Paddy MSP hiked by ₹100/qtl for 2022-23

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: The government Wednesday hiked the minimum support price (MSP) for paddy by ₹100 to ₹2,040 per quintal for 2022-23 crop year in order to encourage farmers to bring more area under the crop and boost their income.

The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA), chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, approved the increase in MSPs for all 14 kharif (summer) crops for 2022-23 crop year.

"Government has increased the MSP of kharif crops for 2022-23, to ensure remunerative prices to the growers for their produce and to encourage crop diversification," an official statement said.

Briefing media, Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Thakur said the Modi government has taken several steps from 'bee se bazaar tak' (seed to market) that has helped increase income of farmers.

Announcing the MSP hike before the sowing of kharif crops will give farmers an indication about the price which they would get and help them in deciding which crops to grow, he added.

As per the CCEA decision, the MSP of 14 kharif crops has been increased in the range of ₹92-523 per quintal. The maximum hike has been given in sesamum of ₹523 per quintal, while the lowest ₹92 per quintal is in case of maize. Paddy is the main kharif crop, the sowing of which has already begun.

Al-Qaeda warns of attacks

Central intelligence agencies are on alert after the Al-Qaeda in Indian Subcontinent (AQIS) issued a letter warning of suicide bombings to avenge the insult to the Prophet

AGENCIES

New Delhi, June 8: Al-Qaeda in Indian Subcontinent (AQIS) has issued a chilling warning of carrying out 'suicide bombings' in Delhi, Mumbai, Uttar Pradesh and Gujarat in a bid to take revenge of the insult to the Prophet Mohammed.

"The saffron terrorists should now await their end in Delhi, Bombay, UP and Gujarat. They should find refuge neither in their homes nor in their fortified army cantonments," a threat letter by the AQIS read.

It said that the hearts of Muslims all over the world are bleeding and are filled with feelings of revenge and retribution.

Former Bharatiya Janata Party spokesperson Nupur Sharma had allegedly made controversial remarks against Prophet Mohammed following which she was suspended by the party.

The controversial statement made by Nupur Sharma set off an international furor. Several Muslim nations, including Afghanistan, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, the UAE, Qatar, Kuwait, Bahrain, Indonesia and Iran, as well as the Organisation of Islamic Cooperation have officially protested their statements and demanded an apology.

EGI raps news channels

Noting that the irresponsible conduct of some news channels has made the national discourse coarse and the gap between communities unbridgeable, the Editors' Guild of India (EGI) Wednesday asked them to pause and take a critical look at what they have done just to increase viewership and profit during the Kanpur violence. It also called for stricter vigilance by broadcasters and journalist bodies, noting that the recent incident of violence in Kanpur that caused "unnecessary embarrassment" to the country could have been avoided if those news channels had been mindful of the nation's constitutional commitment to secularism, as well as journalistic ethics and guidelines of the Press Council of India.

However, the chilling threat issued by AQIS has alerted the security agencies in the country.

Several Indian media groups shared the June 6 letter attributed to al Qaeda's branch in the Indian subcontinent (AQIS) in which threats were made to carry out suicide bombings in Indian states to defend, it said, the honour of the Prophet.

The letter also mentioned Ghazwa

e-Hind -- the battle for India -- in which they said victory of Muslims in the country. "At the same time, we bring tidings of death and destruction to the rulers of India, of executions and hangings, of imprisonment and being bound with chains," read the letter.

A federal home ministry official said intelligence agencies were checking the authenticity of the threats issued by AQIS. "We have also ordered state police to ensure public gatherings or protests are not allowed as they could be targeted by the militant group," a senior home ministry official in New Delhi said.

Meanwhile, suspended BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma was provided security by the Delhi Police in the wake of death threats she has received over her controversial remarks.

EMIs to rise as RBI ups repo rate again

The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) raises its inflation forecast for the current fiscal to 6.7% from April prediction of 5.7% but retains its economic growth projection at 7.2%

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

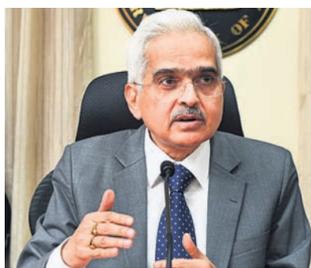

Mumbai, June 8: Home, auto and other loan EMIs will rise after the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Wednesday raised the key interest rate by 50 basis points, the second increase in five weeks, to rein in a rise in prices that was seen continuing to hurt consumers in the near term.

The increase in lending rate or the repurchase rate (repo) by 50 bps -- the biggest in more than a decade -- to 4.90 per cent comes on the back of a 40 bps hike last month at an unscheduled meeting that kicked off the tightening cycle.

Simultaneously, the pandemic-era accommodative stance was dropped, which meant more hikes may be in the offing to tame inflation that since the start of the year has been hovering above the central bank's upper tolerance limit.

"Inflation has steeply increased much beyond the upper tolerance level (of 6 per cent)," RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said while announcing the bi-monthly monetary policy. "Upside risks to inflation as highlighted in last policy meetings have materialised earlier than expected."

The RBI raised its inflation forecast for the current fiscal (April 2022 to March 2023) to 6.7 per cent from 5.7 per cent earlier on the expectations of prices staying above the 2-6 per cent tolerance band in the first three quarters (till December-end).

In such a scenario, further reduction of State VATs on petrol and diesel across the country can certainly contribute to softening of the inflationary pressures as well as expectations

SHAKTIKANTA DAS | GOVERNOR, RESERVE BANK OF INDIA

The law mandates that the central bank will have to explain in writing to the government the reasons for failing to keep inflation within the targeted band if prices were to stay above 6 per cent for three straight quarters. It also has to suggest remedial measures to bring prices under control.

To balance the inflation-growth dynamics, Das said RBI will remain focused on the withdrawal of accommodation as system liquidity continues to remain above pre-pandemic levels.

mals after hearing their trumpeting and immediately informed the Forest officials.

The Forest department officials reached the spot immediately and mounted a rescue operation. The water level was very high near the spot and the Forest officials were trying their best to rescue the elephant, the official said. The animals were hesitating to cross the water body because the river bank was overcrowded with people, he added.

Meanwhile, in another incident, a leopard, which had fallen into a well near Hindol Ghat under Charamala range in Sambalpur district, was rescued by range staff with the help of police and Fire personnel Wednesday.

A wooden plank tied to a rope at both ends was lowered into the well to help the animal stay afloat. A ladder was then lowered down and the leopard hopped on it and climbed out of the well, the report said.

Local people said that the leopard might have fallen into the well Tuesday night and the matter came to the fore after some people heard its grunting roar in the morning. The condition of the leopard is now stable, a forest official said.

Ms Marvel makes her debut

The series has already caught the attention of Marvel's South Asian fans for its numerous Hindi films and Shah Rukh Khan mentions

New Delhi: She's Pakistani American, loves Shah Rukh Khan and manages permission from her protective parents to be 'distracted' from her studies for a party but only if 'Abbu' takes her. That's Kamala Khan, Marvel's latest superhero whose very name emblems a composite South Asian culture and identity.

Ms Marvel, a high school student dealing with teen angst and pains growing up in Jersey City, made her debut on OTT Wednesday. Pakistani Canadian actor Iman Vellani plays the first South Asian superhero of the Marvel Cinematic Universe (MCU) and hopes the series is a "good start" for more such stories.

"It's so wonderful and it truly sets the example for other studios and other people to kind of tell their own stories because obviously Ms Marvel cannot represent every single South Asian Muslim person, but it's a start and it's a good start," the actor said in a recent global roundtable interview.

The series, which also references Partition, has already caught the attention of Marvel's South Asian fans, particularly those living in India and Pakistan, for its numerous Bollywood and Shah Rukh Khan mentions.

The series features Indian actors Mohan Kapur and Zenobia Shroff as Kamala's affectionate but overprotective parents - Yusuf and Muneeba Khan.

In keeping with the South Asian appeal of the show, Pakistan's Fawad Khan and India's Farhan Akhtar have been announced as cast members but don't make an appearance in the first two episodes provided to critics. Actor-director Akhtar shared a post on Tuesday to praise Marvel for its "conscious inclusiveness" and celebration of diversity.

Based on the comics created by Bisha K Ali, the series started streaming in India on Disney+Hotstar from Wednesday in English, Hindi, Telugu and Malayalam. AGENCIES

MRF, MCC workers to get uniforms

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, June 8: The Bhubaneswar Municipal Corporation (BMC) has decided to provide uniforms to the workers engaged in the material recovery facility (MRF) and micro composting centres (MCCs) here.

As many as 31 MCCs have been made operational in the capital city here to manage the wet waste collected from various localities. The civic authorities have engaged more than 1,000 workers to process the waste at the MCCs, sources said.

The BMC has issued tenders for selection of women self help groups (SHG) for stitching of uniforms for the workers engaged at the MCCs. The workers would be provided with the uniforms as part of an initiative to ensure a better working environment for them, said a civic official.

"The selected agency will be required to stitch 1,068 uniforms in the initial phase. It will have to complete the stitching of 100 uniforms within 10 days of receiving the order while the remaining uniforms will be stitched within the next seven days. The uniforms will be specifically designed to cater to the needs of the MCC workers," he added.

It can be mentioned here that the capital city generates around 600 tonnes of garbage every day.

WORLD OCEANS DAY-2022

Let's pledge to prevent plastic waste entering sea: Naveen

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, June 8: Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik asked people to take a pledge to prevent plastic waste entering the sea and keep our beaches clean on the occasion of World Oceans Day-2022, Wednesday.

Taking to his twitter account, Patnaik said, "Oceans play a crucial role in generating oxygen and regulating climate. They are also a major source of food and medicine. On this World Oceans Day, let's pledge to prevent plastic waste going into the sea and keep our beautiful beaches clean."

The oceans feed billions and covers 70 per cent of the planet. They are also home to 80 per cent of the biodiversity. Yet, garbage enters oceans via drains, canals, rivers, lakes and seas. "A little investment of our time and energy could revitalise the oceans. The situation is so alarming that we may catch the polythene instead of fish from the oceans by 2050," said environmental activist Piyush Ranjan Rout.

Rise in the pollution level, acidification of ocean water, high average temperatures and reduction in oceans' biodiversity are the major issues before us, experts said. The World Oceans Day hopes to protect Earth's major water bodies through awareness. The theme of this year's World Oceans Day is 'Revitalisation: Collective Action for the Ocean'.

The oceans are absorbing too much heat and carbon dioxide, making it warmer and more acidic. Scientific evidence shows that the impact of human activities, including industrial and agricultural waste, green house gas emissions and coastal development, are seriously affecting the health of our oceans, experts added.

Forty per cent of our oceans are affected by human activities. The trend of biodiversity loss is accelerating on a global scale. The coastal habitats are under pressure with approximately 20 per cent of the world's coral reefs were destroyed and another 20 per cent witnessed a massive degradation. At least 29 per cent of sea grass habitats are estimated to have disappeared. Ocean acidification is one of the major threats for the marine ecosystems in the world, sources said.

Bhubaneswar, June 8: A brain tumour is an abnormal growth of cells in the brain that can be cancerous or non-cancerous. Early detection and treatment is key in the fight against tumours, said Narendra Kumar Das, a neurosurgeon at Kalinga Institute of Medical Sciences here, on the occasion of World Brain Tumour Day, Wednesday.

World Brain Tumour Day is observed June 8 every year to educate people about the severity, causes, symptoms, prevention, and treatment of the disease.

Das, who has successfully performed hundreds of brain tumour surgeries, said, "Brain tumour can develop in any person at any age. However, contrary to the general perception, not all brain tumours are cancerous. Only 30 to 35 per cent of cases might lead to such conditions. A large number of patients with brain tumour are treatable and curable. However, it depends on the nature of the tumour."

Most people diagnosed with malignant (cancerous) brain tumour live less than five years. However, those with non-malignant tumours usually survive longer, he said.

SYMPTOMS

According to Das, common symptoms of the condition include headache, vomiting, convulsions, paralysis, vision loss, hearing loss, difficulty in walking, communication and speech abnormalities.

DIAGNOSIS

As most of the brain tumour initially present with very nonspecific complaints, early diagnosis by a neurosurgeon or neuro physician helps plan further management in the initial stages of the disease. Diagnosis is aided by imaging modalities like CT scan or MRI.

TREATMENT AND PROGNOSIS

Surgery is the most common treatment for brain tumours. Thanks to advancements in medical science, surgery has become minimally invasive. Modern surgical equipment such as a specialised microscope, neuro navigation system, intraoperative monitoring systems, intraoperative CT scan and neuro endoscopic system has played a key role in treating brain tumour cases successfully, Das said.

"The neurosurgery operative procedure is now done in a very precise and safe manner with minimum injury to tissues and blood loss," he said, adding that some cancerous brain tumours may require adjuvant treatment such as radiation therapy, chemotherapy and radiotherapy.

After the surgery, a majority of the patients recover quickly. "However, the recovery depends on whether the tumour is cancerous or non-cancerous and the condition in which the patient has come to the hospital," said the neurosurgeon.

According to the International Association of Cancer Registries (IARC), over 28,000 instances of brain tumours are recorded annually in India, with over 24,000 individuals dying from them each year.

Upadhyay reviews fire safety at City airport

AGENCIES

Bhubaneswar, June 8: Fire Services DG Santosh Kumar Upadhyay Wednesday reviewed the fire safety and security relating to fire hazards for air passengers at the lounge of Biju Patnaik International Airport (BPIA) here.

The discreet review meeting was attended by BPIA director Pravat Ranjan Beuria, CISF deputy commandant and Bhubaneswar Fire officer Ramesh Chandra Majhi.

Existing hydrants and sprinklers were tested to know actual efficiency. The airport authority agreed to suggestions of the Fire Services DG on keeping the adequate number of fireballs in closed rooms/ lounges which act as the first responders automatically to extinguish a fire in case of heat originated by fire. Upadhyay also checked the emergency exits and evacuation plan of the airport.

During landing and take-off, the strength of fire tenders (mist, water, foam) was tested at the fire control room of the airport. The emergency treatment care unit and crisis mobile control were checked.

EMIs to rise as RBI ups repo rate again

However, withdrawal of accommodation will be done in a way that growth will continue to get adequate support, he added.

"We have dropped the word (accommodative) but we remain accommodative and that is mainly to give more clarity to the market," he said. The MPC, however, retained its economic growth projection at 7.2 per cent. While food, energy and commodity prices remain elevated, it suggested that most of the excess inflation is due to global/supply-side factors. Retail inflation in April accelerated to 7.79 per cent from a year earlier. Das said 75 per cent of the 100 bps increase in the inflation forecast is on account of a spike in food prices which are due to the war in Ukraine. "The war has led to globalisation of inflation," he noted.

The rate hike May 4 and Wednesday came after the RBI held the interest rate at a record low of 4 per cent for 11 consecutive times.

Long Covid may negatively impact performance at work

Facing memory, attention and concentration problems at work post Covid infection? A new study shows individuals, who had contracted Covid-19, reported significantly more cognitive failures at work.

The study, published in the journal Scientific Reports, showed that contracting Covid had significant indirect effects on task performance and turnover intentions via cognitive failure.

The results also indicate that beyond physical harm, Covid can also have a detrimental influence on an individual's capacity to perform at work.

"Covid-19 is going to be an ongoing part of life, at least for the foreseeable future," said James Beck, Associate Professor at University of Waterloo's Psychology department.

"It is now common for people to catch Covid-19, recover, and then return to work. Yet, in our study, people who had contracted Covid-19 reported more difficulties at work, relative to people who had never caught Covid," he added.

Beck and team collected data from a sample of 94 full-time working adults who either had or had not contracted Covid at least one month prior to the study. Both groups were matched on key demographic characteristics.

Relative to the group who had never had Covid-19, the group who had contracted Covid-19 reported more cognitive failures at work, which are defined as problems 'with memory, attention, and action', Beck said.

Beck said. Further, the findings showed

"These results may have important implications for managers and organisations more broadly," Beck said.

"Individuals returning to work after contracting Covid may experience difficulties returning to their pre-Covid-19 level of performance, and accommodations may be necessary. These accommodations might include reducing workloads, extending deadlines, or providing flexible work arrangements," he suggested.

In Bolangir, dairy is new mantra of self-reliance

Bolangir district was producing only 16,800 litres of milk in 2018-19 fiscal which has now increased to 31,252 litres in 2021-22 has started bearing fruits for the residents by making them self-reliant.

The women cooperative milk union at Jambahal village under Patnagarh block in the district is a case in point.

The women members of the union are now supplementing their family income through dairy farming and have become self-reliant. Dairy has now become the symbol of financial empowerment for people in migration prone and Maoist dominated Turekela, Muribahal, Bongomunda, Belpada, Khaprakhol blocks in the district.

According to reports, the dairy development scheme being implemented in Bolangir district has turned out to be the leading livelihood based programme in the state. To bring them under dairy farming and provide them a regular source of income, the district administration has formed several women-centric dairy cooperatives under Bolangir-Kalahandi-Nuapada Regional Cooperative Milk Producer Union (BKNCMU) of Omfed.

Milk production has become a profitable venture for the residents after formation of BKNCMU.

The district currently has over 230 cooperative milk unions in 14 blocks. These milk unions have over 15,313 milk farmers registered as its members. Over 31,252 litres are produced daily by the milk farmers.

The district administration has increased the capacity of milk chilling plants to 60,000 litre after witnessing the interest of the farmers towards dairy farming and the success rate in the scheme.

The district was producing only 16,800 litres of milk in 2018-19 fiscal which has now increased to 31,252 litres in 2021-22.

The dairy farmers are constantly reaping success in milk farming under the direct supervision of Saroj Kumar Sahu, general manager of BKNCMU.

The district administration is laying stress on awareness programmes, formation of new co-operative milk unions, use of automatic milk collection equipment, establishment of new milk routes, upgradation of infrastructure and equipment and direct participation of dairy farmers. This has freed the milk farmers from misappropriation of their money and delayed payment.

People are getting increasingly drawn to dairy farming due to use of advance technology.

When contacted, Collector Chanchal Rana, also administrator of the milk producer union, said dairy farming came across as one of the best solutions to curb migration of residents particularly women. This has empowered them socially and financially.

The involvement of women in dairy farming has helped in preventing women and children from migrating to other states, he added.

₹8.95cr water bills pending in Rayagada

POST NEWS NETWORK

Rayagada, June 8: Development of infrastructure for drinking water facilities in the district has taken a back seat as water bills to the tune of ₹8.95 crore have remained outstanding on the residents, a report said.

Drinking water is supplied to the households in three townships of the district throughout the year. The townships are: Rayagada, Gunupur and Gudari. The Public Health Engineering Organisation (PHEO) charges a nominal amount of ₹200 each for supplying drinking water to the households.

However, ₹8 crore is outstanding on the residents in Rayagada town while ₹70 lakh and ₹25 lakh have been pending on the households of Gunupur and Gudari towns respectively. While Rayagada town has 12,400 households, Gunupur has 4,300 and Gudari has 1,400 households that are availing the drinking water through pipelines.

Meanwhile, the PHEO has assigned the task of bill collection to 'Jalasathis' — members of women self-help groups (SHGs). As many as 10 Jalasathis in Rayagada town, four in Gunupur and one in Gudari have managed to collect over ₹20 lakh towards the outstanding bills.

₹8 crore is outstanding on the residents in Rayagada town while ₹70 lakh and ₹25 lakh have been pending on the households of Gunupur and Gudari towns respectively

Sources from PHEO said that the arrear, if collected, will help in development of infrastructure for drinking water supply to the residents

The Jalasathis are moving from door to door with billing machines to collect the outstanding bills. However, people are turning them away stating that they will visit the office and clear their dues.

Sources from PHEO said that the arrear, if collected, will help in development of infrastructure for drinking water supply to the residents. "Moreover, pilferage and misutilisation of drinking water have emerged as major obstacles to upgradation of drinking water supply," executive engineer of PHEO Sarat Panigrahi said.

The state government is losing crores due to pendency of water bills. Observers said that the PHEO should take urgent steps to recover the arrears before it is too late. Sources from the PHEO said that despite repeated reminders people are not paying their outstanding bills.

Buguda, June 8: Although the Union and state governments have been spending crores of rupees every year under Integrated Child Development Scheme (ICDS) to improve infrastructure and services at Anganwadi centres (AWCs), most of these centres in Buguda block of Ganjam district are in deplorable condition, without having their own buildings, a report said. centres either from rented accommodation or from village community centres or schools verandahs.

As a result, the AWC workers and children are facing loads of difficulties during monsoon.

Work for 58 AWC buildings have been left halfway or at different stages of construction.

₹7 lakh has been allocated for each Anganwadi building in urban areas under ICDS while the amount is ₹8.20 lakh in rural areas.

Satyabrat, but did not flee the place. They sat near the body for hours crying in a bid to hoodwink the police.

Locals sore over defunct mega LI project in Rajkanika

POST NEWS NETWORK

Kendrapara, June 8: The state government had spent around ₹25 crore on construction of a mega lift irrigation project at Deulatara under Rajkanika block, but the purpose has remained unfulfilled as the project is yet to become operational.

Reports said Rajkanika block does not have any canal to irrigate the farmlands. The farmers depend on rain or lift irrigation points to irrigate their farmlands. Considering the difficulty of the farmers, the state government had ordered for construction of a mega LI project with an expenditure of ₹25 crore at Deulatara which was inaugurated by Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik in March 2019, ahead of the general elections. The project was supposed to irrigate 1,200 acre of land in Deulatara, Muradpur, Ujanga, Sihopada, Namtara, Parinuapada and Haveliganda panchayats having around 10,000 farmers.

As per sources, the project on Kharasrota river was put on trial run in 2020 but thereafter it has been left unused.

It was alleged that the project was hastily inaugurated ahead of the elections, while many of its works remained incomplete. The Water Resources department completed the work within a year after its foundation stone was laid. The farmers borrow from various sources for their farming. It becomes difficult for them to repay their loans if their crops face sapling blight due to adverse climatic conditions.

The farmers have drawn the attention of the local MLA and the district Collector towards their plight but their pleas are yet to be addressed.

They have demanded to resolve the snags in the project and make it operational. Farmer leader Gayadhar Dhal said there is always a huge gap between making a promise and delivery. Kendrapara district always has lagged behind on this front, he quipped.

Notably, the state government had announced to make at least 35 per cent irrigation facilities available in every block, but this announcement is far from reality in Kendrapara district.

Over 50 per cent of the 629 LI projects are lying defunct in Aul and Rajnagar blocks.

When contacted, ADM Pitambar Samal assured that he would enquire about the non-functioning of the project.

SOLAR PROJECT GOES KAPUT

POST NEWS NETWORK

Keonjhar, June 8: Kanheiyaigola, a remote hilly village inhabited by Juanga tribals under Harichandanpur block in Keonjhar district, has been reeling in the dark for last several years as a 30 KW solar project set up under Deendayal Upadhyaya Gram Jyoti Yojana in 2016 has gone out of order.

"We are living in the dark as the solar panels are not working. After nightfall, there is fear of onslaught from wildlife. Venturing out in the dark is risky," lamented villagers. They added that their kids fail to study at night in the absence of lights. Though the tribal residents had apprised the local administration of their plight several times in the past, no step has been taken to rectify the glitches.

Juanga tribals demanded immediate repair of the project.

SORRY: THE HARDEST WORD

The punishment dealt to two of the BJP's leaders in Delhi, Nupur Sharma and Naveen Jindal, is a big surprise. It is confusing to the RSS and BJP's ranks nings, transitions, and endings. He is depicted with two faces, one looking to the future and one to the past. Thus, the month of January, which looks at both the year gone by as well as the new year, is named after Janus. But why has the BJP decided to behave like Janus in the month of June? Is it the stern warning from the oil producing countries to the government to prevent BJP leaders and politicians from using the language of hate? Or is it the clear signs of fatigue that Hindu voters have developed towards constant minority-baiting? Or is it the government's assessment of the Chinese threat, making a QUAD alliance take precedence over the idea of Hindu-rashtra? Or is it the fear that anarchic mobs let loose may bring India closer to a Sri Lanka-like situation? Or all of these together?

The punishment dealt to two of the BJP's leaders in Delhi, Nupur Sharma and Naveen Jindal, is a big surprise. It is confusing to the RSS and BJP's ranks. Yet, recall how Narendra Modi had done a 'pranam' to the Parliament House, and in the years of his tenure brought down the centrality of the parliament as a house for dialogue.

Many decades ago, I was watching a folk performance of the epic Ramayana. The actor who played Ravana had been done up with ten heads. The performance went on late into the night. There were many recesses. In one of the recesses, the actor playing Ravana took a break to eat. And as he did so, amused children discovered his real head! Ravana has ten faces, the Roman god Janus has two. Like Janus, the RSS and the BJP have two faces, one face has marks of the actions of the past on it. Some of these marks are too clear and deeply etched to allow a makeover.

'Sorry' - just a common word exchanged between people who feel related. One hears it frequently in everyday life. It has been in use for the last thousand years. The Old German language inherited it as 'sore', meaning 'pain'. Later, in Old English, it became 'sarig', meaning 'pained or distressed'. It continued with a variant spelling 'sorry'. A word easy to say when it is necessary to say it. But even simple words prove difficult to say in some rare circumstances. Shakespeare's Macbeth, having just killed the king, confessed that, in response to the church bells ringing, he could not say 'amen'. The word that means "so be it", just stuck in his throat. That was in medieval times. More recently, in 2007, during a television interview with the Chief Minister of Gujarat, the CM had to rush for a glass of water and bring the interview to an abrupt end when it came to this simple word.

Ganesh N Devy

LIKE JANUS, THE RSS AND THE BJP HAVE TWO FACES, ONE FACE HAS MARKS OF THE ACTIONS OF THE PAST ON IT

The interviewer recalls the scene at the point the CM was asked, "Why cannot you say that you regret the killings that happened? Why can't you say maybe the government should have done more to protect Muslims?" The answer was "what I have to say I have said at that time, and you can find my statements." However, the statement was "action creates reaction." Then the interview was brought to an abrupt end.

The word sorry has been a peculiar difficulty for this CM of Gujarat, who is now the PM of India. And the difficulty has increased with time. Recall the long lines of migrant workers walking home after the lock down was announced without sufficient preparation? Many died on the way. Surely, someone was responsible for the miscalculated decision? But saying sorry was scrupulously avoided. Recall also the year-long agitation against three farm laws introduced without discussion in September 2020? A large number of farmers died during the peaceful protest. The word sorry once again stuck in the throats of those who should have expressed regrets. Mob-lynching, allegedly, was by fringe elements. False encounters were, allegedly, by patriots fighting foreign infiltrators. Imprisoning intellectuals was, ostensibly, to crack alleged conspiracies of disruption of law and order. However, anti-conversion laws in many BJP ruled States were not passed by any fringe elements or non-State actors. Yet, for the atmosphere of fear and intimidation that was created no one wanted to say 'sorry'.

No one has said 'sorry' for messing up with the COVID death figures. No one at all has said sorry for the motivated use of CBI, NCB, ED and police. No one ever said that they did not intend to scare and intimidate, no one said 'sorry, that was not intended.' When trolls roam unchecked on the nation's digital highways, when vigilante mobs roam the physical highways and openly assault any difference of food or dress, they have never been told, sorry guys, "it's too late in the day to use coercion to sort out differences; we live in a civilised nation." When a net makes an open appeal to shoot protesters, when a dharm-sansad gives a call for communal purging, when a Lok Sabha member describes violence using the 'karma' theory the word sorry is expunged from the public discourse.

Why is it then that the RSS and the BJP have all of a sudden found the word still exists in the dic-

Can nuclear energy return from its grave?

Nuclear power has been in decline since the Fukushima disaster in Japan more than a decade ago, but it may be poised for a comeback. Russia's invasion of Ukraine and soaring natural-gas prices have led some to argue that nuclear energy can help solve the twin challenges of energy security and climate change. Is the industry back in business, or will this prove to be another false dawn?

Nick Butler

WITHIN A DECADE, NUCLEAR, ALONGSIDE WIND AND SOLAR, COULD UNDERMINE THE GLOBAL GAS MARKET

Until recently, nuclear power's prospects seemed poor: Plants built in the 1970s and 1980s are nearing the end of their working lives, while Germany and Japan decided to shut down theirs for political reasons. Of the relatively few new nuclear plants currently being built, many have been blighted by management failures and technical faults. The flagship EPR pressurised water reactors at Flamanville in northern France and Olkiluoto in Finland are, respectively, 13 and 12 years behind schedule. Hinkley Point in southwest England, which was supposed to have provided the power to cook Britain's Christmas turkeys in 2023, may now be operational in 2027. Inevitably, all of these projects are massively over budget.

In the US, no new commercial nuclear facility has opened since 1996. The combination of cheap domestic shale gas and subsidies for wind power has undermined the economics of existing plants and discouraged investment in new ventures. With the cost of alternative energy supplies falling, nuclear began to look excessively costly and risky. In many countries, staff with nuclear engineering skills are aging, and recruitment has been minimal over the past decade.

The industry's argument that nuclear should be regarded as a boon to the clean-energy transition has not halted the decline. But over the past year, surging energy prices and the energy insecurity triggered by Russia's invasion of Ukraine have reminded governments and consumers that depending on imports of key strategic resources is risky. Maximising domestically produced electricity supplies should be the starting point for any energy-security strategy. At the same time, the sharp increases in natural-gas prices in the past 12 months have begun to make new nuclear facilities look much more competitive.

The result is a wave of new projects and plans. UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson wants nuclear power to provide 25% of the country's electricity by 2050. In April, China approved the construction of six new reactors, adding to the 54 already in operation and 19 under construction. Chinese firms are reportedly negotiating to develop 40 new reactors around the world.

True, Germany began to shut down its nuclear capacity in 2011 and is scheduled to close its three remaining stations by the end of this year. Elsewhere in the EU, however, there is significant interest in the potential of nuclear power to replace the Russian natural-gas supplies on which the EU has depended for the past 40 years. French President Emmanuel Macron announced before the recent presidential election that France would build up to 14 new nuclear reactors, starting in 2028. And Poland submitted plans in March for the construction of six new reactors.

Supporting this trend, firms such as Rolls-Royce in the UK and NuScale in the US are developing a new generation of small modular reactors (SMRs) that can be built and commissioned in under ten years. SMRs can be built in series and should attract private investors deterred by the long lead times, escalating construction costs, and risks associated with complex large-scale plants such as Flamanville.

But a nuclear renaissance is far from certain. Today, more reactors are at risk of closure and decommissioning than are being built. Although public sentiment has become more favourable to nuclear power in most countries, entrenched resistance, underpinned by environmental and safety concerns, continues to impede a renaissance.

Moreover, there is no guarantee that natural-gas prices will remain high when new fields in regions such as North Africa or Central Asia come on stream, or that the EU will deliver on its pledge to reduce its gas imports from Russia by two-thirds by the end of this year. Equally, the nuclear industry is still failing to deal effectively with the problem of waste disposal. At plants such as Sizewell in England, there is the additional challenge of securing sufficient water supplies to operate the reactors. Given the prospect of a long conflict in Ukraine limiting trade with Russia, and with electrification likely to become increasingly important as we move to a low-carbon world, the potential for nuclear power is huge. Because of the lead times involved, nuclear energy cannot offer an instant solution to today's challenges. Within a decade, however, nuclear, alongside wind and solar, could undermine the global gas market. The question is whether civil nuclear power can now finally fulfill the promise it has shown since it was first developed in the 1950s.

Not a Culture War

In an interesting recent article in the Times Literary Supplement, the Ukrainian novelist, essayist, and poet Oksana Zabuzhko took Western readers to task for not recognising Russia's barbarism. Too many people, Zabuzhko argued, believe that the great Russian writers, such as Fyodor Dostoevsky, expressed humanistic European values. They have not looked deeply enough into the savage Russian soul.

Zabuzhko believes that Russian literature represents "an ancient culture in which people only breathe under water and have a banal hatred for those who have lungs instead of gills." Russia's invasion of Ukraine can be understood only through the prism of "Dostoevskiyism," defined as "an explosion of pure, distilled evil and long suppressed hatred and envy."

This type of cultural analysis has a rather old-fashioned ring. It used to be common to interpret the Third Reich as a sickness of the German soul: "from Luther to Hitler," the thesis went, implying that Luther's anti-Semitism sowed the seeds of Nazism some 350 years before Hitler was born. But few people nowadays take such a crude view of German history.

Many applied similar ideas with even greater conviction to Japan in the 1940s. Since Japan lacked a dictator like Hitler or a party resembling the Nazis, critics blamed the country's culture for its twentieth-century militarism. While Germans could be coaxed back from their murderous cult of racism into the European tradition of Mozart and Goethe, Japan was supposedly different. There, only massive reeducation could cure an ancient cultural sickness related to the samurai spirit and "feudalism."

After World War II, the US occupation authorities banned symptoms of this alleged disease, such as Kabuki plays, swordfight dramas, and even images of the hallowed Mount Fuji. This irritated many Japanese, but most were having enough trouble surviving the harsh postwar years to push back against the bans, which were soon lifted anyway.

Both Germany and Japan still have far-right groups that strut around in combat gear; but so do most Western democracies. Otherwise, it is difficult to find any trace of the samurai spirit in today's Japan or of racial barbarism in contemporary Germany. On the contrary, both countries are remarkably pacific, with Germany more welcoming to immigrants and refugees than most other European countries.

This does not mean that cultural reeducation worked. Rather, it suggests that the cultural analysis was always misguided. After all, Nazis read Goethe and listened to Mozart, too. And Japan's war in Asia was hardly the result of watching too many swordfight dramas.

Even a cursory survey of world history shows that savage behaviour and murderous regimes can arise anywhere. Some of the worst atrocities during the Thirty Years' War in the seventeenth century were committed by Swedes.

Highly civilised people can turn into barbarians when demagogues and dictators exploit their fears and trigger their most atavistic instincts. Rape, torture, and massacres often happen when soldiers invade foreign countries. Commanding officers sometimes actively encourage such behaviour to terrorise an enemy into submission. And sometimes it occurs when the officer corps loses control and discipline breaks down. Japanese and Germans know this, as do Serbs, Koreans, Americans, Russians, and many others.

True, some countries have longer histories of political oppression than others. Russians have not been lucky in this respect. One might say that powerful elements in the Russian Orthodox Church have been complicit in oppressive rule, from the czars to President Vladimir Putin. But to claim that Putin's misrule (or Stalin's, for that matter) is a natural and inevitable outcome of Russian culture is to fall into the same trap as the "from Luther to Hitler" theorists. As postwar Germany and Japan have shown, nothing is inevitable, and "national character" can change quickly.

Fetishising Russian culture as the savage root of Putin's aggression and the brutal war in Ukraine is as dangerous as it is misguided. Canceling performances of Russian composers, excluding Russian artists and tennis players, or fulminating against Russian literature plays into the Kremlin dictator's hands.

No culture, least of all Russian culture, is monolithic. The European Enlightenment brushed St. Petersburg, and many Russian writers, composers, and artists have looked for inspiration to France, Germany, and Britain. Then there is Russian culture's Slavophile side, suspicious and resentful of the West, which has been the source of some great romantic and spiritual art, as well as fostering violent paranoia. Dostoevsky's novels are a mixture of both.

Putin channels the paranoid tendency. He would like all Russians to feel that the arrogant, decadent, depraved West is out to dominate them and crush their proud spirit. He appeals to a persecution complex that is easily roused but not uniquely Russian.

Both Nazi and Japanese WWII propaganda were soaked in self-pity. Putin's version feeds off traumatic memories of the terrible German invasion of the Soviet Union in 1941, and is also deeply personal. As a former KGB officer, he sees the Soviet Union's demise as an affront to everything he stood for. But, much as he would be flattered by the idea, Putin does not represent Russian culture.

To see the Ukraine war as a conflict not only with Putin's regime but also with Russian culture, and to treat all Russians as existential enemies, is a great gift to the Kremlin. It strengthens the persecution complex Putin needs to keep the Russian people on his side. Moreover, it fosters the kind of attitudes that the Allies mistook in postwar Germany and Japan for the markers of an essential and immutable national character.

We must avoid making that mistake again. Instead, we should celebrate the masterpieces of Russian art, music, dance, and literature, and save our condemnation for those, like Putin and his inner circle, who have poisoned the well that produced them.

Supremacy of time

Sir, The article 'Don't be late - You might be replaced' (Orissa POST, June 8) was a timely reminder of the importance of time management in our day-to-day lives. While we cannot influence the flow of time, we can still get the best out of it by becoming an effective time manager. Even Napoleon, one of the greatest military leaders in world history had acknowledged the supremacy of time in these prophetic words: "There is one kind of robber whom the law does not strike at, and who steals what is most precious to men: time." Needless to add, time is a precious resource, to be spent wisely and productively. Procrastination of any sort is to be shunned altogether to ensure the optimum utilisation of time.

Tough times ahead for BoJo

Sir, this refers to 'Johnson survives confidence vote' (Orissa POST, June 8). British Prime Minister Boris Johnson has managed to stave off a challenge from within to his leadership - for now Monday, he survived a vote of confidence held by his own party. While 211 Tory MPs voted in his favour, 148 voted against him. Consequently, he will remain leader of the Conservative Party and, by extension, Prime Minister. Although Johnson and the Tories won a landslide victory in the 2019 general election, his government's performance and behaviour have been below par. It has lurched from one crisis to another. His handling of the COVID-19 pandemic was, at least initially, disastrous. A fine was imposed on Johnson for violations of lockdown norms laid down by his own government, thereby making him the UK's first serving PM to be penalised. Johnson survived the challenge, but he can hardly sit easy. The number who voted against him - 148, or 41 per cent of Tory MPs - was far bigger than expected. It indicates the magnitude of the challenge he faces. His predecessor Theresa May survived a similar vote in 2018 when 117 Tory MPs voted against her, but she had to resign less than six months later. If Johnson's situation in his own party is not secure, his position in the rest of the UK is at best precarious. Surveys reveal that most Britons see him as unsuited to lead their country.

DGCA makes masks mandatory in flights

AGENCIES

New Delhi, June 8: Airlines must de-board any passenger before departure if they refuse to wear face mask inside an aircraft even after being warned, aviation regulator DGCA said Wednesday.

Besides, airport operators must take help of the local police and security agencies and levy fines on people not wearing face masks in terminals, it noted.

The circular followed a Delhi High Court order of June 3 which said the "DGCA should issue separate binding directions to all staff persons deployed at the airports and in the aircraft, including flight attendants, air hostesses, captains/pilots and others, to take strict action against passengers and others who violate the masking and hygiene norms".

All such persons as are found violating the norms must be fined and persistent defaulters must be placed on the no-fly list, the court had said.

The DGCA's Wednesday circular said airlines must ensure the passengers wear masks properly on flights and they are removed from faces only "under exceptional circumstances and for permitted reasons". If a passenger needs an extra face mask, the airline must provide it, it noted.

"The airline shall ensure that

If any passenger refuses to wear mask or follow Covid-19 protocol in a flight mid-air, the airline may bar them from flying for a certain period of time by classifying them as "unruly passenger"

DIRECTORATE GENERAL OF CIVIL AVIATION

in case any passenger does not adhere to above instructions even after repeated warnings, he or she should be de-boarded, if need be, before departure," it said.

In case any passenger refuses to wear mask or violates the Covid-19 protocol even after repeated warnings in flight mid-air, he can be treated as "unruly passenger" as defined in the DGCA regulations, the circular said.

The DGCA regulations give powers to airlines to ban passengers for a certain period of time after they have been declared "unruly".

Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) and other police personnel deployed at the entrance of the airport must ensure that no one is allowed to enter the premises without wearing a mask, it said.

All airport operators must increase announcements and surveillance to ensure that passengers at terminal are wearing face masks properly and following Covid-appropriate behaviour at all times within the airport premises, it noted. "In case any passenger does not wear mask or refuses to wear mask and follow Covid-19 protocol, he should be fined as per the respective state law where the airport is located and he may even be handed over to security agencies," it said.

Heatwave continues in northwest, central India

The India Meteorological Department said the heatwave spell will continue in Uttarakhand, Punjab, Haryana, Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand, Telangana and Madhya Pradesh till Thursday and in Odisha till Friday

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: Parts of northwest and central India reeled under a searing heatwave Wednesday with Ganganagar in Rajasthan and Brahmपुरi in Maharashtra recording a highest maximum temperature of 46.2 degrees Celsius.

At least 42 towns and cities across Rajasthan, Haryana, Punjab, Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Odisha, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and Andhra Pradesh reported maximum temperatures above 44 degrees Celsius.

In Delhi, Safdarjung, the base station for the national capital, reported a maximum temperature of 44 degrees Celsius, which was four notches above normal.

The weather office said the maximum temperatures may dip by two to three degrees Celsius in Gujarat and Maharashtra during the next five days.

However, no significant change is predicted in the rest of the country, it said. On the monsoon front, due to westerly winds from Arabian Sea over south peninsula India, fairly widespread rainfall with thunderstorm/lightning is very likely over Karnataka, Kerala and Lakshadweep over the next five days, it said.

The weather office has forecast isolated heavy rainfall very likely over south interior Karnataka on Wednesday, coastal Karnataka and Kerala till Saturday.

Boy kills mother as she stops him from playing PUBG

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Lucknow, June 8: A 16-year-old boy allegedly shot dead his mother as she stopped him from playing the online game PUBG and kept her body hidden in the house for two days, police said Wednesday.

He allegedly threatened his nine-year-old sister not to reveal the incident to anyone and used a room freshener to hide the smell of the decomposed body, police said, adding the boy informed his father, an Army personnel posted in West Bengal, only when the stench became unbearable.

The boy, who was addicted to the online game, was enraged after his mother asked him to stop playing and fatally shot her with his father's licensed gun, they said.

Police said they recovered the partially decomposed body of the woman Tuesday night and sent it for post-mortem. The boy was apprehended.

The minor shot his mother on Saturday and hid the body inside a room for two days before informing his father, they said.

Additional Deputy Commissioner of Police Qasim Abidi said, "The incident took place in Yamunapuram Colony under PGI police station area. The deceased used to live with her two children in the house. Her husband, who is a JCO (Junior Commissioned Officer), is currently posted in West Bengal."

"The 16-year-old boy was addicted to online game PUBG. He told us that his mother used to stop him from playing the game, this is why he killed her. The minor used the registered firearm of his father to kill the mother," he said. Police said they have recovered the weapon.

NHAI creates Guinness World Record

The longest piece of asphalt/bituminous concrete laid continuously was achieved by Raj Path Infracon Pvt. Ltd. and Jagdish Kadam (both India) between Amravati and Akola Districts on NH53, India from 3 to 7 June 2022.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: State-owned NHAI has created a Guinness World Record for the longest continuously laid bituminous lane of 75 kilometres in 105 hours and 33 minutes on the national highway between Amravati and Akola districts in Maharashtra.

Mentioning about the record, Road Transport and Highways Minister Nitin Gadkari Wednesday said the project was implemented by 720 workers including a team of independent consultants who worked day and night.

The total length of the 75 kilometres of single lane continuous bituminous concrete road is equivalent to 37.5 kilometres of two-lane paved shoulder road and the work started June 3, at 7:27 am and was completed June 7, at 5 pm, the minister said in a video message.

The previous Guinness World Record for the longest continuously laid bituminous was for building 25.275 kilometres of road that was achieved in Doha, Qatar in February 2019 and that task was completed in 10 days, Gadkari said.

The Amravati to Akola section is part of NH 53 and this is an important east-east corridor which connects major cities like Kolkata, Raipur, Nagpur and Surat. According to Gadkari, once completed, this stretch will play a major role in easing movement of traffic and freight on this route.

He also congratulated all the engineers, contractors, consultants, workers from NHAI and Raj Path Infracon Pvt Ltd for efficient implementation of the project that has helped in successful completion of this world record.

INDIA, IRAN HOLD WIDE-RANGING TALKS

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: India and Iran Wednesday held wide-ranging talks focusing on enhancing trade, connectivity and counter-terror cooperation even as Iranian Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian raised the issue of controversial remarks on Prophet Mohammad made by two former BJP spokespersons.

The crisis in Ukraine and the situation in Afghanistan were among the key issues that figured in the talks between External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and Abdollahian who is on a three-day visit to India.

The two sides also signed an agreement on mutual legal assistance in civil and commercial matters. The Iranian Foreign Minister also held talks with National Security Advisor Ajit Doval and the discussions centered around enhancing connectivity through the Chabahar port, boosting trade and investment ties and expansion of cooperation in education and research. There were no details from the Indian side on the meeting between Doval and Abdollahian. An Iranian readout said Abdollahian raised the issue of the "negative atmosphere" triggered by "disrespectful" comments on the Prophet and that the Indian side reiterated the Indian government's respect for the founder of Islam.

Drones may replace weather balloons soon

The sensors embedded in a radiosonde, which is a telemetry instrument carried by a weather balloon, record atmospheric pressure, temperature, wind direction and speed as the hydrogen-filled weather balloon soars up to 12 km height and transmit data to the ground receiver through radio signals

AGENCIES

New Delhi, June 8: India is set to deploy drones to gather atmospheric data that is currently collated by sending sensors through weather balloons released from at least 55 locations across the country twice every day.

The sensors embedded in a radiosonde, which is a telemetry instrument carried by a weather balloon, record atmospheric pressure, temperature, wind direction and speed as the hydrogen-filled weather balloon soars up to 12 km height and transmit data to the ground receiver through radio signals.

However, weather balloons and radiosondes are unretrievable as they drift afar from weather stations that release them in the atmosphere.

"We are now exploring the possibility of using drones to gather this atmospheric data which is crucial for weather forecasting," M Ravichandran, Secretary, Ministry of Earth Sciences, told PTI.

Various studies have suggested that specialised drones equipped with sensors to gather weather data could be an efficient successor to the traditional weather balloons.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) gathers weather data from 550 locations across the country through weather stations and uses radiosonde observations which are then fed into forecasting models to issue weather forecasts.

The drones have a key advantage over weather balloons as they can be controlled and guided to fly at low as well as high altitudes.

The IMD plans to use drones to gather data from up to five km altitude and compare it with data gathered using the traditional weather balloons.

It has invited industry and academia to join the demonstration of the capability of drone technology for weather observations.

"It is expected that drones should be capable, economically feasible, easily deployable and recoverable and should be technically comparable or superior to currently deployed radiosondes for upper air observations up to the boundary layer of upper air atmosphere," the weather office said.

While the flight of a weather balloon usually lasts for up to two hours, the IMD expects to gather data using drones during a 40-minute flight.

If successful, a key benefit would be reducing the wastage of radiosondes as the IMD loses more than 100 such instruments every day as weather balloons cannot be retrieved after their flight.

Air quality panel bans use of coal in Delhi-NCR

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: The Commission for Air Quality Management (CAQM) has issued directions to ban the use of coal in industrial, domestic and other miscellaneous applications in the entire Delhi-NCR region from January 1, 2023.

However, the use of low-sulphur coal in thermal power plants has been exempted from the ban. Around 1.7 million tonnes of coal is used annually in industrial applications in NCR, with about 1.4 million tonnes being consumed in six major industrial districts alone.

In an order issued on June 3, the CAQM said the ban on the use of coal will come in force with effect from October 1 in areas having PNG infrastructure and supply and from January 1, 2023 in areas where the PNG supply is still not available.

"In full effect, the use of coal as fuel shall be banned across NCR with effect from January 1, 2023," the panel said.

The panel had earlier invited suggestions from the general public and experts in the field to find a permanent solution to the air pollution problem in Delhi-NCR. A large number of suggestions were related to the banning of coal.

The CAQM then constituted an expert group to examine and deliberate upon all such suggestions and proposals. In its report, the expert group also strongly recommended phasing out heavily polluting fossil fuels like coal and mandating cleaner fuels to the extent possible.

GOLD SMUGGLING CASE

Swapna's charges against Vijayan kick up row

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Palakkad, June 8: Kerala Wednesday witnessed a political storm over the startling revelations by Swapna Suresh, a key accused in the sensational gold-smuggling in the diplomatic bags case, while a co-accused in the case was picked up by Vigilance officials, and a complaint lodged by a ruling LDF MLA seeking a probe into the "conspiracy" behind her allegations.

The entire chain of events played out like the screenplay of a thriller movie starting with Suresh in the morning telling reporters outside her office in Palakkad that her allegations against Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan came in the wake of threats to her life and not because of any personal or political agenda. Minutes after she concluded her press conference, she told a TV channel that her colleague Sarith PS, who also worked with her at HRDS India, had been kidnapped in broad daylight from her home by 3 or 4 unknown people.

The opposition continued its onslaught against the government over the issue and pressed for Vijayan's resignation. Continuing her attack against the government, Suresh alleged Sarith was 'kidnapped' by some unknown people because of her revelations. "Earlier, you asked what the threat was. Now, it is no longer threats, the attacks have started. HRDS India staff Sarith has been forcefully kidnapped from my home by 3 or 4 unknown people. They have started their attacks. Can you imagine that? I only spoke a little, did not speak in detail and already they have become scared. This is a signal of that. They are confessing on their own through such dirty tactics," she claimed after news of his alleged abduction came out.

"Now you know the threats faced by me, my family and Sarith. People of Kerala need to realise that anyone can be killed or abducted in broad daylight here," she added.

Unsubstantiated allegations have been made through the media from some quarters for narrow political reasons and this was part of some political agenda

PINARAYI VIJAYAN | KERALA CHIEF MINISTER

Subsequently, it emerged that State Vigilance officials had picked up Sarith in connection with another case against him regarding the Life Mission project.

Sarith, who was released from Vigilance custody after a few hours, told reporters he was not given any prior notice or even allowed to wear slippers before he was forcibly picked up and taken away by the officials. They did not even disclose who they were when they hauled me away, he alleged.

At the Vigilance office he was repeatedly asked only one question - on whose instructions had Suresh made the allegations - and nothing was asked regarding the Life Mission case, he claimed.

Sarith said he received no prior notice before he was picked up and only today he was given a notice to appear June 16 and that his phone has been seized.

Suresh, while speaking to reporters, also questioned how Sarith could be picked up in the case without being given any prior notice and added that she was not scared of anyone. Earlier in the day, she told mediapersons that she only disclosed before the court - in her statement under section 164 of Criminal Procedure Code - the other people allegedly involved in the smuggling cases and their "degrees of involvement".

Suresh said she gave the 164 statement as there were threats to her life and if something happened to her or her family members, she may not have the courage to come forward and speak about the case. "There is a lot more for me to say", she added.

Subsequently, the drama surrounding the case unfolded further with Kerala Assembly legislator and former minister K T Jaleel Wednesday lodging a police complaint demanding a probe into the alleged conspiracy behind the fresh allegations levelled against Vijayan and his family by Suresh. Earlier in the day, LDF convener EP Jayarajan had told the media that there was a "well-planned conspiracy" behind the "baseless allegations" against the chief minister and the State government should investigate into the matter and find out those behind it.

After her revelations before the media, subsequent to recording her 164 statement, Vijayan had issued a statement dismissing Suresh's claims and allegations as "baseless".

Strongly reacting to the charges, the CM, in a statement, said, "Unsubstantiated allegations have been made through the media from some quarters for narrow political reasons and this was part of some political agenda."

"Such an agenda was rejected by the people earlier. After a break, the old things are repeated by the accused in the case. There is not even a shred of fact in it," Vijayan said.

The ruling CPI(M) continued to defend the CM, with its State secretary issuing a statement alleging conspiracy behind the "false" allegations against Vijayan.

In her press conference held in the morning, Suresh had also alleged that while in jail she was "tortured and mentally harassed" by the senior jail officers leading to her suffering from a heart attack, which was termed by them as a drama, and later she repeatedly suffered from fits.

On Tuesday, Swapna first accused Vijayan, his wife and daughter that they had a role in shady things like transferring currency notes to the UAE and also on a few occasions transferred vessels which were used to make biriyani from the residence of the UAE Consul general here to Vijayan's residence and it contained metal objects.

Swapna Suresh, a former employee of the UAE Consulate here, was taken into custody by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) along with another accused Sandeep Nair from Bengaluru July 11, 2020.

JK Mani's clean chit to Vijayan

AGENCIES

Thiruvananthapuram, June 8: Jose K Mani, chairman of the third biggest ally in the ruling Left government in Kerala, Wednesday gave a clean chit to Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan who is caught in a massive allegation that he and his family were involved in smuggling gold and currency.

Jose is the son of the founder of Kerala Congress (Mani) late KM Mani, who faced big protest in 2014 when he was the state Finance Minister, after Vijayan and the then Left opposition went hammer and tongs against him on bar bribery scam.

The case began in October 2014 when a bar owner Biju Ramesh alleged that Mani was given Rs 1 crore as bribe by Kerala's bar owners to see that the 418 closed bars in the state are reopened.

Mani had to face the wrath of the protesters both inside and outside of the assembly, which saw one of the worst ever tumultuous scenes on the floor of the assembly, the day he presented his 13th state budget.

The then Left opposition was after Mani's blood to quit, which he eventually did in November 2015 following a remark in the Kerala High Court. A year later, Mani got a clean chit in the case and by then the Left opposition had given enough hiccups to the 82-year-old veteran.

Later after KM Mani passed away in 2019, the relation Jose and his faction had with the Congress led UDF got strained beyond repair and stunned one and all as he along with his supporters joined the LDF as an ally and today one of his legislators is a minister in the Vijayan cabinet.

High Court reprieve for actor Ayesha Sulthana

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Kochi, June 8: Lakshadweep film personality Ayesha Sulthana Wednesday got relief from the Kerala High Court, which temporarily stayed the proceedings related to the FIR registered against her for sedition and promoting enmity between different religions.

A complaint was registered last year by Lakshadweep BJP unit president Abdul Khader against her as she had, in a TV channel debate June 7, 2021, said that the "Centre used biological weapons for the spread of Covid in Lakshadweep," which according to the complainant, was "anti-national".

The Kavaratti police registered a case against her under non-bailable sections and then began a long legal tussle, which ended Wednesday.

A bench of Justice AA Ziyad Rahman passed the interim order staying the proceedings for a period of three months, based on the recent directions of the Supreme Court.

The Kerala High Court June 25 last year granted her anticipatory bail.

But July 2, 2021, the court declined to grant an interim order staying the FIR registered against her, stating that it would be improper for the court to interfere at that stage of the investigation.

Following this, the Lakshadweep administration filed a statement opposing the plea to quash the FIR, but in May 2022, the apex court asked all proceedings initiated under Section 124A (sedition) across the country be kept in abeyance till the Central government's exercise of reviewing said section is completed and the Kerala High Court Wednesday temporarily stayed it.

Sulthana hails from Chelath Island in Lakshadweep, and is based here. Besides being a model, she has worked in numerous films in Malayalam.

RAJYA SABHA POLLS AHEAD

BJP wants to poach MLAs; Cong will win all 3 seats: Gehlot

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Udaipur, June 8: Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot once again Wednesday accused the BJP of horse trading attempt ahead of the Rajya Sabha polls and asked why the party backed media baron Subhash Chandra's candidature when it lacked numbers to win the seat.

He alleged that Chandra filed his papers as the opposition BJP's intention is to poach legislators of other parties ahead of the June 10 elections to four seats of the Rajya Sabha from the state.

Gehlot's statement has come a day after Chandra claimed that eight MLAs of the ruling Congress in the state may vote for him and asked former deputy chief minister Sachin Pilot to cross sides.

The Congress is set to win two seats while the BJP is assured of one. Both parties need the support of Independent legislators and MLAs of other parties to win one more seat.

Days after the Congress shifted its MLAs to an Udaipur hotel fearing horse trading, Gehlot said the party and its MLAs are united, and all three Congress candidates will win in the Rajya Sabha elections.

"We have the support of 126 MLAs for three seats," he said referring to the support of legislators of other parties and Independents.

Questioning the BJP's support to Chandra, Gehlot said, "The intention of indulging in horse trading has been there from the beginning." They backed the independent candidate even though they do not have the numbers to secure the seat, he said.

"Our MLAs are united and we are proud of the fact that earlier also when a political crisis came, the MLAs were united," he said apparently referring to a rebellion against him by party leader Sachin Pilot two years ago.

On the BJP writing to the Enforcement Directorate and the Election Commission alleging horse trading, Gehlot said, "The elections are there on the day after tomorrow and they are writing letters now. Actually, their conspiracy did not succeed. They are furious because they are failing in horse trading."

The Congress with its 108 MLAs in the 200-member state Assembly is set to win two seats. After winning the two spots, it will have 26 surplus votes, 15 short of the required 41 to win the third seat.

Congress leaders claim the support of 126 MLAs, including 108 from the party itself. The party needs 123 MLAs to win three seats.

The BJP has 71 MLAs in the state Assembly, enough to get one seat comfortably. After that, it will have 30 surplus votes, which along with three of the RLP are set to go to Subhash Chandra.

He will need eight more votes to win the seat.

To protect their MLAs from being lured by the rival parties, the Congress had shifted them to a hotel in Udaipur on June 2. The BJP has also shifted its MLAs to a resort on the outskirts of Jaipur in the name of a training camp.

Rajasthan minister gets 'threat' call

Bikaner/Jaipur, June 8: Rajasthan minister Govind Ram Meghwal, who was staying at a resort in Udaipur along with other Congress MLAs ahead of the Rajya Sabha polls, was allegedly threatened by a man who demanded Rs 70 lakh from him.

IG (Bikaner) Omprakash said the caller identified as Sethi Ram alias Sunil Bishnoi was traced to Malaysia. Sunil made an internet call to the disaster and relief management minister Tuesday and threatened him with dire consequences if he failed to make the payment. "Around a dozen people who were in touch with the caller have been detained," Omprakash said.

GANGSTER LAWRENCE BEHIND MOOSEWALA'S KILLING: DELHI POLICE

AGENCIES

New Delhi, June 8: The Delhi Police Wednesday said gangster Lawrence Bishnoi, currently in its custody was the mastermind behind singer Sidhu Moosewala's murder, and that a close associate of the main shooter involved in the brutal killing in Punjab's Mansa last month had been arrested.

The police, however, did not divulge the details about the motive behind the killing of the popular singer and Congress leader and how Bishnoi conspired to execute the crime despite being lodged in the high-security Tihar Jail in the national capital.

Addressing a press conference, Special Commissioner of Police (Special Cell) H S Dhaliwal said that they have identified five more people involved in the murder case. Dhaliwal said that Lawrence's relative Sachin Bishnoi's role in the killing has also emerged.

He said that Siddhesh Hiran Kamle, alias Mahakal, has been arrested in Pune in a joint operation with the Maharashtra Police in a case under the Maharashtra Control of Organised Crime Act. Mahakal, a close associate of the main shooter, is in 14-day custody of the Maharashtra Police, the special commissioner told reporters. According to the police, Mahakal has committed a crime in Punjab's Moga district on the instance of Lawrence. Mahakal used to commit crime in coordination with main shooter of Moosewala's killing and Lawrence.

Earlier, Lawrence had told investigators that his gang's members, including Canada-based Goldy Brar, hatched a conspiracy and killed Moosewala. Lawrence had also alleged that Moosewala was involved in the killing of Akali Dal youth leader Vikramjit Singh, alias Lawrence has been very uncooperative and has not yet disclosed the names of his gang members who were the real conspirators being the killing, officials had said.

"Bishnoi has been very uncooperative so far. But during interrogation, he accepted that he had a rivalry with Moosewala and claimed that his gang members killed the singer

"He has revealed that Goldy Brar was one of the gang members who conspired and executed the killing of Moosewala but has not yet disclosed the names of other associates who were the real conspirators and executioners of the killing," a police official had said.

Twenty-eight-year-old singer-politician Moosewala was shot dead by some unidentified assailants in Punjab's Mansa district on May 29, a day after the Punjab government curtailed his security cover. The Mumbai Police's Crime Branch unit on Wednesday arrived in the national capital to question gangster Bishnoi in connection with a threat letter to screenplay writer Salim Khan and his son and Bollywood actor Salman Khan. Dhaliwal refused to comment on the matter related to the threat letter.

ED opposes Karti's anticipatory bail plea in HC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: The Enforcement Directorate Wednesday opposed in the Delhi High Court the anticipatory bail plea of Congress MP Karti P Chidambaram in the alleged Chinese visa scam case, saying he cannot file the application on a figment of imagination which does not show any genuine apprehension of his arrest.

The ED said the application is premature as the investigation has not yet begun in the matter and even Karti has not been summoned. Justice Poonam A Bamba, who heard the matter for nearly three hours, reserved the order on Karti's plea. Karti had approached the high court after his anticipatory bail plea and that of two others were dismissed by the trial court June 3, on the ground that the offence was of a very serious nature.

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, representing Karti, said there were no proceeds of crime and he was not a flight risk and also ready to cooperate in the investigation. He said the incident relates to 2011 and the CBI and ED registered the FIR and Enforcement Case

RS polls: Haryana BJP sends its MLAs to resort; Cong-JD(S) stalemate in K'taka

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: Ahead of Rajya Sabha polls Friday, the Haryana BJP has shifted its MLAs to a resort near Chandigarh, while the state Congress is likely to fly back its legislators who have been lodged in Chhattisgarh on the day of voting.

Three candidates are in the fray for two Rajya Sabha seats from Haryana. The BJP has fielded Krishan Panwar and extended support to independent candidate Kartikeya Sharma who also has the backing of the Jannayak Janata Party (JJP), an ally of the BJP.

Ajay Maken is the Congress nominee for the Rajya Sabha elections from Haryana. Both BJP and Congress have claimed that they have the numbers to ensure the victory of their candidates.

"All BJP MLAs from Haryana have been asked to reach Chandigarh by Wednesday evening so that a training session on the voting process of Rajya Sabha polls can be held for them," BJP's Haryana unit president O P Dhankar told reporters here. The Congress shifted its MLAs to a hotel in Raipur fearing the poaching of its legislators. They are expected to return to Chandigarh in a chartered flight Friday morning, sources said.

This is for the first time since 1998 that the Rajya Sabha election in Maharashtra will see a contest and every vote could prove crucial for the parties. BJP leader Devendra Fadnis, who tested COVID-19 positive a couple of days ago, will have to cast his vote towards the end of the voting procedure if he continues to remain infected, an official said. However, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) had on Tuesday opposed their bail pleas, citing that they don't have the right to vote under the Representation of the People Act.

Voting for the six Rajya Sabha seats from Maharashtra will take place between 9 am and 4 pm. The ruling Shiv Sena has fielded two candidates, its Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) allies NCP and Congress have nominated one candidate each, while the opposition BJP has put up three candidates. The contest for the sixth seat lies between BJP's Dhananjay Mahadik and Shiv Sena's Sanjay Pawar.

Union minister Piyush Goyal, Anil Bonde, Dhananjay Mahadik (BJP), Sanjay Raut, Sanjay Pawar (Shiv Sena), Praful Patel (NCP), Imran Pratapgarhi (Congress) are in the fray. JD(S) leader H D Kumaraswamy had made an offer to trade second preference votes with the Congress, which pointed out that former prime minister H D Deve Gowda was elected to Rajya Sabha with its support in June 2020 and it was time for the regional party to return the favour. Six candidates are in the fray for the Rajya Sabha poll to four seats from Karnataka, necessitating a heated contest for the fourth seat. Despite not having the adequate number of votes to win the fourth seat from the state Assembly, all the three political parties in the state - BJP, Congress and JD(S) - have fielded candidates for the seat, forcing an election.

INDIA, RANKED LOWEST, SLAMS 'UNSCIENTIFIC' EPI

The Union environment ministry said, "The Environmental Performance Index (EPI) 2022 released recently has many indicators based on unfounded assumptions"

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: The Union environment ministry Wednesday rebutted the Environmental Performance Index 2022, which ranked India at the bottom of a list of 180 countries, saying some of the indicators it used are "extrapolated and based on surmises and unscientific methods".

The index published recently by the Yale Center for Environmental Law and Policy and the Center for International Earth Science Information Network, Columbia University, used 40 performance indicators across 11 categories to judge countries on climate change performance, environmental health and ecosystem vitality.

"The Environmental Performance Index (EPI) 2022 released recently has many indicators based on unfounded assumptions. Some of these indicators used for assessing performance are extrapolated and based on surmises and unscientific methods," the ministry said in a statement.

"A new indicator in the climate policy objective is 'projected GHG emissions levels in 2050'. This is computed based on the average rate of change in emission of the last 10 years instead of modelling that takes into account a longer time period, extent of renewable energy capacity and use, additional carbon sinks, energy efficiency etc. of respective countries," the ministry said.

Forests and wetlands of the country are crucial carbon sinks but have not been factored in while computing the projected GHG emissions trajectory up to 2050 given by EPI 2022. Historical data on the lowest emission trajectory has been ignored in the computation, it said while rejecting the analysis. The ministry said the weight of the indicators in which India performed well has been reduced and the reasons for such change have not been explained in the report.

"The principle of equity is given very low weightage in the form of indicators like GHG emission per capita and GHG Emission intensity trend. The CBDR-RC principle is also barely reflected in the composition of the index," it said.

Common but Differentiated Responsibilities and Respective Capabilities (CBDR-RC) acknowledges the different capabilities and differing responsibilities of individual countries in addressing climate change. The indicators on water quality, water use efficiency, waste generation per capita which are closely linked to sustainable consumption and production are not included in the index, the ministry said.

"The index emphasises the extent of protected areas rather than the quality of protection that they afford. Management, effectiveness and evaluation of protected areas and eco-sensitive regions is not factored into the computation of biodiversity indices," it said.

The index computes the extent of ecosystems but not their condition or productivity. It did not include indicators like agro biodiversity, soil health, food loss and waste even though they are important for developing countries with large agrarian populations.

Iran turns off 2 of UN nuclear watchdog's surveillance cameras

REUTERS

Dubai, June 8: Iran said Wednesday it was removing two UN nuclear watchdog surveillance cameras at a uranium enrichment facility as the watchdog's board prepared to pass a resolution criticising it for failing to fully explain uranium traces at undeclared sites. Tehran's move was most likely either a shot across the bows before more drastic action or an early response to the draft resolution, which was being discussed at the 35-nation Board of Governors and diplomats said was likely to pass easily, with only Iran's ally Russia publicly expressing strong opposition so far. The United States, France, Britain and Germany have put the draft resolution to the board. It states the board's "profound concern" that the traces remain unexplained due to Tehran's lack of cooperation with the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) and calls on Iran to take up an offer of more talks "without delay". Iranian state TV said: "So far, the IAEA has not only been ungrateful for Iran's extensive cooperation but has also considered it as a duty. From today, relevant authorities have ordered that surveillance cameras of the Online Enrichment Monitor (OLEM) be shut down."

Iran bristles at IAEA board resolutions against it and has warned of retaliation. That could further undermine already stalled talks on rescuing the 2015 nuclear deal. Iran says its nuclear designs are wholly peaceful. "We are not taking this action to escalate a confrontation for political purposes. We seek no such escalation," a US statement to the board said, adding that Iran removing cameras installed under the deal would be "extremely regrettable and counterproductive to the diplomatic outcome we seek".

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Hanoi, June 8: India and Vietnam Tuesday signed an MoU on mutual logistics support, the first such major agreement Hanoi has inked with any country towards simplifying procedures for mutually-beneficial logistic support as Defence Minister Rajnath Singh held wide-ranging discussions with General Phan Van Giang on "effective and practical initiatives" to further bolster defence engagements. Singh, who is in the key Southeast Asian country on a three-day visit from June 8, received a guard of honour at the headquarters of the Ministry of National Defence of Vietnam. Singh was also accorded a grand welcome by General Giang. Wide-ranging discussions on effective and practical initiatives to further expand bilateral defence engagements and regional and global issues were held between the two sides, the Ministry of Defence said in a statement. The two defence ministers also signed the 'Joint Vision Statement on India-Vietnam Defence Partnership towards 2030', which will significantly enhance the scope and scale of our defence cooperation," Singh said in another tweet.

Iran train derailment kills 22; 87 injured

"Passengers were bouncing in the car like balls in the air," one injured passenger told media

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tehran, June 8: A passenger train travelling through eastern Iran struck an excavator and nearly half its cars derailed before dawn Wednesday, killing at least 22 people and injuring 87, officials said. The derailment near the desert city of Tabas was the latest disaster to strike the Islamic Republic in recent weeks as Tehran struggles under US sanctions and any return to its nuclear deal with world powers remains in doubt. The train, operated by the state-run Islamic Republic Railway, carried some 350 people as it travelled from the town of Tabas, some 550 km (340 miles) southeast of Tehran, to the city of Yazd. The route had begun as an overnight train out of Iran's holy city of Mashhad. Based on images after the crash, it appeared the train's locomotive passed the excavator and the later cars somehow hit the digger and caused the derailment, though authorities did not immediately explain how the disaster happened in the rural scrubland near a railway bridge. The state-run IRNA news agency gave the casualty figures, citing emergency officials. Rescue teams with ambulances and helicopters arrived in the remote area where communication is poor. Over a dozen people suffered critical injuries, with some transferred to local hospitals, officials said.

But he stopped short of issuing an apology, and some Congolese have demanded he does during this first visit since taking the throne in 2013. "They left us isolated, abandoned. They pillaged all our resources, and today you invite the essor at the University of Joseph Kasa-Vubu in southwestern Congo, said he would be waiting to see if Philippe formally apologised for colonial-era crimes. "The simple regret that you have expressed is not sufficient," Lokongo said. INITIATION MASK Congo President Felix Tshisekedi and many other politicians have enthusiastically welcomed the visit, as have some residents who hope it will bring investment and a renewed focus on the conflict in the east of the country. "My feeling is that we should start having good Congolese-Belgium relations again, like before," Kinshasa resident Antoine Mubidiki said. "Despite what the Belgians did to us during colonisation, we are ready to forgive." Philippe offered the initiation mask of the Suku people to Congo's national museum as an "indefinite loan". The mask has been held for decades by Belgium's Royal Museum for Central Africa. "I am here to return to you this exceptional work in order to allow Congolese to discover and admire it," Philippe said, standing next to Tshisekedi. "It marks the symbolic beginning of the reinforcement of the cultural collaboration between Belgium and Congo." The king arrived Tuesday with his wife, Queen Mathilde, and Prime Minister Alexander De Croo for a week-long visit that will also take him to the eastern cities of Bukavu and Lubumbashi.

SHORT TAKES

India to okay wheat exports of 1.2MT

Mumbai: India could soon allow traders to ship out around 1.2 million tonne of wheat as it seeks to clear cargoes stuck at ports since last month's sudden ban of exports of the grain, government and trade sources said Wednesday. But even after New Delhi's permission to export that much, about 500,000 tonne of wheat could remain sitting at ports, as some traders have failed to secure export permits, the sources with knowledge of the matter told Reuters.

Exports up 24.18% during June 1-7

New Delhi: The country's exports increased 24.18 per cent to $9.39 billion during June 1-7 on account of healthy growth in sectors like engineering, gems and jewellery and petroleum products, an official said. The exports during June 1-7 2021 stood at $7.56 billion, the commerce ministry official said. Imports during the first week of this month too rose by about 77 per cent to $16 billion. The thermal power generation went up by 26.18 per cent in May over the corresponding month of the previous fiscal.

'ACCOMMODATIVE' STANCE DROPPED

RBI hikes repo rates as inflation pressures build

The rise in interest rate follows a 40-bps rise in early May at an unscheduled meeting that kicked off the central bank's tightening cycle, which economists expect to be relatively short

REUTERS

Mumbai, June 8: The Reserve Bank of India's key interest rate was raised by 50 basis points Wednesday as widely expected, the second hike in as many months, in a bid to cool persistently high inflation in Asia's third-largest economy.

The central bank also dropped its long-standing phrase that future policy would remain 'accommodative', reinforcing expectations of further rate hikes and other forms of tightening in coming months as fighting inflation becomes its main focus.

"Upside risks to inflation as highlighted in last policy meetings have materialised earlier than expected," RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said after the policy decision.

The monetary policy committee

RBI MPC HIGHLIGHTS

- Key lending rate (repo) raised by 50 basis points to 4.9%; 2nd increase in 5 weeks
- Inflation projection for current fiscal raised to 6.7% from 5.7%
- GDP growth forecast retained at 7.2% for current financial year
- Credit cards to be linked with UPI; RuPay credit cards to be linked first
- e-mandates on cards for recurring payments enhanced to ₹15,000 from ₹5,000
- Urban cooperative banks allowed to lend up to ₹1.40 crore as against the previous cap of ₹70 lakh, while rural cooperative banks can now lend up to ₹75 lakh as against earlier cap of ₹30 lakh

Standing Facility Rate were adjusted higher by the same quantum to 4.65% and 5.15%, respectively. "The more hawkish tone on inflation suggests to us that the MPC will continue to frontload policy tightening over the coming months, perhaps with another a 50bp hike in the next scheduled meeting in August," said Shilan Shah, senior India economist at Capital Economics.

PRICE PRESSURES INTENSIFYING

The RBI raised its inflation projection for this fiscal year to 6.7% from 5.7% earlier, and Das said it will likely remain above the bank's upper tolerance band in the first three quarters of the financial year that started April 1.

"We have dropped the word (accommodative) but we remain accommodative and that is mainly to give more clarity to the market," Das said. "The MPC also decided to remain focused on withdrawal of accommodation to ensure that inflation remains within the target going forward, while supporting growth," he said adding that liquidity still remains above pre-pandemic levels.

Retail inflation in April accelerated to 7.79% from a year earlier, above the RBI's tolerance band for inflation of 2% to 6% for a fourth month in a row, and a further rise in global prices of crude oil, food and other commodities is expected to keep up the upward pressure.

RBI allows credit cards to be linked with UPI

UPI has become the most inclusive mode of payment, with over 26cr unique users and 5cr merchants onboarded on the platform. In May, 594.63cr transactions amounting to ₹10.40L cr were processed through UPI, Das noted

Mumbai: The Reserve Bank Wednesday allowed credit cards to be linked with the unified payments interface (UPI), which will enable more people to make payments using the popular platform.

Till now, only debit cards connected to savings bank accounts and current accounts were allowed to link up to the UPI platform. At present, making UPI payments is free, while credit card companies usually depend on the merchant discount rate (MDR), which is charged on every usage for making merchant payments as a revenue stream.

"... The basic objective of linking credit cards to UPI is to provide a customer (with) a wider choice of payments. Currently, UPI is linked through debit cards to savings accounts or current accounts," Reserve Bank Deputy Governor T Rabi Sankar told reporters at the

Earlier in the day, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das announced that such linking will be possible starting with the credit cards issued by the RBI-promoted National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI).

He said the new arrangement will be implemented after system developments and instructions will be issued to the NPCI for the same.

Das said the new arrangement is expected to provide more avenues and convenience to the customers in making payments through the UPI platform.

To a specific question pointing out the differences between UPI and credit cards from a usage fees perspective, and how they are exactly opposite, Sankar said going into the pricing structure for such a service right now will be akin to jumping the gun.

Sugar exports at record high: ISMA

New Delhi: Sugar exports from India, the world's largest producer and second biggest exporter of the sweetener, touched a record 8.6 million tonne till May of the ongoing 2021-22 marketing year ending September, said the latest data released by industry body ISMA Wednesday. The country had exported total 7 million tonne of sugar in the 2020-21 marketing year, while domestic production stood at 31.19 million tonne in the same period. Last month, the government capped sugar exports at 10 million tonne to ensure enough domestic supply and check retail prices during festival season in October-November. However, cooperatives have demanded raising the export cap by 1 million tonne. According to Indian Sugar Mills Association (ISMA), it is reported that around 9.4-9.5 million tonne of export contracts have already been entered into so far.

STAGFLATION RISKS

WB cuts global GDP forecast to 2.9%

The World Bank report said global growth was being hammered by the war, fresh Covid lockdowns in China, supply-chain disruptions and the rising risk of stagflation -- a period of weak growth and high inflation last seen in the 1970s

REUTERS

Washington, June 8: The World Bank Tuesday slashed its global growth forecast by nearly a third to 2.9% for 2022, warning that Russia's invasion of Ukraine has compounded the damage from the Covid-19 pandemic, and many countries now faced recession.

The war in Ukraine had magnified the slowdown in the global economy, which was now entering what could become "a protracted period of feeble growth and elevated inflation," the World Bank said in its Global Economic Prospects report, warning that the outlook could still grow worse.

In a news conference, World Bank President David Malpass said global growth could fall to 2.1% in 2022 and 1.5% in 2023, driving per capita growth close to zero, if downside risks materialized.

"The danger of stagflation is considerable today," Malpass wrote in the foreword to the report. "Subdued growth will likely persist throughout the decade because of weak investment in most of the world. With inflation now running at multi-decade highs in many countries and supply expected to grow slowly, there is a risk that inflation will remain higher for longer."

Between 2021 and 2024, the pace of global growth is projected to slow by 2.7 percentage points, Malpass said, more than twice the deceleration seen between 1976 and 1979.

Growth in advanced economies was projected to decelerate sharply to 2.6% in 2022 and 2.2% in 2023 after hitting 5.1% in 2021.

US growth was seen dropping to 2.5% in 2022, down from 5.7% in 2021, with the euro zone to see growth of 2.5% after 5.4%.

Emerging market and developing economies were seen achieving growth of just 3.4% in 2022, down from 6.6% in 2021, and well below the annual average of 4.8% seen in 2011-2019.

China's economy was seen expanding by just 4.3% in 2022 after growth of 8.1% in 2021.

Negative spillovers from the war in Ukraine would more than offset any near-term boost reaped by commodity exporters from higher energy prices, with 2022 growth forecasts revised down in nearly 70% of emerging markets and developing economies.

The regional European and Central Asian economy, which does not include Western Europe, was expected to contract by 2.9% after growth of 6.5% in 2021, rebounding slightly to growth of 1.5% in 2023. Ukraine's economy was expected to contract by 45.1% and Russia's by 8.9%.

Porsche forays into pre-owned car segment in India

The Porsche Approved programme is now available across India with a comprehensive warranty on pre-owned cars for a minimum of 12 months, including access to the 24-hour roadside service after passing a rigorous 111-point inspection, the automaker said in a statement

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: German sports luxury car manufacturer Porsche Wednesday said it has forayed into pre-owned car segment in India.

Porsche India Brand Director Manolito Vujicic said the initiative aims to ensure that more Porsche units remain active on Indian roads for many years to come.

"This is an important step for Porsche India to extend our services into the pre-owned car segment, as it shows our commitment to customer satisfaction long after the car has been sold and even to customers who have never owned a new Porsche," he added.

He said that Porsche Approved programme offers a high level of quality by passing a 111-point check on every pre-owned seal, the company will certify that only genuine Porsche parts have been used and installed by qualified Porsche technicians, Vujicic said.

Porsche. This means that every vehicle should meet the standard of its original condition and thus enhances the value of any model carrying the 'Approved' seal, he added.

The 12-month warranty includes repairs to all vehicle components including labour charges, except consumables and wear and tear parts such as wiper blades, tyres, fluids and brake pads.

While the term depends on the age of the vehicle, it mostly covers any Porsche that has not completed 2,00,000 kms and is up to six years old. Porsche sales in India grew by 22 per cent to 188 units in the first quarter of the current calendar year, recording its best Q1 performance since 2013.

The brand's SUV range, comprising Cayenne and Macan, remain the most sold models in the range.

MITHALI BIDS ADIEU

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: Mithali Raj, one of the greatest female cricketers to have played the game, Wednesday announced retirement from all forms of international cricket, having made a significant contribution in popularising the women's game during a storied 23-year-long career.

The trailblazer ended her glorious career with a record 7805 runs from 232 ODIs, the most in the format. With an overall tally of 10868 runs, she is also the leading-run getter in women's cricket across formats.

The 39-year-old featured in 89 T20 Internationals and even though she got to play only 12 Tests in her long career, she managed to score a double hundred and remains the only woman cricketer from India to do so in the longer format.

She had retired from the T20 format in 2019 and her decision to stop playing all formats was expected after India's underwhelming ODI World Cup campaign in March. She was the captain of the team in the ICC mega event.

The cricketer from Rajasthan attained the legendary status with her exploits with the bat for over two decades. When she made her India debut back in 1999, women's cricket was a neglected sport but now it has become a career choice with millions of girls aspiring to be like her.

She said another journey beckons her as she would love to stay involved with the game. Mithali played in as many as six ODI World Cups and also holds the record of scoring seven half centuries in a row.

She is the only Indian captain – male or female – to have led India in two World Cup (ODI) finals (2005 and 2017). The team's performance in 2017 had given a huge fillip to the women's game.

However, a fairy tale ending eluded her five years later in New Zealand, where India made an early exit from the competition after an inconsistent campaign.

CRICKET FRATERNITY HAILS 'TRUE LEGEND'

The Indian cricket fraternity hailed Mithali Raj as "true legend" and an "inspiration" to millions after she bid adieu to international cricket. In her 23-year-long eventful career, Mithali positively influenced the perception about women's cricket. Here is a compilation of tweets, posted by current and former cricketers...

set out as a little girl on the journey to wear the India blues as representing your country is the highest honour. The journey was full of highs and some lows.

Each event taught me something unique and the last 23 years have been the most fulfilling, challenging & enjoyable years of my life. Like all journeys, this one too must come to an end. Today is the day I retire from all forms of International Cricket.

Each time I stepped on the field, I gave my very best with the intent to help India win. I will always cherish the opportunity given to me to represent the tricolour.

I feel now is the perfect time to call curtains on my playing career as the team is in the capable hands of some very talented young players and the future of Indian Cricket is bright.

It was an honour to have led the team for so many years. It definitely shaped me as a person & hopefully helped shape Indian Women's Cricket as well.

I love and contribute to the growth of Women's Cricket in India and world over. Special mention to all my fans, thank you for all your love & support.

Pant to lead India in T20Is vs Proteas

With T20 World Cup in mind, Men in Blue begin auditions for select spots; Rahul, Kuldeep ruled out of entire series

(From L): Rishabh Pant, Yuzvendra Chahal, Avesh Khan and Ravi Bishnoi have something to laugh about during the team's practice session ahead of first T20I against South Africa

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: Zeroing in on a core group for the upcoming T20 World Cup will be India's main endeavour as they audition a bunch of players, both old and new, in the five-match T20 International series against a strong South African side, starting here Thursday.

However, India skipper KL Rahul was ruled out of the entire series due to a groin injury, a day before the first match here.

Wicketkeeper-batter Rishabh Pant, who was named as Rahul's deputy, will lead the side in his absence. All-rounder Hardik Pandya will be the vice-captain in the series.

Left-arm spinner Kuldeep Yadav will also miss the entire T20I series after getting hit on his right hand while batting in the nets Tuesday. The selection committee has not named replacements for Rahul and Kuldeep. Both the cricketers will now report to the NCA where the medical team will assess them further and decide on the future course of treatment. The Men in Blue are on a 12-match winning streak and come Thursday, they can create an all-time record of winning 13 T20I games in a row.

However for head coach Rahul Dravid, the primary aim over the next 10 days will be to narrow down on a core group of players going into the World Cup in October.

And he couldn't have hoped for a better opposition than a gritty South African side which has seen its stock rise recently. With likes of skipper Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli rested for the series, and with stand-in captain KL Rahul out of the series, it is very much likely that Ruturaj Gaikwad and Ishan Kishan will open the innings.

Both are coming off underwhelming IPL seasons and it could well be a case where both are given a go at the top to see who fares better. India currently face a problem of plenty. Shreyas Iyer, was terrific at No.3

THE SQUADS

INDIA: Rishabh Pant (C & wk), Ruturaj Gaikwad, Ishan Kishan (wk), Deepak Hooda, Shreyas Iyer, Dinesh Karthik (wk), Hardik Pandya, Venkatesh Iyer, Yuzvendra Chahal, Axar Patel, Ravi Bishnoi, Bhuvneshwar Kumar, Harshal Patel, Avesh Khan, Arshdeep Singh & Umran Malik.

SOUTH AFRICA: Temba Bavuma (C), Quinton de Kock (wk), Reeza Hendricks, Heinrich Klaasen, Keshav Maharaj, Aiden Markram, David Miller, Lungi Ngidi, Anrich Nortje, Wayne Parnell, Dwaine Pretorius, Kagiso Rabada, Tabraiz Shamsi, Tristan Stubbs, Rassie van der Dussen & Marco Jansen.

against Sri Lanka in February, could hold on to the spot, in the absence of the injured Suryakumar Yadav. But Deepak Hooda, who has been in fine form, could also be given a chance since his impressed batting in the same position for Lucknow Super Giants.

The mercurial Pant and comeback man Dinesh Karthik form an explosive middle order. While Pant will be keen to rediscover his touch, it is to be seen if Karthik, who dazzled in the role of a finisher for RCB, can replicate his IPL form with the national side. Hardik is likely to resume his duties as the finisher despite a splendid run batting at No.3 and 4 in the IPL.

The seasoned Bhuvneshwar Kumar will spearhead the pace attack alongside death overs specialist Harshal Patel and would hope to prove their prowess given that only Jasprit Bumrah is a sure pick for the World Cup among the fast bowlers.

Avesh Khan is likely to fill in the third pacer's spot but if he falters, Arshdeep Singh, who impressed in the IPL with his ability to bowl yorkers, could be handed a debut over fellow rookie Umran Malik. However, Dravid has made it clear that it will be difficult to provide game time to all the available payers.

Kaur named captain for SL tour

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: Harmanpreet Kaur was Wednesday named India women's team captain for the white-ball tour of Sri Lanka on a day when her ODI predecessor Mithali Raj announced her international retirement.

Harmanpreet, who remains T20I skipper, and Smriti Mandhana were in the running to replace Mithali in the 50-over format. Eventually the selectors have gone for the 33-year-old Harmanpreet over the 25-year-old Mandhana.

India will play three T20Is and as many ODIs against Sri Lanka in Dambulla and Kandy, starting June 23. It will be India's first assignment since the early exit from the ODI World Cup in March.

Notable omissions from the ODI squad were veteran Jhulan Goswami, who too like Mithali, was expected to retire after the World Cup, and Sneha Rana. Opener S Meghana, who had impressed in the ODIs in New Zealand before World Cup, has been included in both the ODI and T20I squads. Jemimah Rodrigues, who was not included in the ODI World Cup squad, made a comeback for the T20Is. Radha Yadav, who last played for India in July last year, also made a return. The three T20Is will be played in Dambulla June 23, 25 and 27 while the ODIs will be held in Kandy July 1, 4 and 7.

The timing of the squad announcement was rather interesting as it came soon after Indian legend Mithali called time on her 23-year-old career.

SAI CALLS BACK TEAM FROM SLOVENIA AFTER FEMALE CYCLIST ACCUSES COACH OF INAPPROPRIATE BEHAVIOUR

Controversy hits cycling contingent

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 8: The Sports Authority of India (SAI) Wednesday decided to call the entire Indian cycling contingent back from Slovenia after a female cyclist accused chief coach RK Sharma of "inappropriate behaviour" during the training-cum-competition trip.

The Indian endurance contingent, consisting of five male and a female, flew to Slovenia May 15 and was scheduled to return June 14. SAI has already called back the cyclist, who made the allegations, and formed an enquiry committee to look into the matter.

The Cycling Federation of India (CFI) Chairman Onkar Singh told this agency that SAI has made the decision to cut short the training trip. "SAI official called up CFI this morning and said all the contingent including coach RK Sharma will be called back immediately from Slovenia," Singh said.

It has been learnt that SAI also shot off a separate missive to coach Sharma to return as soon as possible. The training-cum-competition trip to Slovenia was arranged to help Indian team prepare well for the Asian Track Cycling Championships, scheduled to be held in the national capital from June 18 to 22.

The female cyclist had apprised the SAI of inappropriate behaviour by coach during her stay in Slovenia and was so terrified that she feared for her life.

The matter had come to light Monday when SAI issued a statement, saying it has called the cyclist back to ensure her safety. The complainant claimed that the coach forced her to share a hotel room with him on the pretext that accommodation has been arranged on twin-sharing basis. Later on her request, SAI arranged for a separate single room for her but the coach did not take her to Germany for an event along with the other members of the contingent for putting up resistance.

The coach threatened the cyclist that he will destroy her career by having her removed from the National Centre of Excellence (NCOE) if she will not sleep with him, according to the complainant. Fearing for her safety, the cyclist had then decided to quit the training camp.

However, it has come to light that SAI had actually arranged for a separate room for her because she was the only female member of the contingent and there was no need for her to share the room with anyone. "SAI in its direction had beforehand said that the athlete in question will be given a single room as she was the only female member in the contingent," a SAI source said.

Coach Sharma will have to appear before a five-member inquiry panel, which will be headed by SAI's internal sexual harassment committee head.

Sports Minister Anurag Thakur promised action against the coach if allegations proved to be true. "After the inquiry whatever actions needs to be taken we will take because in sports we can't tolerate anything like this," Thakur said.

Sindhu, Sen advance

While World Championship bronze medalist Sen, seeded seventh, outwitted Denmark's Hans-Kristian Solberg Vittinghus 21-10, 21-18, two-time Olympic medalist Sindhu had to toil hard to get the better off Line Christophersen of Denmark 18-21, 21-15, 21-11 in a 51-minute match. Sen will face Denmark's Rasmus Gemke next, while Sindhu plays Indonesia's Gregoria Mariska Tunjung.

In other results, Aakarshi Kashyap went down 12-21, 11-21 to USA's Beiwen Zhang in under 30 minutes to bow out of the competition. On a comeback trail after recovering from an injury, Sameer Verma couldn't put his best foot forward, losing 17-21, 15-21 to Indonesia's Chico Aura Dwi Wardoyo.

The mixed pairing of Ishaan Bhatnagar and Tanisha Crasto produced a gallant fight before losing 14-21, 21-16, 12-21 to fourth seeds Praveen Jordan and Melati Daeva Oktavianti of Indonesia in an opening round match.

Sindhu, a former World Champion, came into the match with a 30 head-to-head record against Line but she blew a 11-9 advantage to lose the opening game, primarily due to her unforced errors.

errors put paid to her hopes. She missed the lines far too many times and also found the nets a lot to undo all her good work.

A wide shot from Sindhu helped Line to grab a slender 11-10 lead but she again went long as the Indian established a three-point cushion and extended it to 17-12 after an enthralling rally.

CHHETRI BRACE SINKS CAMBODIA

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Kolkata, June 8: Talismanic Sunil Chhetri was once again the man of the moment as he struck a brace to inspire India to a 2-0 win over Cambodia in their opening match of the Asian Cup qualifying final round match at the Salt Lake Stadium here Wednesday.

The Igor Stimac's side were far from their best and failed to make use of their better possession against a weak side but the 37-year-old returned Chhetri from an injury layoff to score on either side of the break (13th and 59th minute).

The double strike brought him back to the third place in the list of highest scorers among active footballers in the world. With 82 goals from 127 matches, Chhetri now sits behind Portugal superstar Cristiano Ronaldo (117) and Argentine virtuoso Lionel Messi (86).

Following a tense start, Chhetri settled the nerves converting a 14th minute penalty in a calm-headed way. It was Liston Colaco who was tripped inside the box by Kok Boris of Cambodia. Chhetri took the centre stage and slammed past a diving Hul Kimhuy.

But thereafter, it was a tale of missed chances for the Blue Tigers who failed to justify their 69 per cent possession.

Finally, it was from a superb assist by Brandon Fernandes that saw Chhetri complete his brace to give India a 2-0 cushion at the hour mark.

The start of the match was marred by a technical glitch as the Cambodian team had to wait for about 10 minutes for their national anthem to be played much to the embarrassment of the All India Football Federation.

The announcement was made for the visiting team's national anthem but what was played out was the Indian national anthem and the Cambodians stood waiting.
