Raipur, April 4: Police recovered bullet-riddled bodies of 20 jawans in the jungles of Chhattisgarh Sunday, raising to 22 the number of security personnel killed in a fierce gun battle with Naxals the previous day – the biggest massacre in more than a year that also left 31 injured.

Police also recovered the bodies of three jawans killed in the encounter, an official said, adding a search operation is on in the forest to trace a missing jawan.

"The dead include eight from the District Reserve Guard (DRG), seven from the CRPF's Commando Battalion for Resolute Action (CoBRA), six from the Special Task Force and one from the 'Bastariya' battalion of the CRPF," Inspector General of Police (Bastar range) Sundarraaj P said.

The missing jawan belongs to the CoBRA unit, he said.

He said the anti-Naxal operation was launched based on the intelligence inputs about the presence of Maoists of PLGA (Peoples' Liberation Guerilla Army) Battalion No. 1 led by Hidma, a Naxal commander involved in many deadly attacks on security forces.

He rubbished reports of "a meticulously planned Naxal ambush", adding, "Security forces fought bravely and inflicted a heavy blow to the ultras during the face-off".

Another senior police official said the Naxals, around 400 in number, were strategically positioned on a hillock in front of Tekalguda village and around it.

heavy fire following which a few moved to the deserted village to take defensive positions where the Naxals lay in wait, the official said.

Visuals from the spot showed bodies of the slain jawans lying in the field and on the village streets.

An eyewitness said the bodies of the security personnel had bullet wounds and also had wounds inflicted by sharp weapons.

Eighteen jawans were missing after five security personnel were killed Saturday in the fierce gun battle with Naxals in a forest along the border between Bijapur and Sukma districts in Chhattisgarh, police said.

"On Sunday, bodies of 17 missing personnel were recovered during a search operation," the official said. Some weapons of the security forces were missing, he added.

In a major joint offensive, separate joint teams of security forces, comprising over 2,000 personnel, launched an anti-Naxal operation from Bijapur and Sukma districts in the South Bastar forests, considered as a Maoist stronghold, Friday night.

places - Tarrem, Usoor and Pamed (in Bijapur), and Minpa and Narsapuram (in Sukma), the official said.

When the patrolling team dispatched from Tarrem was advancing through the forest near Jonaguda, around 500 km from the state capital Raipur, it was ambushed by cadres of PLGA battalion of Maoists and a gun battle ensued, he said. The attack comes after the March 23 incident when five DRG personnel were killed as the Maoists blew up a bus carrying the security personnel with an IED in the Narayanpur district of the state.

Meanwhile, Union Home Minister Amit Shah Sunday spoke to Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel and took stock of the situation following the incident, officials said.

Shah also directed CRPF's Director General Kuldip Singh to visit Chhattisgarh to assess the situation.

WHO IS MAOIST LEADER HIDMA?

RAIPUR: Hidma, who is suspected to be around 40 years old, is a tribal from Puwari village of Sukma district. He joined hands with the rebels in the 90s. He heads the People's Liberation Guerrilla Army's (PLGA) battalion number 1 and known for his fierce and deadly ambushes. He leads around 180 to 250 Maoist fighters, including women. He is a member of the Maoists Dandakaranya Special Zonal (DKSZ) committee. He is also the youngest member of the CPI (Maoists) supreme 21-membered 'central committee'. Unconfirmed reports suggest he has been appointed as chief of the central military commission. There are no recent pictures of Hidma available. He carries a reward of ₹40 lakh. On Saturday, the Maoist PLGA battalion was led by its commander Hidma. With a total strength of nearly 250, this group of Naxals was aided by insurgents associated with the Maoist platoons of Pamed, Konta, Jagargunda, and Basaguda area committees.

BJP warns impeachment motion against Speaker

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, April 4: The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) Sunday threatened to move an impeachment motion against Speaker Surjya Narayan Patro alleging that he was sidelining Opposition parties.

Leader of Opposition Pradipta Naik and suspended BJP MLA Jaynarayan Mishra Sunday held a press conference and accused the Speaker of being biased while conducting the proceedings of the House. Naik accused the Speaker of not giving adequate time to the Opposition leaders to raise the issues pertaining to their constituencies.

"As per rules of the Assembly, all MLAs are entitled to be heard in the House. The MLAs, irrespective of their parties, should be heard in the House and that is why such institutions exist. But the Speaker is not allowing Opposition parties to speak and raise importance issues of public interest," Naik said.

Mishra, on the other hand, accused the Speaker of provoking BJP MLAs to lose their mind. He said that the actions of Speaker to allegedly ignore the BJP MLAs were a provocation for the BJP MLAs Saturday. Three BJP MLAs were suspended by the Speaker Saturday for hurling chappals, headphones and papers at the Speaker's podium.

Mishra claimed that the party has been mulling to move an impeachment motion against the Speaker for allegedly ignoring the Opposition parties in the Assembly. "However, we do not have the numbers. While the BJP has 22 MLAs in the 147-member Assembly, it requires at least 25 members to make such a move. However, if Congress members support the issue, there should be no hesitation in this regard," Mishra said.

Personal data of 533 million Facebook users leaked

SECURITY RESEARCHERS WARN THAT THE DATA COULD BE USED BY HACKERS TO IMPERSONATE PEOPLE AND COMMIT FRAUD

AGENCIES

New Delhi, April 4: Personal data of nearly 533 million (53.3 crore) Facebook users, including 61 lakh Indians, remerged online after a hacker posted the details on a digital forum.

The leaked data includes Facebook ID numbers, profile names, email addresses, location information, gender details, job data, and other details.

The easy availability of such data may make users more vulnerable to cybercrime, although Facebook has said that this is "old data".

"All 533,000,000 Facebook records were just leaked for free. This means that if you have a Facebook account, it is extremely likely the phone number used for the account was leaked," tweeted Alon Gal, CTO

The personal data, including those of 61 lakh Indians, remerged online after a hacker posted the details on a digital forum of security firm Hudson Rock. "I have yet to see Facebook acknowledging this absolute negligence of your data," he added.

and fixed this issue in August 2019," a Facebook spokesperson was quoted as saying in the report late Saturday.

With the data now entering the public domain, there is a real danger that this information can be widely used by cybercriminals for email or SMS spam, robocalls, extortion attempts, threats and harassment, etc. The data is reportedly broken up into download packages by country.

As Cambridge Analytics still haunts nearly 87 million users, including over 5 lakh users from India, this has come as the biggest ever leak of a social media platform that has billions of users.

In January this year, reports first surfaced that the phone numbers of 533 million users were currently being sold via a bot on encrypted messaging platform Telegram, which came from a Facebook vulnerability that was patched by the social network in 2019.

According to a report in Motherboard, the person selling the database full of Facebook users' phone numbers ($20 per number) lets customers lookup those numbers by using an automated Telegram bot.

Gal had then said: "It is very worrying to see a database of that size being sold in cybercrime communities; it harms our privacy severely and will certainly be used for smishing (the fraudulent practice of sending text messages) and other fraudulent activities by bad actors."

However, this time, the Facebook data leak has been published with more details. In December last year, reports surfaced that a bug exposed the personal information like email addresses and birthdays of Facebook-owned Instagram users.

Facebook has confirmed the leak to The Record.

BDA lost ₹2.62Cr through faulty project: CAG report

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, April 4: The Bhubaneswar Development Authority (BDA) has incurred a loss of Rs 2.62 crore as it could neither develop the proposed citizen-centric services through IT-based platform, nor could it terminate the contract despite failure of the project, a report of the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) of India said, Sunday.

As per the CAG report, the BDA had selected a private firm, VFS Global Services Limited (VFSGSL) through an open tender floated in September 2014 to undertake the job of streamlining the system of issuing building plan approval, occupancy certificates, procedures for allotment of assets and other citizen-centric services through IT-based platforms.

However, VFSGSL failed to develop the project. As per norms the BDA should have scrapped the contract, but it did not rescind the contract even when the state government had decided to hire another agency.

"As per the state government, any competent authority, before proceeding to outsource services, should estimate the cost by consulting other organisations engaged in similar activities and also ensure that available budget provision is adequate for the purpose. However, the BDA did not estimate the cost of outsourcing before engaging VFSGSL. It entered into a formal contract in Nov 2014 and paid VFSGSL Rs 2.62 crore between 2014 to July 2017," the report said.

Principal Accountant General Bibhudutta Basantia (R) releases the CAG report in Bhubaneswar, Sunday

"The firm did not develop IT-based solution for processing the applications and continued with the manual mode of throughout the contract period (December 2014 to August 2017) despite contract mentioning use of physical mode for only a period of first three months.

BDA had the right to forfeit all outstanding payments and terminate the contract. However, it continued to make payments to VFSGSL.

IN A NUTSHELL

The BDA had selected a private firm, VFS Global Services Limited (VFSGSL) through an open tender floated in September 2014 to undertake the job of streamlining the system of issuing building plan approval, occupancy certificates, procedures for allotment of assets and other citizen-centric services through IT-based platforms

However, VFSGSL failed to develop the project. As per norms the BDA should have scrapped the contract, but it did not rescind the contract even when the state government had decided to hire another agency

Continuance of VFSGSL without development of IT solution did not fulfil the objective of outsourcing, as VFSGSL continued with the manual processes along with the existing officials of BDA

During June 2015 to August 2017, the BDA paid Rs 2.62 crore to the firm which should not have been paid as per the terms of the contract," it added.

The report also mentioned that the BDA accepted the fact that VFSGSL was supposed to develop IT solution by the end of February 2015. The Vice Chairman, BDA in June 2019 stated that since the state government had decided to engage another agency for developing IT solution for building plan approval process during the same period, automation work by the Process Manager was put on hold and manual process continued till August 2017.

"Thus, continuance of VFSGSL without development of IT solution did not fulfil the objective of outsourcing, as VFSGSL continued with the manual processes along with the existing officials of BDA. The entailed cost of Rs. 2.62 crore was thus infructuous," the CAG observed.

BJP leaders hit campaign trail ahead of Pipli bypoll

POST NEWS NETWORK

Pipli, April 4: The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has intensified its campaign for the byelection to Pipli Assembly seat scheduled for April 17.

The saffron party's Odisha unit president Samir Mohanty, its national spokesperson Sambit Patra, BJP coin charge Vijay Pal Singh Tomar, Brahmagiri MLA Lalitendu Bidyadhar Mahapatra, BJP state vice president Pravati Parida, general secretary Prithiviraj Harichandan, senior party leaders Prakash Mishra and Kharavela Swain and BJP's Odisha youth wing president Irashis Acharya Sunday hit the campaign trail.

The saffron leaders urged the people of Pipli to vote for BJP candidate Ashrit Pattanayak in the bypoll. They claimed that the Narendra Modi government at the Centre is committed to ensure basic facilities like concrete house, drinking water and toilet to each and every poor family in the country.

"Even after 73 years of Independence, the people of Pipli constituency have been deprived of basic facilities. The BJP is committed to bring all-round development to Pipli and make it free from shadow of trepidation and violence," Samir Mohanty said.

Tomar urged the BJP workers to create awareness regarding the welfare schemes of the Centre.

The saffron leaders alleged that the BJD government in Odisha has failed to develop Pipli even though the constituency is located close to state capital.

"The famous applique work of Pipli is yet to get due share in international market. Even, the people of the locality are yet to get a bus stand. The state government has failed to improve irrigation and other facilities in the constituency. Only the BJP can bring rapid development to Pipli, which is considered as the entry point to Puri Dham," Patra said.

The regional party has fielded Maharathy's son Rudra Pratap Maharathy in the byelection while Congress party has nominated Ajit Mangaraj to take on the BJP and BJD candidates.

Mahendratanya dries up; water crisis hits Gajapati

POST NEWS NETWORK

Paralakhemundi, April 4: Years ago, Mahendratanya river flowing through Gajapati district and neighbouring Andhra Pradesh was full to the brim with water almost throughout the year. However, this summer the riverbed has dried up, signaling severe drinking water crisis and problems for farming in most riparian pockets of this southern district.

Shortage of water in the river has resulted in acute crisis for the farming sector and people living in this town and its peripheral areas, a report said. According to the report, vegetables farmers doing cultivation on thousands of hectares of farmlands in Gosani and Rayagad blocks of the district are facing the brunt of water shortage in the river. Drinking water crisis is already pinching the people in the region, it was said.

Deficit rainfall in the region and poor flow of water from various hill streams are responsible for water shortage in the river this summer. The PHEO supplies drinking water to the town. The water of Mahendratanya is drawn through pipes near Brundaban palace. The water is treated and supplied to households in the town. As there is little water in the river, the PHEO had to dredge the river bed to channelise water to the mouth of the suction pipes.

To compound problems, the municipality has not taken any steps to conserve water of the river and

On the other hand, the neighbouring state is making use of most of the water of Mahendratanya for various purposes by building some barrages. It has also started construction of Apsara project on Mahendratanya to use its water.

After the start of the Apsara project, the Odisha government was jolted into action. It then took a decision to set up barrages on the upper reaches of the river at Dambapur and Champapur. However, the blueprint of the Champapur project has not been finalised while the Dambapur project has not been made operational in the last 13 years.

Many local residents and intellectuals observed that the Odisha government should take expeditious step for conservation projects in the upper region of the river so that it can be used in Gajapati district during summer and other seasons. As for water crisis, assistant engineer of the PHEO division, Swagat Kumar Nayak said that water will be supplied to people through tankers.

Erosion-hit Satabhaya to become a 'ghost' village soon

POST NEWS NETWORK

Kendrapara, April 4: Satabhaya, the village hit by sea erosion in Kendrapara district will soon become a deserted place with the district administration deciding to shift the remaining 118 families to Bagapatia rehabilitation colony, a report said.

The area faces erosion due to rising tides for which the residents have been demanding relocation elsewhere since the last five decades. The 17-km stretch of the beach at Satabhaya under Rajnagar block is claimed to be the fastest-eroding beach on the Odisha coast.

The district administration in a preparatory meeting decided to shift the rest of the 118 families. Bagapatia is about 12-km away from Satbhaya. Earlier there were demands for creating a mangrove forest in Satabhaya to protect the area from erosion by the sea and build up nature camps to promote tourism. Jagabandhu Das of Satabhaya welcoming decision said it has given him a new lease of life.

In the past 40 years, the sea has devoured more than 1,000 homes and large tracts of agricultural lands in the locality sparking serious concern among the residents of Satabhaya.

But, due to constant erosion only a small portion of it remains with Gobindapur, Mohanpur, Kanhpur, Chintamani, Badagahiramattha and Kharikula villages vanishing from the map. Now, the sea has come closer. It is almost at the footsteps of the Maa Panchubarahi's old temple. The administration has stopped all developmental works in Satabhaya after it was decided to relocate the residents to Bagapatia rehabilitation colony in 2017. The area now lacks basic needs like power, road and drinking water. The schools have been closed down in the area. Initially, the district administration rehabilitated 571 families in Bagapatia barring 148 families. The left out families submitted applications several times and drew the attention of the administration for their shifting.

The district administration soon identified the 118 families for shifting which has relieved them of the fear of tidal waves devouring them and their houses, Das said.

However, all are not lucky like Das. Bijaya Levka a local woman said that the identification exercise of the administration is not free from error. She was married to Bijay of Kanhpur mouza but has got separated due to differences among them. Meanwhile, her estranged husband Bijay has been living at Bagapatia after being allotted a land. However, she is yet to get a land at Bagapatia due to lack of proper documents. She is entitled to 10 decimal of land and a house building assistance. Many of the left out families have shifted on their own to nearby areas and living in houses built by them on the government land.

Sudarshan Das, another villager demanded a patch of farmland to earn their livelihood as it would be difficult for them to manage their families in the absence of a proper income.

Environmentalist Hemant Kumar Rout said that administration should plant mangrove forests in Satabhaya to check coastal erosion and use it for promoting eco-tourism.

When contacted, ADM Basant Kumar Rout said that 118 families will be provided with all help while a review has been undertaken to find out the actual reason behind rapid coastal erosion.

Officials have been routinely paying visits to these villages and other localities to review progress of the projects. The Odisha government has taken up a host of projects to push income-generation and livelihood of the people.

A delegation from the Soil Conservation and Watershed department led by director Hemanta Kumar Panda visited Sunday villages under the Kotia panchayat.

The watershed mission is trying to enhance the livelihood of people in Panjeipadar, Taupadar and Janiguda villages. It has dug up several ponds in the area and provided 1,200 Kadaknath fowls to farmers.

The Election Commission's role in conducting free and fair polling during the ongoing elections to the four states of West Bengal, Assam, Kerala, Tamil Nadu and the Union Territory of Pondicherry has unfortunately caused misgivings. Starting from the use of Aadhaar data to send bulk messages through phones by the BJP in Pondicherry, banning A Raja of DMK while relaxing a similar ban for a BJP campaigner in Assam to central forces getting involved in Bengal voting process highlights the EC's self-willed failures.

The EC's image of neutrality as an independent constitutional body has been seriously impaired. It seems to be going totally soft on the BJP and biased against non-BJP Opposition parties. This does not augur well for a healthy democracy or for a prime organization, built on tax payers' money, such as the EC. The latest instance of EC's partisan action is the reduction of its 48-hour campaign ban on Assam Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma to 24 hours announced on April 3 after the powerful BJP leader offered an 'unconditional regret' and requested the poll panel to reduce the ban period. One may wonder why the EC does not extend this same relaxation to leaders and campaigners of other parties. The EC's decision to accede to the request is unacceptable on two counts. First, withdrawal or relaxation of campaign bans is rare. Secondly, it greatly tarnishes the EC's image of impartiality as it overturns its own earlier decision, making it look as if it did not apply its mind when it slapped the ban initially.

Ironically, the only beneficiary of such decisions turns out to be the ruling BJP every time, which is more alarming for the independence of the commission. During the last Lok Sabha polls, the EC had lifted its ban on Amit Shah's electioneering in Uttar Pradesh after he assured the poll panel that he would not 'make any utterances violating' the model code of conduct. The EC did not cover itself with glory when it looked away at Prime Minister Narendra Modi's highly communal remark during the last UP Assembly election when he infamously spoke about "kabarastan" and "samshan" in a blatant attempt to polarize votes.

The Opposition Congress, which filed the complaint leading to the ban on the Assam Minister, slammed the EC's decision and accused it of failing to discharge its obligations to preserve the purity of the electoral process. For, Sarma, who is contesting from the Jalukbari seat in the third and final phase of Assam elections on April 6, can now attend rallies and meetings during the last 24 hours before campaigning ends in the state. Beginning 8 a.m. April 4 he is slated to appear at a series of rallies and road shows including one with Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

The EC is under a cloud now. Its initial order on April 2 debarred Sarma for the rest of the campaign. The action followed a complaint against Sarma for his remark that Bodoland People's Front (BPF) chairperson Hagrama Mohilary would be sent to jail by the National Investigation Agency (NIA). BPF is a constituent of the Congress-led alliance. In fact, a strange and unheard-of thing has happened in the Assam polls when EVMs were found in the car of an Assam BJP candidate. The explanation offered that the EC officials' car broke down forcing them to take the help of the BJP leader is astounding. The EC's order suspending four officials can hardly extenuate the guilt since the incident is a reflection of the steady erosion of independence of the poll panel.

Such events prove, over and over again, that it is not the institutions that are at fault. Many may recollect a time when the Election Commission of India had risen to amazing heights and was viewed as one of the premier global organizations capable of handling immensely large elections over huge geographical areas. People had lately even suggested that the 2020 US Presidential election could have been better managed if the EC of India was given full control and charge over the American process. All such talk and impressions are created, over time, when the human element at the helm of such prestigious institutions is aware of the adage: With great power comes great responsibility.

Sadly, the people holding reins of the EC today are the ones who will go down in history as being responsible for the fall and degradation of such a great institution.

WORDSWORTH

By and large

It's a nautical expression, from sailing ship days. With by and large the modern landlubber means "in general; on the whole; everything considered; for the most part". When you start to read up on the origin, it's easy to get confused because dictionary editors and writers on word origins (this one included) have a lot of trouble understanding the terminology. With the help of books like William Falconer's Dictionary of the Marine of 1769, I think I've sorted matters out. Imagine a ship at sea travelling west. If the wind were blowing from exactly north or south, sideways on, it was said to be on the beam (the beam being the side of the ship at its widest point, usually by the mainmast). If the wind was blowing from any point in the half-circle eastward of the line from north to south, from nearer the stern, the ship was said to be sailing large. This comes from the idea of something being unrestricted, allowing considerable freedom (as in a fugitive being "at large"), because ships sailing large were able to maintain their direction of travel anywhere in a wide arc without needing to make continual changes to the set of the sails. To some extent sailing ships were able to make progress into the wind, that is, with it blowing from forward of the beam. Those with good handling capabilities could get within five or six points of the wind (there are 32 compass points in a complete circle). In such cases, the ship was said to be sailing by the wind, by here having the sense of "towards". If the ship were pointed closely into the wind, but with some margin for error in case the wind changed direction slightly, it was said to be full and by (sailing by the wind with her sails full of wind), or close-hauled, because the lower corners of the main sails were all drawn as close as possible down to her side to windward. If the helmsman by mistake turned the ship closer to the direction of the wind than it was capable of sailing, the wind would press the sails back against the masts, stopping the ship dead in the water and possibly breaking the masts off; in this case the ship was taken aback, the maritime source of another common metaphor.

Value of paintings

An artist asked the gallery owner if there had been any interest in his paintings on display at that time. "I have good news and bad news," the owner replied. "The good news is that a gentleman inquired about your work and wondered if it would appreciate in value after your death. When I told him it would, he bought all 15 of your paintings."

"That's wonderful," the artist exclaimed. "What's the bad news?"

TREMORS OF MYANMAR'S COUP

FOCUS NEIGHBOURHOOD

MYANMAR'S CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT, LED BY AUNG SAN SUU KYI'S NATIONAL LEAGUE FOR DEMOCRACY, MAY NOT HAVE BEEN PERFECT, BUT IT HAD THE PEOPLE'S SUPPORT

Myanmar is leading Southeast Asia's race to the political bottom. Since overthrowing a civilian government on February 1, the military has killed more than 530 unarmed civilian protesters and arrested thousands more. Now, the country is confronting a deepening humanitarian crisis and the growing possibility of a civil war - developments that would have serious regional and even global consequences.

Myanmar's civilian government, led by Aung San Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy, may not have been perfect, but it had the people's support. In last November's election, the NLD won a strong majority against the military-backed opposition. Within weeks, the military, under orders issued by Senior General Min Aung Hlaing, had arrested Suu Kyi and other NLD ministers and declared a one-year state of emergency.

Myanmar has been here before, having endured nearly a half-century of military dictatorship and international isolation following the 1962 putsch and a bloody crackdown on pro-democracy demonstrators in 1988. But there is something different about this coup: no matter how freely the military beats and shoots civilians, the protesters' movement - built on an exigent alliance between civilian authorities and armed ethnic groupings - will not submit.

That is not unambiguously good news, because the military junta also will not give up, no matter the cost, leaving little hope of salvaging Myanmar's political liberalization, economic reform, and development progress during a decade of civilian rule. Instead, the country faces the imminent threat of economic collapse, state implosion, and internal strife - perhaps even full-fledged civil war.

Given Myanmar's strategic location on the corridor linking the Indian and Pacific Oceans - sharing borders with China, Bangladesh, India, Laos, and Thailand - violent turmoil there could destabilize the entire region. Already, the crisis is shaking a pillar of regional order: the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, whose members are di-

Given Myanmar's strategic location, violent turmoil there could destabilise the entire region. Already, the crisis caused by the military coup is shaking a key pillar of regional order, with the Association of Southeast Asian Nations split over how to respond vided over how to respond.

In line with the principles set out in the ASEAN Charter, Indonesia, Malaysia, and Singapore have called for the immediate cessation of violence by the military in Myanmar, the release of Suu Kyi and other political detainees, and the restoration of democratic governance based on the results of November's election. But other member states - particularly Cambodia, Laos, and Vietnam - prefer to emphasize ASEAN's norm of non-interference in other members' internal affairs.

It is no coincidence that ASEAN's more democratic governments are calling for a response to Myanmar's putsch, while its more authoritarian governments back a hands-off approach. This highlights the limits of regional integration involving different regime types.

ASEAN has historically avoided the pitfalls of ideological differences by focusing on common interests and objectives. When Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, and Thailand created the grouping in 1967, they sought a platform for mutually beneficial cooperation among countries that were united by geography, and by their eagerness for a geopolitical counterweight to their larger neighbors.

From 1984 to 1999, five members became ten, with the addition of Brunei Darussalam, Vietnam, Myanmar, Laos, and Cambodia further raising ASEAN's profile as a means of empowering smaller states and supporting peace and prosperity. Today, ASEAN has a total population of 670 million (far exceeding the European Union) and a combined GDP of more than $3 trillion.

Alongside this growth, ASEAN sought to establish itself as a force for wider multilateral cooperation. In the 2000s, it acted as an anchor for the newly created Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation, the ASEAN Regional Forum, and ASEAN+3 (China, Japan, and South Korea). And it has played a central role in high-profile meetings, such as the East Asia Summit, seeking to advance strategic dialogue and confidence-building goals.

Such activities helped to safeguard Southeast Asia from outside interventions like those that ravaged the region during the Cold War: The ASEAN Charter, adopted in 2007, built upon this success by providing a legal status and an institutional framework for the grouping that established a vision for shared security, increased economic prosperity, and stronger socio-cultural connections.

But, as the Myanmar crisis shows, countries with vastly different governance models will always struggle to cooperate in some areas. The same can be said of the broader international response to the coup. The United States and the EU have imposed targeted sanctions on Myanmar's generals, though Asian democracies - such as India, Japan, and South Korea - are responding less assertively.

By contrast, China, Myanmar's largest trade partner, has blocked a United Nations Security Council statement condemning the coup - a decision that has contributed to perceptions that it supports the junta. Pro-democracy demonstrators have burned down Chinese factories in Myanmar in retaliation. And yet, eager to avoid an all-out backlash, China has been guarded in its response.

Russia, which joined China in blocking the UN Security Council statement - seems to have even fewer qualms, perhaps at least partly because it is unlikely to suffer any geopolitical consequences from mayhem in Myanmar. Though the Kremlin has expressed some concern about the civilian casualties, it is also a leading arms supplier to the junta. And, in a recent statement, it touted plans to deepen "military and military-technical cooperation in the spirit of strategic partnership."

Ultimately, Western sanctions are likely to have only indirect effects, especially as ASEAN dithers. The fight for Myanmar's future will have to be won at home. That is a chilling prospect, because it implies that unarmed protesters will need to face down a battle-ready army. In the short term, it is difficult to see how Myanmar will avoid much greater bloodshed.

SPECTRUM JUDICIARY

When judicial system frustrates judges

Jayakrishna Sahu

AGGRAVATED BY THE RISING NUMBER OF PENDING CASES, SEVERAL JUDGES HAVE EXPRESSED DISMAY OVER THE MANNER IN WHICH THE JUDICIARY IN THE COUNTRY IS FUNCTIONING

Indian justice system has been ramshackled. Who goes to the court? You go to court and then regret. Big corporates who can afford to take chance, approach the court." This is not any frustrated lamentation of any poor, helpless litigant who fails to get justice after years of making numerous rounds of the courts, but the cool observation of Justice Ranjan Gogoi, the person who served as the Chief Justice of India (CJ) for 13 months, Justice of the Supreme Court for 8 years and of High Courts for 11 years before that. A person holding judgeship of the higher judiciary for two decades talking so pessimistically and cynically about our justice system, is certainly a matter of grave concern.

Justice Gogoi is not the sole judge to lament on our precarious justice delivery system.

Recently the Orissa High Court while deciding on a 31-year-old case has questioned, "Why so much delay?". The answer to this question must be difficult, but the question itself seems to be hilarious. The High Court which was sitting over the case for the last 31 years is questioning about its reason!

The National Judicial Data Greed (NJDG) data reveals that 833 such old cases which are more than 30 years old are pending in Odisha High Court. Of them, 821 are Civil Appeals and 12 are Criminal Appeals. Similarly there are 4,421 cases pending in our High Court which are 20-30 years old, 27,887 cases which are 10-20 years old, 45,723 cases which are 5-10 years old, 27,145 cases which are 3-5 years old, 34,271 cases which are 1-3 years old and 32,663 cases which are pending for about a year. Thus, the total number cases pending in Odisha High Court is 1,72,943.

The scenario is same at the national level. According to the data available till December 2020 there were 3,62,30,318 cases pending, including 98,66,767 (civil cases) and 2,63,63,551 (criminal cases). Out of these 86,021 cases are pending for 30 years; 20 to 30 years (4,22,142 cases); 10 to 20 years (23,00,599 cases); 5 to 10 years (48,96,136 cases); 3 to 5 years (48,18,624 cases) and 1 to 3 years (92,30,888 cases). The entire nation suffers from the malaise of delayed justice. The wise old saying, "Justice delayed is justice denied" seems to have no taker among the people at the helm of affairs of our justice system.

As the number of cases increase by leaps and bounds, the quality of the judgements is suffering a meteoric fall, notwithstanding the fact that there is no dearth of meritorious, talented and brilliant judges adorning our judiciary. The average falling standard has been admitted by none other than the judges of the higher judiciary themselves. Very recently a Supreme Court bench comprising Justices DY Chandrachud and MR Shah has expressed shock at incomprehensible language in which a judgment was drafted by a division bench of the Himachal Pradesh High Court. Justice Chandrachud commented very tersely, "I had to use Tiger Balm after reading the judgment!" Justice Shah added, "I didn't understand anything. There are long, long sentences. Then there is an odd comma showing up anywhere. I started doubting my intelligence!"

The same bench of the Supreme Court has set aside an order of a High Court remarking that there was no independent application of mind by the High Court and that only the order of the Tribunal had been copied and pasted. Expressing his resentment on latest trend of judges copying and pasting previously passed judgments, Justice Chandrachud remarked, "One of the problems of computer age is copying and pasting of orders. I am fed up of such cut-copy-paste orders of High Courts."

Very recently the Chief Justice of India SA Bobde has suggested the appointment of ad-hoc judges in High Courts so that the pending cases can be decided faster.

The above suggestions by the top judges are surely valuable, but such solutions are mere patchworks and only temporary solutions to a permanent problem. It's just like treating cancer with painkillers and antibiotics. The stake holders have to think deeper and act with more seriousness. While the number of judges must be enhanced, the process of appointment of judges must be made more transparent and honest so that talent and merit prevail over relation and connection.

Enhanced GST collections

Sir, The GST revenues during March 2021 are the highest since the Goods and Service Tax was rolled out. In line with the trend of recovery in the GST revenues over the past five months, the revenues for the month of March 2021 are 27% higher than the GST revenues in the same month last year. GST revenues crossed above Rs1 lakh crore-mark at a stretch for the last six months and a steep increasing trend over this period are clear indicators of rapid economic recovery post pandemic. However, due to price rise of various raw materials as well finished goods it is showing higher collection. The increase may not be due to increased volumes. Is it due to real growth or due to massive jump in prices of almost everything? If prices of plastic granules jump from Rs120 to Rs 175 or 30-40% everywhere then GST collection will rise on the same volume. All said and done, GST has come to the rescue of many states, especially Maharashtra, and people blaming GST will have to eat their words.

Hydel project in doldrums

Sir, The first small hydel power project in Radho village under Udala block designed to generate 110KW power was established by Oreda in 2007 at a cost of Rs 50 lakh. Then it was felt that power generation in the locality from this small hydel project would improve the situation but after a month of its inauguration it remained unworkable. Now it was found that the valuable parts of the project, costing lakhs, were stolen by miscreants. It was envisaged that this electricity generating unit would produce at least 110 MW which would be sold to Nesco as per its feasibility document but it remains under the garbage now. The hydel project was meant to channelise canal water to induction generator to generate electricity but this project of half a crore is presently a big waste since its inception. Despite attempts the Oreda or Nesco authorities has no plausible explanation on this huge waste of public funds.

Blaze at BTR doused, no lives lost: MP minister

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bhopal, April 4: Burning of leaves to collect Mahua flowers, lighting a fire to keep wild elephants away or a burning cigarette butt left by someone may have caused the recent blaze in Madhya Pradesh's Bandhavgarh Tiger Reserve, state Forest Minister Vijay Shah said on Sunday.

The fire has caused lot of damage in the Bandhavgarh forest and the State government would request Centre to acquire modern firefighting aircraft to tackle such incidents, he added.

"The wildfire was reported a few days back in parts of the Bandhavgarh Tiger Reserve (BTR) located in Umaria district and was doused on Wednesday," forest officials earlier said.

The blaze reduced parts of one of the largest biosphere reserves in India to ashes.

A day after visiting the BTR, Shah said that no death of human

ACCORDING TO A FOREST OFFICIAL, THE FIRE HAD BROKEN OUT IN SOME RESERVE BUFFER ZONES AND ENGULFED PARTS OF THE BTR'S CORE AREA IN 15 TO 20 PLACES

THE BLAZE REDUCED PARTS OF ONE OF THE LARGEST BIOSPHERE RESERVES IN INDIA TO ASHES. HOWEVER, NO DEATH OF HUMAN OR WILD ANIMAL WAS REPORTED AND EVERYONE WORKED HARD TO PUT OUT THE BLAZE

or wild animal was reported and everyone worked hard to put out the blaze. He said there may be three causes that led to the fire in the tiger reserve. Firstly, people burn and clean up an area of leaves beneath Mahua trees to easily collect flowers fallen from the trees, he said. "Secondly, it is possible that people living in the reserve and its buffer area might have lit a fire to keep away wild elephants that have entered the reserve from neighbouring Chhattisgarh."

Lastly, someone might have left a burning cigarette butt or a 'bidi' that led to the blaze, Shah said, adding that fire usually breaks out in forests during summers.

"The fire has caused quite a lot of damage to the Bandhavgarh forest and modern equipment are desperately needed to douse such a blaze. A meeting in this regard will take place on April 6 or 7," he notified.

He noted that firefighter aircrafts are used to douse big fires in the developed countries. "Our country has such big forests. We are going to request the central government to buy one such aircraft that costs about Rs 235 crore," Shah said.

He said such an aircraft has the capacity to store huge amount of water.

"In such incidents of fire, the aircraft can fly to Bandhavgarh and Kanha (another tiger reserve in MP) in two hours (from Delhi)," the minister said.

The Bandhavgarh Tiger Reserve (BTR) is spread over an area of 1,536.93 sq km. There were 104 adult tigers in the BTR, as per the animal count.

"It is one of the densely populated habitats of the striped animal in the country," BTR's field director Vincent Raheem said.

According to a forest official, the fire had broken out in some reserve buffer zones and engulfed parts of the BTR's core area in 15 to 20 places.

"A panel comprising the BTR's deputy director and assistant director is conducting a probe into the cause of the blaze and assessing the damage caused by it," Raheem said.

MP TO RESTRICT CROSS-BORDER MOVEMENT

They are our brothers and sisters, but we have to take such measures to control the spread of the coronavirus SHIVRAJ SINGH CHOUHAN | CM, MADHYA PRADESH

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bhopal, April 4: The Madhya Pradesh government will restrict the movement of people from neighbouring Chhattisgarh to curb the spread of Covid-19 and a lockdown will be enforced in isolated areas whenever needed, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan said Sunday.

Talking to reporters here, Chouhan said they have already sealed Madhya Pradesh's areas bordering Maharashtra.

"There will now be restrictions on movement from Chhattisgarh. Those who need to come for necessary and unavoidable work will be allowed on humanitarian grounds and transportation of goods will continue," he said, citing the spread of Covid-19 in the neighbouring states.

Chouhan said patience is needed to control the pandemic. "I will go out with a loudspeaker on my vehicle at 6 pm Monday and appeal to people to maintain physical distance and wear masks," the Chief Minister said.

Maharashtra Saturday reported 49,447 new cases, the highest rise in a day so far, taking its tally to 29,53,523.

Besides, Chhattisgarh recorded 5,818 fresh cases Saturday, its highest single-day spike, taking the count of infections in the state to 3,63,796, as per official figures.

Chouhan said those coming to MP from these states for necessary and unavoidable work, are being screened.

If found necessary, they will be kept in isolation. But the general movement of people will not be allowed.

"They are our brothers and sisters, but we have to take such measures to control the spread of the coronavirus," he said.

The CM said that more than 3,000 fresh cases of coronavirus were reported in Madhya Pradesh Sunday. He also notified that there will be a limited lockdown in the affected areas whenever needed, but there will be 'no lockdown in the entire state'.

He urged social workers and religious leaders to run a public awareness campaign to check the spread of the viral infection.

The CM noted that a three-day lockdown is going on in Chhindwara and two-day restrictions are in place in Betul.

"I don't want such lockdowns because this affects businesses and employment. Our priority is to protect the people without a lockdown," he said, while adding that the BJP is likely to announce an awareness campaign Sunday under which its MLAs, MPs and other leaders will appeal to people to use masks and maintain social distancing to defeat the virus.

Centre wants to destroy mandi system: Sidhu

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Chandigarh, April 4: Congress leader Navjot Singh Sidhu attacked Union Food Minister Piyush Goyal Sunday over his letter regarding the issue of direct payment to farmers and alleged that the central government wanted to "destroy and disrupt" the state's tried and tested mandi system.

Goyal had written a letter to the Punjab government asking it to implement a system for direct payment to farmers for crop procurement. The state government was also asked to integrate land records available with the revenue department with the procurement portal.

Addressing the media in Patiala, the cricketer-turned-politician alleged that the motive of the letter was to "disrupt" the age-old, tried and tested, and successful mandi system that allows for the implementation of Minimum Support Price (MSP) in the state. It also intended to create a "division" between arhtiyas (commission agents) and farmers, he claimed.

This letter is part of a "larger conspiracy" to stall the procurement of wheat crops in Punjab and destroy the state's agricultural economy, he alleged.

Sidhu said that according to Goyal, the revenue department of the State government had all the information about the land records of the state's farmers.

But as per the data collected by the National Sample Survey for year 2012-13, it shows that more than 24 per cent of the land under cultivation in Punjab is under tenancy, he added.

"These tenancy contracts are oral or unwritten in nature," he said, adding that the land under tenancy might have increased and not decreased over the years.

Centre spreading 'misinformation' on bonded labourers: Punjab CM

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Chandigarh, April 4: Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh hit out at the Central government Sunday for spreading 'misinformation' about the state's farmers with its "grave and incorrect allegations" of bonded labourers working in the fields.

Terming it "yet another conspiracy" to defame Punjab's farmers whom the Central government and the ruling BJP have been "persistently trying to malign by dubbing them terrorists, urban naxals, goons, etc. in a bid to derail their agitation against the farm laws", he said that the Union Home Ministry's March 17 letter in this regard was a "bundle of lies", aimed at "undermining" the farmers' protest and "denigrating" the state's Congress government.

"A careful analysis of the whole episode reveals that highly sensitive information pertaining to national security regarding the arrest of some suspicious persons, apprehended by the BSF from close to the volatile Indo-Pak border, has been unscrupulously twisted on baseless conjectures to malign and tarnish the farmer community," he claimed.

"This reality has been further substantiated by the fact that a selective leakage of the contents of the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) letter to some leading newspapers and media houses has been done without waiting for an appropriate response from the state government", he added.

Asserting that his government and Punjab Police are totally competent and committed to safeguard the human rights of the poor and the downtrodden, Singh said that suitable action has already been

Amarinder Singh was reacting to the Home Minister's letter claiming that the Border Security Force (BSF) had apprehended 58 Indian nationals in 2019 and 2020 from border areas of Punjab, and the detainees had purportedly revealed that they were working with state's farmers as bonded labourers initiated in each case and most of the persons are residing with their families. "If anything comes to notice at any stage, suitable legal action will be initiated against the culprits," he added.

"It has been further informed that illegal human trafficking syndicates exploit these gullible labourers and Punjabi farmers hook them to drugs to make them work for long hours in their fields," the MHA had said in the letter.

Rejecting the letter as totally "unwarranted and factually incorrect", the Chief Minister said neither the data nor the said reports submitted by the BSF authorities were in tune with the content of the letter. "The MHA letter talks of Abohar also while the fact is that there is no case of Abohar or Fazilka districts," he pointed out, adding that "none of the conclusions of the Centre were borne out by facts."

Further, it was not the job of the BSF to investigate such matters, and they were only responsible for detaining any person found to be roaming along the border in suspicious circumstances, and handing them over to the local police, he added.

"Before shooting out such a letter and making it public through the media, the MHA should have checked the facts and verified the information from the state government instead of making false accusations against farmers, and charging them with indulging in bonded labour and converting the labourers into drug addicts," he added. "All the 58 cases alleged by the Centre have been investigated thoroughly and nothing of this kind has been found," said Singh.

Giving details, he said that of the 58 detainees, four belong to different areas of Punjab and they were found by the BSF roaming near the Indo-Pak border, while three were found to be mentally disabled.

SAD's protest theatrics to revive its fortunes: Punjab CM

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Chandigarh, April 4: Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh Sunday attacked the Shiromani Akali Dal, terming its plan to hold statewide protests against his government as "theatrics", aimed at reviving its fortunes following the loss of face due over the farm laws issue.

The opposition party has decided to hold protests across the state Monday over high power tariffs, taxes on fuel and the law and order situation.

Having lost its moral right to face people of the state due to their doublespeak on many vital issues, including the ongoing farmers' agitation, the SAD is now trying hard to get back into their good books ahead of the upcoming Assembly elections, said Singh in a statement.

Dubbing the planned protests as "theatrics by the Badals in their frustrated bid to revive the party's devastated fortunes", the CM said these desperate tactics would not work as the Akalis have completely lost face in the wake of their fiasco over the farm laws, which exposed their "shameless double standards."

The chief minister termed the Alaki claims of rising power tariffs, higher taxes on fuel and law and order situation as ridiculous, maintaining that it was their party that had plunged Punjab into such a mess during their 10-year rule, in collusion with the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP).

From the state's law and order to its fiscal situation, the past four years of the Congress rule have witnessed a massive improvement across key parameters, in sharp contrast to the chaos and destruction that had prevailed under the Akalis, said the chief minister.

"Far from the law and order collapse under the Badal rule, when gangsters and goons were freely roaming the streets of the state, Punjabis are now finally heaving a sigh of relief," he claimed.

Despite the Covid-19 crisis, things were looking up on the financial front, with zero pendency achieved by the state treasury for the first time in 15 years, he added.

Amarinder Singh said the propaganda that SAD is trying to spread through these political antics will not work with the people of Punjab, who had neither forgotten nor forgiven the Akali-BJP rulers for the sufferings to which they were subjected for 10 years. People here have seen through the double standards of these parties, he added.

Take Mukhtar's custody by April 8: Punjab to UP

Ansari was allegedly involved in various cases of attempt to murder, murder, cheating and conspiracy apart from offences under the Gangsters Act, lodged in Uttar Pradesh and 10 of these cases are at different stages of trial

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Chandigarh, April 4: Punjab's home department has asked the Uttar Pradesh government to take custody of gangster-turned-politician Mukhtar Ansari from Rупnagar jail by April 8.

Ansari, who is wanted in various cases in Uttar Pradesh, has been lodged in Rупnagar district jail in connection with an alleged extortion case since January 2019.

In a letter to the Uttar Pradesh Additional Chief Secretary (Home), the home department of Punjab asked for suitable arrangements to be made for the transfer of under-trial prisoner Ansari.

"The said handover is to be made at district jail Rупnagar on/before April 8," the letter stated.

"Ansari suffers from certain medical conditions and the same may be kept in mind while making arrangements for his transport from Rупnagar jail to Banda jail in UP," it said.

The Punjab home department referred to the March 26 Supreme Court order that had directed the state government to transfer the MLA from Mau to Uttar Pradesh's Banda jail in two weeks. Delivering the order, the apex court had also noted that Ansari was allegedly involved in various cases of attempt to murder, murder, cheating and conspiracy apart from offences under the Gangsters Act, lodged in Uttar Pradesh and 10 of these cases are at different stages of trial.

Forest and Wildlife officials said one of the rhinos was tranquillised after a long effort, with the help of locals, and was taken to the Guwahati Zoo while the other rhino remained in the village pond and efforts are on to apprehend it or drive it back to the forest without any harm. Wildlife activists said that the habitats of wild animals have been shrinking over the decades due to encroachment and felling of forest resources by the people, leading to man-animal conflicts.

PM reviews Covid situation

The PM stressed on the need for awareness of the community witnessing high surge to curb the spread. 'Public involvement is paramount and there is a "need to continue Jan Bhagidari and Jan Andolan for Covid-19 management", he said.

New Delhi, April 4: Prime Minister Narendra Modi Sunday reviewed the COVID-19 situation and vaccination exercise in the country amid an "alarming rate of growth" in infections and deaths, with 10 states contributing to more than 91 per cent of them.

Modi directed that central teams consisting of public health specialists be sent to Maharashtra, Punjab and Chhattisgarh, where the situation was of serious concern, and said the five-fold strategy of testing, tracing, treatment, COVID-appropriate behaviour and vaccination if implemented with utmost seriousness and commitment would be effective in curbing the pandemic's spread, according to an official statement. The meeting came on a day India recorded 93,249 new coronavirus infections, the highest single-day rise so far this year that took the total COVID-19 cases to 1,24,85,509, according to Union health ministry data.

The reasons for the sharp rise in cases could be mainly attributed to the severe decline in compliance of COVID-appropriate behaviour, especially in the use of masks and social distancing, pandemic fatigue and lack of effective implementation of containment measures at the field level, said the statement released after the prime minister's review meeting with senior officials. Prime Minister Modi called for avoiding mortality under all circumstances by ramping up healthcare infrastructure and other measures and exhorted that all states need to take required stringent measures with comprehensive restrictions in places witnessing high surge to curb the spread. "A detailed presentation was made which highlighted that there is an alarming rate of growth of COVID-19 cases and deaths in the country with 10 states contributing to more than 91 per cent of cases and deaths due to COVID," the statement said.

The meeting was also informed that vaccine manufacturers are ramping up their production capacity and are also in discussion with other domestic and offshore companies to augment the same.

India reports highest daily rise in Covid cases

India Sunday recorded 93,249 new coronavirus infections, the highest single-day rise so far this year, which took the total COVID-19 cases to 1,24,85,509, according to Union health ministry data. This is the biggest daily rise in cases since September 19, when 93,337 fresh infections were recorded. The death toll climbed to 1,64,623 Sunday with 513 new fatalities, the ministry data updated at 8 am showed. Registering a steady increase for the 25th straight day, the number of active cases surged to 6,91,597, accounting for 5.54 per cent of the total infections.

lighted that the western state has contributed 57 per cent of the total cases and 47 per cent of deaths in the country in the last 14 days.

In Maharashtra, the total number of new cases per day has touched 47,913 which is more than double its earlier peak. Punjab has contributed 4.5 per cent of the total cases in the country in the same period but has accounted for 16.3 per cent of the total deaths, a matter of serious concern, the statement said.

Similarly, though Chhattisgarh has contributed 4.3 per cent of the total cases nationwide in the last 14 days, its contribution in total deaths has exceeded seven per cent during the same period.

The 10 high burden states and UTs are contributing 91.4 per cent of the total cases and 90.9 per cent of the total deaths in the country.

India's COVID-19 tally had crossed the 20-lakh mark on August 7, 30 lakh on August 23, 40 lakh September 5 and 50 lakh September 16. It went past 60 lakh September 28, 70 lakh October 11, 80 lakh October 29, 90 lakh November 20 and surpassed the one-crore mark December 19.

Mamata takes swipe at Modi for predicting victory in Assembly polls

AGENCIES

Khanakul (WB), April 4: West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Sunday wondered whether Prime Minister Narendra Modi is "god or a superhuman" to have made claims of a BJP triumph in the assembly elections, six phases of which still remain.

The TMC boss, without naming the Indian Secular Front (ISF) or its founder Abbas Siddiqui, said the BJP is giving money "to a person" to eat into minority votes.

"What do you (Modi) think of yourself, are you god or superhuman?" Banerjee said, referring to remarks by the PM at public meetings that he will attend the oath-taking ceremony of the BJP government in Bengal and request it to implement the PM-Kisan Nidhi scheme as early as possible.

She claimed that the prime minister breached the model code of conduct by "asking officers of the state government to be ready to attend the oath-taking ceremony."

Addressing back-to-back rallies in Hooghly, Howrah and South 24 Parganas districts - where assembly constituencies are set to go to polls on April 6 - Banerjee further said, "We will not invite you (Modi) for the swearing-in." The TMC supremo alleged that Modi's recent visit to Bangladesh to commemorate its first prime minister Sheikh Mujibur Rahman's birth centenary had led to "rioting" in the neighbouring country.

Hitting out at Home Minister Amit Shah, she claimed that the Election Commission was transferring police officers in the state at the behest of the top BJP leader.

Contending that all BJP leaders, including chief ministers and central ministers, are camping in Bengal to help the party win elections, she described them as "Duryodhana, Dushyashana and Ravana" (antagonists in the epics Mahabharata and Ramayana). Meanwhile, days after Banerjee alleged discrepancies during voting at the Boyal polling booth in Nandigram, the Election Commission Sunday issued a point-by-point response refuting all the allegations.

'POLITICIAN IN DAY & WEAVER IN NIGHT'

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Chennai, April 4: The CPI-ML candidate S Subramani from the Kumarapalayam Assembly constituency in Tamil Nadu campaigns during the day time and at night turns a weaver for his living and to fund his own election campaign.

Subramani after his day's campaign enters a weaving unit in the night shift and earns Rs 500 per day. This money is used for his living as well as campaign expenses for the next day.

The CPI-ML candidate is of the opinion that the AIADMK government at the state and the BJP government at the centre has not done anything for the weavers and workers. He is also the Namakkal district secretary of the All India Central Council of Trade Unions and he wants the government to provide free homes to people in the handloom, construction and other unorganized sectors.

Subramani while speaking to IANS said, "Kumarapalayam is notorious for Kidney rackets and surrogacy scams, and I will put an end to all this once I am elected from here. The party has already appealed to the Central government to include Kumarapalayam in the Smart City project but nothing happened. If elected, I promise to include Kumarapalayam in the Smart City project".

The CPI-ML leader also appealed to the people of Kumarapalayam, a textile town to vote for him instead of big parties like the AIADMK and DMK. Subramani while speaking to IANS said, "I will be always with the people of Kumarapalayam and will be the people's voice of this constituency."

Rahul rides auto to campaign venue

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Thiruvananthapuram, April 4: Congress leader Rahul Gandhi Sunday took an autorickshaw ride at two places in Kerala, on the last day of campaign for the April 6 Assembly polls, to highlight the rising fuel prices under the BJP-NDA rule.

Gandhi, who addressed a campaign meeting at Nemom, here in the evening, took an autorickshaw to the venue, catching everyone by surprise.

K Muralaeddharan, MP, is the Congress-led UDF candidate at Nemom, the lone seat won by the BJP in the 2016 assembly polls. The constituency is witnessing a fierce triangular fight between the LDF, UDF and the BJP.

Addressing party workers at Nemom, Gandhi, who also took a roadshow, said he came in an autorickshaw. The driver of the vehicle said he was not able to make a livelihood as all his earnings go to pay for fuel. "The BJP keeps raising the petrol and diesel prices and giving their money to their friends. How dare they come here and ask you for votes?", an angry Gandhi asked.

The Gandhi scion also took an auto ride on his way to the heli-pad at Kalpettain his constituency Wayanad earlier in the day.

Pvt schools paying for vaccination of their 'Corona Warriors'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 4: Calling their teachers 'Corona Warriors' who kept the momentum of classes going despite the pandemic forcing school closures, several private schools are helping them get inoculated by booking slots at government vaccination centres, paying for their shots at private facilities and some even bearing their travel expenses for visiting the centres.

While the schools say the drive right now is for staff above the age of 45 years, in accordance with the government guidelines, they will cover their remaining staff too once the lower age bracket is eligible.

"In consideration to the sheer dedication and dexterity with which our teachers have supported us throughout the difficult year of 2020, the school considers them no less than frontline workers. In order to assure them complete safety and extend them support in terms of healthcare, the school has been conducting the vaccination drive in the first 10 days of April for the staff members who stand eligible according to the government guidelines," said Rajat Goel, Director, MRG School, Rohini.

Alka Kapur, Principal, Modern Public School, Shalimar Bagh, said, "Besides doctors and professional frontline workers, the teaching fraternity is most vulnerable to the risk of contracting the virus. Their duty requires them to come into contact with people of all ages at their workplace".

Orchids-The International School, a chain of over 40 schools across the country, has announced to provide complete financial assistance to its 4,000 staff members for receiving the vaccination.

and close to 4,000 teaching and non-teaching staff members will be provided with 100 per cent financial assistance for getting the vaccination.

"While we are following all protocols mentioned by the government such as temperature checks and sanitisation, we believe vaccination is the best safety measure against COVID-19. We have always put the safety of the staff members, students and their families at the heart of every decision, and hence recommend the vaccination strongly. Of course, prior consent will be taken from each staff member to ensure that they have 100 per cent control over the decision," she said. Sangeeta Hajela, Principal, DPS Indrapuram, said, "We are all aware that COVID-19 has entered its second wave in India. At such a difficult time, ensuring the safety of our staff is of utmost importance. Therefore, the management is in process of discussion to conduct a vaccination drive for the teaching and non-teaching staff in a structured manner in just few days".

"Currently, we have initiated the process of taking feedback from our staff on how comfortable they are in getting vaccinated, post approval we will begin arranging the rest of framework for vaccination drive", she said.

The efforts for vaccination of school teachers come amid a surge in coronavirus cases which has prompted a few states to postpone reopening of schools in new academic session.

However, in seats like Ponneri and Arthangi there were revolts in the DMK camp for allocating the party strongholds to the Congress, but Stalin directly intervened and settled the matter for the party and all the revolting party leaders were asked to fall in line.

The grand old party is expected to do well in Karaikudi, Kallikurichi, Virudachalam and Thiruvadanai and is eyeing to capitalise on the votes being split by the AMMK-DMDK combine.

The Congress is in a sticky wicket in four to five seats in the western part of the state, with the party leader Mayuara Jayakumar contesting against superstar-turned-politician Kamal Haasan of the MNM and Vanathi Srinivasan, the powerful national president of the BJP's women's unit.

Unverified intel input drove forces into deadly trap

AGENCIES

Bijapur (Chhattisgarh), April 4: Over 1,000 police personnel drawn from CRPF's elite CoBRA unit, and the state police's District Reserve Guard (DRG) and Special Task Force (STF) walked into a deadly trap of Maoists in deep jungle in a rebel-dominated patch in Chhattisgarh's restive Bastar, purely on an unverified intelligence input that top ultra leader Madvi Hidma was holed up at a hilly site along with his colleagues.

But the input was basically a well-planned trap of the Maoist guerrillas as they gunned down 22 security personnel and walked away with their weapons too. The casualty figure could further rise as at least 31 security personnel sustained multiple injuries and were airlifted to Raipur for better medical attention.

The lengthy gunfight between Maoists militants and security personnel broke out on Saturday at a remote hilly site in Bijapur district, close to Sukma district border in sprawling Bastar division where Maoists are attempting to run a de facto government in deep forests since late 1980s.

"Guerrillas armed with heavy weapons including rocket launchers were waiting for security personnel contingent... once a larger team of the search operation approached a hill, the militants who were positioned on top of the hill started spraying bullets in a flash from three sides," a local DRG policeman who was part of the search team told IANS.

The attack site is located roughly 500 km south of state capital Raipur. "The security personnel were stunned by Maoists' heavy gunfire... actually, it was an ambush designed in U-shape but the troop-

'Farmers not leaving protest sites near Delhi'

Tikait, who reached Gujarat to drum up support for the stir, began his two-day visit by praying at the Ambaji Temple in Banaskantha district and then addressing groups in Ambaji and Palanpur

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Ahmedabad, April 4: Refuting claims that farmers have left protest sites along the Delhi border, Bharatiya Kisan Union leader Rakesh Tikait on Sunday said they had gone to the fields to work and would return when the Central government was "free from West Bengal elections".

Farmers, mainly from Punjab, Haryana, western Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan, have been protesting at the Delhi border for over 4 months now against the Centre's three agri marketing laws, and have demanded its repeal along with a legal guarantee on the minimum support price mechanism.

He told a gathering that the three laws were enacted to help businessmen and not farmers, and the latter had decided to not move from the protest sites till victory, that is acceptance of all their demands, was achieved.

"All reports that farmers have left the agitation sites are wrong. Farmers come and go. At present, they have gone to work in their fields. We have told them to come back once the government is free from (West) Bengal elections. The entire government is camping in Bengal. Once the government returns, we will start negotiations with it," Tikait claimed.

He said farmers from Gujarat must also join the protest in large numbers so that the country feels confident that cultivators from the state from where some of the big leaders hail, a possible reference to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit

Shah, are also against the new laws.

Exhorting farmers from Gujarat to use tractors to protest, Tikait said these vehicles are the "tanks of farmers" and were put to good use in Delhi to remove police barricades. While former Gujarat chief minister Shankarsinh Vaghela accompanied Tikait in his rally from Ambaji to Palanpur, Congress MLA Geniben Thakor welcomed the BKU leader when he entered the state earlier in the day. Incidentally, Tikait had taken a swipe at the BJP government in Gujarat earlier in the day by showing his passport to reporters while entering the state after alighting from a train in Abu Road in neighbouring Rajasthan.

Asked about whether he was carrying a COVID-19 negative certificate, which is mandatory while travelling to Gujarat, Tikait showed his passport and said, "I have all the documents with me. This is my passport if it is required to enter Gujarat". Tikait will visit Sabarmati Ashram Monday and go to Bardoli on the second day of his Gujarat visit.

50% SEATING IN K'TAKA CINEMA HALLS FROM APRIL 7

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Bangalore, April 4: Relenting to the Kannada film industry's demand, the Karnataka government deferred enforcing 50 per cent seating in about 200 cinema theatres in eight districts to April 7 to contain the Covid pandemic, an official said on Sunday.

"The order restricting 50 per cent of seating capacity in cinema halls in eight districts, including Bengaluru where Covid cases have been rising will be applicable from Wednesday (April 7) up to April 20," a civic official told IANS. The other seven districts across the southern state are Bengaluru Rural, Bidar, Dakshina Kannada, Dharwad, Kalaburagi, Mysuru and Udupi.

To reduce the surging cases, state Chief Secretary P Ravikumar on April 2 ordered theatres in the eight districts to restrict seating to 50 per cent of their capacity from Saturday to maintain social distancing and follow Covid appropriate behaviour.

"A revised order was issued on Saturday to apply the restriction from April 7, as hundreds of fans bought online tickets in advance for all shows till Tuesday (April 6) for films released on Friday and imposing the restriction would have disappointed them and caused loss to the film industry," said the official.

A Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce (KFCC) delegation, led by Sandalwood superstars Shivarajkumar, Puneet, Yash and Sudeep urged state Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa Saturday to defer the order by a few days, as the theatres were following the guidelines to contain the virus spread.

ASSAM POLLS

Only 7.8% women candidates in electoral battle

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Guwahati, April 4: Only 7.8 per cent women candidates are among the total 946 contestants in fray for the 126-member Assam Assembly elections, leading to discontent among female activists and writers.

According to the state's Chief Electoral Officer Nitin Khade, of the total 946 candidates, 74 are women, while out of the overall 2,33,74,087 voters, 1,15,50,403 are females. He said out of the 33,530 polling stations set up for the three phases (March 27, April 1, and April 6) of the polls across the state, 1,351 are all managed by women. The third and the final phase of polling will be held in 40 seats on April 6. Despite the women being 49.41 per cent of the total numbers of voters, only 74 female (7.8 per cent) candidates, including 23 Independent, are in the fray. In the 2016 Assam Assembly elections, 91 women candidates were in the fray, with eight of them being elected. In 2011, 85 women had tried their electoral fate and 14, the highest so far in the House, were successful. In the 2016 polls, the Congress had fielded 16 women candidates. The principal opposition party this time has fielded a total of 95 candidates allotting the remaining seats to its allies. The ruling BJP has nominated seven women candidates, one more than that during the 2016 polls, while its alliance partner Asom Gana Parishad (AGP) like that of previous elections has put up two female nominees.

The BJP, which has fielded total 93 candidates, is contesting the elections in alliance with the United People's Party Liberal (UPPL) and the Gana Suraksha Party (GSP), besides its old ally AGP. The Assam Jatiya Parishad (AJP), a newly formed party, has fielded seven women candidates while the other new party Rajior Dal has given ticket to one. The AJP and Rajior Dal nominees are contesting as Independent candidates. Besides, several female activists and women rights bodies, renowned Assamese writers Tapati Baruah Kashyap and Ratna Bharali Talukdar have expressed strong resentment over the number of candidates.

'Operation Lotus' in Maharashtra

The ground is ready and the stage is set for 'Operation Lotus' in Maharashtra. This will be BJP's second attempt to form the government in Maharashtra after the first one failed. The first attempt to form the government in Maharashtra with the help of NCP had ended in a fiasco in November 2019. When the Sushant Singh Rajput case erupted, BJP tried hard to create a fissure. It failed. When Wazegate erupted, the BJP smelt blood again. Former Maharashtra

Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis rushed to Delhi and called on PM Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah to apprise them of the situation emerging in the state. The BJP had lost even after winning the Assembly polls in alliance with Shiv Sena in 2019. Fadnavis returned to Mumbai with an impression that the entire BJP machinery is in the midst of Battle of Bengal. Until then, he should keep the powder dry. The NIA is moving slow, ED is waiting in the wings and the CBI is quietly scouting for a role in the murky Wazegate. But there is no question of missing the God-send opportunity and the BJP will go for the kill post May 2.

Delay in 449 projects costs ₹3L cr more

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had launched his monthly Pro-Active Governance and Timely Implementation (PRAGATI) meetings with Chief Secretaries of the concerned states, secretaries to the Central ministries and others to fast track delayed projects. When he took over as PM in 2014, he blamed the UPA for the mess in delaying project implementation and tardy progress resulting in huge cost overrun. But six years into power, as many as 1736 central sector infrastructure projects, each one costing ₹150 crores and above, are delayed. Of these, 449 projects are showing cost overruns while 547 projects are showing time overruns. There are 208 projects which are showing both time and cost overruns. In all, 1736 projects are either behind schedule or facing huge cost over-run. And what is the cost of the projects leading to these delays? Shockingly, 547 delayed projects are showing cost overruns of ₹291014.58 crore. The Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation compiles data and places them on the On-line Computerized Monitoring System (OCMS) which the PM monitors personally every month through video conferencing. Interestingly, this detail was officially shared in Parliament by Rao Inderjit Singh, Minister for Statistics & Program Implementation and Planning. No doubt, the country has a robust policy and monitoring framework for execution of central sector infrastructure projects to ensure that these projects are completed within scheduled time and costs.

CVC blames influence peddling for delay

Strange it may sound, but true. The Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) whose boss Sanjay Kothari was hand-picked by none other than PM Narendra Modi has virtually blamed influence peddling for the delay in implementing its reports. The issue came to surface when the CVC appeared before the Standing Committee of Parliament relating to Personnel, Public Grievances, Law and Justice. The Central Bureau of Direct Taxes (CBDT), CBIC, Railways, and Ministries/Departments have found a special mention in the CVC revelations against government organizations. The CVC marked them for their sloppiness and retarded pursuit in pursuing vigilance cases. Appearing before the Parliamentary Standing Committee, the CVC reportedly said the reason for the delay in following up on its reports by central ministries/departments could be 'political and influence-peddling'. In view of the above, the Committee in a report, 106th on the Demands of Grants of the Ministry of Personnel, Public Grievances, Law & Justice, has asked the CVC to devise ways to fix accountability for inaction or delayed action.

Why Cabinet reshuffle delayed

Jyotiraditya Scindia, Varun Gandhi, Sushil Kumar Modi, Chirag Paswan and a host of others are waiting in the wings to be inducted into the Union Council of Ministers. Prime Minister Modi wanted to reshuffle his pack before the onset of the Budget session of Parliament. It was delayed as Prime Minister Modi decided to focus on states going to polls during 2021. Once the results of these five state assembly polls are out and the election process is over in May, another seven states are going to polls in 2022. Of these seven states, six are BJP ruled states which are Gujarat, Goa, Manipur, Himachal Pradesh, UP and Uttarakhand. Punjab will also go to polls which are ruled by the Congress. Modi wants that these states must be retained with a handsome margin so that BJP's strength in Rajya Sabha also goes up further. With regard to Punjab, the BJP has been unable to formulate its policy. May be, it will do so after the May 2 polls. Insiders say that Cabinet reshuffle will happen with a clear focus on winning all seven states going to polls in 2022 with a big margin. The challenge is bigger indeed.

EASTER EGGS A symbol of defiance in Myanmar protests

Yanong, April 4: Opponents of military rule in Myanmar inscribed messages of protest on Easter eggs Sunday while thousands of others were back on the streets, denouncing a Feb 1 coup and facing off with the security forces who shot and killed two men. A person shows a painted Easter egg with a sign reading "Spring Revolution" following the protests against the military coup, in Mandalay, Myanmar April 3, 2021 in this picture obtained by Reuters from social media.

In the latest in a series of impromptu shows of defiance, messages including "Spring Revolution", "We must win" and "Get out MAH" - referring to junta leader Min Aung Hlaing - were seen on eggs in photographs on social media. "Easter is all about the future and the people of Myanmar have a great future in a federal democracy," Dr Sasa, international envoy for the ousted civilian government, said in a statement. Sasa, who uses only one name, is a member of a largely Christian ethnic minority in the predominantly Buddhist country.

Opponents of military rule have mounted a civil disobedience campaign since the military overthrew the elected government of Nobel laureate Aung San Suu Kyi, that has included creative shows of defiance promoted on social media. Young people in the main city of Yangon handed out eggs bearing the messages of protest, pictures in posts showed. Political Prisoners (AAPP), an activist group monitoring casualties and arrests, said the toll of dead had risen to 557, as of late Saturday.

Police and a spokesman for the junta did not answer telephone calls seeking comment. Several thousand marched in the second city of Mandalay, according to images on social media, before police and soldiers moved in to disperse them.

Palace intrigue harms Jordan's stable image

Saturday, the military told King Abdullah's half brother Prince Hamza bin Hussein to halt actions targeting "security and stability" in the key US ally

Amman, April 4: Unprecedented public criticism of Jordan's monarchy by a senior royal who has been placed under house arrest has shaken the country's image as an island of stability in the Middle East.

Stripped of any power, Hamza was subsequently sidelined. King Abdullah consolidated his power by making his son Hussein the heir apparent and in the past year has appeared to be preparing him intensively for his future role as king. Meanwhile Hamza has been building ties with disgruntled tribal leaders at the head of loose anti-government protest movement called the Herak, which in recent weeks resumed its calls for protests against corruption. The COVID-19 pandemic has dealt a severe blow to Jordan's economy, pushing unemployment to record levels and deepening poverty. "The king is a red line. We will confront firmly any trembling hand that seeks to tamper with the country's security," former Prime Minister Faisal al Fayez told parliament in an indirect reference to Hamza.

It is unclear why the kingdom decided to crack down on Prince Hamza at this moment, but political sources say he put himself at risk with frequent visits to tribal gatherings where people openly criticise the king.

Hamza is not seen to have any real clout and those detained as part of what the military said was an ongoing security investigation mostly number his close aides. Any attempt to seize power would most probably have failed without the support of the United States and regional powers, who expressed support for King Abdullah and any measures needed to ensure Jordan's security. Nevertheless, Jordanians are trying to make sense of the palace intrigue.

Protesters clash with police, 107 arrested

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

London, April 4: A total 107 people have been arrested after clashes between officers and demonstrators at a "Kill the Bill" protest in central London Saturday, the Metropolitan Police has said.

Projectiles were thrown around as Met Police officers pushed protesters away in an effort to disperse crowds. Earlier, the police said that around 10 of its officers had received injuries during the operation.

Dozens dead in floods, landslide

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Jakarta, April 4: Landslides and flash floods from torrential rains in eastern Indonesia killed at least 44 people and displaced thousands, a disaster relief agency said Sunday. Several others were still missing.

Mud tumbled down onto dozens of houses in Lamenele village from the surrounding hills shortly after midnight on Flores Island in East Nusa Tenggara province. Rescuers recovered 38 bodies and five injured, said Lenny Ola, who heads the local disaster agency.

The bodies of three people were found after being swept away by flash floods in Oyang Bayang village as 40 houses were destroyed, she said. Hundreds of people fled submerged homes, some of which were carried off by the floodwaters.

Seasonal downpours cause frequent landslides and floods and kill dozens each year in Indonesia, a chain of 17,000 islands where millions of people live in mountainous areas or near fertile flood plains.

In another village, Waiburak, three people were killed and seven remained missing when overnight rains caused rivers to burst their banks, sending muddy water into large areas of East Flores district, Ola said. Four injured people were being treated at a local health clinic.

Hundreds of people were involved in rescue efforts, but distribution of aid and relief was hampered by power cuts, blocked roads and the remoteness of the area that's surrounded by choppy waters and high waves, said the National Disaster Mitigation Agency spokesperson, Raditya Jati.

Authorities were still collecting information about the full scale of casualties and damage in the affected areas, Jati said. Photos released by the agency showed rescuers and police and military personnel taking residents to shelters, bridges cut while roads were covered by thick mud and debris.

THE ROYAL MUMMIES BELONG TO 18 KINGS AND FOUR QUEENS FROM THE 17TH, 18TH, 19TH AND 20TH DYNASTIES THAT RULED ANCIENT EGYPT OVER 3,000 YEARS AGO

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Cairo, April 4: Authorities have moved 22 Pharaonic mummies from the Egyptian Museum on Tahrir Square in downtown Cairo to the National Museum of Egyptian Civilization (NMEC) in a festive parade known as "The Pharaoh's Golden Parade".

17th, 18th, 19th and 20th dynasties that ruled ancient Egypt over 3,000 years ago. They include mummies of famous ancient Egyptian King Ramses II and Queen Hatshepsut.

About an hour before the parade set off, President Abdel-Fattah al-Sisi inaugurated the main hall and the mummies' hall in the NMEC, accompanied by Minister of Tourism and Antiquities Khaled al-Anani, UNESCO Director-General Audrey Azoulay and Secretary-General of the World Tourism Organisation (UNWTO) Zurab Pololikashvili.

The Minister explained that the main hall of the NMEC contains 1,500 artefacts and it will be open for visitors the next day, while the mummies' hall will be opened April 18 to coincide with the International Day for Monuments and Sites, also known as World Heritage Day.

"It is a unique cultural, awareness, tourism event. It's unprecedented and it shows that Egypt puts our civilization and antiquities on the top of our priorities," Anani said in a statement before a ceremony started at the NMEC.

With joint efforts of the Unesco and the Egyptian government, the NMEC's foundation stone was laid in 2002 and its temporary exhibition hall was opened in 2017.

The 22 royal mummies of the Pharaoh's Golden Parade were discovered in two caches, the first of which was unearthed in 1881 and the second in 1898, both in Upper Egypt's monument-rich province of Luxor.

RBI may maintain status quo on rates: Experts

RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das headed six-member MPC is scheduled to meet from April 5 to 7. The policy meet outcome will be announced April 7

AGENCIES

Mumbai, April 4: A sudden surge in Covid-19 cases and the government's recent mandate asking the central bank to keep retail inflation around 4% are likely to prompt the Reserve Bank (RBI) to maintain status quo on policy rates at its first bi-monthly monetary policy review for the current fiscal, according to experts.

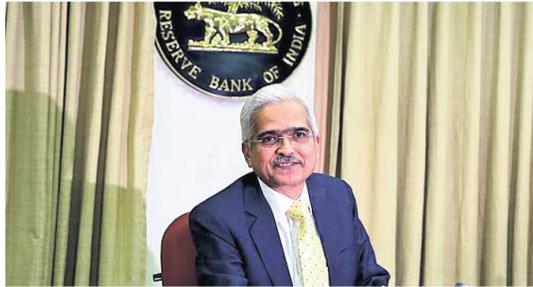

The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC), RBI's rate-setting panel, is also likely to maintain the policy stance accommodative at the next policy review to be unveiled April 7, say experts.

RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das headed six-member MPC is scheduled to meet from April 5 to 7. The policy meet outcome will be announced April 7.

The RBI, experts feel, will wait for an opportune time to announce monetary action with a view to ensure the best possible outcome in terms of pushing growth without sacrificing the main objective of containing retail inflation at 4 per cent with a margin of 2% on either side.

The policy repo rate or the short-term lending rate is currently at 4%, and the reverse repo rate is 3.35%.

On the forthcoming monetary policy, Edelweiss Research said economic recovery is still uneven and the pace of improvement has slowed of late after sharp rebound from lows. Further, the recent rebound in Covid cases poses a fresh challenge. It said the growth and inflation dynamic warrants continued policy support, especially with rising covid cases domestically.

"In all, we expect Mint Street to leave rates unchanged and maintain an accommodative stance. The key monitorable will be any guidance on open market purchases (OMOs) or on long-term rates more generally," it said.

Dhruv Agarwala, Group CEO, Housing.Com, Makaan.Com and Proptiger.Com said the RBI is walking a tight rope between COVID-19 cases once again rising across the country, which could potentially put brakes on the recovering economy, and the inflation rate that is trending upwards.

"The apex bank is likely to keep the repo rate unchanged in the upcoming bi-monthly review of key rates," he said.

He said home loan rates are at historic lows with recent cuts by a number of commercial banks and a further cut in rates will help the industry and the overall economy.

Suman Chowdhury, Chief Analytical Officer, Acuité Ratings & Research, said the MPC in its upcoming meeting will continue to reaffirm the accommodative monetary policy despite the global increase in bond yields amidst concerns of a quicker than expected normalisation in the markets of developed economies.

Last month, the government had asked the Reserve Bank to maintain retail inflation at 4 per cent with a margin of 2% on either side for another five-year period ending March 2026.

STAND-UP INDIA

Banks sanctions ₹25K cr to 1.14 lakh beneficiaries

AGENCIES

New Delhi, April 4: The Finance Ministry Sunday said banks have sanctioned ₹25,586 crore to about 1,14,322 beneficiaries under the Stand Up India Scheme in the last five years for promoting entrepreneurship among women and SC & STs.

The objective of Stand-Up India is to promote entrepreneurship amongst women, Scheduled Castes (SC) & Scheduled Tribes (ST) categories, to help them in starting a greenfield enterprise in trading, manufacturing and services sector, by both ready and trainee borrowers, the Finance Ministry said in a statement.

Under the scheme, bank loans between ₹10 lakh and ₹1 crore are provided to at least one Scheduled Caste/ Scheduled Tribe borrower and at least one woman borrower per bank branch of Scheduled Commercial Banks.

Started in April 5, 2016, the scheme has benefited 93,094 women entrepreneurs with outstanding loan of ₹21,200 crore as of March 23. This scheme, which has been extended up to 2025, covers SC/ST and/or women entrepreneurs, above 18 years of age, it said.

Govt to slap recovery notice on Vedanta's Cairn after court order

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 4: The oil ministry will seek tens of millions of dollars from Vedanta's Cairn Oil & Gas after the Delhi High Court held that the firm was liable to pay higher profit share to the government in lieu of its Rajasthan oil and gas block license being extended beyond initial term, a top official said.

In the interim, the firm's Barmer basin block licence, whose initial 25-year term ended May 15, 2020, has been given an eighth interim extension, the official, who wished not to be identified, said.

"Now that the Delhi High Court has upheld the government policy, we will issue recovery notices seeking higher profit petroleum since May 15, 2020," he said. "The exact amount is being calculated but it will be in tens of millions of dollars."

When contacted, a company spokesperson said, "We are in the process of reviewing the court's order, will assess any next course of action" after that.

The Union Cabinet headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi had in March 2017 approved a policy for extension of production sharing contracts (PSCs) for oil and gas blocks beyond their initial term. This policy provided that the government's share of profit petroleum (earning from sale of oil and gas after deducting all expenses) would be 10% more during the extended period.

Vedanta's Cairn sought a 10-year extension of Rajasthan PSC, which the government approved. But the firm challenged in Delhi High Court the condition for additional profit petroleum. A single judge bench of the Delhi High Court in May 2018 upheld the company position that the extension has to be on same terms and conditions as the original licence.

The government challenged the order before a division bench, which March 26 this year ruled that "there cannot be extension of the Production Sharing Contract unconditionally, on the same terms and conditions which were prevailing 25 years ago i.e. 15th May, 1995, the effective date."

It set aside the May 2018 single judge order. "In effect what the Delhi High Court has said is that the company has to pay higher profit share after May 15, 2020. So the company is now liable to pay higher profit petroleum for the period they operate the block post May 15, 2020," the official said.

SC ORDER ON INTEREST WAIVER

PSBs may have to take ₹2,000cr hit

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, April 4: Public sector banks (PSBs) may have to bear a burden of ₹1,800-2,000 crore arising due to a recent Supreme Court judgement on the waiver of compound interest on all loan accounts which opted for moratorium during March-August 2020, sources said.

The judgement covers loans above ₹2 crore as loans below this got blanket interest on interest waiver in November last year. Compound interest support scheme for loan moratorium cost the government ₹5,500 crore during 2020-21 and the scheme covered all borrowers including the prompt one who did not avail moratorium.

According to banking sources, initially 60% of borrowers availed moratorium and gradually the percentage came down to 40% and even less as collection improved with ease in lockdown. In case of corporate, this was as low as 25% as far as public sector banks were concerned. They further said, banks would provide compound interest waiver for the period a borrower had availed moratorium. For example, if a borrower availed moratorium of three months, the waiver would be for that period.

The RBI March 27 last year announced a loan moratorium on payment of installments of term loans falling due between March 1 and May 31, 2020, due to the pandemic, later the same was extended to August 31. The apex court order this time is only limited to those who availed moratorium so the liability of the public sector bank should be less than ₹2,000 crore as per rough calculations, sources added.

Besides, they said, the order does not specify a timeframe for the settlement of compound interest unlike last time so banks can devise a mechanism of adjusting or settling it in staggered manner.

Meanwhile, Indian Banks' Association (IBA) has written to the government to compensate lenders for interest on interest waiver. "The government would take a call depending on various considerations."

LIVERPOOL CLOSE IN ON TOP-FOUR FINISH AFTER BEATING ARSENAL

City lights shine

AGENCIES

London, April 4: As Manchester City marched on towards their Premier League title bid in imperious fashion, last season's champions Liverpool brightened their hopes for a top four finish and qualification for the Champions League. Manchester City opened up a 17-point lead at the top of the points table with a 2-0 win over Leicester, rivals Liverpool blanked Arsenal 3-0 in games played Saturday. A rare goal from Benjamin Mendy and Gabriel Jesus's strike on his 24th birthday mean City just need 11 points from their remaining seven league games to be crowned champions. "It is a big step to winning the Premier League," said manager Pep Guardiola. "The Premier League is the nicest competition (to win), it is 11 months and it is so tough. We are close."

Winning the league title is not the limit of City's ambitions this season as they remain on course for the first ever quadruple of Champions League, Premier League, FA Cup and League Cup in English football history. The Champions League has been Guardiola's one failing during his five years in Manchester City. The team have never progressed beyond the quarterfinals under him. They will have another chance at getting beyond the last eight when Borussia Dortmund travel to the Etihad for the first leg of their quarterfinal tie Tuesday. And Guardiola showed that competition remains the priority with his team selection and he rested players like John Stones, Joao Cancelo, Ilkay Gundogan and Raheem Sterling. Chelsea's shock 2-5 defeat at home to West Brom earlier Saturday opened the door for both Liverpool and Arsenal to close in on their target of a top-four finish. However, it was only Liverpool who showed any ambition as Arsenal were thoroughly outplayed. The visitors pressed the Gunners high and quickly recovered possession, but lacked the killer edge up front to turn their dominance into goals until Jota was introduced on the hour mark. Klopp expressed shock Friday that Trent Alexander-Arnold had been dropped from the England squad by Gareth Southgate. The right-back showed his international manager what he is missing by creating the opener on 64 minutes. Jota had only been on the field three minutes when he met Alexander-Arnold's cross with a powerful header at the back post. Four minutes later, Salah wrapped up the three points as the Egyptian outmuscled Gabriel Magalhaes before coolly slotting underneath the advancing Bernd Leno. Jota then finished off a miserable night for the Gunners by adding the third eight minutes from the end.

Beating leukemia to achieve Olympic goals

Tokyo, April 4: Japanese swimmer Rikako Ikee qualified Sunday for the Tokyo Olympics just two years after she was diagnosed with leukemia. It was indeed a great achievement as Ikee fought against all odds to achieve her dreams. She swam a time of 57.77 seconds in the 100 metres butterfly event at Japan's national championships held at the new swimming venue for the Tokyo Olympics. The time helped her qualify for the medley relay. Ikee was overcome with tears in the water after the race, and could barely speak out of the water. Sniffing and crying at the same time she slammed her left arm against the water when she realised she'd won. "I was not expecting to win the 100 metres at all, and I was feeling far less confident than during the Olympic qualifiers five years ago," Ikee said after coming out of the pool. "I thought I wouldn't be able to win for a long time. But I trained hard to win. And, in the end, I came into the race telling myself I'm back. And so I feel that, even if you go through suffering and pain, your hard work will always be rewarded," added the swimmer. The 20-year-old Ikee returned to the pool about a year ago but had said her goal was only to prepare for the 2024 Olympics in Paris. She had downplayed her chances for her home Games. However, Ikee would have been among the favourites in several Olympic races if she had not fallen ill and faced setbacks. "I wanted to try to feel true happiness just being here," Ikee informed. My teammates cheered me on, sending me off (to the race). And so I am now filled with happiness. I have really worked hard," she finally said with a smile.

12TH DOMESTIC ODI TITLE

Railways hammer hapless Jharkhand

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Rajkot, April 4: The formidable Indian Railways once again annexed the National One Day Championships title with a crushing seven-wicket victory over Jharkhand in the final here Sunday. This is the 12th time that the Railways women have won the title out of the 14 editions of the event played so far. Railways controlled the proceedings from the start. They chased down the paltry target of 168 in only 37 overs and without needing their best batswoman and skipper Mithali Raj to even come out from the cooler confines of the dressing room. India international Punam Raut (59, 94b, 11x4) laid the platform for all-rounder Sneha Rana (34 n o, 5x4, 1x6) to finish the game in a jiffy.

Raut was involved in a second-wicket partnership of 107 runs with Shabbhineni Meghana (53, 67b, 6x4). After the dismissal of Raut and Meghana in quick succession, Mona Meshram (19 n o) and Rana added 45 runs in less than seven overs to seal the deal. Apart from her breezy knock, Rana (3/34) was also the most successful Railways bowler with her handy off-breaks. It was a thoroughly professional performance in all departments from Railways after Jharkhand opted to bat. Six Jharkhand batters could not get double digit scores and three failed to trouble the scorers. Indrani Roy (49, 77b, 3x4), skipper Mani Niharika (39 n o, 59b, 4x4) and Durga Murmu (31, 74b 3x4) were the only three batswomen to offer some resistance.

Brief Scores

Jharkhand 167 in 50 overs (Indrani Roy 49, Sneha Rana 3/34) lost to Railways 169/3 in 37 overs (Punam Raut 59, Shabbhineni Meghana 53) by seven wickets.

Barty retains title at Miami

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miami, April 4: Ash Barty retained her title at the Miami Open tennis tournament here Saturday after her opponent Bianca Andreescu withdrew in the second set due to an injury. Barty was leading 6-3, 4-0 when Andreescu lying on her back on the court, called it quits. She limped off court crying. World No.1 Barty was already in control of the match when Andreescu turned her right foot while hitting a forehand and sprawled to the hard court. Barty hit one more shot to win the point, and play continued. But during the ensuing changeover, a trainer taped Andreescu's foot, and after another game the injury-plagued Canadian reluctantly called it quits. "I really do feel for Bianca," Barty said after the match. "She has had such a rough time with injuries in the past," added the Australian. Even if Andreescu was not forced to quit, she probably wouldn't have managed to create problems for the power-hitting Barty.

Neymar red-carded as PSG go down to Lille

Paris, April 4: Neymar was sent off late and then tried to confront a player after the game as defending champion Paris Saint-Germain (PSG) lost 0-1 at home to Lille, falling three points behind the new French league leader in a tense title race. PSG are only one point ahead of Monaco, who earlier beat Metz 4-0 to take third place in Ligue 1. Neymar was shown a second yellow card in the 90th minute for kicking Lille right-back Tiago Djalo off the ball. He had been booked in the first half for shoving midfielder Benjamin Andre in the face. Djalo was also sent off and remonstrated angrily with the referee. Both players argued as they walked back to the locker rooms. Footage from broadcaster 'Canal Plus' captured Neymar pushing Djalo on the shoulder and then trying to get past some security officials to confront him. An angry Djalo also reacted, trying to reach Neymar, causing one security official to fall over, while another intervened swiftly to block Neymar and lead him away. The actions may earn both players further penalty. Canada forward Jonathan David scored Lille's goal in the 20th minute with a slightly deflected strike, as PSG slipped to a fifth home defeat and eighth overall, with a tough trip Wednesday to Bayern Munich in the Champions League. "Each time we lose we say the same thing, that we lacked commitment. We shouldn't find any excuses," PSG captain Marquinhos said after the game. "We need to be stronger than that at home. A lot of teams have come here and won, which we're not used to. We're at an important point of the season and must improve," he added. PSG have been poor against the other sides in the top four, twice losing to Monaco, once to Lyon and drawing their other game against Lille 0-0. Frustration got to Neymar, who now faces another suspension after getting red-carded against Marseille at the start of the campaign. Shortly after shoving Andre in the face, he fell to the ground in a failed bid to win a penalty. He came close to scoring on two other occasions. However, his shot was blocked by Lille goalkeeper Mike Maignan in the first half. Then in the 70th minute, Neymar's diving header went wide.
