a tigress was shot at by poachers. It died while being treated at Nandankanan Zoological Park. One had escaped from Satkosia and intruded into Nandankanan.

The sad part is that the department is clueless about what happened to the 16 other tigers.

It was learnt that tigers have survived in 18 states in the country while their population has increased in 12 states. Worryingly, their population has sharply plummeted in six states, including Odisha.

Big cat population has declined in two tiger projects in Odisha. The situation in Satkosia is disheartening.

Given the lush green environment and ecology of Satkosia, then Union Environment Minister Kamal Nath had proposed for tiger conservation and biosphere projects.

Though Satkosia hosts a perfect setting for tiger conservation, lacunae in conservation efforts, management and coordination among all stakeholders - community, line departments, political leaders, conservationists, researchers, experts and social activists - have been real culprits for its failure.

Some experts observed that there is need for formation of an advisory committee for Satkosia sanctuary, annual review meetings on tiger conservation efforts, formation of a district-level committee to look after ecotourism boost and formation of forums for Vana Surakhya Samitis.

Besides, there was a note of discord among the officials from the top to the bottom level.

Two years ago, the state government had welcomed a tiger and a tigress - Mahavir and Sundari - under India's first inter-state tiger relocation project. In the summer of 2018, the tiger Mahavir was relocated from Panna Tiger Reserve in Madhya Pradesh to the Satkosia. A few days later, tigress Sundari was also sent to Satkosia from MP's Bandhavgarh. Mahavir died some months later. At that time, the department could not properly probe into the real cause of its death.

In December last year, the National Tiger Conservation Authority had asked the Odisha government to send back Sundari from Satkosia and accused the forest and wildlife department of making a mess of the monitoring and management of the relocated tigress.

It was said that though shifting of the tigress has been delayed due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the National Tiger Conservation Authority would begin the process in a month after assessing the situation.

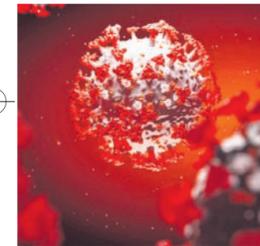

In 2004, the department's census had put the number of tigers in Satkosia at 18 while the number of leopard was 32.

Sadly, these big cats were found to have vanished over the years, but the department has no answer as to how they disappeared.

Deepa had come in contact with retired doctor Bijaya Kumar Pradhan a few days back. Pradhan had been staying with his brother near a local temple here and was working as a private practitioner.

Taking advantage of the doctor's simplicity, Deepa approached Pradhan for buying an insurance policy. He also informed Pradhan that he can pay in easy installments. After gaining the doctor's confidence, Deepa managed to withdraw the said amount from the former's bank account in 15 installments.

After the matter came to light, Pradhan lodged a written complaint at the Talcher town police station. Acting on the FIR, police arrested Deepa and a registered a case against her.

Dhenkanal localities waterlogged due to poor drainage

POST NEWS NETWORK

Dhenkanal, August 7: With no stormwater drainage system in place, even light rains leave people residing in Town Planning area and left side of Karigar Sahi under Dhenkanal municipality waterlogged.

The residents alleged that their repeated pleas have fallen on deaf ears of the civic body officers.

About 500 families reside in Town Planning area and over 400 families in left side of Karigar Sahi. Both these places are devoid of drainage facility. Despite the fact that the residents of these two areas have been demanding for stormwater drainage facility in their respective areas, the municipality is yet to take any step to address the issue.

At times, people engage water pumps on their own to pump out water from their localities.

The low pressure-induced rain that continued for two days - Wednesday and Thursday - recently put the residents through a lot of difficulties. Stormwater carrying all sorts of garbage from nearby areas accumulated in those two localities.

The water even entered houses of many residents.

"We had to relocate some of our furniture and other items. At a time when coronavirus is taking its toll, such a situation makes our lives more vulnerable," alleged a senior citizen from the locality.

"This place is inundated even after a little shower confining us to our houses. We have to wade through knee-deep water. We had taken up the issue with the district administration and municipality officers, but to no avail. If no immediate step is taken, we will file a PIL," said Bahadur Patsahani, a resident.

Municipality engineer Rashmita Mishra, said, "We have decided to increase the height of the culvert at Town Planning area.

Elephant shelter home for Sambalpur

POST NEWS NETWORK

Sambalpur, August 7: The forest department in Sambalpur district is planning to set up a 10-acre shelter home for wild elephants at Jujumura far away from human settlement.

According to forest officials, there are many elephants in the jungle who are rejected by their herds owing to old age and many baby elephants who are suffering from various difficulties in the jungle after losing their mother elephants.

To save these elephants the forest department will open an elephant shelter home at Jujumura, said DFO Sanjit Kumar. This will be the first of its kind shelter home in western Odisha, Kumar added.

Kumar said various NGOs along with state government and central government are helping the forest department for the security of elephants. At the shelter home, a rescue centre will be made functional in a bid to provide security to old, baby and injured elephants.

PCCF, Wildlife, Bhubaneswar, Harishankar Upadhyaya, had visited two places in Sambalpur in this context and selected the bare land at Jujumura for the construction of the shelter home.

In the first phase, Rs 50 crore will be spent on construction of the shelter home.

In the shelter home, the forest department will plant various types of trees including bamboo to give the jumbos a homely atmosphere. For drinking water, the forest department will dig a big pond as well.

A small veterinary hospital will also be made functional for the treatment of sick elephants. The department has written a letter to the state government seeking permission for employment of a veterinary doctor. The baby elephants are fully dependant on their mother's milk until they are two years old. Some trained workers will be deployed at the shelter home to ensure that baby elephants are taken care of.

The baby elephants will be released into the wild after attaining adulthood. The forest officials will take care of the safety of the elephants in the shelter home through a mobile application and tracking system.

Farmer stumbles upon ancient gold coin

POST NEWS NETWORK

Jajpur, August 7: A farmer found a gold coin from his farmland at Radhanagar village under Dharmasala block in Jajpur district.

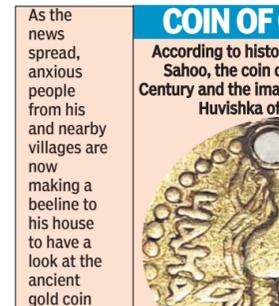

Benudhar Nayak was ploughing his farmland Wednesday when he stumbled upon the coin. Nayak at first kept his discovery a secret but later confided in some of the elderly villagers.

As the news spread, anxious people from his and nearby villages are now making a beeline to his house to have a look at the ancient gold coin.

The coin weighs about 7.5 gram with an image of a royal holding a torch embossed on one side of it. And the other side has a figure of an animal. It also has two holes punched on it. According to historian Nrusingha Charan Sahoo, the coin dates back to the 2nd Century and the image of the royal is of King Huvishka of Kushan Empire.

According to reports, earlier many coins of gold and silver and several other items including earthen ware were also discovered from Radhanagar during an excavation by the Odisha Institute of Maritime and South East Asian Studies (OIMSEAS).

FOCUS TECHNOLOGY

TWO SIDES OF ROBOTS

The robots are no longer coming; they are here. The Covid-19 pandemic is hastening the spread of artificial intelligence (AI), but few have fully considered the short and long run consequences.

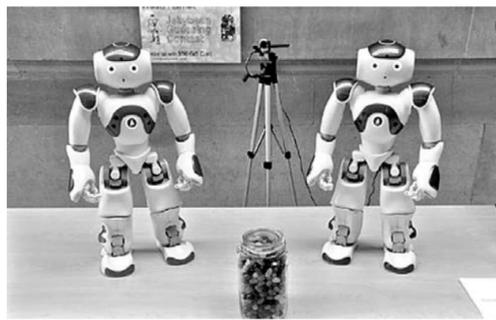

In thinking about AI, it is natural to start from the perspective of welfare economics – productivity and distribution. What are the economic effects of robots that can replicate human labour? Such concerns are not new. In the 19th Century, many feared that new mechanical and industrial innovations would ‘replace’ workers. The same concerns are being echoed today.

Consider a model of a national economy in which the labour performed by robots matches that performed by humans. The total volume of labour – robotic and human – will reflect the number of human workers, H, plus the number of robots, R. Here, the robots are additive – they add to the labour force rather than multiplying human productivity. To complete the model in the simplest way, suppose the economy has just one sector, and that aggregate output is produced by capital and total labour, human and robotic. This output provides for the country’s consumption, with the rest going toward investment, thus increasing the capital stock.

What is the initial economic impact when these additive robots arrive? Elementary economics shows that an increase in total labour relative to initial capital – a drop in the capital-labour ratio – causes wages to drop and profits to rise.

There are three points to add. First, the results would be magnified if the additive robots were created from refashioned capital goods. That would yield the same increase in total labour, with a commensurate reduction in the capital stock, but the drop in the wage rate and the increase in the rate of profit would be greater.

Second, nothing would change if we adopted the Austrian School’s two-sector framework in which labour produces the capital good

The general public tends to assume that robotisation (and automation generally) leads to a permanent disappearance of jobs, and thus to the immiseration of the working class. But such fears are exaggerated and the capital good produces the consumer good. The arrival of robots still would decrease the capital-labour ratio, as it did in the one-sector scenario.

Third, there is a striking parallel between the model’s additive robots and newly arrived immigrants in their impact on native workers. By pushing down the capital-labour ratio, immigrants, too, initially cause wages to drop and profits to rise. But it should be noted that with the rate of profit elevated, the rate of investment will rise. Owing to the law of diminishing returns, that additional investment will drive down the profit rate until it has fallen back to normal.

At this point, the capital-labour ratio will be back to where it was before the robots arrived, and the wage rate will be pulled back up.

To be sure, the general public tends to assume that robotisation (and automation generally) leads to a permanent disappearance of jobs, and thus to the immiseration of the working class. But such fears are exaggerated. The two models described above abstract from the familiar technological progress that drives up productivity and wages, making it reasonable to anticipate that the global economy will sustain some level of growth in labour productivity and compensation per worker.

True, sustained robotisation would leave wages on a lower path than they otherwise would have taken, which would create social and political problems. It may prove desirable, as Bill Gates once suggested, to levy taxes on income from robot labour, just as countries levy taxes on income from human labour. This idea deserves careful consideration. But fears of prolonged robotisation appear unrealistic. If robotic labour increased at a non-vanishing pace, it would run into limits of space, atmosphere, and so on.

Moreover, AI has brought not just ‘additive’ robots but also ‘multiplicative’ robots that enhance workers’ productivity. Some multiplicative robots enable people to work faster or more effectively (as in AI-assisted surgery), while others help people complete tasks they otherwise could not perform.

The arrival of multiplicative robots need not lead to a lengthy recession of aggregate employment and wages. Yet, like additive robots, they have their ‘downsides.’ Many AI applications are not entirely safe. The obvious example is self-driving cars, which can (and have) run into pedestrians or other cars. But, of course, so do human drivers.

A society is not wrong, in principle, to deploy robots that are prone to occasional mistakes, just as we tolerate airplane pilots who are not perfect. We must judge costs and benefits. For efficiency, people ought to have the right to sue robots’ owners for damages. Inevitably, a society will feel uncomfortable with new methods that introduce ‘uncertainty.’

From the perspective of ethics, the interface with AI involves ‘imperfect’ and ‘asymmetric’ information. As Wendy Hall of the University of Southampton says, amplifying Nicholas Beale, “We can’t just rely on AI systems to act ethically because their objectives seem ethically neutral.”

Indeed, some new devices can cause serious harm. Implantable chips for cognitive enhancement, for example, can cause irreversible tissue damage in the brain. The question, then, is whether laws and procedures can be instituted to protect people from a reasonable degree of harm. Barring that, many are calling on Silicon Valley companies to establish their own ‘ethics committees.’

All of this reminds me of the criticism leveled at innovations throughout the history of free-market capitalism. One such critique, the book Gemeinschaft und Gesellschaft by sociologist Ferdinand Tönnies, ultimately became influential in Germany in the 1920s and led to the ‘corporatism’ arising there and in Italy in the interwar period – thus bringing an end to the market economy in those countries.

Clearly, how we address the problems raised by AI will be highly consequential. But they are not yet present on a wide scale, and they are not the main cause of the dissatisfaction and resulting polarisation that have gripped the West.

Sushant for political games

This looks like a nightmarish end to federalism as we know it. Actor Sushant Singh Rajput’s tragic death has turned into a deplorable political one-upmanship. The unprecedented face-off between Bihar Police and Mumbai Police on the investigation of the suicide has far-reaching consequences. Many experts are of the view that sending a team of Bihar Police personnel to Mumbai after Rajput’s father filed an FIR demanding a probe into the “crime” was out of step. In India, police is a state subject and crimes are investigated by the police depending on where they occurred. If states start to interfere and go after crimes committed against their citizens in another state, we have a recipe for disaster. With the further likely addition of the CBI into this pot, the stew has grown thicker.

Had some worthies shown some prudence, we wouldn’t have had to see the DGPs of the two states slinging at each other on the TV news. TV newsrooms or Twitter are not the place to conduct a serious investigation into the death of a popular actor.

The case has grown much bigger with the respective state governments getting into the ring. Bihar CM has given his nod for a CBI probe, bowing to pressure from the actor’s family, while Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray is refusing to give in to the demand. Both chief ministers have decided to stand by their police chiefs. The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has also opened an investigation into alleged money laundering. It is pretty much a no-holds-barred affair now, teetering dangerously on the edge of turning into a farce.

None of this would have merited so much focus and energy were it not for the spectre of Assembly elections in Bihar, due in October. The Bihari “sentiment” seems to have taken the front stage, a thinly veiled euphemism for votes. The politicisation of the police is one of those vexed issues that no amount of reforms has been able to deal with. The recent Vikas Dubey encounter and the police custodial deaths in Sathankulam town near Thoothukudi in Tamil Nadu are already forgotten. The Sushant case will likely drag on until it is convenient for the powers that be. But sadly, if this lack of restraint and willful flouting of procedures by the police persists, it will end badly for the country.

BABUDOM BYTES
Dilip Cherian

The repatriation of Niti Aayog Advisor Alok Kumar to his cadre state Uttar Pradesh has set tongues wagging. Barely less than two months ago, the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet had given Kumar a one-year extension of tenure at the think tank. He was relieved July 31.

The government’s U-turn has left many observers bemused. Some say that since the UP government had agreed to an extension for Kumar in May, it is unlikely that it would recall the 1993-batch IAS officer. This then implies that the Centre’s U-turn may have been caused by some rift among the higher-ups in Delhi over the babu. The buzz is that there are some differences between the Niti Aayog and the Health Ministry over policy matters, and possibly Kumar was in the middle of the spat. But that may not be the only reason, certainly not enough to warrant this U-turn. After all, Kumar was reportedly handling the majority of the key assignments at the nation’s premier think tank. We may never know.

However, observers believe that Kumar’s unexpected exit from Niti Aayog will cast a cloud over the empanelment of 1993 batch IAS officers for additional secretary-level posts at the Centre.

WORDSWORTH

Tantivy

This archaic British English word for riding at full gallop has strong associations with the hunting field. Those dictionaries that mention it say it imitates the sound of the hooves of galloping horses, but I can’t help but feel that a better origin lies in the three notes of the huntsman’s horn when rallying the riders, one that is echoed in a hunting song of 1787 by the Irish dramatist John O’Keefe: “With a hey, ho, chivy / Hark forward, hark forward, tantivy”. [chivy or chevy is another old hunting cry.] A once-common figurative usage was to ride tantivy, to go at something full speed or headlong, of which a late example appears in Australia Felix by Henry Handel Richardson (1917): “He was of a nature to ride tantivy into anything that promised excitement or adventure.” A century earlier, the ubiquitous Sir Walter Scott had a character say in Peveril of the Peak, published 1824: “There are those amongst us who ride tantivy to Rome, and have already made out half the journey”. This used the word in another sense, of a nickname given to high churchmen and Tories in the years after the Restoration of the monarchy in 1660.

Taphonomist

“Change and decay in all around I see”, hymned Henry Francis Lyte in Abide With Me. Nobody is more conscious of that than a taphonomist. The word was found in a dystopian SF book, Zero Point by Neal Asher, in which a future dictator used computer technology to simultaneously kill off eight billion human beings and then had to work out what to do with the bodies. Asher defined the word as a specialist who studies the decomposition of dead organisms. That’s pretty much correct, though there’s more to it and the timescales can vary hugely. A sub-discipline, forensic taphonomy, takes a relatively short-term view, looking into ways in which human remains decay through natural processes as a way to guide police investigations – you may have heard of macabre studies in which corpses are left out in the open so their decomposition can be studied.

SPECTRUM HEALTH

Who takes what from govt in healthcare

Bharat Jhunjhunwala

THE DOCTORS TREATING COVID PATIENTS ARE FORCED TO MAKE A CHOICE BETWEEN WHO WILL LIVE AND WHO WILL DIE. THE CHOICE BEFORE THE GOVERNMENT IS WHETHER THE FEW WILL LIVE AND MANY WILL DIE?

The two areas of the Union government expenditures on healthcare are curative and preventive. According to the National Health Accounts Estimates for India, 2018, the government spent ₹9,134 crore in 2015-16 on the 31 lakh government employees; or about ₹7,000 per person if we include their families. The expenditure on the non-government citizens was ₹38,794 crore on 131 crore persons or a meagre ₹296 per person. This includes expenditures on government-financed health insurance. The primary objective of MoHFW has, however unwittingly, come to serve government employees and, by default, not the public.

Secondly, in Budget for 2020-21, MoHFW, which promotes the allopathic system of medicine, has been allocated ₹63,000 crore; while the Ministry of AYUSH, which promotes alternative systems like Ayurveda and homoeopathy, has been allocated a meagre ₹2,100 crore. No doubt the allopathic system is doing a great service by brining certain cures such as placing stents in the heart. AYUSH is more oriented at providing systemic treatments. The AYUSH Ministry prevents the need for stents. Yet the government allocates more money to cure and less to prevention. The reason for this lopsided allocation appears to be that MNCs supply instruments and medicines that are promoted by MoHFW.

Thirdly, within the MoHFW Budget, there is a lopsided allocation in favour of hi-tech treatments like stents that are called ‘tertiary,’ and less on primary and secondary treatment. In a paper titled “Healthcare Financing Reforms in India” published in 2012, Govinda Rao of the National Institute of Finance and Public Policy has pointed out that the National Health Policy had placed a target of 10 per cent expenditures on tertiary care but the actual is 28 per cent. Once again, MNCs are the beneficiaries. Fourthly, most of the government health expenditures are used up in paying salaries to government health workers. The share was 83 per cent in Madhya Pradesh and Odisha.

One step towards the correction of these anomalies in MoHFW, as suggested by adviser to Niti Aayog Rakesh Sarwal is that the Central Government Health Service should be converted into a Universal Health Service so that the expenditure on government employees and people becomes equal. The second step is to increase the allocations of AYUSH and reduce those of tertiary treatment. The third step is to fix a maximum ratio of salaries in the health budget and, in case of a budget crunch, reduce the salaries of government health workers.

The second area of our health system is preventive care which includes vaccinations. A problem here—in respect of Covid—is that the virus is changing rapidly. Therefore, a vaccine against Covid of yesterday may not be effective against Covid of tomorrow. The performance of our preventive health within MoHFW is unsatisfactory. Only seven per cent children do not get measles’ vaccination in South America against 30 per cent in India.

The second issue in preventive care is our people need to partake of garlic, giloi, ginger and turmeric; undertake yoga and meditation; and get more exercise and sunlight. The MoHFW has successfully launched campaigns in favour of iodine-laced salt and breast-feeding of infants.

As said above, the total expenditure of the Union government on health of non-government citizens was ₹38,794 crore in 2015-16. Of this, only ₹12,000 crore was made on preventive health which included vaccination; information, education and communication; anti-smoking campaign; free distribution of masks; and testing for diseases like Covid, diabetes and cancer.

The government must increase these expenditures drastically and cut those on hi-tech tertiary treatment. Such a measure will improve the immunity of our people, reduce the spread of Covid and ultimately reduce the burden on MoHFW for providing curative care.

The third issue is to explore a different social paradigm. A paper by Vaidya Vachaspati Tripathi published on the Uttar Pradesh government website says that taking bath in the rivers during the Kumbh leads to development of immunity. Large numbers of pilgrims spread miniscule amounts of various disease-creating viruses and bacteria in the water. These enter the bodies of other pilgrims during the dip and prompt the body of the healthy pilgrim to fight viruses and bacteria and develop immunity. In his words, as told to me, “one dip is sufficient for good health till the next Kumbh.” This will help fight Covid-19 too.

Doctors treating Covid patients are forced to make a choice between who will live and who will die. The choice before the government is whether the few will live and many will die?

Raksha – for all

Sir, Raksha Bandhan was observed even during this time of pandemic. This is a festival in which sister ties rakhi on the wrist of her brother(s) and the brother(s) promises to protect her for the rest of her life. Question is, why can’t a sister promise to protect her brother(s), too, rather? Women are considered weak in physique and such festivals are celebrated in a male-dominated society. Through this festival, the poisonous mentality of the male mainstream society has been forcibly infused into the minds of women since their childhood. It is not our intention to oppose this festival. Rather, let us vow to protect each other for the rest of our lives.

Tags for colleges

Sir, Bestowal of tags like ‘Institute of Eminence’ and ‘Center of Excellence’ by the Union HRD Ministry on some education groups had raised eyebrows. Now, it turns out that one such institution is under CBI scanner for wrongdoings, even as this institution has got approval from the Medical Council of India (MCI) for its medical college. The promoter of this institution belongs to the ruling party and is an MP. Higher education institutions are now claiming such tags simply on the strengths of having taller buildings – minus a taller knowledge base. Such tags that raise their ‘marketability’ come as blows to the higher education sector. Such tags are obtained by institutions by producing wrong and highly magnified status papers to the government. Some of our own established varsities have also claimed themselves to be centers of excellence even as they have large numbers of unfilled faculty vacancies. Those who issue such certificates of excellence are crooks of a kind.

BMC, holding tax

Sir, The holding tax as proposed by the Bhubaneswar Municipal Corporation (BMC) for the current financial has raised eyebrows. The new tax is arbitrary, anti-democratic, anti-poor and unjust. A few years ago, BMC collected user fees from the public in an illegal manner. Now, it is collecting property tax on the benchmark of total square feet of the building area. The new calculation of holding tax is sub-justice. It is improper to collect house tax at such an exorbitant price. Moreover, only online payment is accepted, adding to the woes of city-dwellers. The authorities are urged to reconsider the decision.

SSR death: Rhea appears before ED

AGENCIES

Mumbai, August 7: Actor Rhea Chakraborty, accused of abetting suicide of filmstar Sushant Singh Rajput, appeared before the Enforcement Directorate (ED) here Friday in connection with the money laundering case lodged by it.

The ED had summoned Rhea Chakraborty for questioning Friday (August 7), but she had requested the agency to postpone recording of her statement pending hearing of her plea filed in the Supreme Court seeking transfer of the case lodged by the Bihar police to Mumbai.

However, the ED rejected her request. "In view of the fact that the ED has informed the media that the request to postpone her attendance is rejected, Rhea has appeared before the ED office," her advocate Satish Maneshinde said.

The advocate, in a statement, added that Rhea Chakraborty (28), Rajput's girlfriend, is a law-abiding citizen and would cooperate with the probe.

Rajput (34) was found hanging June 14 at his residence in suburban Mumbai. The Bihar police July 25 based on a complaint filed by Rajput's father K K Singh lodged an FIR against Rhea Chakraborty, her parents - Indrajit and Sandhya Chakraborty, her brother Showik Chakraborty and two others - Samuel Miranda and Shruti Modi.

They were booked on charges of criminal conspiracy, cheating, abetment to suicide and wrongful confinement.

The ED July 31 lodged a case of money laundering after Singh alleged financial irregularities in Rajput's bank accounts.

Bihar IPS officer released from 'quarantine'

The Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) Friday said it has allowed Bihar IPS officer Vinay Tiwari, quarantined here after arrival to oversee probe in actor Sushant Singh Rajput death case, to return to his home state. Tiwari, Superintendent of Police of Central Patna, has been exempted from quarantine protocols and allowed to return to his home state, an official said.

Thursday, Bihar Police ADG wrote a letter to the Mumbai municipal commissioner, seeking the IPS officer's exemption from quarantine protocols and facilitate his return to Patna to resume his duty.

1,074 farmers end lives in 6 months

COLLAPSE OF THE SUPPLY CHAIN RESULTED IN A PRICE CRASH IN WHOLESALE MARKETS

AGENCIES

Marathwada, August 7: Maharashtra has recorded 1,074 farmer suicides in the six-month period between January and June this year. In other words, 6 farmers on average ended their lives every day.

The highest number of cases was in June during the lockdown when 214 cases were reported. The lockdown was particularly hard on farmers sowing perishable crops like fruits and vegetables. Initially, transport restrictions had made it difficult for farmers to take their goods to major wholesale markets, and many ended up discarding their produce.

Of 1,074 farmer suicides till June this year, most cases were in June during the lockdown. Collapse of the supply chain resulted in a price crash in wholesale markets. However, government procurement for crops like cotton was the highest in the last decade.

Despite the lockdown, the farmer figures are lower than last year when 1,336 cases were reported during the same period. In 2019, Marathwada had reported a rain deficit and then there were floods in Western Maharashtra which destroyed large tracts of crop. "The low-profile marriage season in this pandemic year may have reduced spending pressure on farmers. In summer months, marriages are a key reason for rise in indebtedness," said Kishore Tiwari of Vidarbha Janandolan Samiti. "This year, many chose to postpone marriages or hold very small functions." However, he added that the real challenge this year will be after the kharif harvest. "Many farmers did not get crop loans and borrowed for the kharif crop. They have pinned hopes on its success," said Tiwari.

"The agrarian crisis cannot be resolved until there is control on prices of agricultural inputs and farmers get a better price for their produce. The availability of crop loans is vital." Farmer leader Vijay Jawandhia from Vidarbha feels that the pressure of indebtedness at bay. Ajit Navale from the Kisan Sabha said so far this year, farmers had been spared a major pest attack. "Also, fruit and vegetable farmers generally come from the irrigated belt. They suffered the most in the pandemic, but also tend to be better off than dry-land farmers," said Navale.

Panchaganga still flowing dangerously

THE REASON BEHIND THE STEADY AND SLOW RISE IN THE WATER LEVEL OF THE PANCHGANGA IS DISCHARGE OF WATER FROM THE RADHANAGARI DAM

SO FAR 4,413 PEOPLE FROM 1,750 FAMILIES IN 23 VILLAGES IN GADHINGLAS, PANHALA, KARVEER, GAGANBAWDA, AJARA TEHSILS AND KOLHAPUR CITY HAVE BEEN SHIFTED

Kolhapur, August 7: The Panchaganga river in Kolhapur district of Maharashtra is still flowing above the danger mark, but the rise in water level is slow and steady due to discharge of water from a dam, officials from the local administration said Friday.

According to the officials, the water level of the Panchganga at the Rajaram weir (barrage) as on Friday morning (at 7) was at 44.7 feet, which is above the danger mark. The water level reached the danger mark (at 43 feet) Thursday around 4 pm. Since then, the rise of water level at the Rajaram weir has been slow but steady, said a duty officer at the district disaster management cell. He said the intensity of rains in the district has reduced, but intermittent showers are continuing. The reason behind the steady and slow rise in the water level of the Panchganga is discharge of water from the Radhanagari dam, which is filled to capacity due to rains in its catchment areas, said the officer. Four gates of the dam, built on the Bhogawati river in Kolhapur district, has been opened so far to release excess water, he said. As the water level was rising in the Panchganga Thursday, the district administration had shifted some 1,750 families from 23 villages to safer places. So far 4,413 people from 1,750 families in 23 villages in Gadhinglas, Panhala, Karveer, Gaganbawda, Ajara tehsils and Kolhapur city have been shifted, district collector Daulat Desai had said. The National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) has already deployed four teams in Kolhapur district to deal with any situation. In Sagali, the district administration said it has distributed safety kits in 20 flood-prone villages. Last year, unprecedented rains had wreaked havoc in western Maharashtra, especially in Kolhapur and Sangli districts, claiming over 60 lives.

'As a yogi, I can't attend mosque event'

AGENCIES

Lucknow, August 7: After the 'bhoomi puja' for the Ram temple Wednesday, UP chief minister Yogi Adityanath, when asked if he would attend a similar function for the construction of the mosque in Ayodhya, turned the question on its head, wondering whether he would even be invited for it in the first place.

He later clarified that as a CM, he did not distinguish between religions, castes and communities but as a yogi, as a Hindu, he would not go for such an event since he had the right to express himself in following his religion.

The CM praised Iqbal Ansari, one of the main litigants from the Muslim side, for having accepted the SC's decision on the Ayodhya dispute. "People should take inspiration from him. He fought the case with all his might but also accepted the court's decision. It is a reflection on our democratic system that as a Muslim, he felt safe in Ayodhya while fighting his case. Would a Hindu feel safe in Pakistan or Afghanistan if he was fighting for a temple?"

He said that "pseudo secularism" had become the basis for terrorism, riots and naxalism in the country and for opposing Hindus and added that the temple movement had unmasked "pseudo secularism". Holding Congress responsible for the prolonged dispute over the Ram temple, Yogi said the "divisiveness" it had created suited the party.

"During elections they run to temples but on other occasions, they curse Hindus. This was not a matter of a temple but of the janmabhoomi where only Lord Ram will stay. The issue was of Lord Ram's birth place and we wanted that place. Congress never wanted it there and saw advantage in dispute," he said. Yogi said one may change one's way of worshipping but cannot change the ancestor. "Majority of the performers are also Muslim and when I asked them about it, they said that they have the right to practise their religion but whatever religion they might follow, they cannot change their ancestors," he said.

The CM revealed Prime Minister Modi never visited Ayodhya in the past six years as the court case was on. "He had also given strict instructions that nobody from the party should speak on the matter and if someone did, then an explanation was sought from them," he said.

When asked whether the government would consider changing the name of Babar Road in Delhi, he said: "We have already changed the name of Faizabad and Allahabad. Things will be done at the right time. Wait and see."

Audio clip of cops' conversation out

AGENCIES

Lucknow, August 7: Nearly a month after Kanpur's notorious gangster Vikas Dubey was put down in an encounter, an audio clip of a conversation between slain circle officer Devendra Mishra and Kanpur SP (Rural) Brijesh Srivastava has gone viral on the social media. They were part of the team that was ambushed and butchered by Dubey's men a week before his death.

The audio clip could spell trouble for the then Station Officer (SO) of Chaubeypur police station Vinay Tiwari and former Kanpur SSP Anant Deo Tiwari. Questions have been raised over the nexus between police officers and Dubey's gang ever since the July 2 massacre in Bikru village.

Vinay Tiwari has been arrested for his complicity with the slain gangster while Anant Deo Tiwari has been shifted to another district after the Bikru massacre.

In the phone conversation, that apparently took place just before the police raided Dubey's premises on the night of July 2 that led to the death of eight policemen, including slain circle officer Devendra Mishra, himself, can be heard telling Srivastava that the SO (Vinay Tiwari) is saying the raid will start only after the CO (Mishra) reaches the spot. Mishra is also heard making allegations against "former SSP Tiwari" (in an apparent reference to Anant Deo Tiwari) - saying that he took Rs 5 lakh from the SO after a gambling racket was busted by Mishra and dropped all inquiries against the SO.

At the start of the five-minute clip, the SP can be heard saying that a large deployment of police would be required in the village and Mishra says that the deployment should not be a problem.

"The SO is saying that he would go for the raid only after I reach there. So, I am going," Mishra says. SP Rural tells Mishra that "You should not worry. I will take care of these people very soon and am preparing a list of all that he is doing. The SSP might have asked him to make the arrest. Use your mind and take the force of two-three police stations as we have a great chance of catching him (Vikas Dubey)."

The circle officer who lost his life in the encounter, then says, "I will tell you about him. When he (Vinay Tiwari) touches his (Vikas Dubey) feet, what else we can expect. Once I told him that if he will keep his relations with him (Dubey) then it might lead to 2-4 murders, but he said that only a criminal can tell about other criminals."

Maha ties up with Google to start virtual classes

AGENCIES

Mumbai, August 7: Maharashtra government tied up with Google to provide online education to students in the state. Students and teachers will get access to Google Classroom and G Suite for Education that will provide solutions to support remote learning.

The tools allow interactive sessions, which will allow teachers to explain lessons, and students can also ask their doubts while sitting at home. Homework can be uploaded, and teachers can check them online, said state officials.

The project was launched by chief minister (CM) Uddhav Thackeray, and will cover over 1.09 lakh government, private, aided, and unaided schools, and benefit over 22.03 million students.

The move is significant, considering the shutdown of schools due to the Covid-19 outbreak. The new academic year of schools in the state should have started June 15.

Last month, the state government allowed students from Class 1 to 8 to attend online classes so that they can start their academic

School education minister Varsha Gaikwad said, "We have got responses from 1.34 lakh teachers within 48 hours after floating an invitation link for Google Classroom training. The process of teacher training is going to be started on August 7. We are turning the crisis into an opportunity."

SC refuses to hear PIL for probe against Cong over China pact

AGENCIES

New Delhi, August 7: The Supreme Court Friday refused to entertain a PIL seeking NIA probe into the alleged 2008 agreement between the Indian National Congress and the Communist Party of China.

A bench headed by Chief Justice SA Bobde asked senior lawyer Mahesh Jethmalani, appearing for PIL petitioners Shashank Shekhar Jha and journalist Savio Rodrigues, to withdraw the plea and approach the high court.

"Every relief which you are seeking can be granted by the high court. Secondly, high court is a proper court. Thirdly, we will have the advantage of high court order also," said the bench which also comprised Justices A S Bopanna and V Ramasubramanian.

The top court, in the hearing conducted through video conferencing, allowed the petitioners to "withdraw the petition with liberty to approach the high court."

At the outset, Jethmalani alleged that it was an "agreement between a political party of this country with the only political party in that country (China)" and the issue pertained to national security.

"We find that there is something which appears to be, what might be called, unheard of and absurd in law. You are saying that China has entered into an agreement with a political party and not the government. How can a political party enter into an agreement with China," the bench observed.

On being stressed by the lawyer that this was the case, the bench said, "we will allow you to withdraw this and file a fresh petition. We will examine what you say in the petition and if we find any false statement, we may prosecute you".

The court said, "Within our limited experience, we have unheard of it that a political party is making an agreement with other country." Jethmalani argued that the alleged offences, if any disclosed, will be under the NIA Act and the Unlawful Activities Prevention Act and it will be better if the Supreme Court examine this as it relates to national security.

Amid India-China face-off on Line of Actual Control (LAC), a PIL was filed in the top court seeking NIA probe into the 2008 agreement between Indian National Congress and the Communist Party of China.

"Despite of having a hostile relation with China, Respondent No.1 (Congress) had signed an agreement when it was running a coalition government and hidden the facts and details of the agreement from the country," the PIL alleged.

"The petitioners firmly believe that the Nation's security cannot and shouldn't be compromised by any one," the plea had said. The said agreement was signed between Congress and Communist Party of China in Beijing for exchanging high-level information and co-operation.

NEP is the foundation of new India: PM

AGENCIES

New Delhi, August 7: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said the new National Education Policy (NEP) focusses on 'how to think', while the education system till now in the country emphasised on 'what to think'. Referring to the policy as foundation of "new India," the prime minister asked all stakeholders to focus on implementation of reforms laid down in the new policy.

"NEP has given rise to a healthy debate and the more we discuss and debate the more it will benefit the education department. It is palpable that questions will arise on how this huge plan will be implemented. We all will together do this implementation. Each one of you is directly involved in implementation of the NEP. In terms of political will, I am totally committed and with you," he said. The prime minister made these remarks while delivering the inaugural address at the 'Conclave on Transformational Reforms in Higher Education under National Education Policy' via video link. He also said that there were no major changes in the country's education system over the years.

As a result, instead of promoting values of curiosity and imagination, herd mentality got encouraged. "In recent years, there have not been major changes in education and thus the values of curiosity and imagination were not given the thrust. Instead, we moved towards a herd community. The mapping of interest, ability, and demand was needed. We need to develop critical thinking and innovative thinking abilities in our youths. It will be possible if we have purpose, philosophy, and passion of education," he said.

"Till now, we have focussed on what to think but NEP 2020 focuses on how to think. At a time when there is a flood of information and content, it is important that we know which information is necessary and which is not. We need inquiry-based, discovery-based, and analysis-based modes of teaching. This will increase the interest to learn and participate in class," he said. Modi said it is a matter of happiness that after the introduction of the National Education Policy, no region or section has said that it has any kind of bias, or is leaning towards one side.

"We are also trying to ensure that the talent of India stays in India and works for the development of generations to come," said the prime minister. The NEP allows top ranking institutes of the world to set-up campuses in India. Earlier, the HRD Ministry had introduced several initiatives under the Study in India program. "India is split on the topic of autonomy. One school of thought says that the government should have the say in education institutes, while the other believes every institute should have freedom. The way to quality-education goes from between both these schools of thought. The institutes which will work more on quality education will be given more freedom as a reward. This will increase the quality and encourage higher education institutes to grow," he said. The NEP approved by the Union Cabinet replaces the 34-year-old National Policy on Education framed in 1986 and is aimed at paving the way for transformational reforms in school and higher education systems to make India a global knowledge superpower.

Curbs eased for OCI card holders from US, UK, Germany and France

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, August 7: Overseas Citizen of India (OCI) card holders from the US, UK, Germany and France, with whom India has signed 'air bubble' arrangements, will be allowed to visit the country, the Home Ministry announced Friday.

Other foreigners from these countries have also been allowed to avail Indian visa facility for business, medical and employment purposes. According to a home ministry notification, Indian citizens have also been allowed to travel to these countries on any type of visa.

"Ministry of Home Affairs has permitted to enter India OCI card holders who belong to countries with which 'air bubble' arrangements have been finalised by Ministry of Civil Aviation," a home ministry spokesperson said. India so far has bilateral air travel arrangements or 'air bubbles' with the US, UK, Germany and France during the coronavirus pandemic-related international travel restrictions.

Other countries may be included under this scheme in future, the notification said.

The home ministry said it has further considered the need for relaxation of visa and travel restrictions for more categories of foreign nationals who want to travel to India and Indian nationals intending to visit other countries in the context of the 'air bubble' scheme.

Accordingly, in respect of countries with which 'air bubble' scheme has already been worked out, i.e. the US, UK, Germany and France and the countries that may be included in

It has also been decided that the existing restrictions on incoming passenger traffic into India through the immigration check posts will not apply to such travellers.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Srinagar, August 7: The Jammu and Kashmir administration will soon initiate "direct dialogue" with the people to end the situation of uncertainty and the menace of terrorism, the union territory's new lieutenant governor Manoj Sinha said Friday soon after being sworn in.

The 61-year-old, who was administered the oath of office by Jammu and Kashmir High Court Chief Justice Gita Mittal at a simple function in the Raj Bhavan, also said he wants to accelerate development in the union territory, carved out of the erstwhile state of Jammu and Kashmir last year. "August 5 is a very important day in the history of Jammu and Kashmir. After years of isolation, Jammu and Kashmir joined the national mainstream. I have been told that many works which could not be completed in years have been completed in the past one year," Sinha told reporters after taking oath.

"I want to accelerate that development," he added. On August 5, 2019, Jammu and Kashmir's special status under Article 370 was revoked and the state bifurcated into the union territories of Jammu and Kashmir; and Ladakh.

Less than 150 people were invited for the swearing-in ceremony. Social distancing norms were observed with all invitees seated away from each other and everyone wearing masks in view of the COVID-19 pandemic. Sinha and the chief justice briefly took off their masks for the oath-taking.

Deployment of Indian Navy warships increased across the IOR

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, August 7: With a considerable increase in the deployment of its warships in the Indian Ocean Region (IOR), the Indian Navy is providing strategic support to its fellow services in the ongoing activities related to the border tensions with China.

The officials said that past 100 days have seen the Indian Navy operating from Ladakh (with its P-8I surveillance aircraft) in the north to Mauritius, 7,000 km to the south, and from the Red Sea in the west to the Malacca Strait in the east, a distance of nearly 8,000 km.

Indian Navy deploys ships on Mission Based Deployments at key locations in the IOR so as to build a comprehensive maritime picture and respond to developing situations.

At any time, there are warships patrolling the Bay of Bengal, the Malacca Straits, the Andaman Sea, the southern and the central Indian Ocean Region, the Gulf of Aden and the Persian Gulf.

Additionally, following maritime security incidents, a combat-ready warship has also been deployed on Operation Sankalp since June 2019 for protection of Indian merchant vessels passing through the other high-end surveillance tools," a senior government official said.

Persian Gulf. "Being a network-enabled force, the Navy maintains total awareness of the IOR by using the IFC-IOR

Near-coast surveillance is also coordinated by the Indian Navy by coordinating the resources of nearly 20 government agencies to draw an electronic fence over our coastline, to deter any 26/11-type incident.

After Chinese People Liberation Army's activities in eastern Ladakh increased in the months of May and June, culminating in June 15 clashes in which 20 Indian soldiers were killed, the chiefs of the Indian Army, Navy and Air Force are meeting on a daily basis to coordinate the joint response.

Since then, the Indian Navy has been at the forefront of strategic signalling to the Chinese forces. Signing of the Mutual Logistics Support Agreement in June with Australia gave the Indian Navy access to the strategically located Cocos and Keeling Islands in the southern Indian Ocean, which will enable ships and aircraft to keep watch on Chinese Navy ships and submarines entering the Indian Ocean Region. Similarly, the agreement provides Australian ships and aircraft access to the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, to extend their reach into the South China Sea.

Let Italy compensate victims' kin: Top court

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, August 7: The Supreme Court Friday told the Centre to let Italy pay the victims compensation in the Italian marines case, and then it could allow the withdrawal by the prosecution. The top court insisted that it will have to hear the kin of the victims on adequacy of compensation and till then it would not close the case.

A bench comprising Chief Justice SA Bobde, Justice AS Bopanna and Justice V Ramasubramanian told Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, representing the Centre, "bring the cheques and the kin of victims here". The bench noted that the top court cannot think of any relief for the Italian marines till their prosecution is withdrawn in the Kerala court. Mehta replied the Centre is willing to file a petition for withdrawing prosecution of the two marines. The Chief Justice replied "but the family of victims will have a problem. They will have to be heard". Mehta contended before the top court that the Centre is in favour of withdrawing the prosecution of the Italian marines in India, as Italy is ready to prosecute them. The bench noted that without hearing the kin of the deceased it cannot close the case. The top court asked Mehta to file an application seeking impleadment of the families of the victims within a week. The top court adjourned the hearing on the pend-

On July 3, the Centre had informed the top court that it has accepted the international tribunal award in the killing of two fishermen by the Italian marines. The Centre asked the apex court to close the matter pending before it for eight years.

The tribunal ruled for the trial of the marines in Italy. It said India is entitled to payment of compensation in connection with loss of life, physical harm, material damage to property and moral harm suffered by the captain and other crew members of the Indian fishing boat 'St Antony'.

On February 15, 2012, two Indian fishermen aboard the fishing vessel St Antony were allegedly killed by the two Italian marines aboard the Italian tanker 'Enrica Lexie' off the coast of Kerala.

15 dead, over 60 missing in landslide

AGENCIES

Thiruvananthapuram, August 7: At least 15 people were killed and around 50 others feared trapped in debris after a landslide triggered by heavy rains flattened a row of dwelling units of tea estate workers at Pettimudi in Rajamala in this high-range district in Kerala early Friday, police and officials said.

Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan said 15 people who got trapped in the debris were rescued and a special officer has been appointed to coordinate the relief operations. The incident is said to have occurred in the wee hours when a huge mound of earth fell on the "row houses" and two children and five women were among the deceased, most of whom were plantation workers from neighbouring Tamil Nadu.

Efforts were underway amid continuing rains to locate the missing people in the first major rain-related mishap since the onset of South West monsoon last month that brought back memories of devastation caused by floods and landslides in the previous two years in the state.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Kerala Governor Arif Mohammed Khan, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Congress leader Rahul Gandhi expressed anguish at the loss of lives in the landslide. Three injured have been admitted to a private Medical College Hospital in Kolenchery in Ernakulam district and one in Tata General Hospital at Munnar. Cooking utensils buried in mud, asbestos and tin sheets strewn around were all there to be seen at the area, which was the habitation of around 80 odd work-

Addressing a press conference in Thiruvananthapuram, the Chief Minister said 15 people died in the mishap. Teams of National Disaster Response Force personnel were on their way to Pettimudi for joining the rescue operations and the government has also sought an Indian Air Force helicopter to assist in the mission, he said.

Condoling the death of workers in the tragedy, the Chief Minister announced initial solatium of Rs 5 lakh each for the kin of the dead. Treatment expenses for the injured will be borne by the government, he said. In view of the Pettimudi incident, the district collectors have been directed to ensure safety and security of the workers staying in dwelling units in the tea estates. The Prime Minister's Office said in a tweet that an ex-gratia of Rs 2 lakh each from the Prime Minister's National Relief Fund (PMNRF) would be given to the next of kin of those killed in the landslide. Rs 50,000 each would be given to those injured. "Pained by the loss of lives due to a landslide in Rajamala, Idukki. In this hour of grief, my thoughts are with the bereaved families," Modi tweeted. Praying for the early recovery of the injured, he said NDRF and the administration were working on the ground, providing assistance to the affected.

Home Minister Shah in a tweet said an NDRF team has reached Idukki to assist in the rescue and relief operations. Rahul Gandhi, who represents Wayanad in Lok Sabha, in a message said "This is a terrible tragedy. I urge all our Congress party workers and leaders to lend a helping hand at this time and do whatever they can to mitigate the suffering of our brothers and sisters who are in need of help."

The death toll in rain-related incidents since June 1 this year has risen to 51. One person died in a house collapse in Palakkad on Friday, officials said.

Meanwhile, the India Meteorological Department has sounded a red alert for Idukki on Friday, indicating extremely heavy rains of over 20 cms.

SEXUAL ASSAULT CASE

Girl's condition remains critical

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, August 7: The 12-year-old girl, who was sexually assaulted and has suffered severe head injuries, will need another surgery and her condition continues to remain critical, sources at AIIMS, where she is undergoing treatment, said Friday. Sources said her platelet count is low and she is admitted at the neuro-surgery ICU of the hospital.

The girl was sexually assaulted at her west Delhi home by 33-year-old Krishan Tuesday, who also hit her on the face and head with a sharp object.

Her rectum and intestines were injured severely by some kind of impalement for which she needed immediate intervention and that is why she was operated upon as soon as she reached the hospital, a senior doctor at the AIIMS had said Thursday. The brutality involved in the crime has led to an outrage with Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal describing the incident as 'barbaric'. Delhi Police arrested Krishan Thursday. He told the police that he had entered the girl's house Tuesday with the intention of burglary.

However, police said they are verifying Krishan's version. A case has already been registered under section 307 (attempt to murder) and Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act at Paschim Vihar West police station. Krishan was involved in a similar violent incident in the past. He had attacked a woman in 2006 in Sultanpuri while committing a burglary, in which the woman had died.

SC dismisses Rehana's bail plea

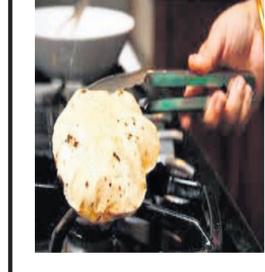

PNN/AGENCIES

New Delhi, August 7: The Supreme Court Friday junked a plea filed by Kerala activist Rehana Fathima to challenge a High Court order that rejected her petition against a case registered under the POCSO Act and IT Act over her controversial video.

A three-judge bench of the apex court comprising Justices Arun Mishra, BR Gavai and Krishna Murari observed that the video uploaded by Fathima of her semi-nude body being painted on by her children was clearly obscene.

"Why do you do all this? You might be an activist but why do this? What kind of nonsense is this? It is obscenity clearly which you are spreading. It will leave the society in a very bad taste. What impression will the kids get," the bench said. The petitioner, mother to a 14-year-old boy and an 8-year-old girl, had uploaded a video clip titled 'Body Art and Politics' on YouTube, showing her two children painting on her semi-naked body. Rehana's counsel contended before the apex court that children seen in a video clip are 'fully clothed' and his client has been charged with child pornography and not obscenity. "Does female nudity (even when not visible) per se constitutes obscenity?" he pleaded on behalf of his client. The lawyer insisted that his client Rehana is of the opinion that the only way out of this mindset is to sensitise people. She has moved an anticipatory bail plea in a matter.

Govts don't act till we direct them: SC

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, August 7: The Supreme Court Friday said that the governments in the country did not act till the court directed them.

"We have seen from our experience that governments do not act until we direct them," a bench comprising Chief Justice SA Bobde and Justices AS Bopanna and V Ramasubramanian said. "That is why this system is here," the court remarked. The observation came during hearing of a plea filed by Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind that alleged "demonising of the Muslim minority" in the wake of Tablighi Jamaat congregation in Delhi in March. The Chief Justice said that the criticism is not aimed at Solicitor General Tushar Mehta.

Senior Advocate Dushyant Dave submitted before the bench regarding news reports on the Jamaat event, and insisted that only the government can take action and not the self-regulating bodies governing the media. The Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, in an affidavit filed through advocate Rajat Nair, informed the top court that it cannot gag the media from reporting on the Jamaat issue. The Centre claimed that steps have already been taken to prevent any dissemination of false and provocative information, and a blanket gag order cannot be passed against media reportage, as this could effectively harm the freedom of speech and expression and press freedom.

Kashmir, Jammu and Ladakh could heat up by 7°C by 2100

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Srinagar, August 7: Jammu, Kashmir and Ladakh may witness a temperature increase of up to 6.9 degrees Celsius by the end of the century due to climate change, according to a study which warns that the glaciers in this Himalayan region could shrink by 85 per cent if the projections come true.

The study, published in the journal Climatic Change July 29, predicted the impact of future climate change in the Jammu, Kashmir and Ladakh Himalaya, by the end of the twenty-first century using an ensemble of 11 models under three greenhouse gas emission scenarios. It also highlights the changes in the distribution of the prevalent climate zones in the region.

"The study has been carried over the entire region of Jammu and Kashmir, including Jammu, Kashmir, Ladakh, Gilgit-Baltistan, Aksai Chin and other regions across the Line of Control (LoC)," noted Professor Shakil Ahmad Romshoo, Dean of Research at the University of Kashmir. "The average annual temperature is projected to increase by 4.5 degrees Celsius, 3.98 degrees Celsius, and 6.93 degrees Celsius by the end of the twenty-first century under three different scenarios, respectively," Romshoo, lead author of the research, told PTL.

Romshoo added that if the current emission rates of greenhouse gases are sustained, the global average temperature is likely to rise by nearly 5 degrees Celsius by the end of the twenty-first century under the worst case scenario. Similarly, the average temperature over India is projected to rise by approximately 4.4 degrees Celsius under such a scenario, he said. Romshoo noted that there will be significant impacts on almost every sec-

The researchers, including Jasia Bashir and Irfan Rashid from the Department of Earth Sciences, University of Kashmir, noted that the drivers of climate change are primarily the increasing emission rates of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere. Greenhouse gas emission is directly related to fossil fuel use, industrialisation, deforestation, air pollution, and other environmental unfriendly activities across the globe, they explained.

SL polls: Rajapaksa clan registers big win

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Colombo, August 7: Mahinda Rajapaksa will be sworn in as Sri Lanka's Prime Minister for the fourth time Sunday after his party registered a landslide victory in the general election, securing two-thirds majority in Parliament needed to amend the Constitution to further consolidate the powerful Rajapaksa family's grip on power.

The Sri Lanka People's Party (SLPP), led by Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa, won in 145 constituencies, bagging a total of 150 seats with its allies, a two-thirds majority in the 225-member Parliament, according to the results announced by the election commission Friday.

It won all but four of the 22 electoral districts on offer, polling 6.8 million votes (59.9 per cent). The 74-year-old Prime Minister Mahinda thanked the Sri Lankan people for putting their faith in the SLPP and said that the country will not stand disappointed during its tenure.

"Heartfelt gratitude to all Sri Lankans for placing their trust in President Gotabaya Rajapaksa, myself and the Podujana Party and voting for the 'Saubhagya Dakkama' election manifesto in overwhelming numbers. We will ensure Sri Lanka will not stand disappointed during our tenure," he said.

Mahinda will be sworn in as the new Prime Minister for the fourth time Sunday at a ceremony at the historic Buddhist temple of Kelaniya, a north Colombo suburb, according to an official statement.

He created a record in polling over 500,000 individual preference votes, the highest ever recorded by a candidate in the history of elections. Prime Minister Narendra Modi was among the first world leaders to congratulate Mahinda on the outcome of the elections and said the two sides will work together to further advance all areas of bilateral cooperation and to take their special ties to ever newer heights.

The Rajapaksa family has dominated Sri Lanka politics for two decades. Mahinda was previously president, from 2005 to 2015. President Gotabaya Rajapaksa had won the November presidential election on the SLPP ticket.

In the parliamentary election, he was seeking 150 seats mandatory to execute constitutional changes, including to repeal the 19th Amendment to the Constitution which had curbed the presidential powers while strengthening the role of Parliament. Activists, already alarmed by the diminishing space for dissent and criticism in the island nation, fear such a move could lead to authoritarianism. Meanwhile, the biggest casualty from the election outcome was the United National Party (UNP) of former Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe.

The UNP managed to win only one seat and that too came thanks to the cumulative votes polled nationally.

LEBANON PRESIDENT EXPANDS BLAST PROBE

The search for those missing intensified, as rescuers sifted rubble in a race to find anyone still alive after Tuesday's explosion that killed 154, smashed up a swathe of the city and sent shockwaves around the region

REUTERS

Beirut, August 7: Lebanon's president said Friday an investigation into the biggest blast in Beirut's history would examine whether "external interference" had a role, as residents tried to rebuild their shattered lives and homes after the explosion.

The search for those missing intensified, as rescuers sifted rubble in a race to find anyone still alive after Tuesday's explosion that killed 154, smashed up a swathe of the city and sent shockwaves around the region.

"The cause has not been determined yet. There is a possibility of external interference through a rocket or bomb or other act," President Michel Aoun said in comments carried by local media and confirmed by his office.

He said it would also consider whether it was a result of negligence or an accident. He previously blamed negligence in the storage of highly explosive material for years at the port.

The United States has previously said it has not ruled out an attack.

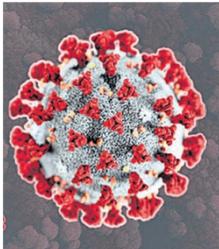

Israel, which has fought several wars with Lebanon, has also previously denied it had any role.

Security forces fired teargas at a furious crowd in Beirut late on Thursday, as anger boiled over at the ruling elite, who have presided over a nation that faced economic collapse even before the deadly port blast injured 5,000 people.

The small crowd, some hurling stones, marked a return to the kind of protests that had become a feature of life in Beirut, as Lebanese watched their savings evaporate

Trump signs executive orders banning Tik Tok, WeChat

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Washington, August 7: President Donald Trump, citing India's recent ban on Chinese social media apps, has signed executive orders that would prevent Tik Tok and WeChat from operating in the US as they threatened America's national security and economy. The ban comes into effect in 45 days, Trump said in two separate executive orders signed on Thursday.

India was the first country to ban Tik Tok and WeChat, citing national security concerns. India has banned as many as 106 Chinese apps, a move welcomed by both the Trump administration and US lawmakers.

"The United States must take aggressive action against the owners of Tik Tok to protect our national security," Trump said in his executive order. In his next executive order he said the country must take "aggressive action" against WeChat to protect America's national security. In a communicate to the Congress, Trump said the spread in the United States of mobile applications developed and owned by companies in China continues to threaten the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the country. Trump noted that these risks have led other countries, including Australia and India, to begin restricting or banning the use of Tik Tok and WeChat. Tik Tok which has up to 80 million active monthly users in America - has exploded in popularity in recent years, mostly with people under 20.

Tik Tok, a video-sharing mobile application owned by the Chinese company ByteDance Ltd, automatically captures vast swaths of information from its users, Trump said. This data collection threatens to allow the ruling Chinese Communist Party access to

of federal employees and contractors, build dossiers of personal information for blackmail, and conduct corporate espionage, he alleged.

Tik Tok also reportedly censors content that the Chinese Communist Party deems politically sensitive, such as content concerning protests in Hong Kong and China's treatment of Uyghurs and other Muslim minorities. Tik Tok may also be used for disinformation campaigns that benefit the Chinese Communist Party, the president said.

"To deal with this threat, the order prohibits, beginning 45 days after the date of this order, to the extent permitted under applicable law, any transaction by any person, or with respect to any property, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, with ByteDance Ltd., Beijing, China, or its subsidiaries, in which any such company has any interest, as identified by the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary)," Trump said. He delegated power to the commerce secretary to take such actions, including adopting appropriate rules and regulations, and to employ all powers granted to the President by International Emergency Economic Powers Act as may be necessary to implement the order.

Pak Parliament okays FATF-related Bill

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Islamabad, August 7: Amidst vociferous protests from Pakistan's religious parties, the Parliament has approved a third Bill related to the tough conditions set by the global money laundering and terrorist financing watchdog FATF.

The legislation is part of the efforts by Pakistan to move from the Paris-based Financial Action Task Force (FATF) grey list to the white list. The FATF put Pakistan on the grey list in June 2018 and asked Islamabad to implement a plan of action by the end of 2019 but the deadline was extended later due to COVID-19 pandemic.

The Mutual Legal Assistance (Criminal Matter) Bill, 2020 -- which calls for exchange of information and criminals with countries -- was passed late Thursday evening in a joint sitting of Parliament after a hectic two-day consultation with the two major Opposition parties -- Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) and Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP). The Bill was passed after the government agreed to include over two dozen Opposition-proposed amendments with a majority vote amidst noisy protest by the religious and nationalist parties, the Dawn News reported.

Fourth Canadian gets death sentence

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beijing, August 7: China has sentenced a fourth Canadian citizen to death on drug charges in less than two years following a sharp downturn in ties over the arrest of an executive of Chinese tech giant Huawei.

Ye Jianhui was sentenced Friday by the Foshan Municipal Intermediate Court in the southern province of Guangdong.

Ye had been found guilty of manufacturing and transporting drugs, the court said in a brief statement.

Another suspect in the case was also given the death penalty and four others sentenced to between seven years and life in prison. Death sentences are automatically referred to China's highest court for review.

Ties between Canada and China have nosedived over Canada's late 2018 arrest of Meng Wanzhou, a company executive and the daughter of Huawei's founder, at Vancouver's airport in at the request of the US, which wants her extradited to face fraud charges over the company's dealings with Iran.

Her arrest enraged Beijing, which calls it a political move aimed at constraining China's rise as a global technology power.

Ye's sentencing comes a day after fellow Canadian Xu Weihong was given the death penalty by the Guangzhou Municipal Intermediate Court, also in Guangdong province.

US lifts Covid travel advisory

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Washington, August 7: The US has lifted the highest level of its global health travel advisory for Americans due to the coronavirus pandemic and restored the previous country-specific system without changing the status of over 50 countries, including that of India and China.

The US state department issued the Level 4: Do Not Travel advisory -- the highest level of travel advisory -- on March 19, urging American citizens not to travel overseas due to the coronavirus pandemic. India remains on the Level 4 of the travel advisory along with more than 50 countries, including China. This means that the US urges its citizens not to travel to India due to the increasing coronavirus cases.

The state department, in its latest travel advisory on India issued on Thursday, said: "Do not travel to India due to COVID-19. Exercise increased caution in India due to crime and terrorism."

The Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has issued a Level 3 (avoid non-essential travel) Travel Health Notice for India due to COVID-19, it said. Travellers to India may experience border closures, airport closures, travel prohibitions, stay at home orders, business closures and other emergency conditions within India due to the COVID-19 pandemic, it said.

Assistant Secretary of State for Consular Affairs Carl Risch told reporters during a conference call that the State Department, in close coordination with the CDC, has lifted the Global Level 4 Health Advisory and has returned to the previous system of country-specific levels of travel advice, with levels from 1 to 4 depending on country-specific conditions.

The CDC has similarly removed its Level 3 Global COVID-19 Pandemic Notice. This important change reflects the reality that health and safety conditions are improving in some countries while potentially deteriorating in others, he said.

By returning to the country-specific travel advisory system, the US is able to give Americans detailed and actionable information to make informed travel decisions, he said.

"The COVID-19 pandemic poses significant risks for travellers and our destination-specific advisories take into account the latest data and public health and safety analysis on COVID-related risks," Risch said. Among other countries which have been put on the Level 4 of travel advisory include Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Syria, Saudi Arabia, Russia, Mexico, Egypt, and Brazil.

Although the guidance from the state department has been lifted, American travellers continue to face travel restrictions in countries worldwide due to the rising cases of the deadly disease in the United States. According to Johns Hopkins Coronavirus Resource Center, the contagion has infected over 19 million people and killed more than 713,000 across the world.

No more 'mouse catching' for UK's Foreign Office cat

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

London, August 7: The resident cat at the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) in London, dubbed "Lord Palmerston the Chief Mouser" in reference to its mouse-catching duties, is to retire from diplomatic service, the FCO said on Friday.

Lord Palmerston, famed for regular territorial tiffs with neighbouring Downing Street mouse-catcher Larry, will see out his retirement in the English countryside, where he has been spending lockdown already at the home of a member of Foreign Office staff.

Both cats have their own social media profiles and are very popular with news photographers on Downing Street duties. "In April 2016, a cat called Palmerston arrived from Battersea (dogs and cat shelter in London). I thought I was employing a mouser. What I got was a social media phenomenon, with 105,000 Twitter followers," said Sir Simon McDonald, the Permanent Under-Secretary and Head of the Diplomatic Service at the FCO, announcing Palmerston's retirement.

"After four happy years, @Diplomog (Palmerston's Twitter handle) will retire: he's enjoyed lockdown life in the countryside so much, he's accepted an invitation to stay. Everyone at the Foreign Office will miss him (our mice less so). We wish him a long & happy retirement," said McDonald in a Twitter statement.

'Smartphone market set to recover in H2'

AGENCIES

New Delhi, August 7: After a steep decline of over 50% in Q2, the India smartphone market is set for a gradual recovery in the second half as the country enters the festive season, the IDC India said Friday.

The online channel registered a high market share of 44.8% in June quarter but declined 39.9% (Y-o-Y) in unit terms due to lockdown restrictions on the delivery of electronics as well as severely limited stock for most of the quarter.

"The surge in demand is expected to continue throughout the first half of 3Q20 (third quarter) as well, requiring a steady supply of devices in the market," said

Navkendar Singh, Research Director, Client Devices & IPDS, IDC India.

IDC expects the market to show signs of recovery in the second half of the year, as the country approaches the festive quarter, with the majority of the consumers looking to buy low-end and mid-range devices.

However, this will be dependent on brand marketing and channel initiatives, especially by eTailers during the festive sales.

"Brand initiatives around multi or hybrid channel strategies will also play a key role as offline partners and brands will be looking for pockets of growth in these crucial next few months," explained Singh.

Overall, the June quarter saw a sharp year-over-year decline of (-50.6 per cent) in the second quarter to 18.2 million units, as the country remained under lockdown through the first half of the quarter.

Many offline channel partners adopted new ways of marketing by reaching out to consumers through social media platforms, WhatsApp,

The iPhone 11 and iPhone XR together accounted for 28% shipments in this segment in Q2, said the report.

Efficient farming must for food security: Naidu

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Chennai, August 7: Vice-President M Venkaiah Naidu Friday said there is an urgent need to make agriculture more efficient and profitable to ensure food and nutrition security.

In a virtual address inaugurating a conference 'Science for Resilient Food, Nutrition and Livelihood: Contemporary Challenges' Naidu said, "If we are to ensure food and nutrition security to millions, there is an imminent need to make agriculture more efficient, resilient, profitable and productive. Pre-harvest and post-harvest losses have to be minimised."

The conference was organised by the city-based MS Swaminathan Research Foundation (MSSRF).

According to Naidu, the market infrastructure and the national road and transportation network must be improved so that farmers are able to get their produce from the farm gates to markets at reasonable cost.

"We must step up investments in improved storage, processing and preservation to retain the nutritional value of food products, rather than investing in highly processed foods. Food, agriculture and trade policies have to be constantly reviewed and updated to suit the times," Naidu said.

Pointing out the negative health impact owing to poor diet quality, Naidu said there is need to reorient agriculture priorities towards more nutrition-sensitive food.

He said diets of poor quality are a principal contributor to the multiple burdens of malnutrition: stunting, micronutrient deficiencies, overweight and obesity.

British Airways staff to lose jobs

LONDON: Thousands of British Airways staff will be sent letters telling them they have lost their jobs Friday, as the airline pushes ahead with a plan to cut employee numbers by 29% in the face of bitter opposition from unions. British Airways, owned by IAG, said in April it would need to axe up to 12,000 of its 42,000 staff to survive the COVID-19 pandemic and remain competitive. But the plan has met fierce resistance from cabin crew union Unite which said Friday it would also keep fighting against pay cuts for existing staff. BA said that 6,000 employees had decided to take voluntary redundancy, while thousands of others would receive a letter in the coming days to tell them their fate.

der. "AI applications continue to be at the forefront of digital transformation (DX) initiatives, driving both innovation and improvement to business operations," Ritu Jyoti, programme Vice President, Artificial Intelligence Research at IDC, said in a statement.

Barcelona may need youth to get past Napoli as well as to reach Champions League quarters

MAJOR TASK IN HAND

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Barcelona, August 7: Barcelona coach Quique Setien says that he is ready to count on youngsters Ansu Fati and Riqui Puig to eliminate Napoli and advance to the Champions League final eight in Portugal.

Barcelona will be without midfielders Sergio Busquets, Arturo Vidal and Arthur on Saturday's second leg of their round of 16 tie. The match will be played five months after the Spanish side earned a 1-1 draw at Napoli before the pandemic brought most sports to a halt.

"Both Rique and Ansu are ready to play," Setien said Friday. "They have performed and played pretty well and could perfectly well start (against Napoli). And if they do start, I am sure they will be guaranteed to play well."

The 20-year-old Puig has a good chance to earn his debut in Europe's top-tier club competition with both Busquets and Vidal suspended for the critical match. Arthur has had a falling out with the club after securing his transfer to Juventus for next season and refusing to return to team practice.

Setien values Puig's passing and ball-control skills, which remind some Barcelona fans of Xavi Hernandez and Andres Iniesta, and rewarded him with a bigger role during the final stretch of the Spanish league.

Fati, 17, made a huge splash this season by becoming the youngest player to score in the Spanish league and the Champions League, among other precocious scoring milestones.

With Lionel Messi and Luis Suarez set to start in attack, Fati could get picked over fellow forward Antoine Griezmann, who was cleared to play by team doctors Friday after having recovered from a right thigh injury last month.

Clement Lenglet was also cleared by team doctors and will likely play with Gerard Pique in the center of the defense with Samuel Umtiti still injured.

With only 13 first-team players available, Setien has called up seven members of Barcelona's youth squad, including American Konrad de la Fuente.

"It would have been better to have all our players available, but that is not the case," Setien said. "We are going to have to rely on many players from our youth team. We have to adapt and we will do our best not to miss the players who can't be with us."

The match at Camp Nou will be played without spectators due to local health regulations. Barcelona and large areas of northeast Spain are seeing a recent spike in cases of the virus that causes COVID-19, but health officials have assured UEFA that the game is safe to play, despite the concerns of Napoli.

Setien said that he is confident that keeping his job does not hinge on qualifying for the 'bubble' Champions League tournament to be played in Lisbon later this month. Setien has been under intense pressure since Barcelona lost the Spanish league to Real Madrid last month, when Messi called his team 'weak' and said that unless the team turned things around it would lose to Napoli.

"In no moment have I thought that tomorrow's game could be my last," Setien said. "We are focused on advancing and playing the rest of the competition in Portugal with the same sense of excitement that we feel now."

TEAM NEWS

Barcelona will be without the services of central defender Samuel Umtiti due to a knee injury, while midfielders Sergio Busquets and Arturo Vidal are both suspended for the home side. Arthur, on the other hand, will also not feature for the Catalans

As for Napoli, Kostas Manolas is absent due to a rib injury, but the Italians are hopeful that Lorenzo Insigne will be able to shake off a thigh problem in time for the contest. Nikola Maksimovic is also struggling with a knee injury

KEY NOTES

Barca are unbeaten in their last 35 Champions League matches on home soil, while they have not lost in any of their last 15 home fixtures against Italian opposition, picking up 12 victories in the process

Barca's last success in this competition came back in 2015, and they were incredibly eliminated by Liverpool in the semifinals of last season's tournament despite running out 3-0 winners in the first leg of their last four tie with the Merseyside giants

Napoli have actually never been past this stage of the Champions League, losing to Chelsea and Real Madrid in their last two last 16 ties

The Italian side have only won seven of their last 21 matches in this competition and have lost their last four two-legged ties against Spanish opposition

Defeats on their last three visits to Spain, coupled with an overall away record of two wins and five defeats to La Liga opposition, means that the Italian outfit are the underdogs heading into Saturday's contest

Sevilla, Wolves in quarterfinals

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Duisburg, August 7: Sevilla defeated Roma 2-0 in the round of 16 to stay in the hunt for a record sixth Europa League title, as Wolverhampton, Bayer Leverkusen and Basel also qualified for the quarterfinals.

Full-back Sergio Reguilon gave Sevilla the lead with a surging run through the Roma defense and a shot past keeper Pau Lopez in the 22nd minute. Youssef En-Nesyri added the second just before half-time, tapping in a low cross from Lucas Ocampos.

It was a single game at a neutral venue in Germany because no first leg was played in March before the season was suspended amid the coronavirus pandemic. No fans are allowed at any Europa League games.

Roma defender Gianluca Mancini was sent off in added time after video review for making contact with Luuk De Jong's head in a challenge for the ball.

It was Roma's first game since its USD 700 million takeover by the Texas-based Friedkin Group was confirmed Thursday morning.

The venue was a world away from that high-powered dealmak-

ing. Roma and Sevilla played at the stadium of third-tier German club Duisburg, whose fans have been raising money from T-shirt sales to help the club with the financial impact of the coronavirus.

Sevilla will next face Wolves Tuesday after the English team squeezed past Olympiakos 1-0 on the night and 2-1 on aggregate for its first European quarterfinal in 48 years.

UEFA EUROPA LEAGUE

Raul Jimenez scored the only goal from the penalty spot in the ninth minute after Olympiakos goalkeeper Bobby Allain gave away a spot-kick with a clumsy challenge after he failed to control the ball.

Both teams had plenty of chances to score in an action-packed second half but a combination of poor finishing and solid goal-keeping kept the score down.

Bayer Leverkusen earned a quarterfinal against Inter Milan, beating Rangers 1-0 Thursday thanks to a powerful shot from Moussa Diaby for a 4-1 aggregate win.

Basel already had a 3-0 lead from the first leg and made the quarterfinals after Fabian Frei scored the only goal of the game in a 1-0 win over Eintracht Frankfurt. Basel next plays Shakhtar Donetsk.

ICC MEN'S T20 WORLD CUP India to host 2021 edition, Aus in 2022

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, August 7: The International Cricket Council (ICC) has decided that India will host the 2021 edition of the T20 World Cup while the postponed 2020 edition will now be played in Australia in 2022. India is also set to host the 50-over World Cup in India in 2023. The ICC had announced July 20 the postponement of the 2020 edition World T20 due to the coronavirus pandemic, but did not mention the venue for the 2021 edition and the 2022 edition. They had only said that the 2023 50-over World Cup will be played in October-November in India.

Speaking to this agency, an ICC board member had said that the reason why the ICC release hadn't mentioned the venue of the 2021 and 2022 T20 World Cup was because a decision was yet to be taken on whether India would be requested to hand the rights of hosting the next year's showpiece event to Australia.

"See, the whole idea is to reach a decision which is agreeable to all. The only reason why the venues haven't been given and the 50-

When contacted, a BCCI official had said that it will be a decision that will be taken by both the Indian board and Cricket Australia (CA) in unison.

Silverstone, August 7: Valtteri Bottas set the fastest time in the first practice session for the 70th Anniversary Grand Prix at Silverstone Friday, just ahead of his Mercedes teammate Lewis Hamilton.

Ferrari was again off Mercedes' pace, with Charles Leclerc fifth-fastest and Sebastian Vettel seventh. Mercedes has won every race so far this year.

FIVE-TEST SERIES OF WORLD TEST CHAMPIONSHIP MOVES TO EARLY 2021 INDIA-ENGLAND SERIES POSTPONED

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, August 7: India's white-ball series against England, scheduled at home in September-October, was Friday postponed to early 2021 with both the boards citing the COVID-19 pandemic, which wrecked the international calendar and created space for the IPL during this window.

Both teams were scheduled to play three ODIs and as many T20s and the matches could now be held after the Test series between the two in India early next year.

The series was to be a preparatory one ahead of the T20 World Cup, which was originally scheduled from October 18 to November 5 in Australia, but has now been postponed due to the pandemic.

The T20 World Cup's postponement made way for the IPL, which has been scheduled from September 19 to November 10 in the UAE.

"BCCI and ECB are in consultation with a view to confirming the 2021 schedules for an all-formats England men's tour to India to run from late January to late March and for India's Test tour to England due in the summer of 2021," the BCCI said in a statement.

BCCI secretary Jay Shah added: "The BCCI and ECB are working closely to finalise the day-wise schedule as we move towards the resumption of cricket. The India-England series is one of the most anticipated contests in world cricket. The two teams compete hard on the field and provide some riveting moments."

The five-Test series to be hosted by India could be trimmed to four to accommodate the white-ball games next year.

"International cricket between India and England is a highlight of the cricketing calendar and we look forward to working with BCCI to firm-up the schedules for these eagerly anticipated tours as soon as possible," said ECB CEO Tom Harrison.

India have not played any international cricket since March when the team engaged in a home T20 series against South Africa, which also had to be postponed midway due to the pandemic.

Yasir spins web around England as Pak in control

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Manchester, August 7: Yasir Shah (4/66) helped Pakistan take a crucial 107-run first innings lead as England were bowled out for 219 in their first essay of the first Test here at the Old Trafford, Friday.

In reply, England fast bowler Stuart Broad struck early in Pakistan's second innings after the visitors took a huge first innings lead in the second session of Day 3. Azhar Ali and his troops are firmly in the driver's seat as they lead by 127 runs at tea with nine wickets in the bag.

There was a chance for England to pick their second wicket but Ben Stokes dropped an easy chance in the slip to give Abid a second chance off the bowling of Anderson in the seventh over.

Earlier, Jos Buttler (38) and Chris Woakes (19) resumed the hosts' innings after lunch and the wicket-keeper batsman fell straightaway to Yasir without adding a single run to his score. Dominic Bess was the next to depart as he became Yasir's third wicket of the innings for one. Few overs later, Yasir struck again and this time it was Woakes.

Broad (29 n o) then slammed three consecutive boundaries in one Shaheen Afridi over, adding crucial runs to the England total. His partner Jofra Archer, however, couldn't last long as he was dismissed by Shadab Khan for 16.

Broad continued to hit boundaries on the other end as this time he hit a six and four off Yasir. But he soon ran out of partners as James Anderson was dismissed LBW by Shadab for seven.

England folded in their first innings for 219. Yasir was the pick of Pakistan bowlers and he ended with a four-wicket haul. Mohammad Abbas and Shadab scalped two each for the visitors.

BRIEF SCORES (AT TEA): Pakistan 326 & 20/1 (Abid 15 batting; Stuart Broad 1/2); England 219 (Ollie Pope 62; Yasir 4/66). Match to continue.
