3 BJP MLAs suspended

The MLAs, Jaynarayan Mishra, Bishnu Charan Sethi and Mohan Charan Majhi, were suspended for hurling shoes and headphones at the Speaker's podium

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, April 3: Three senior BJP MLAs have been suspended from the ongoing Budget session for hurling shoes and headphones at Speaker Surjya Narayan Patro's podium during the House proceedings Saturday.

The suspended legislators are Opposition chief whip Mohan Charan Majhi, deputy Leader of Opposition Bishnu Charan Sethi and senior BJP member Jaynarayan Mishra. The Speaker suspended the three leaders after examining the video footage.

The House Saturday witnessed ugly scenes as BJP MLAs hurled shoes, earphones and papers at the Speaker's podium during the proceedings. One of them also threw dustbin inside the House.

As the Speaker rejected an adjournment motion brought by Congress members on the mining issue, both BJP and Congress members alleged that the Speaker doesn't want to conduct any debate on the mining issue in the House. If the Speaker has any objection on the notice why did he not clarify it earlier, the Opposition leaders questioned.

Soon, BJP and Congress members rushed to the well of the House and created ruckus. Unable to run the House, the Speaker called an all-party meeting and later allowed debate on passing of the Odisha Lokayukta (Amendment) Bill and the Societies Registration (Odisha Amendment) Bill.

Meanwhile, BJP members again went to the well and hurled two shoes, papers and three headphones towards the Speaker's podium. Hence, both the Bills were passed in the House without the participation of Opposition members. Following this, the House was adjourned till 4 pm.

As soon as the post-lunch session started, many Treasury bench members and Parliamentary Affairs Minister BK Arukha condemned the action of the Opposition and demanded exemplary action against the BJP members for insulting the chair and the House.

"During my 26 years as a member of the House, I have never witnessed such an unfortunate incident. Strong punishment should be given for such act," Arukha said.

Senior BJD legislator PK Deb demanded suspension of the BJP members while another member from BJD, Kishore Mohanty said, "It is the prerogative of the Speaker to take decision on which adjournment motion will be accepted or not. No one can challenge him." Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leader Narasingha Mishra said, "What has happened in the House is really unprecedented, undesirable and un-called for. I express my displeasure over the incident."

However, another senior Congress member Santosh Singh Saluja termed it as a trivial incident and said he is feels sorry for the untoward incident. "But you should not give much importance to the incident," he told the Speaker.

After hearing the members, the Speaker adjourned the proceedings and conveyed an all-party meeting to watch the video footage of the incident. After the meeting, government chief whip Pramila Mallick moved a motion to suspend the three MLAs, which was adopted. Later, the Speaker announced that the three MLAs have been suspended till the end of the ongoing Budget session. He also requested them to leave the House immediately. However, within next two hours, the House was adjourned sine die, five working days ahead of schedule.

Till the time of writing this report, BJP members are on an "overnight" dharna near the Mahatma Gandhi's statue on the Assembly premises to protest the suspension order of the Speaker. Congress members too staged walk-out protesting against the non-acceptance of their adjournment motion. "I am not supporting the shoe hurling incident. We could beg apology for any such incident even as I am unaware that who were involved in the incident. But, the Speaker has curtailed all the constitutional guidelines today. As a Leader of Opposition, I was not allowed to speak. The Bills were passed arbitrarily amid heavy ruckus," Leader of Opposition Pradipta Naik told reporters outside the House.

Reacting to the suspension, Mohan Majhi said "I have not hurled shoes. Throwing headphone towards Speaker's podium is not a new incident in the House."

However, Mishra welcomed his suspension. "We are opposing injustice in the Assembly. If I am suspended for opposing injustice, I would welcome it. The Speaker did not allow any Opposition member, including Leader of Opposition, to speak during passage of the Bills, which is unconstitutional."

Night curfew back in 10 dists

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, April 3: In view of rising COVID-19 cases, the state government Saturday announced night curfew in 10 districts between 10 pm and 5 am from Monday.

"In the interest of the general public and to prevent transmission of infection, it is directed that night curfew will be in force in the districts of Sundargarh, Jharsuguda, Sambalpur, Bargarh, Balangir, Nuapada, Kalahandi, Nabarangpur, Koraput and Malkangiri from April 5 till further orders," said an order issued by Chief Secretary Suresh Chandra Mahapatra.

As per the order, all shops, commercial establishments, offices, institutions and movement of individuals will be restricted or prohibited between 10 pm and 5 am in these districts. Only essential activities will be allowed during the curfew period.

Collectors and Municipal Commissioners will issue orders for their respective jurisdictions for clamping restrictions under Section 144 of CrPC, and ensure strict compliance. Collectors may also impose any further restrictions or allow such activities as felt appropriate considering the local situation, it says.

The government has, however, kept emergency services pertaining to health, electricity, police, fire service, water supply, telecom, railway and airport out of the purview of restrictions. Employees of the Information Technology and media houses have been exempted from the curfew restrictions. Home delivery services have been allowed to function during the curfew hours.

Odisha has been consistently reporting more than 400 new COVID-19 cases daily for the past two days. While 452 more people were found COVID positive Saturday 461 had tested positive Friday. The districts which share borders with Chhattisgarh are especially vulnerable to rapid rise in infections.

The highest - 77 - fresh cases were reported in Khurda district, while western Odisha districts such as Nuapada (71), Sundargarh (75), Kalahandi (29) and Bargarh (19) too had high caseloads. The spurt in infections is attributed to movement of infected people from Chhattisgarh.

Kerala's first transgender candidate withdraws amid threats, harassment

Anannayh Kumari Alex, the first transgender person to contest an Assembly election in Kerala, is withdrawing from the election after allegedly receiving death threats from leaders of the DSJP which nominated her

AGENCIES

Malappuram, April 3: All set to be the first transgender person in Kerala to contest the Assembly election, Anannayh Kumari Alex is now withdrawing from the poll fray. Anannayh Kumari Alex alleged that she was mentally tortured and received death threats from leaders of the Democratic Social Justice Party (DSJP) which had nominated her.

Despite the fact that the last date for withdrawal of nomination papers has gone by, 28-year-old Alex has decided to end her election campaign. She was nominated from the Vengara constituency in the Malappuram district of Kerala against senior leader PK Kunhalikutty of the Indian Union Muslim League representing the United Democratic Front (UDF) and Communist Party of India (Marxist) candidate P Jiji representing the Left Democratic Front (LDF).

"The DSJP leaders forced me to speak poorly of UDF candidate PK Kunhalikutty and to criticise the LDF government," Alex said. "I was also forced by the party leaders to observe pardah during the election campaign. The harassment came after I said that I would not do anything which would surrender my personality," she stated. Alex continued, "I was used by DSJP party leaders. They had some plans and reasons for putting me in the front. But I didn't understand that earlier. I have a personality and my own opinions, and I am not ready to surrender that."

Anannayh Kumari Alex further alleged that DSJP leaders threatened to kill her when she opposed them. They portrayed me as a prostitute and insulted me, she claimed.

"I wanted to contest the election to ensure representation and equality for transgender people in Kerala. But it was the party that instructed me to contest from the Vengara constituency. It was not my decision initially," Alex said.

Anannayh Kumari Alex hails from Peruman in Kollam district of Kerala. She is Kerala's first transgender radio jockey. She is also a professional makeup artist and a news anchor employed at a private channel.

Kerala will go to the polls in a single phase April 6. The counting of the votes will be done May 2.

Distancing helped tribals keep nCoV at bay: Naidu

Bhubaneswar, April 3: The tribal population in Odisha was largely untouched by the Covid-19 pandemic and their unique customary practices and traditions have helped them keep the infection at bay, Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu said here Saturday while citing a study.

The report by Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Research and Training Institute (SCSTRTI) noted that by habit, tribal people maintain a reasonable distance from one another when they walk, he said.

M VENKAIAH NAIDU | VICE PRESIDENT

“Such safe distancing and hygiene norms, rooted in the tribal culture coupled with the natural food, have helped them stay safe during the pandemic,” Naidu said addressing the 50th convocation of Utkal University here.

Universities should focus on these positive aspects of tribal communities and include them in their curriculum, he said.

His comment came at a time when India Saturday recorded 89,129 new Covid-19 cases, the highest daily rise in around six-and-a-half-months, taking the nationwide tally of infections to over 1.23 crore.

Odisha is home to 62 tribal communities constituting 23 per cent of the state's total population.

“The development and welfare of these tribal communities should be our priority. We should approach them with respect and sensitivity.

Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu, Governor Ganeshi Lal and other dignitaries at the 50th convocation of Utkal University in Bhubaneswar, Saturday

A paternalistic attitude is wrong. The truth is that we have a lot to learn from tribal communities who live a simple life in harmony with nature,” the Vice President said.

He also urged institutions like Utkal University to take up research on issues faced by tribal people and actively contribute to policy formation for their development and well-being.

Naidu also focused on the management of natural disasters that the coastal state faces regularly.

“You have seen regular occurrence of cyclones, floods and droughts in the state. Therefore, it is imperative to make disaster management an integral part of our education from the early days. This would prepare us better to face any such calamity in future. I hope Utkal University will take a lead in this regard,” he said.

Naidu, while asking students to be sensitive to the needs of the excluded, said that discipline, honesty and hard work are the keys to success in any field, including public life.

“We have great economic potential and can improve the human development index on all counts. We can fight hunger, disease, ignorance and every other evil that retard our growth,” he remarked.

Talking about the rich culture and history of Odisha, the Vice President said the great land of Kalinga taught lesson of peace to Emperor Ashoka.

He also lauded the daring seafaring merchants of Kalinga, who established trade links with various countries.

“I want you (students) to take inspiration from their stories and imbibe the spirit of entrepreneurship and innovation. Our universities and educational institutions also have an important role in this. They should equip students with requisite skills so that they can emerge as job creators, not mere job seekers,” he added.

Amendment to the Biju Patnaik University of Technology (BPUT) Act was also passed in the House to ensure its smooth functioning and achieve academic excellence at least three of state-specific reforms. The balance 1 per cent depends on the implementation of four sectoral reforms, each carrying weightage of 0.25 per cent. The decision would give an additional leeway to the state government to go for higher borrowing for meeting its rising capital needs, sources said. Similarly, amendment of the Biju Patnaik University of Technology (BPUT) Act was also passed in the House to ensure its smooth functioning and achieve academic excellence.

As per the amendment, term of office of the vice-chancellor of BPUT has been fixed for four years instead of the current five years. Also, designation of professor, reader and lecturer will be re-designated as professor, associate professor and assistant professor in line with all-India pattern.

An OAS officer, not below the rank of joint secretary, will now be appointed as registrar of BPUT to ensure better and efficient management of the university. Similarly, an Odisha Finance Service officer will be appointed as finance officer of BPUT. The move is seen as an attempt by the state government to have control in day-to-day university affairs.

Annual report of the university will be tabled in the Assembly while the vice-chancellor has been authorised to constitute selection committee for recruitment of teaching and non-teaching posts.

Other Bills passed in the Assembly include Xavier University Odisha (Amendment) Bill, Odisha Advocates' Welfare Fund (Amendment) Bill and Societies Registration (Odisha Amendment) Bill. All the five bills were passed without any participation of the Opposition BJP and Congress.

27 years after formation, Angul still reels under problems

Due to rapid industrialization, people residing in several areas under Banarpal block have been losing their land. But these people are yet to get compensations as they were promised

POST NEWS NETWORK

Angul, April 3: Angul district is celebrating completion of 27 years of being announced as a separate district. Angul was accorded the district status April 1, 1993. Over the years, the district has achieved a lot but is still lagging behind in several fields.

The district is home to many natural resources. Some nationalised companies like Nalco, NTPC and MCL have played a pivotal role in improving the district's financial condition. As regards its contribution to the state's exchequer, the district has been at the top of the list.

The district has made tremendous progress in the field of agriculture. The farmers have been in spotlight for cultivating cash crops like capsicum and broccoli. Similarly, the infrastructure of the district's education, health and tourism is getting stronger. While students from this district have been doing well in examinations for last couple of years, modernization of health facilities is on. And Satkosia's rich biodiversity has been attracting tourists from far and away.

But according to the people of the district, the district's progress could have been more if problems like unemployment, pollution, irrigation, drinking water, land acquisition, displacement, and medical vacancies had been addressed properly. According to president, Jeevan, Jibika O Krushi Jami Suraksha Committee, Kishorenagar, Dinabandhu Pradhan, 16 years have passed since the state government conducted the ground breaking ceremony of Sureswari Irrigation Project at Kishorenagar. The project has not progressed even an inch. Had it been completed, it could have irrigated 1,965 acres of farmland. The government signed an MoU for a power plant here in 2010 and the project has since been neglected. Similarly, president, Talcher Suraksha Manch, Muralidhar Sahoo said the air pollution problem in Talcher area is alarmingly increasing, resulting in people suffering from respiratory diseases. Neither the administration nor the authorities of the mines and factories are taking any steps to improve the situation. People residing in Kaniha area are suffering the same problem.

Describing the problems of those who lost their land to various developmental projects, social activist Bauribandhu Sahu said due to rapid industrialization, people residing in several areas under Banarpal block have been losing their land. But these people are yet to get compensations as they were promised.

The district headquarters hospital (DHH) and all the CHCs and PHCs have endless problems. They have a shortage of doctors and paramedical staff. A trauma care centre and burn unit are yet to be made functional in the DHH. At the same time, the demands for transforming the DHH into a super specialty hospital and then to a medical college have been raised but they are falling on deaf ears.

When contacted, District Collector Siddharth Shankar Swain said the district is already on the path of development. Many projects have been chalked out. Works on some have started. Once these projects are completed, the district would emerge as an example for others. The administration is laying emphasis on tourism, health, education, agriculture and sports.

AUTHORITIES HAVE SET OUT TO COMPLETE INFRASTRUCTURE WORK IN NEXT SIX MONTHS

POST NEWS NETWORK

Sambalpur, April 3: Super specialty healthcare services will be launched soon at VIMSAR in Sambalpur. The hospital authorities have set a target to complete the necessary infrastructure within next six months.

On the other hand, various outfits and local intellectuals alleged that just completing the infrastructure will not ensure right healthcare services to people.

"Before completion of the building work for the super specialty services, the state government should approve all posts of doctors, medical and paramedical staff. Such a proposal was placed before the general body meeting of the VIMSAR," they observed.

According to reports, the super specialty medical requires a professor, an associate professor, an assistant professor and a senior resident doctor.

Besides, there is a need for an ICU, an anesthesia professor for an operation theatre. Meanwhile, the VIMSAR authorities have requested the state government to fill up these posts.

Former executive member of VIMSAR, Dr Bikash Hota said if the state government does not fill up the posts before the completion of the super specialty building, it will create hurdles in the healthcare.

It may be noted here that a few days ago, Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik approved various posts at the MKCG Medical College and Hospital in Berhampur. It is expected that various posts in the VIMSAR will be approved soon.

As regards the issue, VIMSAR Director Professor Lalit Meher said a letter has been sent to the state government for approval of the posts in VIMSAR.

Neighbours disrobe woman in public

POST NEWS NETWORK

Kendrapara, April 3: Tension flared up in a village under Nikiprai police limits in this district after a woman was stripped by her neighbours and brutally assaulted over a dispute, Saturday.

The matter came to the fore after a video of the barbaric act captured in mobile phones by some villagers went viral on social networking sites. The clip depicts the villagers disrobing the woman and mercilessly kicking and punching her. The villagers were also seen in the video assaulting her with lathis.

The incident is the fallout of a longstanding dispute of the woman with her in-laws and neighbours. According to a preliminary report by the police, the woman of another village fell in love with a youth of the village and eventually married him.

However, her marriage turned sour as her in-laws started torturing her for dowry. Later, she filed a complaint with police and a case was lodged in a family court for hearing. Her in-laws fled the village while she continued to live in the house. Her in-laws allegedly tried to drive her out of the house and sought the help of neighbours. The neighbours Saturday asked her to vacate the house but disrobed and assaulted her when she refused to oblige, Nikiprai IIC Kabuli Barik said.

The woman screamed for help but none responded to her cries. Later, the victim and her perpetrators filed separate complaints at Nikiprai police station. Police registered two separate cases and launched an investigation.

According to the report, a fire was spotted inside Andhari forest in the daytime a few days ago. Later, a house was built at this place.

As fire has been sporadically breaking out in this forest, a large number of trees have been reduced to ashes. On the other hand, scared of fires, wild animals stray into human habitations, locals alleged.

This forest is close to NH-49 in Jharpokharia area. Locals alleged that burning forests has been turned into a commercial concern in the area. What is most surprising is that some people sold parts of this gramya jungle to many people of West Bengal, Jharkhand and Mursidabad. They built houses and set up shops alongside the NH-49 and inside the forest.

Over last 10 years, some women in the name of forest protection started selling trees of the jungle and cleared the space. As villagers came to know about it, the forest protection committee comprising women were dissolved. Thereafter, some youths were roped in the committee.

Now, these youths are allegedly clearing trees and made plotting of the land. The forest land is being sold for ₹3 to ₹4 lakh per decimal. It was alleged that though the forest department is aware of this development, no action has been taken in this direction.

The tehsil authorities had served notices long ago, but no action is being taken. Forest officials said that land of the gramya jungle belongs to the tehsil administration, but trees belong to the forest department.

Local environmentalists are worried over such increasing encroachment of the forest land.

FOCUS UN ESCAP FORECAST

TROUBLED ECONOMY

India's 2021 economic output is expected to remain below the 2019 level or K-shaped. This is almost at par with National Statistical Office (NSO) projection at 8 per cent contraction 2020-21, showing the lockdown impact. It estimates that the pandemic has pushed an additional 89 million people in the region into extreme poverty in 2020

India is growing and ought to grow after unplanned devastating lockdown of all economic and social activities. But the growth story for 2021 remains a mystery. The Economic Survey projected it at 11 per cent, RBI 10.5 per cent, International Monetary Fund 11.5 per cent, World Bank in a wide range of 7.5-12.5 per cent, and UN's ESCAP puts it at 7 per cent over a contraction of 7.7 per cent through 2020.

The Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP) report 2021 states, India entered the pandemic lockdown with subdued GDP growth and investment. "The pace of recovery further moderated in the fourth quarter 2020-21 with estimated year-on-year growth still close to zero." Plus, India's 2021 economic output is expected to remain below the 2019 level or K-shaped. This is almost at par with National Statistical Office (NSO) projection at 8 per cent contraction 2020-21, showing the lockdown impact. It estimates that the pandemic has pushed an additional 89 million people in the region into extreme poverty in 2020.

On the other hand, ESCAP praises China for becoming the only major economy worldwide to achieve a positive annual economic growth rate in 2020. But for the rest of the region, including India, the recovery is likely to be K-shaped. The economists use U, V and W to forecast different kinds of financial future. The K-shape is a new symbol and portrays a troubling, divergent economic future, one where the economy rebounds unevenly and where the wealthy benefit while everyone else gets left behind.

This also bares the reality that the pandemic or not lockdown devastated economies like that of India, which were trying to improve their conditions pre-pandemic. The repeated fear psychosis and threatening of partial or complete lockdown again is likely to create more business uncertainties and delayed recovery.

Coupled with high policy quandary, officially-sponsored price rises through heavy taxes on petroleum, other fuels, increasing toll-taxes on roads and consequent rise in fare, freight and rail costs, caused 5.03 per cent inflation in February, 2021, meaning despite wage contraction an individual's expenses increased by over 5 per cent. It may show a 'better' GDP in monetary terms but in reality it will be a regression, where people's purchasing power reduces. This leads to shrinkage in production as is indicated by fall in February core sector output by 4.6 per cent. It is exacerbated by lowering of deposit interest rates, taxes on provident fund and other accumulations, spree on privatisation, including that of giant public sector banks to private swindlers. These add to the market uncertainties and further possible regression.

The flip-flop policy on normalising relations with Pakistan, as the UN Defence Secretary visits India and consequent refusal of Islamabad to walk the talk adds to further uncertainties. So does certain Indian companies' truck with Myanmar's military-controlled firms, slapped with UN sanctions.

The recent accidental blockage of the Suez Canal route could add to further inflationary pressures as India's 5 lakh barrels a day of crude import is to become expensive with tanker rates rising at least in the short run.

The disinvestment drive too has not succeeded during the past three years. Even now the policy, though being steamrolled, is raking up issues of how India would manage its future through an oppressive private sector for which all labour and financial policies, including interest rates are being compromised. Had India not accumulated such productive public sector organisations and nurtured banks, how could it have taken to the sales of family diamonds?

It has also raised questions of disposing off assets worth ₹2.10 lakh crore without a public discussion and at the whims of a few institutions. The powers of money bill and whether this should be put in check or not is being continuously debated. Nobody has answered whether such sales would help the country or pauperise it.

There is no answer either to how the government promising two crore jobs would be able to provide employment to jobless. The unemployment rate in the country declined to 6.52 per cent in March from 6.90 per cent in February, as per think-tank Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE). This conceals the real numbers, of job losses during 2020 lockdown and does not include millions of under-employed or semi-employed. The rural sector is in twin-crisis of poor cash flow and glut of agricultural produce. This is giving rise to discrimination, puts brake on industrial and manufacturing recovery and restoration of economic health.

The rising forex reserves to $582 billion in March are not a very positive sign either. It speaks of contracting imports by 46 plus per cent and notional value increase (of about 21.7 per cent) in gold prices held by RBI since March 27, 2020.

India's taxation system has also drawn ire of the US on retrospective tax and digital service tax, as per a policy restricting imports in tune with Atmanirbhar Bharat. Various income-tax rules, TDS oppression and many other such set of laws like opening up of ten-year old cases is causing havoc of uncertainties.

The uncertain Indian growth story, distress of the people due to complicated tax policies or little boost to production tells of a peculiar lack of thought process. The planning process needs to be reactivated for turning the economy to a fast track. The Narendra Modi government has to be proactive in reviewing the policies to regenerate the economic process, even thawing its bid for privatisation. India needs to consolidate; the economic growth would be a corollary.

Man is a transitional being. He is not final. The step from man to superman is the next approaching achievement in the earth evolution. It is inevitable because it is at once the intention of the inner spirit and the logic of nature's process.

Price of Modi years

Finished writing a book called the 'Price of the Modi Years' a few days ago. It should be published later this year. It is a history of India since 2014 and I have examined the facts and the data on various parts of the polity like the economy, national security, governance, the judiciary and so on. I do not want to talk about the contents of the book because it has too much detail and in any case some of my views may already be familiar to readers. What I did want to talk about was where some of the material was taken from.

Of the sources that have been quoted in the book, the one that has been cited most — 85 times — is a website called TheWire.in. Another website, Scroll.in has been cited 54 times. In comparison, the Times of India has 37 citations. The reason for this is that I have found that the websites have carried more of the sort of reports that I was interested in than the newspaper.

The fact is that in the last decade or so these websites and others like them like News Click and The News Minute and Alt News have become as important a source of news as the traditional media like newspapers. Most of these sites were founded by journalists and survive on donations and some grants. They are not owned by big business houses or traditional media houses, and that is one reason why their content is different. Traditional media is dependent on the Central government for several things. For instance, the Modi government spends ₹1,200 crore per year (₹100 crore per month) on advertising. The Central Public Sector Units spends another ₹1,000 crore or so. So roughly about ₹200 crore of money is given to media each month, an enormous sum which comes at a price.

Then there are other things, such as licenses for TV stations, free or subsidised land allotment and customs and import duties on machinery and newsprint (the paper that newspapers are made of). Then there are the various 'summits' that big media houses hold where they invite the Prime Minister and various ministers to attend and speak. When the PM is displeased with a headline or story, he has in the past cancelled his presence, leading other ministers to also cancel and leading event sponsors to complain that they did not get the full value of their sponsorship. All these make the traditional media vulnerable to government pressure in a way that the new websites cannot be.

And this is why the Modi government has introduced the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021. This oversight mechanism was created without a law and would function for the Internet as the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting did for TV regulation. The government was giving itself the power to censor and regulate all content on the Internet and even on messaging services.

The rules exempt e-newspapers, meaning that established publishing houses (those which receive money from the government) would be privileged over independent media houses like TheWire.in, Scroll.in and NewsClick.in. If you have a news website and also newspaper then your website will not be regulated. If you have a news website and do not have a newspaper, your website will be regulated.

The Information Technology Act, 2000 did not extend to news media, and so the guidelines did not have the legal authority to regulate news media. This change was pushed through by adding powers far beyond those in that parent legislation. The rules gave the government the right to regulate content put out by a "publisher of news and current affairs content", which is open-ended and vague and arbitrary.

The new law also affects you directly as a citizen. It would require messaging services such as Whatsapp, Signal and Telegram to enable the identification of the creator of a piece of content (for example a cartoon criticising the PM that went viral). This requirement of traceability would break end-to-end encryption, which made these messaging services secure. Also, the originator of a message had no control over who forwarded the content, or how many times it was forwarded, or in which fora. Erotic content exchanged by a couple or group of friends could land up in a place where it would be seen differently.

The rules say there will be an "oversight mechanism by the Central government" (censorship) of video content that is published on all web-based platforms. The government can block content and also get platforms to publish scroll apologies. Major platforms took the cue and put out a joint 'self regulation toolkit' that portends self-censorship to align content with what the government wanted and, more importantly, not publish or broadcast what it did not want. Presumably they were encouraged by the fact that the Modi government called their executives in and threatened to jail them.

These developments do not bode well for India. The government is extremely powerful and the Prime Minister is very popular. The Opposition is still finding its feet and not able to strongly push back against the narrative of religious authoritarianism. India needs an independent media that can report what is happening in our country. And the government is attempting everything it can to make sure that this does not happen. India was ranked 142nd on the World Press Freedom Index. I wonder where it will be when the new rankings for 2021 come out next month.

WORDSWORTH

Butter no parsnips

It's interesting that you should use the phrase to refer to idleness, since its usual associations are with honeyed words. The full expression is fine words butter no parsnips (or sometimes soft words ... or fair words ...), meaning that words alone are useless, especially flattering phrases or fine promises, and you should judge people by what they do rather than by what they say. Apart from that, there's not a lot more that one can say apart from "origin unknown". It's a proverb, which is at least 400 years old: the first example given in the big Oxford English Dictionary is dated 1639: "Faire words butter noe parsnips".

The unfolding tragedy of Tibet

Lobsang Sangay & Karma Choeying

TIBET AS KNOWN TODAY IS ONLY A FRACTION OF THE HISTORICAL MAINLAND OF TIBET. THE CHINESE HAVE CREATED A FACADE BY GIVING THE AUTONOMOUS REGION OF TIBET, WHICH IS WHAT IS LEFT OF TIBET AFTER ITS REPEATED GEOGRAPHICAL DIVISIONS

Tibet, famously called the roof of the world; a state in the Himalayas neighbored by India and China has for long been in a state of tussle with Beijing. This is among the many conflicts currently brewing in south Asia, probably the worse as far as the power imbalance is concerned. The water tower of Asia has for long witnessed the cold and dark nights under the communist regime of China. The process of democratisation is merely a ghost only if that ghost exists. This makes it imperative for the powers across the globe to play their role in fostering a dialogue between Beijing and Tibet, and only recently we have seen some improvement on that front and some progress will hopefully be on its way.

Tibetan people have struggled under the mighty and brutal fist of Beijing and since the independence of China we have been demanding our separate homeland. The division of Tibet into smaller units and segregating them from the mainland Tibet is a typical example of engineering. Tibet as known today is only a fraction of the historical mainland of Tibet.

The Chinese have created a facade by giving the autonomous region of Tibet, which is what is left of Tibet after its repeated geographical divisions, an autonomy nonexistent in practice. People in Tibet demand the unification of all the parts which were historically part of Tibet, and post that want a complete political, economic and religious freedom. People in Tibet have tried to resist the imperialistic control of the communist China in Tibet and have always raised their demand for independent Tibet. The inspiration to the people of Tibet comes mainly from outer Mongolia and Bhutan, both countries are doing quite well in managing their affairs and their foreign policy.

The gross human violations in Tibet is not a new story and is not hidden from anyone despite the media ban and propagandistic approach adopted by Chinese government to have the control of one's destiny is the luxury Tibetans don't have. Young people are abducted from the tribal regions of Tibet and the same are inducted in People's Liberation Army, who are then sent to various regions of mainland China wherein they go through the process of political re-engineering; approximately half a million people have already been inducted in PLA from Tibet tribal regions and some are being engineered to serve the agenda of communist China. One of the major internationally recognised research organisations has stated the conditions being equally worse as that in Syria. The excruciating pain shivers the spine when one sees that people are not even allowed to decide on the number of children they can have. The free and fair process of governance in Tibet is just a mirage and the reality, just the opposite. The dilapidated condition of Tibetans is mostly being ignored and not reported; however, the reports which come out as Tibetans flee from Tibet in search of a peaceful asylum are very disturbing. The missing list of people from Lhasa and adjoining areas is growing and no political rival is left unmonitored.

The fear of losing identity is among the worst fears any community can encounter. The cultural identity and the religious identity of the people of Tibet are among the worst hit. Tibet and China are culturally diverse and have very little to nothing in common. The Chinese, however, are trying to impose their culture in Tibet which would subsequently mean the lost Tibetan culture. The freedom of religious expression is even more hit. The interference in the elections for Dalai Lama by China is not only protested against, but the proxy Dalai Lama which has been put in place in Tibet is not even revered by the people of Tibet. Tibetans have a strong notion of being separated from their religion and fears of Chinese Buddhism taking over Tibetan Buddhism under the protection of communist China. This is one of the grave situations as far as the freedom to profess and practice of religion is concerned.

The world needs to come together to solve this issue of gross human rights violation among other conflicts.

Third Front

Sir, Irrespective of the poll results in five states where Assembly polls are being held, the Opposition has much work to do. Congress is neither here nor there. At another level, the alliance partners of the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) appear disillusioned with a lethargic Congress. UPA chairperson Sonia Gandhi, perhaps for the first time in her long stint, appears to be losing her grip on the coalition partners. Against this backdrop, revival of the "Third Front" is being discussed in political corridors. In the early 90s, the coming together of "like-minded" parties saw the beginning of a new front to challenge the Congress — the "Third Front". It is Sharad Pawar who is taking the lead in providing the much needed push to the Third Front. The 'front' can make some impact if it is able to guard itself from collapsing like a pack of cards due to disagreements and ambitions. Many experienced and able non-BJP and non-Congress leaders were looked upon with suspicion by the people because of their inability to stay one. One wonders whether some head-strong leaders, like Mamata Banerjee, can ever mingle with the rest when it comes to fighting the BJP. However, Sharad Pawar, fresh from his "king-making maneuvers" in Maharashtra, may act as a fulcrum for the third front, if he can bring all non-Congress and non-BJP parties, that are unambiguous in ideology and agree on a common minimum programme, on a single platform. Ganapathi Bhat, AKOLA

Pakistan's U-turn

Sir, Pakistan's recent overtures to mend fences with India, particularly on resumption of trade, was perceived as a welcome development in normalising the historically strained relations between the two countries. However, political compulsions of Prime Minister Imran Khan's party have ensured that the move was successfully scuttled which does not come as a surprise to India. Reeling under an unfavourable economic climate, Pakistan saw reason in importing at least cotton and sugar, among other things, from India whose prices had skyrocketed in recent days. But far from providing relief to its beleaguered people which resumption of trade with India might have ensured, Pakistan's insistence for resolution of the Kashmir tangle and restoration of Article 370 have, unfortunately, emerged as priorities in its scheme of things. While the Kashmir issue is non-negotiable to India and withdrawal of Article 370 purely its internal matter, India hopes that good counsel shall ultimately prevail leading to restoration of friendly ties between the two neighbours. Bhaskar Roy, NEW DELHI

'Mamata's obstructionist mindset deprived Bengal of jobs, industries'

AGENCIES

Haripal (WB), April 3: Prime Minister Narendra Modi Saturday alleged the "obstructionist mindset" of Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee and her TMC deprived West Bengal of industries and jobs. He claimed the TMC supremo hurt people's self-respect by claiming they are attending BJP rallies after taking money. The prime minister also mocked Banerjee for her frequent criticism of the Electronic Voting (EV) Machines and the Election Commission (EC).

"She keeps criticising EVM, the EC... If players keep criticising umpires, you should know their 'Khela Sesh' (game's over)," he told an election rally here in Hooghly district.

small car Nano's production unit from there, Modi said the TMC used the place for political purpose and then left the people to fend for themselves.

"Didi and her party's obstructionist mindset blocked several industrial, infrastructure and connectivity projects. I have never seen a party which takes pride in stopping industries and development. "We all know what happened in neighbouring Singur. They used it for furthering their politics and then left the people in limbo. Today it has no industries and farmers are in distress," he said.

Seeking to punch a hole in the TMC's poll plank of Bengali pride, Modi claimed Banerjee hurt people's self-respect by claiming they attend BJP rallies after taking money. "Didi has got jittery after sensing defeat. That's why she is criticising everybody and everything, from EC to EVMs. She is abusing me. But while abusing me, she has hurt the self-respect of the people of Bengal by saying they are taking money to attend our rallies.

"Do people of Bengal take money to attend rallies, Didi? Who are you insulting while abusing me? You are insulting the people of the state," he said.

Modi said he sensed the outcome of Bengal elections the day polling was held in Nandigram.

"Didi you betrayed people, you accept defeat," Modi said apparently referring to Banerjee's angry outbursts against central security forces and Union Home Minister Amit Shah while polling was on in Nandigram.

Banerjee is locked in a keen tussle in Nandigram with her one-time loyalist Suwendu Adhikari who has joined the BJP. Modi also claimed that Banerjee, in order to satisfy her ego, blocked implementation of various central schemes.

Special Court extends Vaze's NIA custody till April 7

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Mumbai, April 3: A Mumbai Special Court Saturday extended till April 7 the custody of arrested-suspended cop Sachin Vaze - the prime accused in the SUV and a Thane businessman's death cases - to the National Investigation Agency (NIA).

The Special Court has also asked the probe agency to extend any medical assistance that may be required by Vaze following a plea by his lawyers and also directed NIA to furnish a detailed health status report of the accused at the next date.

Vaze was produced before the Special Court by the NAI after his remand ended and the agency demanded a further week's custody of the accused as the probe into the conspiracy angles of both cases was in the final stages.

Additional Solicitor-General Anil Singh, representing the NIA, arguing for extension of custody, said that the investigators have unearthed several incriminating evidences like a DVR of CCTV footage, laptops and other things which need to be examined and verified.

He added that the NIA is not only investigating the case of the SUV abandoned with gelatin sticks and a threat note near the home of industrialist Mukesh Ambani, but also other related cases like the death of businessman Mansukh Hiran in which Vaze is the prime accused.

At the next hearing April 7, the NIA will produce the 3 main accused in the case arrested till date - Vaze, a convicted cop Vinayak Shinde and a cricket bookie Naresh Gaur before the Special NIA Court.

The NIA has till date seized 9 vehicles used/driiven by Vaze, including the two latest additions - an Audi and a white Mercedes Benz - which will undergo forensic tests.

An SUV Scorpio was found near the Antilia on Feb. 25 followed by the mystery death of Hiran whose body was fished out of the Thane Creek marshes on March 5, both cases sparking off a major political row, and leading to Vaze's arrest March 12.

Centre withheld funds meant for Maha out of bias: Congress

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, April 3: The Congress in Maharashtra Saturday accused the Centre of short-changing the Maharashtra government by withholding its "rightful dues" to tide over the Covid-19 pandemic and other disasters like cyclones and heavy rains that had hit the state last year.

State Congress president Nana Patole also accused the BJP of acting irresponsibly amidst the pandemic, a day after Leader of Opposition Devendra Fadnis said that Maharashtra was the only state in the country that didn't provide any assistance to the people during the crisis.

In his Facebook address Friday night, CM Uddhav Thackeray had referred to the stringent measures adopted by various countries to check the spread of coronavirus. He had also hinted that a lockdown was inevitable if new cases continue to go up.

"This is irresponsible behaviour. Fadnis should have given information on the aid provided by the Central government to Maharashtra. For the last year, the state has been batting pandemic and natural disasters like cyclones, floods and heavy rains on its own. The MVA government is working hard to mitigate the hardships of the people." However, the Centre had acted out of bias against the state by not parting the rightful share of funds to the state.

Adityanath calls for Mamata's ouster

AGENCIES

Falta/Kultuli/Uluberia (WB), April 3: Calling upon people to oust the Mamata Banerjee government, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath said Saturday that the BJP, if voted to power in Bengal, will ensure security for all women and create job opportunities for the youth.

Adityanath, who addressed two rallies during the day, also said that those who had tried to stop Durga puja and Saraswati puja will be put behind bars, if the saffron party forms government in Bengal.

"You had given 50 years to the Congress, 30 years to the communists and 10 years to the Trinamool Congress, I urge you to give five years to the BJP... We will change the face of West Bengal."

"The BJP will stop all tortures perpetrated on the women of West Bengal. It will ensure that youths get employment opportunities," the Uttar Pradesh CM said at a public meeting in Falta area of South-24 Parganas district.

Film crew members booked for violating Covid-19 norms

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Palghar, April 3: Police have registered an offence against some members of a film crew after more than a hundred people were found constructing a movie set without adherence to Covid-19 guidelines in Maharashtra's Palghar district, an official said Saturday. The case was registered Thursday, he said.

"The work of building the film set at Suncity grounds in Palghar's Vasai had started March 24. Over a hundred people worked at the site at a time. When a police team went there, it was found that none of the workers followed coronavirus norms like wearing masks and maintaining social distancing," he said.

"Therefore, a case was registered against some members of the film crew under IPC sections 188 (disobedience to order duly promulgated by public servant), 269 (negligent act that is likely to spread the infection of any disease dangerous to life)," the official of Manikpur police station under Mira Bhayandar-Vasai Virar police commissionerate said.

Nobody has been arrested in this connection, he added. The police did not reveal any further details, like the name of the film for which the set was being constructed.

Maharashtra Friday recorded 47,827 new COVID-19 cases, the highest daily count since the pandemic began, which took the state's caseload to 29,04,076.

CM's video clip sparks war of words between TMC and BJP

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Kolkata, April 3: A purported video clip where Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee is seen sitting on a wheelchair and moving her plastered leg back and forth has gone viral on social media, giving her rivals an opportunity to claim that she was playing up her injuries to win sympathy.

The TMC, however, has condemned the "manner in which the party supremo has been insulted", and said the rival BJP should learn how to respect women. PTI could not independently verify the authenticity of the video.

BJP spokesperson Pronoy Roy, who shared the 30-second clip on Facebook, said Banerjee should "stop putting up a drama over her injuries" to garner public support in the midst of the assembly elections.

"This video grab which has surfaced on networking websites has not been filmed by anybody from the BJP. It was recorded by some TMC party workers. We want her to get back to normal life soon, we also pray for that... But she must stop putting up this drama by moving around in a wheelchair. "If she was exercising her leg by shaking it then I suggest that she start walking as that will help her recuperate faster."

Taking a jibe at the chief minister, Rahul Sinha, a senior leader of the saffron party, said the TMC supremo's bandage will not buy her votes.

"The more she is losing confidence the bigger her bandage gets. People are not buying this... She must have forgotten which leg is injured, and shook the wrong foot. She has already lost the elections, the bandage won't be able to save her from imminent defeat," Sinha said.

Taking strong exception to the remarks made by BJP leaders, state minister Shashi Panja said the saffron camp, by raising suspicion over Banerjee's injuries, has not just insulted her but all the women of Bengal.

Coins add weight to BEST staff salaries in unwanted way

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, April 3: A banking issue with the civic-run Brihanmumbai Electric Supply and Transport (BEST) undertaking has left around 40,000 of its employees getting a sizable portion of their salaries in the form of coins over the past few months, giving their remuneration an unwanted heft.

The undertaking, which operates a 4,000-bus strong transport system as well as supplies electricity to some 10 lakh consumers in the metropolis' island district, has been getting massive quantity of coins from passengers by way of ticket fare, as well as cash for power bills.

Senior BEST committee member

Sunil Ganacharya said the BEST has a huge amount of money lying in its coffers, but no bank is willing to take it from the undertaking's 100-150 collection points after a contract with a leading private sector bank ended last year.

Some BEST employees, who did not wish to be named, said that getting a small part of the remuneration in coins was always prevalent.

"However, the ratio has grown now. I got ₹11,000 in cash and coins in my last salary, while the coin-cash amount was ₹15,000 the previous month. We generally get ₹1,000 each, mostly in ₹2, ₹5 coins and ₹10 denomination notes, and some part in ₹10, ₹50, ₹100 and ₹500 notes. The rest is deposited directly into our bank accounts," an employee said. Ganacharya rued the state of affairs and said this 'coins as salary' mechanism has even led to some employees defaulting on their EMIs, among other things.

A BEST conductor said they try to tide over this "weighty" problem by exchanging the coins with passengers and shopkeepers, who need it in large numbers to run their daily businesses

"Several BEST employees stay in areas like Ambarnath, Badlapur, Panvel or Virar-Vasai and travel by suburban locals. It is very inconvenient and risky to carry so much cash, that too in coins," he said.

He added that the BEST committee had given its nod in January for an agreement to be signed with a private bank for cash collection, but some issue was delaying the start of the pick-up mechanism.

A BEST conductor said they try to tide over this "weighty" problem by exchanging the coins with passengers and shopkeepers, who need it in large numbers to run their daily businesses.

Talking to PTI, Shashank Rai, BEST Workers' Union leader, said the mechanism of giving coins as part of salary was unacceptable and the inconvenience caused to the staff had been conveyed to the administration of the undertaking on several occasions.

BEST spokesperson Manoj Varade, meanwhile, said an agreement would be signed with a bank in two to three days, after which the bank will start picking up cash.

Cut-money, Syndicate racket hindering Bengal's growth: PM

AGENCIES

Kolkata, April 3: Launching a scathing attack on the ruling Trinamool Congress in West Bengal and Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee in particular, Prime Minister Narendra Modi during his second election rally Saturday at Sonarpur in South 24 Parganas district said that the cut-money culture and syndicate racket is hindering the growth of the state. Holding back-to-back rallies in Sonarpur and Haripur in Hooghly district, Modi said, the extortionists of Trinamool Congress hoarded the ration sent for the poor by the Centre. During Corona, the Centre sent 23 lakh metric tonnes paddy and one lakh metric tonnes pulses and that the Centre had to pay nearly Rs 9,000 crore, but the Mamata Banerjee government didn't allow the Central benefit to reach you. They hoarded the ration. The assistance sent to the state during Cyclone Amphan didn't reach. It was also looted.

Urging that a double-engine government can only provide all the Central benefits to the people of Bengal, Modi alleged that the ruling Trinamool Congress is hindering the growth of the state.

The Centre has developed 1,000 fast-track courts to give prompt justice to the women but it is not allowed here. The Centre provides free vaccination and Rs 1,000 for pregnant women but here the women are deprived of the benefit. The women don't get the benefits of Central loan facilities because they will have to give cut-money for that, the Prime Minister alleged.

Countering Mamata Banerjee's allegation against the partisan attitude of the Election Commission of India (ECI), Modi said, "Why are you so angry with the ECI and the security people? Are you angry

Assam militants urged to join mainstream: PM

Tamulpur: Buoyed by a raft of peace agreements with underground outfits in the Northeast, Prime Minister Narendra Modi Saturday made a fervent appeal to militants in Assam who have not surrendered yet to return to the mainstream as they are needed to create an 'Atmanirbhar Assam'. Addressing an election rally here in Bodoland Territorial Region's (BTR) Baksa district, the prime minister said people of the state have rejected violence for development, peace, unity and stability. Accusing the Congress of encouraging violence, Modi said, "It is our responsibility to ensure the rehabilitation of those who have returned to the mainstream after years of struggle."

because they have not allowed you to give proxy votes? You should remember that 10 years before, they only gave you the chance to rule Bengal. You were happy then. Keep faith on the people."

Suggesting that Banerjee contesting from Nandigram is a big mistake, the Prime Minister said, "There are rumours (though I have not verified) inside the party that she might contest from another constituency. She will lose in Nandigram and if she loses from the second constituency also, the Trinamool Congress can never come to power."

4 astronauts to stay on busy training schedule

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Chennai, April 3: The four Indian astronauts returned to India last month after completing their training in Russia and will undergo different kinds of training here, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) chief K Sivan said.

"They had landed in India March 28. The four astronauts will undergo space mission specific training in India," Sivan told IANS.

The four Indian astronauts were training since February 2020 at the Gagarin Cosmonaut Training Centre (GCTC) belonging to Glavkosmos which is a subsidiary of Russian space corporation Roscosmos.

According to Sivan, the four astronauts will continue to train till they board the Indian space module. The Rs 10,000 crore Indian human space flight mission is called Gaganyaan.

Queried about the training regime here, Sivan said, "The astronauts will have their physical fitness training that includes swimming, jogging. They will also have academic/theoretical classes as they have to understand the rocket, and the human space module."

"They will also be trained on simulators. The Gaganyaan module navigation terminals will be simulated. The astronauts will be trained on various parameters that will be displayed on the terminals," he added.

The astronauts will later work on the Gaganyaan module as if they are flying.

"These apart, the astronauts will be trained on survival techniques so that they can survive in the sea as their landing module will land on the sea waters," Sivan said.

While the astronauts will be trained in Bengaluru and the survival techniques in Cochin, ISRO will carry out the engineering work related to Gaganyaan.

Glavkosmos had earlier said the four Indian astronauts were trained in abnormal descent module landing - in wooded and marshy areas in winter; on water surface, and in the steppe in summer.

"In June 2020, all Indian astronauts-elect passed training in short-term weightlessness mode aboard the IL-76MDK special laboratory aircraft, and in July, they were trained to lift aboard a helicopter while evacuating from the descent module landing point," Glavkosmos had said. The Indian fighter pilots were also trained in a centrifuge and in a hyperbaric chamber to prepare their organisms for sustaining spaceflight factors, such as G-force, hypoxia and pressure drops.

What is driving mobile gaming amid the pandemic in India?

FOR CONSUMERS TRYING TO DEAL WITH THE PROLONGED SOCIAL ISOLATION, ALONG WITH ALL THE ANXIETY AND AMBIGUITY OF THE LAST YEAR, MOBILE GAMING PROVIDED A CREATIVE OUTLET

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, April 3: Amid the pandemic, especially the everything-from-home year, mobile gaming took off spectacularly in India. For consumers trying to deal with the prolonged social isolation, along with all the anxiety and ambiguity of the last year, mobile gaming provided a creative outlet.

From my vantage point, I know of loved ones and peers who took to mobile games more fervently during the past year. As we complete the pandemic anniversary, let us ponder over what is actually driving mobile gaming, and what does the future portend.

As smartphones continue to be the central nervous system of human lives, the dependence on phones for work, for learning, and most importantly, for unwinding and socialising through gaming rose during the last year.

Much before the pandemic, mobile gaming was on the upswing, driven by the ubiquitous smartphones and the availability of low-cost data.

At CyberMedia Research (CMR), our ongoing research around gaming has thrown some interesting insights. For instance, mobile gaming in India is driven by an array of gamer personas, ranging from the serious to the hyper-casual gamers. The growth in mobile gaming was led not by serious gamers, but rather casual and hyper-casual gamers.

The democratisation of gaming can be traced to the smartphone usage. With smartphones, the need for dedicated gaming hardware devices is not felt. No consoles required. Additionally, mobile gaming apps evoke a sense of familiarity with consumers. Think Puzzles. Or card games. With ease of access to such 'freemium' gaming apps online, more users than before, who typically do not identify themselves as 'gamers' have taken up gaming. Our research points out the gaming intents vary across consumer cohorts. For instance, serious gamers primarily play to 'relieve stress', while casual and hyper-casual gamers seek to have 'fun'. The choice of games is dictated by recommendations from friends and family. Social networking and social messaging platforms are two of the prominent channels for consumer awareness around new games.

Today's gamers have, on an average, close to seven games installed on their mobile phones. Among these, there are at least four games that they play avidly. Interestingly, men prefer to unwind with mobile games in the early evening, while women mostly chose to play during late night. On an average, the duration of gaming play spans close to 90 minutes.

Indians have traditionally enjoyed freemium offerings and seek value. The spike in game time during the pandemic led many gamers to veer towards paid gaming apps.

For instance, six out of 10 serious gamers chose paid gaming apps, while others continued to use 'freemium' apps. Amidst the nationwide lockdown in early 2020, use of paid gaming increased by 15 per cent, while 'freemium' gaming apps increased by a mere 8 per cent. It will be interesting to see how this trend pans out in 2021 and beyond. 'Freemium' will probably continue to be the mainstay.

When it comes to smartphones, today's gamers seek more -- more RAM, better battery life, increased storage, faster touch response and better processors.

Smartphone brands are responding to the evolving mobile gaming needs. They seek to differentiate themselves with a focus on high refresh rates for smoother performance, enhanced displays, and bigger batteries, among others.

As we look ahead, mobile gaming will only continue to become more mainstream. In doing so, it will become more exciting, more immersive and more social than before.

COVID SURGE India braces for COVID curbs

DAILY CORONAVIRUS CASES HAVE SURGED FROM AROUND 15,000 IN EARLY MARCH TO 88,000 OR SO AT THE START OF APRIL

AGENCIES

Mumbai, April 3: India's biggest cities braced for stricter lockdowns and other COVID-19 curbs Saturday as infections hit a six-month high, as a month-long surge continued in the country third-worst hit by the pandemic.

India's richest state, Maharashtra, accounted for more than half of the 89,129 new cases reported by the national health ministry in the last 24 hours, with a record 47,827 infections.

The state's chief minister warned citizens of a lockdown if cases continued to rise at their current rate, saying medical infrastructure would be inadequate in a couple of weeks.

In the southern state of Karnataka, home to India's tech capital Bengaluru, authorities ordered gyms to be closed, barred functions at religious places and told cinema halls, bars, pubs and restaurants to limit the number of people allowed in.

India's capital, New Delhi recorded more than 3,500 cases, its highest this year, but its chief minister ruled out another lockdown for now. Daily coronavirus cases have surged from around 15,000 in early March to 88,000 or so at the start of April.

The south Asian nation recorded 89,129 new infections and 714 deaths, the ministry said. That was the biggest daily rise since Sept. 20 and the most deaths since Oct. 21, according to a Reuters tally.

India follows only the United States and Brazil in infections, with more than 12 million recorded since the start of the outbreak.

The government has intensified its vaccination drive in recent weeks, but the shots have been slow to reach India's 1.3 billion people.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has faced criticism for exporting vaccines produced in India when most Indians are yet to get them.

PUNJAB'S UK VARIANT A POTENTIAL THREAT

NEW DELHI: The UK variant of coronavirus found in Punjab is a potential threat due to its efficiency in spreading, while the double mutant found in Maharashtra is a matter of concern, but not a cause to create panic, suggested CSIR-CCMB Director Rakesh Mishra. Speaking with IANS, Mishra said the UK variant has contributed to the surge in cases in Punjab. "Somebody had travelled from the UK to Punjab, possibly in a group, and then people from this group would have gone to several places in Punjab, which has contributed to the surge," said Mishra. When asked why the UK variant has not been found majorly in cases in the neighbouring states of Himanchal Pradesh, Haryana and Delhi, Mishra said that may be those infected with the UK variant in Punjab have not travelled to places outside the state, or there has not been a super spreader event so far. However, it is a matter of time and there is a possibility that cases may show up later, Mishra noted. He added that both vaccines, AstraZeneca and Covaxin, are working well against the Punjab variant and the double mutant found in Maharashtra.

The commission's order came following Sarma's request to the poll body, mentioning accept my sincere regret and assurance of abiding MCC (Model Code of Conduct) in future, and be further pleased to reduce the period of debarment from election campaign from 48 hours to 24 hours.

Sarma had also pleaded on the

ISRO ESPIONAGE CASE

Probe panel submits report on Nambi's illegal arrest

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 3: A high-level probe panel appointed by the Supreme Court to take erring cops to task for causing "tremendous harassment" and "immeasurable anguish" to ISRO scientist Dr Nambi Narayanan in the 1994 espionage case has submitted its report to the apex court, sources said.

The SC had September 14, 2018 appointed the three-member panel headed by its former judge D K Jain while directing the Kerala government to cough up ₹50 lakh compensation for compelling Narayanan to undergo "immense humiliation". The scientist was arrested when the Congress was heading the government in Kerala. The panel, after investigation, submitted its report in a sealed cover to the apex court recently.

The CBI, in its probe, had held that the then top police officials in Kerala were responsible for Narayanan's illegal arrest.

The case also had its political fallout, with a section in the Congress targeting the then Chief Minister late K Karunakaran over the issue, that eventually led to his resignation.

Over a period of almost two-and-a-half years, the panel headed by Justice Jain examined the circumstances leading to the arrest.

The espionage case, which had hit the headlines in 1994, pertained to allegations of transfer of certain confidential documents on India's space programme to foreign countries by two scientists and four others, including two Maldivian women.

The 79-year-old former scientist, who was given a clean chit by the CBI, maintained that the Kerala Police had "fabricated" the case and the technology he was accused to have stolen and sold in the 1994 case did not even exist at that time.

Narayanan had approached the apex court against a Kerala High Court judgement that said "no action needed to be taken" against former DGP Siby Mathews, who was then heading the SIT probe team, two retired superintendents of police, K K Joshua and S Vijayan, and the then Deputy Director, Intelligence Bureau, R B

Shreekumar, who were later held responsible by the CBI for the scientist's illegal arrest. The apex court in its judgement had said, "We think that the obtaining factual scenario calls for constitution of a committee to find out ways and means to take appropriate steps against the erring officials."

"The criminal law was set in motion without any basis. It was initiated, if one is allowed to say, on some kind of fancy or notion," a bench headed by the then Chief Justice Dipak Misra had said.

"We are of the view that the appellant was arrested and he has suffered custody for almost 50 days. His arrest has been seriously criticised in the closure report of the CBI. From the aforesaid report, the harassment and mental torture faced by the appellant is obvious," the bench had added.

The judgement had said the "entire prosecution" initiated by the state police was "malicious and it has caused tremendous harassment and immeasurable anguish" to Narayanan. "It can be stated with certitude" that the fundamental right of life and personal liberty of Narayanan was "gravely affected".

The CBI, while giving a clean chit to the scientist, had said that Siby Mathews had left "the entire investigation to IB surrendering his duties" and ordered indiscriminate arrest of the scientist and others without adequate evidence.

The case had caught attention in October 1994, when Maldivian national Rasheed was arrested in Thiruvananthapuram for allegedly obtaining secret drawings of ISRO rocket engines to sell to Pakistan.

NO TRADE WITH INDIA: PAK PM

With regards to the ECC decision to allow import of sugar, cotton and cotton yarn from India, Khan held consultations with key members of his Cabinet and decided that Pakistan could not go ahead with any trade with India

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Islamabad, April 3: Prime Minister Imran Khan decided that Pakistan cannot go ahead with any trade with India under the current circumstances after holding consultations with key members of his Cabinet on importing cotton and sugar from the neighbouring country, a media report said Saturday.

The prime minister after consultations Friday instructed the Ministry of Commerce and his economic team to immediately take steps to facilitate the relevant sectors, value added, apparel and sugar, by finding alternative cheap sources of import of the needed commodities, the Dawn newspaper quoted sources as saying.

Various proposals have been presented to the Economic Coordination Committee (ECC) which considers these suggestions from an economic and commercial point of view. After consideration by the ECC, its decisions are presented to the Cabinet for ratification and final approval, the report said.

In the present case, a proposal was presented to the ECC to allow the import of cotton, cotton yarn and sugar from India keeping in view domestic requirements, it said.

With regards to the ECC decision to allow import of sugar, cotton and cotton yarn from India, Khan held consultations with key members of his Cabinet and decided that Pakistan could not go ahead with any trade with India under the current circumstances, it said.

The ECC had decided on commercial grounds to recommend these imports for the Cabinet's consideration.

While the decision was not on the formal agenda of the Cabinet meeting, the issue was brought up by Cabinet members and the Prime Minister instructed that the ECC's port from the neighbouring country amidst tensions over the Kashmir issue.

India has said that it desires normal neighbourly relations with Pakistan in an environment free of terror, hostility, and violence.

India has also told Pakistan that "talks and terror" cannot go together and has asked Islamabad to take demonstrable steps against terror groups responsible for launching various attacks on India.

The ECC's decision had raised hopes of a partial revival of Pakistan-India bilateral trade relations, which were suspended after the August 5, 2019 decision of New Delhi to revoke the special status of Jammu and Kashmir.

In May 2020, Pakistan lifted the ban on the import of medicines and raw material of essential drugs from India amidst the COVID-19 pandemic.

India's move to revoke the special status of Jammu and Kashmir in 2019 angered Pakistan, which downgraded diplomatic ties and expelled the Indian High Commissioner in Islamabad. Pakistan also snapped all air and land links with India and suspended trade and railway services.

Nepal Oppn seeks Oli's resignation

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Kathmandu, April 3: Nepal Prime Minister KP Sharma Oli who is in trouble inside his own party, is likely to face tougher days ahead as the primary opposition, Nepali Congress (NC) has decided to seek his resignation and initiate the formation of a new government under its leadership.

The decisions were taken at a Central Working Committee (CWC) meeting of the NC.

A section of the party led by former Prime Minister Madhav Kumar Nepal is forming parallel party structures within the UML after Oli suspended four senior leaders, including Nepal, for six months.

Oli accused Nepal and other leaders for being involved in anti-party activities and violating rules and norms.

After Oli dissolved the House December 20, 2020, a section of party leaders upped the ante against the Prime Minister and sought his resignation.

February 23, the Supreme Court of Nepal reinstated the House but Oli refused to step down.

The apex court March 7 dropped another bombshell invoking the 2018 party merger between Oli's UML and Pushpa Kamal Dahal Prachanda's Nepal Communist Party-Maoist Center.

Nepal, who was earlier close with Prachanda, returned to his mother party but Oli refused to incorporate them for supporting Dahal when the party was united under the banner of Nepal Communist Party.

After Oli refused to welcome Nepal and his faction inside the old party, the Prime Minister's party has once again landed in fresh trouble.

After the Supreme Court split the Nepal Communist Party into two, the UML and Maoist Center, now, the Prachanda-led Maoist Center is also preparing to withdraw support lent to Oli in 2018 before the party unification.

If Maoist Center withdrew its support, Oli's party will automatically reduce to a minority government.

In that case, either Oli has to take a vote of confidence or face a no-confidence motion.

Nepali Congress's decision to seek Oli's resignation is a welcome step and time has come to remove Oli, former Prime Minister Baburam Bhattarai said Saturday. Time has come for other opposition parties to play their role, Bhattarai said, adding, today our foremost priority is to remove Oli. Meanwhile, Oli said that he was also aware of what the opposition are doing.

"First withdraw your support to the government. Then I will resign," he said, adding that this is not the first time that his resignation has been sought.

"I cannot resign to meet each and every demand."

Meantime, the Nepali Congress' decision to seek Oli's resignation and unseat him, could create a new political equation in Nepal.

If three opposition parties, Nepali Congress, Maoist Center and Janata Samajbaj Party come together, they will easily unseat Oli. And party leaders have said that now time has come to expedite talks between the opposition to unseat Oli.

Taiwan train crash suspect released, prosecutors appeal

REUTERS

Hualien, April 3: A Taiwan court Saturday released on bond the manager of a construction site whose truck authorities believe caused a train accident that killed at least 50 people, but prosecutors vowed to appeal, as family members mourned the dead at the crash site.

Friday's crash was Taiwan's worst rail accident in seven decades, when an express train hit the truck that had slid down a bank beside the track from the building site. The site's manager is suspected of having failed to properly engage the brake.

The train, with almost 500 people aboard, was travelling from Taipei, the capital, to Taitung on the east coast when it derailed in a tunnel just north of the city of Hualien. Forty people are in hospital, from among the 178 reported injured.

Prosecutors had applied to a court to detain the manager on charges of causing death by negligence, a justice ministry official told Saturday.

But a court in Hualien released the manager, Lee Yi-hsiang, on a bond of T$500,000 ($17,525), although it restricted him from leaving Taiwan for eight months and said he had to stay in Hualien.

The court said that while the truck's fall into the path of the train was possibly due to negligence, there was "no possibility of conspiracy".

Yu Hsiu-duan, head of the Hualien prosecutors' office, said it would appeal against the decision.

"The court said there was no reason to keep him in custody," she told reporters. "The court changed it to a surety of $T500,000."

Lee's court-appointed lawyer declined to comment to reporters as he left the court.

Family members visited the site Saturday afternoon to mourn the dead, some crying out "Come back!", and bringing personal belongings with them like dolls.

BANGLADESH TO IMPOSE WEEK LONG LOCKDOWN

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Dhaka, April 3: The Bangladesh government has decided to enforce a one-week lockdown from April 5 to control the new Covid-19 wave in the country, a Minister announced Saturday.

Bangladeshi Road, Transport and Bridges Minister Obaidul Quader made the announcement in an online press conference in Dhaka Saturday.

Meanwhile, the country's Minister of State for Public Administration Farhad Hossain said they would soon issue fresh guidelines covering people and services to be exempted from the lockdown.

Factories will remain open and workers can work shifts by following hygiene rules. The first lockdown, described as a general holiday by the government along with a transport shutdown, had started March 26, 2020 after the first Covid-19 cases and deaths were reported.

7 dead in UK after AstraZeneca jab

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

London, April 3: After more than 18 million people have received vaccinations with AstraZeneca's jab in the UK, the country's health regulator said seven people had died due to rare blood clots, although the cause remains unclear.

"The benefits in preventing a Covid-19 infection and its complications continue to outweigh any risks and the public should continue to get their vaccine when invited to do so," dpa news agency quoted June Raine, Chief Executive of the Medicines and Healthcare Regulatory Agency (MHRA), as saying.

The MHRA previously said there had been 30 cases of rare blood clot events reported out of the 18.1 million AstraZeneca/Oxford vaccine doses administered in Britain.

As of March 24, a total of 22 cases of cerebral vein thrombosis and eight other types of thrombosis had been reported, the agency said, noting that here too, it was unclear whether these were connected.

Reports of unusual blood clot cases in patients who have received the AstraZeneca vaccine have led some national regulators to place restrictions on who can receive the jab.

Canada, for instance, suspended use for those under the age of 55 while Germany has largely halted the jabs for those under 60.

Britain has said the vaccine is safe for all age groups.

The European Medicines Agency, an EU regulator, said the vaccine

BRITONS RALLY TO KILL 'ANTI-DISSENT' BILL

REUTERS

London, April 3: Hundreds of demonstrators joined marches and rallies across Britain Saturday as part of a "national weekend of action" against a proposed new law that would give police extra powers to curb protests.

The Police, Crime, Sentencing and Courts bill would toughen measures, officers can take to disperse demonstrations, such as imposing time and noise limits, which campaigners and activists fear would be used to curb dissent.

Since the bill was brought before parliament last month, there have been sporadic protests, notably in Bristol, southwest England, where demonstrations turned violent with officers and a police station bombarded with bricks and glass bottles and police vehicles set on fire.

Prime Minister Boris Johnson criticised what he described as "disgraceful attacks" on officers, but protesters have accused police of using heavy-handed tactics.

Saturday, climate change group Extinction Rebellion (XR) and the Black Lives Matter (BLM) movement joined other activists for "kill the bill" rallies in London and other towns and cities, including Manchester, Sheffield, Leeds and Brighton.

Days of protests by Extinction Rebellion paralysed parts of London in early 2019, action which fuelled calls from some politicians for the police to be given the tougher powers to prevent excessive disruption.

Demonstrations had not been permitted while a coronavirus lockdown was in place, but restrictions were eased this week, meaning organised rallies can go ahead providing they are "COVID secure".

In London, police warned, "enforcement action will be taken, if needed, in the interests of public health". Some senior officers have said the "kill the bill" tag was deliberately provocative as "the bill" is a nickname in Britain for the police.

Surge in commodity prices to impact economy: Ind-Ra

New Delhi, April 3: Further surge in global commodity prices will have serious implications for India's economy which is still struggling to come out of the Covid-19 impact, ratings agency Ind-Ra said. As per Ind-Ra, a higher retail inflation not accompanied by a commensurate increase in wage growth will adversely impact the consumption demand and in turn investment revival in the economy.

"Though a spike in global agricultural commodity prices could benefit India, it may not move the needle favourably because India, despite the world's biggest exporter of Basmati rice, exported just $6.59 billion worth of cereals and imported vegetable oil and pulses worth $9.66 billion and $1.44 billion, respectively, in FY20." "On the other hand, India's import bill on oil, coal and nonferrous metals was $129.86 billion, $22.45 billion and $13.14 billion, respectively." According to the agency, a faster-vaccine and ultra-low interest rates are fuelling the surge in commodity prices. Consequently, energy commodity prices over the past six months have increased by 55.4 per cent, the increase in non-energy commodity prices is 19.3 per cent. Among the major non-energy subgroups, agricultural commodities rose by 16%, fertilisers 30.2% and metals and minerals by 25.1%. On a more disaggregated level,

Gas producers continue to bleed as govt-dictated prices remain low: Icra

The domestic gas price notified at $1.79 per million British thermal unit for the six months beginning April 1 remains the lowest since the institution of the modified Rangarajan formula mestic producers, it will benefit gas consumers. The consumers will also benefit in the long run from the expectations of continued supply overhang," Icra said commenting on the gas price notified by the government earlier this week. As per an Icra note, at such low gas prices, gas production remains a loss-making proposition for most fields for the Indian upstream producers notwithstanding some decline in oil field services/equipment costs.

turns even as domestic gas producers such as ONGC and Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL)-BP ramp up gas production significantly."

The absence of a floor and sustained low prices as has been seen in the past few years post implementation of the modified Rangarajan formula make exploration and production unviable even for benign geologies, Icra noted.

"Accordingly, low natural gas prices remain negative for the upstream sector adversely impacting revenues, profitability and cash accruals and the incumbents have petitioned the Government of India to provide a floor price for gas prices."

Spot LNG prices had breached $30 per mmbtu in February 2021 due to increase in oil prices, unplanned outages at export facilities in several countries, multiple cold waves, high shipping rates and delays in the Panama canal.

"Next week, market participants will be keeping an eye on the RBI policy statement; expectation is that the central bank could keep rates unchanged and wait for some more time before taking any action to spur growth," said Gaurang Somaiya, Forex & Bullion Analyst, Motilal Oswal Financial Services. "The RBI is likely to continue with the accommodative monetary policy stance and wait for an opportune time to announce monetary action with a view to ensure the best possible outcome in terms of pushing growth without sacrificing the main objective of containing inflation."

On the other hand, rising Covid cases will add pressure on the rupee. Lately, a new wave of Covid-19 infections has hit several states. This comes at a time when India is trying to ramp up the vaccination drive.

TEEN SINNER IN FINAL

19-YEAR-OLD ITALIAN BECOMES FOURTH TEENAGER TO REACH MIAMI OPEN FINAL AFTER COMING FROM A SET DOWN TO BEAT BAUTISTA AGUT IN SEMIFINALS

GIVING IT HIS ALL: Jannik Sinner reaches for a shot during his match against Roberto Bautista Agut (not in pic) in Miami, Friday

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miami, April 3: Former junior skiing champion Jannik Sinner has joined some fast company at the Miami Open. The 19-year-old Italian Friday became the fourth teenager to reach the Miami men's final. The others: Novak Djokovic, Rafa Nadal and Andre Agassi.

"It's nice, but it doesn't mean anything," Sinner said. "The road to have a big name is long. It's not done in one week of a tournament."

Sinner, who chose tennis over skiing at age 13, is playing in only his third top-level ATP event. He rallied in the semifinal to beat Spanish counterpuncher Roberto Bautista Agut 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Sinner will next face No.26-seeded Hubert Hurkacz of Poland, who advanced to his first ATP Masters 1000 final by beating No.4 Andrey Rublev 6-3, 6-4. Hurkacz, 24, improved to 9-0 in Florida this year, including his second career ATP title in Delray Beach in January.

Djokovic, Nadal and Roger Federer skipped the tournament, creating opportunities for the four semifinalists.

"I have a good team. We knew many players were not coming here, especially the big three," Sinner said. "We approached this tournament to go very, very far."

On the women's side, No.1-ranked Ash Barty will play for her second consecutive Miami title Saturday against No.8 Bianca Andreescu, who edged No.23 Maria Sakkari in a three-setter, Friday. "I love a challenge," Andreescu said, "and I know she's going to challenge me Saturday."

The lanky Sinner, seeded 21st, has improved his ranking from 78th at the start of last year. He created a buzz by reaching the quarterfinals in his French Open debut in September and is projected to climb to at least No.24 next week.

"He has everything, no?" Bautista Agut said. "He has a big serve, he's big, he moves well, he has very good groundstrokes. Mentally he's also great and improving. He has a great future."

Sinner's matchup against the No.7-seeded Bautista Agut was a contrast in styles, with Sinner's overpowering groundstrokes gradually wearing down his dogged opponent.

Sinner caught a break at 3-all in the second set, when Bautista Agut let a ball go on break point, and it landed on the line.

"I thought that ball was going out, and it touches the line by one millimetre," Bautista Agut said. "Tennis, sometimes it's crazy, no? One ball can make a big difference in the match."

Sinner went on to hold and broke in the final game of the set to even the match. Down a break in the final set, Sinner rallied again and closed out the win with one last crushing groundstroke to break at love.

A fist pump was the extent of his celebration. He has an impulsive demeanor he attributes to his parents, who make their living at a restaurant in northern Italy—his dad as a cook, his mother as a server. "They are working every day a simple job," he said. "They know what it means to work hard."

Sinner and Hurkacz will play each other for the first time. Hurkacz, who defeated No.2-seeded Stefanos Tsitsipas in the quarterfinals, has beaten two top 10 opponents in the same tournament for the first time. He's projected to move from no 37 to a career-high No.27 in next week's rankings.

'CAN PULL MY BODY FOR ANOTHER TWO TO THREE YEARS'

UMESH STILL DETERMINED

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 3: India pacer Umesh Yadav says he can "mostly pull his body for another two to three years" and wants to make a match-winning contribution in the World Test Championship final against New Zealand in June.

Umesh has played 48 Tests in a stop-start career and is part of arguably India's best-ever pace attack, which also includes Ishant Sharma, Mohammad Shami and Jasprit Bumrah.

Despite doing well over the last three years, Umesh is not a sure starter in the playing eleven considering the competition which has gotten stiffer with the emergence of Mohammad Siraj.

"I am 33 now and I know that I can mostly pull my body for another two or three years, and there will be some youngsters who will be arriving (to play). I feel this is just healthy, because it ultimately ends up benefitting the team."

"When you have five or six fast bowlers on a tour of four or five Tests, you can play each one of them for two games to help reduce their stress and workload, so it helps that pack (of fast bowlers) play for longer," Umesh told 'ESPNCricinfo'.

Umesh has bowled more at home than overseas but feels experience helps him to perform in all conditions. "So I haven't played much overseas, and I haven't had much experience of those kinds of wickets. But I've played a fair amount of Tests so far and learnt with experience how a particular surface will behave."

"As far as the rest of my career is concerned, thank god that relatively I haven't had that many injuries. And that is satisfying as a fast bowler, because once a fast bowler starts getting injured (regularly), he tends to start struggling, which ultimately reduces his (playing) life."

"After an injury, there is the recovery, and then you need a rehab, which consumes a lot of time, which you can never get back. But I have lost very little time to injury periods, which has kind of helped me lengthen my career. So I haven't had to compromise a lot on my pace as well," he said.

Umesh had suffered a calf injury in Australia but returned to the squad for the final two Tests against England at home. However, he did not get a game.

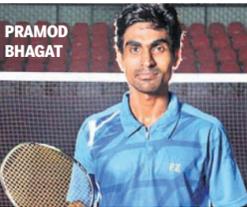

Given that he doesn't play limited overs cricket for India, Umesh can't wait to make a contribution in the World Test Championship final.

"We have worked really hard to get there, and with players like me who are not regulars in white-ball cricket, it is this that we consider our World Cup. If I am able to perform well in that match and we end up winning, being world champions will forever be a memory," he said.

"The match is in England, where swing and seam are important, so I definitely see myself in the playing XI for that game," he added.

Mbaye Diagne drilled in a low shot to put West Brom 4-2 up and Robinson clipped the ball over goalkeeper Edouard Mendy to complete a surprise scoreline.

Dada obsessed with 'match-winner' Pant

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 3: BCCI president Sourav Ganguly says he is 'obsessed' with Rishabh Pant's game and calls the swashbuckling India wicketkeeper-batsman 'an absolute match-winner'.

The former India captain added that he loves watching the likes of Virat Kohli and Rohit Sharma bat. "There are some fantastic players and I think as President of the Board I should not say who is my favourite player. All are favourite to me but I enjoy Kohli, I enjoy Rohit Sharma," Ganguly said during an interactive session organised by Classplus, a platform for educators to go digital.

"I am obsessed with Rishabh Pant because I think he is just an absolute match-winner. Jasprit Bumrah is good, Mohammed Shami is good, I like Shardul Thakur a lot because he has got the courage and guts."

"There is immense cricketing talent in India. When (Sunil) Gavaskar was there people used to think what will happen after him, then came (Sachin) Tendulkar, (Rahul) Dravid, Anil Kumble. When Tendulkar, Dravid left, Virat Kohli, Rohit Sharma, Rishabh Pant took over," he said. "There is so much talent for cricket in India that I think it will produce world beaters in every generation."

Ganguly, who was picked for but I was young. That (series) actually helped me to become a better cricketer.

"I came back stronger mentally. I was not fitter; I understood what international cricket was all about. I started to train myself over the period of 3-4 years not just physically but mentally also on how to handle the pressure," he recalled.

"My series in Australia in 1992 actually helped me become a better cricketer. When I went to England in 1996, I was much stronger. I knew what it takes to score runs in international level."

"I had another four years of domestic cricket under my belt where I kept scoring runs. Those four years I think was a blessing in disguise for me. Failures makes you better cricketer."

Ganguly, who underwent two rounds of angioplasty at a Kolkata hospital in January after complaining of chest pain, said he is hale and hearty now. "I am absolutely fit and fine and back to work, doing everything as I did before."

RCB hopeful for title with arrival of Maxwell, Jamieson

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 3: Armed with exciting new recruits, including Australia all-rounder Glenn Maxwell and New Zealand pacer Kyle Jamieson, perennial under-achievers Royal Challengers Bangalore will hope to battle hard in their bid for the elusive IPL trophy.

Balance issues in the squad, injuries and over reliance on skipper Virat Kohli and AB de Villiers marred RCB's chances to win the title last season. Off to a brilliant start, they ran out of steam towards the fag end of the tournament, losing five in a row to bow out in the Eliminator.

Having released 10 players ahead of the auction, the team management focussed on strengthening the batting and pace bowling units.

Here's is a SWOT analysis of the side that will take on defending champions Mumbai Indians in the tournament opener April 9

STRENGTHS

RCB have assembled a strong batting line up on paper. Run-machine Kohli, who enjoys an impressive record as an opener in the league, has already confirmed that he will be opening the innings.

Partnering Kohli will be the highly-talented Devdutt Padikkal who impressed everyone last season and is in red-hot form.

Young wicketkeeper-batsman Mohammad Azharuddeen, who had a staggering strike-rate of 194.54 in the Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy, and New Zealand's Finn Allen are other attacking options at the top. De Villiers and Maxwell add the firepower to the middle-order while Sachin Baby, experienced Daniel Christian and Washington Sundar add to the depth.

Glenn Maxwell

Virat Kohli

Kyle Jamieson

RCB possess a potent spin battery and it augurs well for them that they will be playing a major chunk of their matches on the slow tracks in Chennai and Ahmedabad.

Leg-spinner Yuzvendra Chahal

has enjoyed a lot of success in the league and will be eager to weave magic with the ball. He will be joined by the immensely accurate off-spinner Washington, who was Kohli's go to man in the powerplays last season.

WEAKNESSES

The RCB pace department does not inspire confidence. Navdeep Saini and Mohammed Siraj lack the experience of bowling with the white ball and have a propensity of leaking runs.

Jamieson has struggled in T20s and has no experience of playing in India. Other options include medium pacer Harshal Patel, and the Australian trio of Christian, Daniel Sams and Kane Richardson.

OPPORTUNITY

The presence of several big hitters in the team could go in RCB's favour while chasing big totals. It is also the perfect opportunity for Maxwell to set the tournament ablaze. A proven match winner for Australia, the all-rounder has been a disappointment in the IPL.

RCB have two attacking batsmen in the uncapped Azharuddeen and Sachin, who would be keen to grab on to their opportunities.

THREATS:

Maxwell is a vital cog in RCB's grand scheme of things this season. If he tanks with the bat, it could have disastrous consequences for the side.

The over-reliance on Kohli and de Villiers continued last year despite big signings. The Indian batsmen in the team need to step up to avoid going the familiar route.

The squad: Virat Kohli (C), AB de Villiers, Devdutt Padikkal, Yuzvendra Chahal, Mohammed Siraj, Kane Richardson, Washington Sundar, Pavan Deshpande, Finn Allen, Shabbaz Ahamad, Navdeep Saini, Adam Zampa, Kyle Jamieson, Glenn Maxwell, Rajat Patidar, Sachin Baby, Mohammed Azharuddeen, Daniel Christian, KS Bharat, Suyash Prabhudessai, Daniel Sams & Harshal Patel.
