Reservoir emptied for lost phone

Rajesh Vishwas, a food inspector of Pakhanjore in Kanker district of Chhattisgarh, had gone to Paralkot reservoir with his friends last week when his Samsung Galaxy S23 fell into the reservoir while taking a selfie

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Kanker, May 26: A Chhattisgarh government employee allegedly drained out 41 lakh litres of water from a weir after his mobile phone fell into it in this district of the neighbouring state, an official said Friday. The employee was suspended for the colossal waste of water in the peak of summer at Paralkot reservoir last weekend. The incident came to light Friday, the official said.

Food inspector Rajesh Vishwas, posted in Pakhanjore area of the district, had gone to the reservoir for an outing with his friends May 21 when his mobile phone fell into a waste weir, a channel that carries away surplus water, while taking a selfie, the official said.

Vishwas allegedly roped in villagers and got diesel pumps to empty the water from the weir till his mobile phone was retrieved Thursday, he said.

After the matter came to light, Kanker Collector Priyanka Shukla sought a report in this regard, following which the official was suspended, he said.

The Collector also issued a show-cause notice to the sub-divisional officer (SDO) of Water Resources department, RC Dhivar, for allegedly giving verbal permission to drain out water from the weir.

A report sought from the sub-divisional magistrate of Pakhanjore said that 4,104 cubic metres, or 41 lakh litres of water was emptied from the structure without permission from the authorities to look for the mobile phone, it said.

"Vishwas misused his position to look for his mobile phone and without seeking permission from the competent officer evacuated water to the tune of lakhs of litre in this scorching summer season which is unacceptable. For the aforementioned act, he has been placed under suspension with immediate effect," reads the suspension order.

The show-cause notice issued to Dhivar stated that as per statements of Vishwas in media, the food inspector had sought verbal permission from him for the purpose. Giving verbal permission to release water without seeking permission from senior officials comes under the category of misconduct, it said.

The apex court did not allow the petitioner to withdraw the plea after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Union government, submitted that withdrawal being allowed will give him liberty to approach High Court.

"These are not justiciable. The court should note it," Mehta submitted. "The petitioner sought permission to withdraw the plea but the same was not allowed, the bench said.

The petitioner had contended that the respondents - the Lok Sabha Secretariat and the Union of India - are 'humiliating' the President by not inviting her for the inauguration.

Metro rail work in City to start by year-end

PNN & AGENCIES

Bhubaneswar, May 26: Work for the much-awaited metro rail project in Bhubaneswar capital region is likely to start by the end of this year, Housing and Urban Development Minister Usha Devi said Friday.

She said this during a review meeting chaired by Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik on the project during the day.

Stating that the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation is engaged as a consultant, the minister said the detailed project report (DPR) is being prepared. "The construction work is likely to commence by the end of 2023. The Chief Minister will lay the foundation stone for the project," said the minister.

She also said the survey for the proposed project has been completed.

"The DPR, which is being prepared by the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation, has reached its final stage and routes have been identified. Initially, the metro rail will run between Bhubaneswar and Cuttack, and later it will be extended to Jatni and Puri," the department's secretary G Mathivathanan. Earlier, on the occasion of Utkal Divas April 1, Patnaik announced the metro rail project for ease of travelling for daily commuters and tourists.

"The project has been studied by various stakeholders and feasibility reports have been prepared. It will predominantly be based on elevated corridors and entirely funded by the state government," Mathivathanan said.

Metro rail will reduce the time taken to cover 64 km between Puri and Bhubaneswar to less than 30 minutes, sources said.

In the first phase, the government will create the metro trunk route from Trisulia near Cuttack to Biju Patnaik International Airport in Bhubaneswar. The route will tentatively touch major landmarks such as Nandankanan, Patia, Vani Vihar, and the railway station. In later phases, the metro will expand to Jatni, Khurda, and Puri, the official said.

On providing safe drinking water to urban population, Mathivathanan said 85 cities of Odisha including all five corporations have achieved 100 percent tap connection for households under the Drink from Tap Mission. The remaining 30 cities would be covered before December 2023. MORE P3

NABA MURDER STILL A MYSTERY

Though the chargesheet submitted by CB says accused Gopal Das had meticulously planned and executed the murder alone, it fails to come up with the reason that prompted the now-sacked ASI to kill ex-minister Naba Das in broad daylight

PNN & AGENCIES

Bhubaneswar, May 26: Gopal Das, former assistant sub-inspector (ASI) of police, had gunned down ex-Health Minister of Odisha Naba Kishore Das due to personal grudge and anguish in stable mind, as per the chargesheet submitted by Crime Branch (CB) in Jharsuguda judicial magistrate first class (JMFC) court, Friday. However, the investigating agency is silent about the exact reason behind the daylight murder of a minister.

Gopal, 53, is the lone accused in the January 29, 2023 incident and the murder was a result of past enmity. Charges have been framed under Sections 307 (attempt to commit murder), 302 (murder) and Arms Act, the CB chargesheet said.

If proved in court, the ex-ASI may face prison term ranging from 10 years to life sentence and is liable to be fined.

The 543-page chargesheet in the case was filed by the CB of Odisha Police at Jharsuguda JMFC court Friday. The charge against Gopal is based on statements by eyewitnesses and reports of a scientific team. The case was handed over to the CB to investigate the motive behind the murder.

The court turned down its request to take Gopal to National

CB CHARGESHEET AFTER 117 DAYS

■ The CB, which took 117 days to file the chargesheet in the high-profile murder case, had formed 10 teams and deputed them to Jharsuguda, Bhubaneswar, Berhampur and other places even beyond the state to probe into possible angles of the case

Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences in Bangalore for evaluation. It referred to the report by the medical board comprising experts from the state-run SCB Medical College and Hospital which suggested that Gopal was mentally sound.

The chargesheet said the accused meticulously planned and executed the murder alone. There was no conspiracy or support from anyone else. The narco test and layered voice analysis confirmed that the police officer had pulled the gun due to personal grudge, it said.

"After evaluation of all evidences - oral, documentary, medico-legal, cyber forensic and ballistic opinion, it is clear that accused Gopal Das had developed personal grudge and anguish against deceased minister Naba Kishore Das. He felt threatened by the minister and his supporters and feared for his life. Gradually, he made up his mind to commit murder," the chargesheet said. The police officer's mental condition was "quite normal" and there was no abnormality at the time, it said.

Meanwhile, Opposition parties alleged that conspiracy angle was not probed and the real reason behind the murder is still under the wraps.

Odisha Pradesh Congress Committee (OPCC) president Sarat Pattanayak said, "The Chief Minister holds the Home portfolio, but his government never wanted to know the actual reason behind the murder. The real reason is still under the wraps."

Similarly, state BJP general secretary Prithviraj Harichandan said, "There is a deep-rooted conspiracy behind the murder of Naba Das. The Crime Branch has not mentioned anything as to why Gopal Das was scared and why he felt threatened by Naba Das and his supporters."

Rubbishing the allegations, BJD leader and Revenue Minister Pramila Mallick said, "The opposition leaders never mind to say anything despite all the good work done by the state government. Whoever is the culprit will be punished and justice will be done."

Piped water for all urban households by Dec end

H&UD Minister Usha Devi and Secretary G Mathivathanan during the media briefing in Bhubaneswar, Friday

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, May 26: All households in 115 urban local bodies (ULBs) of Odisha will have piped drinking water supply by December 2023, Housing and Urban Development (H&UD) Minister Usha Devi said, Friday.

Addressing media here after Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik reviewed the performance of H&UD department, Devi said piped water supply connections have so far been given to 100 per cent households under five municipal corporations.

"While 99 per cent of households in 110 ULBs have been given piped water supply, remaining 1 per cent households will get it by December 2023," the H&UD minister said.

Fulfilling another dream of the CM— to provide safe and clean drinking water through tap water connections to all—, households in 85 cities, including all five municipal corporations, have achieved 100 per cent tap water connection under the Drink from Tap Mission.

"The remaining 30 cities would be covered under the ambitious initiative before December 2023," Devi said.

As many as 1.73 lakh families have been granted land right certificates in municipalities and notified area councils (NACs). While slum household survey has been completed in five municipal corporations, 1 lakh slum families will be granted land right certificates by December 2023, the minister said.

The H&UD department has constructed 1,62,327 houses. Door to door garbage collection has been ensured in all 2,055 wards in 115 ULBs, she said.

Besides, 252 micro composting centres and 216 material recovery facilities have been functioning in 115 cities for processing solid waste. The department has constructed and operationalised 112 faecal sludge treatment plants (FSTPs). All these waste processing facilities were being operated and managed by Mission Shakti and Transgender groups.

Highlighting the major achievements of the department, the H&UD minister said, "We are on our journey in transforming the lives of urban denizens."

Adhering to CM's principle of valuing people more than land, the government instead of evicting people from slums empowered them by granting land rights and upgrading their infrastructure, amenities and services to transform slums to Biju Adarsh Colonies.

"Till now, 772 slums have been upgraded as Biju Adarsh Colonies and four towns - Hinjilicut, Digapahandi, Rambha and Purusottampur - have achieved slum-free status," she said.

H&UD Secretary G Mathivathanan said wage employment programme Mukhyamantri Karma Tatpara Abhiyan (MUKTA) was launched during Covid pandemic in April 2020.

"MUKTA is now implemented across 115 ULBs of the state through community partnership involving the Mission Shakti self-help groups (SHGs) and the slum dweller associations," the H&UD Secretary said.

Over 52,000 ward-level projects including public parks, walking tracks, open gyms, children play facilities, city beautification and rain water harvesting structures have been implemented in all the ULBs of the state.

China to launch world's 1st oral insulin for Type-2 diabetes

THE NUMBER OF DIAGNOSED PREVALENT CASES OF TYPE 2 DIABETES IN CHINA IS ESTIMATED TO GROW AT A CAGR OF 2.21 PER CENT FROM 57.4 MILLION IN 2022 TO 63.3 MILLION IN 2028

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, May 26: China may soon become the world's first country with oral insulin availability, according to a report Friday.

After successfully completing Phase III trials of oral insulin, China's Hefei Tianhui Biotechnology (HTTT) submitted a marketing authorisation application (MAA) to the country's National Medical Products Administration.

Oramed's US-based ORA-D-013-1 Phase III trial for the treatment of Type 2 diabetes showed significant lowering of A1C levels, which reflects the average blood sugar level for the past two to three months. HTTT is a strategic partner of Israeli company Oramed Pharmaceuticals.

"Oral insulin is a paradigm shift from the traditional injectable insulin market. Therefore, there would be a lot of opportunities and challenges in the commercialisation of oral insulins," said Prashant Khadayate, Pharma Analyst at GlobalData, in a statement.

"Even though insulin delivery through injections has improved significantly for patients, compliance is always an issue for injectable forms of insulin. Hence, oral insulin will always be preferred, potentially reducing the discomfort associated with injections and thereby improving overall compliance, provided it is equally effective in terms of efficacy and safety. Notably, it is difficult to comment on its efficacy and safety with injectable insulins as Phase III trials included only placebo," Khadayate added.

In November 2015, HTTT in-licensed exclusive rights to Oramed's oral insulin ORMD-0801 in China, pointed out that the new system will help students innovate in the field of research and also acquire knowledge. He also urged the students to enthusiastically participate in the curriculum and also garner knowledge from all forms of medical science.

An accomplished cardiac surgeon with three decades of professional excellence and innovation, Bisoi was given a rousing welcome by AIIMS-Bhubaneswar executive director Ashutosh Biswas. Bisoi interacted with students, departmental heads and also visited the outpatient department (OPD).

During his visit, Bisoi emphasised on democratic, rule-based and transparent governance systems as these will help in taking timely and appropriate decisions. He also talked about the importance of creating leaders. For efficiently imparting healthcare, Bisoi stressed on functional coherence between different departments and to create a culture of devotion towards duty and empathy both in education and healthcare services.

Biswas, while welcoming Bisoi, said that the institute will achieve success in research and education under his able guidance. Medical superintendent DK Parida, Registrar BB Mishra, senior faculties and administrative officials accompanied Bisoi during his visit to AIIMS-Bhubaneswar in the Capital City.

Meteorite particles may have driven origin of life on Earth: Study

Particles from meteors or volcanic eruptions on Earth around 4.4 billion years ago may have generated the precursors of the molecules needed for the origin of life on the planet, according to a study.

Previous research has suggested that the precursors of organic molecules—hydrocarbons, aldehydes and alcohols—may have been delivered by asteroids or comets or produced by reactions in the early Earth's atmosphere and oceans.

These reactions may have been promoted by energy from lightning, volcanic activity, or impacts. However a lack of data has meant that it is unclear what the predominant mechanism that produced these precursors was.

The new research, published in the journal Scientific Reports, analysed whether meteorite or ash particles deposited on volcanic islands could have promoted the conversion of atmospheric carbon dioxide to the precursors of organic molecules on the early Earth.

The researchers from Max Planck Institute for Astronomy in Germany simulated a range of conditions that previous research has suggested may have been present on the early Earth by placing carbon dioxide gas in a heated and pressurised system (an autoclave) under pressures ranging between nine and 45 bars and temperatures ranging between 150 and 300 degrees Celsius.

They also simulated wet and dry climate conditions by adding either hydrogen gas or water to the system.

The team mimicked the depositing of meteorite or ash particles on volcanic islands by adding different combinations of crushed samples of iron meteorites, stony meteorites, or volcanic ash into the system, as well as minerals that may have been present in the early Earth and are found in either the planet's crust, meteorites, or asteroids.

The researchers found that the iron-rich particles from meteorites and volcanic ash promoted the conversion of carbon dioxide into hydrocarbons, aldehydes and alcohols across a range of atmosphere and climate conditions that may have been present in the early Earth.

The researchers suggest that as the early Earth's atmosphere cooled over time, the production of alcohols and aldehydes may have increased, and these compounds may then have participated in further reactions leading to formation of carbohydrates, lipids, and sugars

They observed that aldehydes and alcohols formed at lower temperatures while hydrocarbons formed at 300 degrees Celsius.

The researchers suggest that as the early Earth's atmosphere cooled over time, the production of alcohols and aldehydes may have increased.

These compounds may then have participated in further reactions that could have led to the formation of carbohydrates, lipids, sugars, amino acids, DNA, and RNA, according to the researchers.

By calculating the rate of the reactions they observed and using data from previous research on the conditions of the early Earth, the researchers estimate that their proposed mechanism could have synthesised up to 600,000 tonnes of organic precursors per year across the early Earth.

Ever-changing Rulebook

Everyone in India knows that the country is run on a simple principle: Show me the man, and I'll show you the rule. In fact, rules change depending on how influential or otherwise the person likely to be affected by the rules is. The recent appointment of Karnataka IPS officer Praveen Sood as the new Director of the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has revived talk about this adage. Some keen observers have pointed out that while senior Haryana IAS officer and whistle-blower Ashok Khemka was not considered for Central deputation because he did not have any experience of serving at the Centre, the Personnel Ministry did not apply this condition in Sood's case. He, too, apparently has no experience of having served on Central deputation and has not been empanelled, yet he has been named the CBI chief.

Interestingly, there's another interesting trend in the appointment of CBI chiefs. Some observers have noted that the BJP has on two similar occasions, brought in state police chiefs from states in which it lost elections to the Centre as CBI chiefs! They cite the example of IPS Rishi Shukla from Madhya Pradesh and Subodh Jaiswal from Maharashtra. So, Sood's appointment is not an anomaly since there is clearly a precedent. A similar logic was also given when Gen BS Rawat was made Chief of the Army Staff over two senior generals since they did not have combat experience. Not surprisingly, the bureaucratic rulebook seems like a mythical creature, forever elusive and ever-changing, and can only be deciphered by a chosen few!

Controversy over ex-chief secretary's appointment

The recent appointment of ex-chief secretary Somesh Kumar as the chief advisor to Telangana's Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao has sparked a controversy and raised concerns among babu and political circles. Having taken voluntary retirement in February, the 1989 batch IAS officer from Andhra Pradesh has been given a three-year term in the rank of a cabinet minister. This has led many to question the potential overshadowing of senior serving babus due to his reported close proximity to the Chief Minister and his penchant to be in the spotlight. Sources have informed DKB that the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) already comprises a substantial number of retired officers from the IAS, IPS and other all India services. According to the CMO's official website, there are a dozen advisors to the CM, of which eight are former bureaucrats. It is widely believed that these advisors, during their tenure in service, impressed the Chief Minister with their work. Now with the appointment of Somesh Kumar as the chief advisor, political and babu observers remain watchful, waiting to see how Kumar's addition to the CMO will impact the functioning of the government and the roles of senior officials.

Ravneet Kaur takes the helm at CCI

The appointment of Ravneet Kaur as the new chairperson of the Competition Commission of India (CCI) for a period of five years comes at a crucial juncture. Amidst months of delay and speculation, Kaur's selection brings hope for the much-needed revitalisation of the regulatory body. This move by the Centre, occurring ten months before her retirement, is a significant step towards ensuring fair competition in India's evolving business landscape. Kaur's extensive experience as a senior Punjab IAS officer, coupled with her notable track record, positions her as a promising leader for the CCI. With the regulatory mandate of the CCI being intensified through recent amendments to the law, the addition of manpower and infrastructure becomes imperative. Interestingly, this is the third senior appointment the Centre has announced after the Karnataka election results. Earlier, the government had cleared the appointment of Praveen Sood as CBI Director and IRS officer Suman Sharma as UPSC member.

The top post at the CCI fell vacant after Ashok Kumar Gupta demitted the chairman's office on 25 October 2022, having completed his four-year term. Later the government gave member Sanjeeta Verma the charge of acting chairperson and also invited applications for three more members. CCI has to have a chairperson and not less than two and not more than six other members, as per the Competition Act. Kaur has held several positions in the government over the last two decades, including as chairperson of the India Tourism Development Corp between 2017 and 2019. With her extensive experience in the government and a proven track record, Kaur's leadership is expected to revitalise the functioning of CCI and reinforce its role in ensuring fair competition, considering that the panel is currently investigating some of the world's biggest companies including Apple, Amazon and Walmart's Flipkart for alleged anti-competitive practices.

WORDSWORTH

Incalescence

This is an extremely rare word, meaning the process or action of becoming warm or hot. In 1888, the New York Sun (surely the most appropriately named journal to lay claim to it) included it in a squib that borrowed the shade of Dr Samuel Johnson to complain magniloquently about the perils of riding a commuter train in the city on cold winter days: "Sir," said Dr. Johnson, "the corporeal gelidity and horripilation superinduced by the niveous atmosphere cannot be mitigated even by the mental incalescence evolved by indignation." "He means," whispered Mr. Boswell, "that it's so infernally cold in the cars of the Third Avenue elevated that even swearing at the directors won't warm you." Incalescence dates from the early seventeenth century; it was one of many words that were imported from Latin by scholars writers around this time, in this case from incalescere, to become warm or hot. That's from calere, to be warm, which is also the source of calorie, calorimeter, and other words. Another rare appearance was in The Ladies' Repository of December 1866: "What the flexible imagination is to the ordinary activity of the mind, the fiery is to its creative energy. Little depends upon the degree of its incalescence — more upon its living, energetic, thoughtful activity and rapid but thorough progress."

Lesson on blood flow

A teacher was giving a lesson on the circulation of the blood. Trying to make the matter clearer, he said: "Now, students, if I stood on my head the blood, as you know, would run into it, and I should turn red in the face." "Yes, sir," the boys said. "Then why is it that while I am standing upright in the ordinary position the blood doesn't run into my feet?" A little fellow shouted, "It's because your feet ain't empty."

FOCUS NEW PARLIAMENT BUILDING

WHO SHOULD INAUGURATE?

Unfortunately, controversy has arisen in the political spectrum regarding who should inaugurate the new Parliament building. Some of the Opposition parties are opposed to its inauguration by the Prime Minister and say that it should be inaugurated by the President or the Speaker of Lok Sabha. It is for the first time in the history of India that a new Parliament is built to house the chambers of India's bicameral Parliament, although additional buildings have been added subsequently to the sprawling Parliament House complex such as the Parliament House Annexe, the Parliament Library building and the Parliament House Annexe Extension building. Political parties opposing the inauguration of the new Parliament House by the Prime Minister argue that these additional buildings were only meant to serve the secretariats of the two Houses and as such were inaugurated by the then Prime Minister; but the new Parliament is going to house the two Houses, viz, Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha and as such needs to be inaugurated by the President of India and not Prime Minister.

IN INDIA, WE HAVE ADOPTED A PARLIAMENTARY FORM OF GOVERNMENT, WHICH IS PRIME MINISTER-LED

This article per se doesn't intend to take sides with the unsavoury debate which has regrettably dragged the exalted office and institution of the President of India. Perhaps a closer look at the provisions of the Constitution will illuminate and help steer clear of the debate.

The Constitutional provisions envisaging the relationship between the President and the Council of Ministers headed by the Prime Minister are instructive to put the debate in perspective. Article 79 of the Constitution stipulates that "there shall be a Parliament for the Union which shall consist of the President and the two Houses to be known respectively as the Council of States and the House of the People." Thus, it is amply clear that the President is an integral organ of

It may be mentioned that prior to the Forty-second Amendment of the Constitution, there was no express obligation on the part of the President to act in accordance with the advice rendered by the Council of Ministers

Parliament though she/he is not a member of the either House of Parliament. The President is the seamless connect between the Executive and the Legislature. In terms of the Constitution, and also in actual practice, the relationship between the Executive and the Legislature is one that is most intimate and does not behave any antagonism or dichotomy between the two organs of the body polity.

The President also summons each House of Parliament to meet at such time and place as she/he finds fit. Further, the President also prorogues the Houses or either House and dissolves the Lok Sabha. However, the proposal to summon, prorogue or dissolve the Lok Sabha is made by the Prime Minister with or without the consultation of the Cabinet. In case of disagreement between the two Houses on a Bill, other than a Money Bill, the President has the Constitutional power to summon both Houses to meet in a joint sitting for the purpose of deliberating and voting on the Bill unless the Bill has lapsed by reason of a dissolution of the Lok Sabha. Further, in accordance with Article 118(3) of the Constitution, the President makes rules in consultation with the Chairman of Rajya Sabha and the Speaker of Lok Sabha with respect to a joint sitting of, and communication between the two Houses. Also, the President appoints the Speaker pro tem from amongst the members of Lok Sabha, to preside over the sitting of Lok Sabha. Thus, the President of India enjoys considerable powers relating to the functioning of Parliament in the legislative domain. However, while the President of India is the head of the State and supreme command, the Prime Minister is the head of the government. In India, we have adopted a Parliamentary form of government, which is Prime Minister-led.

The Constituent Assembly never envisaged that the powers and functions vested in the President would be exercised by her/him without the advice of the ministers. This point was emphasised by Dr BR Ambedkar, who said: "Under the draft Constitution, the President occupies the same position as the king under the English Constitution. He is the Head of the state, but not of the executive.

He represents the Nation but does not rule the Nation... The President of the Indian Union will be generally bound by the advice of his ministers. He can do nothing contrary to their advice, nor can he do anything without their advice."

It may be mentioned that prior to the Forty-second Amendment of the Constitution, there was no express obligation on the part of the President to act in accordance with the advice rendered by the Council of Ministers. The Forty-second Amendment Act made it obligatory for the President to act in accordance with the Council of Ministers. This was further amended by the Constitution's Forty-fourth Amendment Act, which provided that the President may require the Council of Ministers to reconsider the advice, either generally or otherwise, but she/he shall act in accordance with the advice tendered after such recommendation. This clearly suggests that we have a Prime Minister-led Parliamentary form of government.

The construction of the new Parliament building is an Executive action undertaken by the Union Ministry of Urban Affairs, and the expenditure is borne by the government. It is rather in the fitness of things that the new Parliament building is being inaugurated by the Prime Minister of the country. Instead of wasting their time and energy in this futile exercise, the Opposition political parties should focus their attention on reaching out to the electorate and engaging in constructive debate for the well-being of the people and the development of the country. The elitist debate in English on TV channels will not help them win elections. Rather cooperative federalism as followed by Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik will.

SPECTRUM CLIMATE ACTION

The loss & damage fund is coming

Last November's United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP27) in Sharm El-Sheikh, Egypt, concluded on a historic high note, with the last-minute agreement to establish a "loss and damage" fund. The decision to offer financial support to vulnerable countries suffering the worst effects of global warming was a remarkable achievement that has resonated worldwide. But as we move from establishing the fund to implementing it, important questions remain.

What is a realistic funding target? Who will receive financial assistance? Which entities will have final say over the fund?

As we near the halfway mark between COP27 and COP28 in Dubai, the international community must address these critical questions in the spirit of constructive multilateralism that animated the proceedings in Sharm El-Sheikh. Governments, activists, and affected citizens were able to agree on this key plank of climate justice, and we must now demonstrate the same level of collaboration in making it a success.

In March, the COP27 presidency held the first Transitional Committee meeting in Luxor, Egypt, to begin addressing the operationalisation of the fund. The composition of the committee ensured a diverse range of voices, and complex issues were discussed in a constructive spirit of cooperation.

The three-day meeting concluded with the adoption of a work plan containing substantive and procedural milestones to deliver actionable recommendations well in advance of COP28. Moreover, the plan outlines how the committee will focus on all elements of its mandated recommendations at each gathering, gradually working toward consensus.

The UN Framework Convention on Climate Change defines loss and damage as the harm caused by human-generated climate change. Solutions to postpone, minimise, or prevent such harm to vulnerable communities worldwide must also be human-generated. It is our collective responsibility to implement effective policies to combat global warming, as well as to alleviate suffering and provide financial support to people whose lives have been upended by rising temperatures.

The Transitional Committee meetings are designed precisely for this purpose: to discuss effective methods and modalities that will turn the concept of the loss and damage fund into a tangible reality while identifying gaps in the existing climate-finance system. Requests and demands are currently being analysed and considered before finalising the mechanics to ensure proper implementation.

Backed by a broad range of government, civil-society, and private-sector stakeholders, the fund is designed to consider the short-, medium-, and long-term effects of climate change on developing countries. It will supply financial and technological resources for responding to loss and damage caused by both immediate and slow-onset events. That could mean early-warning systems, disaster-risk reduction, or ecosystem restoration.

As the architect of the fund, Egypt is committed to ensuring its effectiveness, transparency, and accessibility. We strongly believe that all stakeholders must fully collaborate to fulfil its objectives and make a significant change in the communities hit hardest by global warming. The burden of climate change is unequal, and we have the chance to create a much fairer and stability-enhancing balance.

The loss and damage fund represents a major step forward, but it is not enough. We must continue to work tirelessly to reduce greenhouse-gas emissions — the root cause of climate change. This can be achieved by accelerating the transition to clean energy, empowering communities to adapt their livelihoods, and adhering to scientific recommendations in line with internationally agreed principles.

At the same time, the need to create a working loss and damage fund that delivers on the promises made at COP27 is acute. East Africa and the Sahel are currently experiencing severe droughts caused by human-induced climate change, which has resulted in meagre rain levels as well as increased evapotranspiration in plants and soil. Plagued by food insecurity, many people in the affected countries are internally displaced or have been forced to migrate, underscoring global warming's disruptive effects and the increasingly limited ability of both nature and humanity to adapt to them.

The newly created fund will remain a top priority in climate discussions, and it is crucial to enter COP28 with a clear strategy for its effective implementation. We must approach the task with a unified sense of purpose — only by working together and getting the details right can we begin to address the vast inequities of the crisis. But given the significance of the task at hand, I am confident that we will succeed.

Upskill teachers

Sir, The system of education in India is unfortunately marred by a severe shortage of teachers, which makes quality education a far cry for children. A report by a child rights NGO says that there is a shortage of more than 5 lakh teachers in elementary schools in the country, and about 14% of public secondary schools do not even have the minimum requirement of teachers. While opening of new schools keeps increasing significantly, the quality of education remains abysmally poor due to the fact that teachers are overburdened with multiple activities like supervising mid-day meals, conducting surveys, carrying out administrative works, and even entrusted with managing election duties apart from their primary duty of teaching. According to an estimate, one in every six teachers in public schools is not professionally trained. There must be a system in place to ensure that teachers are upskilled, vacancies should be filled within a timeframe, and they are not tasked with too many responsibilities, so that their focus remains on teaching. A proper policy framework is required at each step to check for flaws, thereby making way for inclusive education. Ranganathan Sivakumar, CHENNAI

Record output

Sir, The projected record foodgrain output for the 2022-23 crop year in India is undoubtedly a highly commendable and positive development for the agriculture sector. It reflects the hard work of farmers, the expertise of scientists, and the favourable policies of the government. Achieving a record production despite challenges like unseasonal rains demonstrates the resilience and productivity of the agricultural community. A strong foodgrain output is crucial for ensuring food security and stability in the country. The increased production of key crops like rice, wheat, and maize, along with higher production of pulses and coarse grains, will contribute to meeting the food demands of the population and potentially reduce the need for imports. To keep the agricultural sector growing and improve farming, we need to invest in research and development. This means finding better ways to do things and using new technologies. Farmers should have access to these modern methods and tools, as well as better infrastructure like irrigation systems and roads. They also need support in the form of loans and help selling their crops. By doing these things, we can help farmers be more successful and ensure that agriculture continues to improve. While celebrating the record production, it's important to focus on maintaining the quality of the produce. Krishna Kumar Vepakomma, HYDERABAD

PARLIAMENT INAUGURATION ROW

No let-up in war of words

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi/Chennai, May 26: With the new Parliament building set to be inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, there was no let-up in the war of words between the BJP and the Congress on Friday over the event and the ceremonial sceptre Sengol was also dragged into the political row. Prime Minister Modi said the new Parliament building to be inaugurated Sunday will make every Indian proud and shared a video of the new complex, as several union ministers hit out at the 20 opposition parties including the Congress over their decision to boycott the inauguration ceremony. He also urged people to share the video on the social media platform using the hashtag 'My Parliament My Pride'.

A group of 270 eminent citizens including former bureaucrats, ambassadors and veterans condemned the opposition parties for their decision and claimed that all the "family-first" parties have come together to boycott all that represents India. The Supreme Court, meanwhile, refused to entertain a PIL seeking a direction to the Lok Sabha Secretariat for inauguration of the new Parliament building by President Droupadi Murmu, saying, "it is not a function of the court to look into this".

While Union Home Minister Amit Shah accused the Congress of reducing the Sengol to a "walking stick", BJP president J P Nadda said what connects the boycotting parties is their dynastic leadership whose "monarchic" methods are at loggerheads with the principles of the Constitution.

Shah said the Congress needs to "reflect" on its behaviour as he denounced the party's claim that there was no evidence of the Sengol being a symbol of transfer of power by the British to India in 1947. The golden Sengol will be installed near the Chair of the Speaker in the new Parliament building. "Why does the Congress party hate Indian traditions and culture so much? A sacred Sengol was given to Pandit Nehru by a holy Saivite Mutt from Tamil Nadu to symbolize India's freedom but it was banished to a museum as a 'walking stick'," Shah tweeted.

Shah's remarks came after Congress leader Jairam Ramesh claimed there was no documented evidence of Lord Mountbatten, C Rajaopalachari and Jawaharlal Nehru describing the Sengol as a symbol of transfer of power by the British to India. The head of a Tamil Nadu monastery sought to counter Ramesh's claim, saying the Sengol was handed over to Lord Mountbatten and then it was presented to Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru in 1947 to symbolise transfer of power from British and wrong claims made in this respect by some people has caused sadness. Tiruvavaduthurai Aadeenam, Ambalavana Desika Paramacharya Swami said the Sengol that was away from the gaze of people would now be prominently displayed in Parliament for the world to see.

To a question by reporters in Chennai on any proof for the handover of the Sengol, the pontiff said there were evidences including photographs and reports that appeared in newspapers and magazines in 1947.

Kejriwal to skip NITI Aayog meet

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: AAP supremo and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal wrote to Prime Minister Narendra Modi Friday, saying that he would boycott the NITI Aayog meeting over Centre's recent ordinance and charged that "cooperative federalism" in the country was being turned into a "joke".

The chief minister of the AAP-ruled Punjab, Bhagwant Mann, has also declared to boycott the NITI Aayog meeting to be held on Saturday.

The ordinance brought recently by the BJP-led central government has taken back elected Delhi government's executive control over bureaucracy that was earlier given to it by the Supreme Court through its verdict on May 11.

Kejriwal, in his letter to Prime Minister Modi, also alleged that the non-BJP governments in the country were being toppled through the use of money or threat of central probe agencies like ED and CBI orchestrating defection of their MLAs, and questioned whether such action encouraged cooperative federalism in the country.

The NITI Aayog meeting will take place on Saturday and the objective of the Commission was preparing a vision of India and furthering cooperative federalism, Kejriwal pointed in his letter.

"The way democracy has been attacked, non-BJP governments have been toppled and stopped from functioning in the last few years, it's neither vision of India nor cooperative federalism," he alleged.

Court grants NOC for passport

The former Congress president had surrendered his diplomatic passport upon his disqualification as an MP

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: A Delhi court Friday granted a no-objection certificate (NOC) to Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for issuance of an 'ordinary passport' for three years instead of 10, the period for which it is normally issued, following an objection raised by BJP leader Subramanian Swamy.

The former Congress president had surrendered his diplomatic passport upon his disqualification as an MP. "I'm partly allowing your application."

Not for 10 years but three years," Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate (ACMM) Vaibhav Mehta told Rahul Gandhi's counsel while pronouncing the order in a packed courtroom.

The court noted the National Herald case was pending at the stage of cross examination of the complainant in pre charge evidence and Rahul Gandhi has been regularly appearing either in person or through his counsel and has not hampered or delayed the proceedings.

Rahul Gandhi is an accused in the case in which Swamy is the complainant.

"This court has to take into account the public interests involved and also has to keep in view the rights of the applicant to travel

Rahul Gandhi is slated to visit Washington DC, New York and San Francisco

The Congress leader will likely address Indian Americans, meet lawmakers at the US Capitol, and interact with members of think tanks, Wall Street executives and university students during his stay abroad. Therefore, this court after going through the submissions of both the sides and after perusal of the record is of the view that ends of justice would suffice if the applicant is granted NOC for renewal of the passport of the applicant as per rules for a period of three years," the judge said.

Rahul Gandhi is scheduled to visit the United States in the first week of June during which he will attend meetings and interact with university students.

He is slated to visit Washington DC, New York and San Francisco. The Congress leader will likely address Indian Americans, meet lawmakers at the US Capitol, and interact with members of think tanks,

The magisterial court, in the forenoon, reserved its order on Rahul Gandhi's plea for grant of NOC after hearing submissions of his lawyers and Swamy.

Swamy opposed the application, saying it was "devoid of any merit" and insisted the passport should be issued only for one year and renewed every year thereafter.

"It is a special case. The passport should not be issued for 10 years. It seems wrong," he said, and claimed Gandhi's Indian citizenship was under question. He alleged Rahul Gandhi was a British citizen.

Rahul Gandhi's advocate Tarannum Cheema contested Swamy's claim and said two petitions asking for initiating criminal proceedings against the Congress leader on the citizenship issue have already been dismissed by higher courts.

Cheema, along with advocates Nikhil Bhalla and Sumit Kumar, urged the court to allow the passport to be issued for 10 years since such relief has been granted by higher courts in cases involving more serious offences. They said in the present case even charges have not been framed.

The National Herald case is based on a private criminal complaint by Swamy against Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi and others, accusing them of cheating, conspiracy and criminal breach of trust. Swamy has accused them of cheating and misappropriation of funds in acquiring ownership of the now-defunct daily newspaper National Herald.

UPSC contemplates criminal action against 2 candidates

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: The Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) is considering criminal and disciplinary penal action against two candidates for allegedly claiming selection in the civil services examination, the results of which were declared on Tuesday, according to an official statement.

The case relates to Aysha Makrani (from Madhya Pradesh) and Tushar (from Haryana) who fraudulently claimed that they have been finally recommended by the Commission in the civil services examination 2022 against two roll numbers of genuinely recommended candidates, it said.

"The claims of both persons are fake. They have forged the documents in their favour to buttress their claims," said the statement issued Friday.

By doing so, both Makrani and Tushar have acted in contravention of the provisions of the Rules of the Civil Services Examination, 2022 notified by the government of India (Department of Personnel and Training), it said.

Therefore, in accordance with the provisions of the Examination Rules, the UPSC is contemplating both criminal as well as disciplinary penal action against the two candidates for their fraudulent acts, the statement said.

"The system of the UPSC is robust as well as foolproof and such errors are not possible," it added.

The UPSC conducts civil services examination annually in three stages - preliminary, main and interview - to select officers of Indian Administrative Service (IAS), Indian Foreign Service (IFS) and Indian Police Service (IPS), among others.

Jain gets interim bail on medical grounds

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: The Supreme Court Friday granted jailed former Delhi minister Satyendar Jain interim bail for six weeks on medical grounds, saying a citizen has a right to receive treatment of his choice in a private hospital at his own expense.

The relief came a day after Jain collapsed in Tihar Jail due to dizziness and was admitted to the ICU of a government hospital. Photos showed the AAP leader on oxygen support. Jain was claimed to have lost 30 kg while lodged in jail.

The Aam Aadmi Party leader has been in Tihar Jail since his arrest by the Enforcement Directorate in a money laundering case in May last year. A vacation bench of Justices JK Maheshwari and PS Narasimha allowed Jain, 58, to undergo treatment in a hospital of his choice and asked him to produce medical records by July 10.

"After hearing learned counsel for the parties, at present there is no reason to disbelieve the Report of GB Pant Institute of Post Graduate Medical Education and Research. We think it appropriate that the citizen is having a right to take treatment of his choice, at his own expenses, in a private hospital.

A vacation bench of Justices JK Maheshwari and PS Narasimha allowed Jain, 58, to undergo treatment in a hospital of his choice and asked him to produce medical records by July 10.

"Therefore, we deem it appropriate to release the petitioner on interim bail on medical grounds for a limited period of six weeks," the bench said. The top court also imposed certain conditions like Jain shall not influence or meet the witnesses and not leave the National Capital Region (NCR) without leave of the trial court. It said during the period when he is on interim bail, all relevant treatment papers and documents related to prognoses shall be produced before the apex court. It also asked Jain to stay away from media, including social media.

"The petitioner (Satyendar Jain) shall refrain himself to appear before Print or Electronic Media or any social media platform to give any statement on any issue during the interim bail," the bench said in its order. It listed the matter for further hearing on July 10.

Senior advocate Abhishek Singhvi, appearing for Jain, said the former minister is suffering from a spine problem, has lost 35 kg weight and has virtually turned into a skeleton. He placed on record the medical reports of Jain issued by the GB Pant Institute of Post Graduate Medical Education and Research, New Delhi, dated May 4, 2023.

Singhvi said the hospital is the mandatory referral hospital for Tihar jail and its report cannot be refuted. Additional Solicitor General SV Raju, appearing for the ED, sought Jain's examination by a panel of doctors at the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) or Ram Manohar Lohia Hospital. If medical reports suggest treatment, the probe agency will not oppose it, he said.

He submitted that Jain had moved petitions for bail on medical grounds in the case earlier as well, but the pleas were withdrawn as the agency sought his examination by a medical board of AIIMS or RML hospital.

Central agency warns of phone virus that hacks into call logs

The virus is also capable of 'bypassing anti-virus programs and deploying ransomware on the targeted devices', the Indian Computer Emergency Response Team or CERT-In said

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: An Android malware called 'Daam' that infects mobile phones and hacks into sensitive data like call records, contacts, history and camera has been found to be spreading, the national cyber security agency has said in its latest advisory.

The virus is also capable of 'bypassing anti-virus programs and deploying ransomware on the targeted devices', the Indian Computer Emergency Response Team or CERT-In said. The agency is the federal technology arm to combat cyber attacks and guard the cyber space against phishing and hacking assaults and similar online attacks.

The Android botnet gets distributed through third-party websites or applications downloaded from untrusted/unknown sources, the agency said. "Once it is placed in the device, the malware tries to bypass the security check of the device and after a successful attempt, it attempts to steal sensitive data, and permissions such as reading history and bookmarks, killing background processing, and reading call logs etc," the advisory said.

'Daam' is also capable of hacking phone call recordings, contacts, gaining access to camera, modifying device passwords, capturing screenshots, stealing SMSes, downloading/uploading files, etc. And transmitting to the C2 (command-and-control) server from the victim's (affected persons) device, the advisory said.

The malware, it said, utilises the AES (advanced encryption standard) encryption algorithm to code files in the victim's device. Other files are then deleted from the local storage, leaving only the encrypted files with ".Enc" extension and a ransom note that says "readme_now.Txt", the advisory said. The central agency suggested a number of do's and don'ts to avoid getting attacked by such viruses and malware. The Cert-In advised against browsing "un-trusted websites" or clicking on "un-trusted links". Caution should be exercised while clicking on any link provided in unsolicited emails and SMSes, it said. Install and maintain updated anti-virus and anti-spyware software, it suggested.

It also suggested that users should be on the lookout for "suspicious numbers" that don't look like "real mobile phone numbers" as scammers often mask their identity by using email-to-text services to avoid revealing their actual phone number. "Genuine SMS messages received from banks usually contain sender ID (consisting of bank's short name) instead of a phone number in the sender information field," it said.

Lumpy virus threat looms large in Hamirpur, Una HP govt abolishes NPA for doctors Hamirpur/Una (HP), May 26: Animal husbandry department has sounded alarm in Una and Hamirpur districts against the threat of lumpy virus, found among cows and buffaloes, officials said. The authorities alerted the two districts following the reports of outbreak of the virus in the neighbouring states of Punjab and Uttarakhand. Lumpy skin disease is an infectious disease caused among cattle by lumpy virus. The infection causes formation of knots in the body of animals, which also suffer from weight loss, fluid discharges from the mouth, high fever and reduced milk, as the condition worsens.

Nearly 25,000 animals were affected by lumpy virus in Hamirpur and Una district last year, with about 1,209 animals dying in Una alone. A spokesman of the Animal Husbandry Department said Wednesday that the animal husbandry department in Una district has geared up against the disease. The department has appealed to the dairy farmers to get their animals vaccinated and have asked them to not buy and sell animals from neighbouring states.

He said the vaccine is available absolutely free of cost in all veterinary institutes of the district. "Don't buy and sell animals from Lumpy affected areas," Sen stressed. He also appealed to the cattle rearers to immediately report any symptoms such as high fever, loss of appetite, loss of milk and thick lumps in the skin in their cattle to the nearest veterinary hospital or pharmacy. Shimla, May 26: The Himachal Pradesh government on Thursday announced that doctors recruited henceforth across departments, including Health and Family Welfare and Animal Husbandry, will not be entitled to Non-Practicing Allowance (NPA). The announcement drew a sharp reaction from medical and veterinary associations, who termed it "anti-people" and demanded that the notification be withdrawn. "The Non-Practicing Allowance (NPA) will not be admissible to all doctors recruited henceforth in Health and Family Welfare, Medical Education, Dental, Ayush and Animal Husbandry departments of the state government," the official notification stated. The Himachal Medical Association described the decision as "anti-people". The duties of doctors are different from duties discharged by employees of other departments as they serve the patients by risking their own lives and had demonstrated their loyalty to the patients during the Covid-19 pandemic, the association said in a statement issued here. The Himachal Pradesh Veterinary Officers Association demanded that the government withdraw the notification. This decision is not in the interest of veterinarians. Resentment among veterinarians would affect the entire animal husbandry sector and harm the interests of farmers, said Dr Neeraj Mohan and Dr Madhur Gupta, president and general secretary of Himachal Pradesh Veterinary Officers Association, respectively. The state government had earlier reduced the NPA from 25 per cent to 20 per cent of the basic pay and now the NPA is being denied to future doctors, they said.

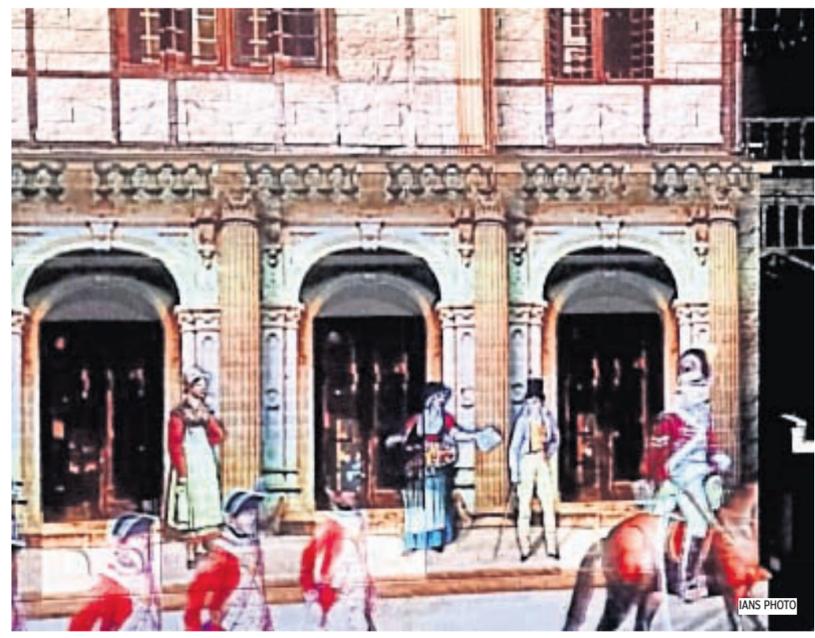

HIMACHAL GOVT PLANS TO ENCOURAGE EV USE

Dharamshala, May 26: Himachal Pradesh government discussed plans to encourage the use of electric vehicles and has set a target to transform the state into a 'Green Energy State' by March 2026. During a review meeting in Dharamshala, Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu stressed the importance of identifying suitable locations for charging stations along the proposed three Green Corridors Highways in Himachal Pradesh, according to a release. These highways include Parwanoo-Nalagarh-Una-Hamirpur-Sansarpur Terrace and Bilaspur-Hamirpur-Kangra, and Mandi-Dharamshala-Kangra. He also emphasised the need to develop charging infrastructure within cities to encourage the use of electric vehicles (EVs), according to a statement. The state government has set a target to transform Himachal Pradesh into a Green Energy State by March 31, 2026, the statement said. To achieve this goal, the Himachal Pradesh cabinet approved the Rajiv Gandhi Self-Employment Scheme 2023. The scheme will provide a uniform 50 per cent subsidy for the purchase of e-taxis, e-buses, and e-trucks. This scheme not only provides self-employment opportunities for local youth but also enables government departments to hire electric vehicle service providers, it added. Sukhu directed the officers of the transport department to organise a meeting with stakeholders within the next 10 days to kickstart the creation of an electric vehicle ecosystem. The state government aims to transition all government vehicles to EVs gradually and lead the way in green energy, the chief minister said.

The light and sound show depicts the history of Shimla town, erstwhile summer capital of British India, besides the history of Bantony Castle. Conservation and renovation of Bantony castle has cost Rs 29 crore and seating arrangement has been made for 70 people to watch the show, a statement issued here said. The building was vacated after the owners won the legal battle, but was later acquired by the state government in 2016.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT, MADE BY JAISALMER DISTRICT COLLECTOR TINA DABI, CAME A WEEK AFTER THE MIGRANTS STAGED A PROTEST FOLLOWING THE DEMOLITION OF THEIR HOUSES AS PART OF AN ANTI-ENCROACHMENT DRIVE IN AMARSAGAR AREA

Jaipur, May 26: The Pakistan Hindu migrants, who were displaced from government land in Mool Sagar village of Rajasthan's Jaisalmer, will now get 40 bighas of land. The BJP as well as Congress leaders protested the move. Thereafter, District Collector Tina Dabi allotted 40 bighas of government land for these migrants. However, those with Indian citizenship will only get this land. Earlier, the Collector arranged food, water and accommodation for them free of cost, after leaders from across the parties raised objections to their removal. These refugees are currently living in Rain Basera. Arrangements for food have been made for them by the district administration at Indira Rasoi. All 50 families are currently settled in Rain Basera. After allotment of land by urban improvement trust (UIT) in Mool Sagar, now very soon these migrants will go to the new place and make huts. City Development Trust Secretary Jagdish Ashiya said that on the orders of Collector Tina Dabi, instructions were given to mark the place for Pak refugees and settle them there in seven days. As soon as they get citizenship, they will also be given land pattas. At present, these 50 families will be able to build their homes in the new place.

9 YEARS OF MODI GOVT

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: With Prime Minister Narendra Modi completing nine years in office, the Congress Friday demanded his apology for what it said was "betrayal" of the people and asked him nine questions on issues ranging from rising prices and unemployment to national security and social harmony.

The Opposition party also said the government should mark this day as 'Maafi Diwas' and released a booklet 'Nau saal, Nau sawaal'. It said Modi became the prime minister on this day nine years ago and therefore, the party wants to ask nine questions of him.

Former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi said, "The BJP built its edifice in 9 years on false promises and people's suffering." "Inflation, hatred and unemployment - Prime Minister ji, take responsibility of these failures of yours," Gandhi said in a tweet in Hindi, using the hashtag and shared the nine questions to the prime minister.

Party general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh told a press conference that Rahul Gandhi had raised critical issues during the Bharat Jodo Yatra and the nine questions are based on that.

SCHOOL JOBS SCAM

SC declines relief to Abhishek

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: The Supreme Court Friday stayed the Calcutta High Court order, which imposed a cost of Rs 25 lakh on Trinamool Congress leader Abhishek Banerjee while dismissing his plea seeking recall of a previous order pertaining to probe into the school jobs scam case.

A vacation bench comprising Justices J K Maheshwari and P S Narasimha observed the high court had considered the points raised by Banerjee in his plea but the imposition of cost of Rs 25 lakh was "perhaps not warranted". "But then, it does not mean that no cost can be imposed at all.... I think the order is a very balanced and fair order," Justice Narasimha observed.

The bench said it will stay the imposition of cost and will hear in July Banerjee's plea against the high court's May 18 order dismissing a petition filed by him seeking recall of a previous order of the high court which said probe agencies such as the CBI and ED could interrogate him in the case.

"Re-list in the week commencing July 10. Till the next date of listing, the imposition of the cost part by the impugned order shall remain stayed," the bench said. Senior advocate Abhishek Singhvi, appearing for Banerjee, referred to the high court order, and said there were "errors apparent" in it.

"We are not doing anything, we are only issuing notice and asking for response," the bench observed, adding that it will post the matter for hearing after the vacation.

Congress asks PM nine questions

Flanked by party colleagues Pawan Khera and Supriya Shrinete, Ramesh said the booklet is a report card of the nine years of the Modi government and Congress leaders will hold press conferences in 35 cities across the country on Saturday to highlight the "failures" of the government.

"We want the prime minister to break his silence on these nine questions," he said, adding that Modi speaks when he needs to be silent and prefers to remain silent when he needs to speak up. Ramesh also said that during the last nine years, the prime minister has re-branded schemes of the UPA by giving new names to them and has become the 'prachar mantri' by working hard on doing branding and marketing of such programmes.

He also claimed that the "clean chit" given to China on June 19, 2020 has proved "very dangerous" for India, whereby its negotiating position was weakened. Posing the questions to the prime minister, he said, "Why is it that inflation and unemployment are skyrocketing in India? Why have the rich become richer and the poor poorer? Why is public property being sold to Modi's friends, even as economic disparities are increasing?"

Ramesh also asked why the agreements made with farmers while repealing the three "black" farm laws have not been honoured and

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Nagapattinam (TN), May 26: A BJP worker was booked Friday for allegedly picking up a quarrel with a hijab-clad woman doctor over not wearing the white coat at a primary health centre in Nagapattinam district of Tamil Nadu, police said.

Police registered three cases against party functionary Bhuvaneshwar Ram, who hails from Thirupooni in the district, for questioning the woman doctor for wearing hijab during duty hours but not donning the white coat. He was heard questioning her credentials in a video of the incident that went viral.

The incident took place inside the Thirupooni primary health centre in the southern district on May 24 night. "I doubt if you are really a doctor. Why are you not in uniform, why are you wearing a hijab?" he could be heard asking the doctor in the video.

Deficient rains in June, predicts IMD

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: Barring the northwestern region, India is set to receive normal rainfall this monsoon season despite the El Nino phenomenon which is set to return after a three-year hiatus, the weather office said on Friday.

However, most parts of the country will witness deficient showers in June, except some pockets in peninsular regions such as south Karnataka and northern Tamil Nadu, Rajasthan and Ladakh, the India Meteorological Department forecast for the season.

The weather office said the warming of the equatorial Pacific Ocean has begun and there was a 90 per cent probability of development of the El Nino phenomenon, which is known to affect monsoon rains in India.

However, a positive Indian Ocean Dipole is likely to develop during the monsoon season which would offset the adverse impact of the El Nino and bring rains to most parts of the country. "It is El Nino and positive IOD this year. The impact of El Nino in central India was likely to be compensated by positive IOD. But that may not happen in the case of northwest India," D Sivananda Pai, head of the IMD's Environment Monitoring and Research Center told reporters here.

In view of the above, IMD has retained its forecast for a normal monsoon season for the country, barring the northwestern region, which includes Rajasthan, Haryana and Punjab, considered as the granaries of India.

The weather office said rainfall during the June-September period is likely to be 96 per cent of the long-term average, with an error margin of four per cent of the long period average. The IMD also said that southwest monsoon over the 'monsoon convergence zone', or the rainfed-regions of India, is expected to be normal at 96-106 per cent of the LPA.

In April, the IMD had forecast a normal monsoon with the country expected to witness 96 per cent rains of the long-term average, with an error margin of five per cent of the long period average. The weather office defines normal rainfall as between 96 per cent and 104 per cent of the 50-year average of 87 cm for the four-month southwest monsoon season.

Southwest monsoon normally sets in over Kerala on June 1 with a standard deviation of about seven days. IMD has been issuing operational forecasts for the date of monsoon onset over Kerala from 2005 onwards.

Last year, the monsoon reached Kerala on May 29. The operational forecasts of the date of monsoon onset over Kerala during the past 18 years (2005-2022) were proved to be correct except in 2015, the IMD said.

Body of hotelier found in trolley bags

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Malappuram (Kerala), May 26: In a gruesome incident, a hotelier in Kerala was allegedly murdered by his former employee and the latter's female friend, who then dumped the body parts in a gorge a week ago, police said here Friday.

Police said they have found a corpse stuffed in two trolley bags suspecting it to be that of Siddique (58), a missing hotelier from Kozhikode district. The deceased, a native of Tirur, was running a restaurant at Kozhikode's Olavanna.

The body of Siddique was found in a gorge along the Attappady ghat road and three suspects have been taken into police custody. Tirur police said the body was found cut into two halves, and the torso was in one trolley bag while the lower part was in the other.

Malappuram Superintendent of Police S Sujith Das told the media that the hotel owner is suspected to have been murdered by Shibilli, a former employee of his hotel, and Sharfana, a female friend of the accused.

"We suspect that Shibilli and his female friend Sharfana are involved in this. They were absconding but were detained in Chennai with the help of railway police. Our team has reached there, and they will be brought here soon," he said.

Large mortality of fish in Dal Lake worries locals

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Srinagar, May 26: Hundreds of dead fish floating on the waters of the Dal Lake in J&K's Srinagar on Friday caused concern among the public and the experts over the ecological health of this water body.

Locals were surprised to find dead fish in hundreds floating over the waters of Dal Lake. Experts suggest that this could have many reasons, including the lack of oxygen caused in the lake water due to pollution.

"Discharge of effluents, growth of weeds and thermal stratification at different parts of the lake are the main reasons behind the large-scale mortality among the fish in the lake," said an expert here. It must be mentioned that recently an unknown fish species called the alligator gar fish was found in Dal Lake. Unknown in the Valley, the alligator gar fish is an aggressive survivor capable of devouring fish, weeds and other forms of life inside the lake waters. How did the alligator gar fish, which is native to North America and also found in some parts of Bhopal and Kerala, find its way into the Dal Lake? Farming of this fish species is banned in India. Opinions of experts vary with most of them saying that this fish species could have been brought into the Valley by some fish lover in a glass aquarium. "Once the fish grew to large size, the owner of the glass aquarium could have dropped it into the Lake. This seems to be a very likely reason," said another ichthyologist (biologist studying fishes). Whatever the actual reason for the mass mortality of fish in Dal Lake, unless the authorities take this as Nature's warning, life inside the water body could face extinction.

She is the latest politician who resigned from Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party.

Kosovo Serbs clash with police

Pristina (Kosovo): Small groups of ethnic Serbs in northern Kosovo Friday clashed with police while trying to block the entrance of municipal buildings to prevent recently-elected officials from entering them, according to local media. Police fired tear gas and several cars were set ablaze. In response to the clashes, Serbian President Aleksandar Vucic said in a written statement carried on state-run RTS television that he put the army on a "higher state of alert."

It said the incident had set off an alarm and soldiers were scanning the area. The Palestinian Health ministry confirmed the death and identified the killed man as Alaa Qissaya, 28. Security camera footage from the site shows a Palestinian male crawling in under a gate and walking into the settlement while holding a knife.

AFTER MONTHS OF ATTACKS ON ENERGY INFRASTRUCTURE, RUSSIA HAS SHIFTED THE FOCUS OF ITS MISSILE STRIKES TO TRY TO DISRUPT PREPARATIONS FOR A UKRAINIAN COUNTER-ATTACK, A SENIOR MILITARY INTELLIGENCE OFFICIAL SAID LAST WEEK

Kyiv, May 26: Russia's southern Belgorod region bordering Ukraine came under attack on Friday from Ukrainian artillery fire, mortar shells and drones, authorities said, hours after two drones struck a Russian city in an area next to the annexed Crimea Peninsula. Moscow's forces, meanwhile, struck a building containing psychology and veterinary clinics in the city of Dnipro, in central Ukraine, killing two people and wounding 30, including two children, Ukrainian officials said. Video released by regional Gov. Serhiy Lysak showed fire engulfing the three-story building that appeared almost destroyed, with only parts of a wall standing, as firefighters battled the flames. dam in the Karlivka district of Donetsk province in eastern Ukraine, threatening nearby settlements with flooding.

The town of Graivoron in Russia's Belgorod region, about 7 kilometres (more than 4 miles) from the Ukrainian border, came under fire for several hours, damaging four houses, a store, a car, a gas pipeline and a power line, Gov. Vyacheslav Gladkov reported.

Closer to the frontier, a recreation centre, a shop and an empty house were damaged in the village of Glotovo. One woman was wounded when nearby Novaya Tavolzhanka was shelled, Gladkov said. Earlier this week, the Belgorod region was the target of one of the most serious cross-border attacks from Ukraine since the war began 15 months ago. Details of the raid were murky.

Russia blamed the Ukrainian armed forces, but two Russian groups said they were involved, with the aim of bringing down Russian President Vladimir Putin.

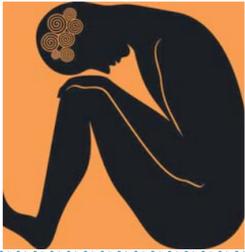

Officials in Russia's southern city of Krasnodar, in the region of the same name bordering Crimea, said two drones struck there. Witnesses told local media they heard something like the sound of a moped and then two explosions. The blasts smashed a hole in the roof of one building and blew out win-downs in an apartment building. Drone attacks against Russian border regions have been a regular occurrence since the start of the invasion in February 2022, with attacks increasing last month. Earlier this month, an oil refinery in Krasnodar was attacked by drones on two straight days. Biden, McCarthy to close US debt ceiling deal for two years

AGENCIES

Washington, May 26: The White House and congressional Republicans Friday aim to put the final touches on a deal to raise the US government's $31.4 trillion debt ceiling for two years while capping spending on everything but military and veterans, according to a US official. Negotiators for Democratic President Joe Biden and House of Representatives Speaker Kevin McCarthy appeared to be nearing a deal as the two sides reached agreement on key issues, such as spending caps and funding for the Internal Revenue Service and the military. House Speaker Kevin McCarthy said on Friday negotiators "made progress" on an agreement with the White House to raise the debt limit as they race to close out a deal ahead of a looming deadline to avert a potentially catastrophic default.

McCarthy told reporters at the Capitol that there is still more work to do. The two sides are narrowing on a two-year agreement that would curb federal spending and lift the borrowing limit ahead of a deadline as soon as June 1 when Treasury could run out of money to pay the nation's bills.

A person familiar with the talks said the two sides are "dug in" on whether or not to agree to Republican demands to impose stiffer work requirements on people who receive government food stamps, cash assistance and health care aid, some of the most vulnerable Americans. Yet both Biden and McCarthy expressed optimism heading into the weekend that the gulf between their positions could be bridged. A two-year deal would raise the debt limit for that time, past the 2024 presidential election. House Republicans have pushed the issue to the brink, displaying risky political bravado in leaving town for the Memorial Day holiday. The US could face an unprecedented default as soon as June 1, hurling the global economy into chaos.

'TIME TO WIDEN INDIA-UK TIES'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

London, May 26: UK Opposition Leader Sir Keir Starmer Friday said it was time for the India-UK relationship to be widened across all critical areas as he set out the Labour Party's foreign policy pitch in the lead up to the general election expected next year.

Starmer said he sees huge scope of mutual benefit from enhancing the bilateral ties. According to a statement, he would be making a keynote address to open India Global Forum's (IGF) annual UK-India Week summit in London next month. The address will mark the first major insight into the Labour leader's vision for the party's relationship with India, which went through some strain over sensitive issues such as Kashmir under his predecessor Jeremy Corbyn.

The IGF UK-India Week, now in its fifth year, is a five-day series of events to be held between June 26 and 30 to bring together senior politicians, business and thought leaders from the UK, India and around the world to focus on the prospects of strengthening India-UK ties across different sectors.

"I believe it's timely that Sir Keir will be opening UK-India Week

We are at a critical juncture, and so his participation underscores the importance of the need for a bipartisan approach to the relationship with India," said IGF Founder and CEO Professor Manoj Ladwa. "Given the ups and downs in Labour's ties with India in recent years, I am sure his intervention at India Global Forum will be eagerly awaited, and in my view, much needed," he said.

The UK-India Week 2023, themed around 'Leading with Purpose', will cover a range of issues from infrastructure and sustainable finance to technology and innovation and conclude with the UK-India Awards.

Man breaches German chancellor's security

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Berlin, May 26: German police have been left red-faced after a member of the public was able to slip into a VIP convoy for Chancellor Olaf Scholz and then give him a hearty hug as he prepared to board a plane at Frankfurt Airport.

Tabloid newspaper Bild reported Friday that Scholz's bodyguards only realised their mistake later, and chased the man down. In a statement, federal police said the man was detained. Nobody was hurt but an investigation into the security breach has been launched, police said. Scholz's office confirmed the incident, which happened late Wednesday as Scholz made his way back to Berlin following a celebration for the 25th anniversary of the European Central Bank. "The encounter and hug at Frankfurt Airport (...) was indeed not planned by the chancellor," Scholz's spokesperson Wolfgang Buechner told reporters in Berlin. "As such it was a surprise to him, but it wasn't a big deal in this particular situation," he added. Buechner said Scholz continues to have "full confidence in the work of the police. Nevertheless there are questions surrounding this incident and they will be carefully investigated."

Journey to India proved productive for Pakistan: Bilawal

Addressing a meeting of the Senate Standing Committee on Foreign Affairs Thursday, Bilawal said that it was important for his ministry to project Pakistan's case and point of view not only in India but also in front of other participants of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO).

Passenger plane flies with open door, lands safely

AGENCIES

Seoul, May 26: South Korean police Friday detained a passenger on suspicion of pulling the door of an Asiana Airlines plane carrying 194 people, right before the aircraft landed at the Daegu International Airport, official said.

After departing from Jeju Island, the plane was on its way to Daegu, 237 km southeast of Seoul, when the exit door suddenly opened, according to airport officials.

The plane shortly landed with the door open, Yonhap News Agency. The aircraft was about 250 metres above ground when the door opened, the officials said.

None of the 194 people aboard fell out of the plane or were hurt, but 12 passengers showed symptoms of breathing difficulty and some of them were taken to a hospital, but none were in serious condition.

According to the police, when the suspect tried to pull the lever of the door, flight attendants were not able to stop him because the plane was about to land. Police said he was not drunk at the time of detention, but remained tight-lipped about why he did so. "It is difficult to have a normal conversation with him," a police official said. "We will investigate the motive of the crime and punish him." Police said he was travelling alone. According to witnesses, the suspect attempted to jump out after opening the door. "Flight attendants shouted for help from male passengers and people all around clung to him and pulled him in," a witness said. Among the passengers were 48 elementary- and middle-school athletes scheduled to compete in a national sports event on Saturday in the nearby city of Ulsan. "Children quivered and cried in panic," the mother of one of the athletes said. "Those sitting near the exit must have been shocked the most." Another 44-year-old passenger said a door in the middle of the left side of the plane opened with a detonating sound about 10 minutes before landing. "It was chaos with people close to the door appearing to faint one by one and flight attendants calling out for doctors on board through broadcasting while others were running down the aisle in panic," the passenger said.

India reclaims top spot in smartwatch shipments globally

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, May 26: Global smartwatch shipments contracted 1.5 per cent (year-on-year) in the first quarter this year and the 121 per cent growth in India's shipments managed to restrict the decline, a report showed Friday.

In terms of the regional markets, India surpassed North America, reclaiming its position as the top region with a 27 per cent share of global smartwatch shipments, according to Counterpoint Research.

"India's smartwatch market grew 121 per cent YoY driven by affordability, rising customer demand and availability of a wide variety of options in the budget segment. Around 40 per cent of the total shipments were driven by the less than ₹2,000 price band, its highest proportion ever," said senior analyst Anshika Jain.

The share of India-based players crossed 90 per cent for the first time as they were quick in terms of up-

This was the second consecutive quarter of a YoY decrease in global shipments (Q4 2022 saw 8 cent decline), which were hit by the seasonal decline in demand for products from major players like Apple and Samsung, along with consumer sentiment dampened by global financial pressures.

Fire-Bolt surpassed Samsung for the first time in the global smartwatch market, capturing the second spot.

Apple's shipment volume fell 20 per cent YoY in Q1. This was the first time in three years that its Q1 shipments fell below 10 million units.

Indian brand Fire-Bolt's shipments increased by approximately three times compared to the previous year and saw a 57 per cent growth compared to the previous quarter.

RECESSION IN GERMANY Exporters flag biz woes

RECESSION IN GERMANY, EUROPE'S BIGGEST ECONOMY, LIKELY TO HURT INDIAN EXPORTS

BUSINESS WILL BE DOWN BY MINIMUM 10%: AEPCC CHAIRMAN

INDIA'S EXPORT TO GERMANY STOOD AT $10.2BN IN 2022-23

GERMANY IS THE NINTH LARGEST INVESTOR IN INDIA

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: With the German economy contracting for two consecutive quarters, India's exports from sectors such as apparels, footwear, and leather goods to the European Union nation are likely to be impacted adversely, according to exporters.

Data released by the Federal Statistical Office Thursday shows that Germany's gross domestic product (GDP) declined by 0.3 per cent from January to March. This follows a drop of 0.5 per cent in Europe's biggest economy during the last quarter of 2022.

"This is going to affect Indian exports not only to Germany but Europe as a whole since other countries are also already in recession," Mumbai-based exporter and Chairman of Technocrat Industries Sharad Kumar Saraf said.

He said India's export to Germany stood at $10.2 billion in 2022-23 and it could see a fall due to long-term recession in Germany and the most affected sectors would be leather products, chemical, and light engineering items.

Economic think-tank GTRI co-founder Ajay Srivastava said: "Recession will adversely impact India's exports of value $2 billion. This includes smartphone, apparels, footwear, and leather goods. In a recession, daily use products are the first to be impacted".

Export of iron and steel products will also be impacted due to the soon to be levied carbon border tax by Germany, he said.

Apparel Export Promotion Council (AEPCC) Chairman Narendra Goenka said the recession in Germany would affect order flows into India. "Business will be down by minimum 10 per cent. This slowdown will definitely impact the investment flow from Germany," Goenka added.

Recession will adversely impact India's exports of value $2 billion. This includes smartphone, apparels, footwear, and leather goods. In a recession, daily use products are the first to be impacted

AJAY SRIVASTAVA | CO-FOUNDER, GTRI

However, Saraf said Germany is the ninth largest investor in India and investments from there may not be affected since in recessionary conditions, German companies would be looking at cheaper alternatives.

Yogesh Gupta, Regional Chairman, FIEO (Eastern Region), said since Germany is the main growth driver for the EU (European Union), recession in that nation will impact the purchasing there.

"However, it is too early to comment on the impact of the recession on Indian exports," Gupta said.

In 2022-23, India's exports to Germany included machinery ($1.5 billion); electronics ($1.2 billion), including smartphones ($458 million); apparels ($960 million); organic chemicals ($822 million); footwear ($332 million); leather goods ($305 million); articles of iron and steel ($474 million); and auto components ($406 million).

Two consecutive quarters of contraction is a common definition of recession, though economists on the euro area business cycle dating committee use a broader set of data, including employment figures.

Germany is one of the 20 countries that use the euro currency.

NCLAT clears hurdle for Zee-Sony merger

NCLAT SETS ASIDE NCLT ORDER DIRECTING STOCK EXCHANGES TO REASSESS APPROVALS FOR ZEE-SONY MERGER TO CREATE $10 BILLION MEDIA MAMMOTH

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: In a relief to Zee Entertainment, the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) Friday set aside the NCLT order, which directed leading bourses NSE and BSE to reconsider their approval for the Zee-Sony merger.

A two-member NCLAT bench observed that the order passed by the Mumbai bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) was against the "principle of natural justice" as it did not grant any opportunity to Zee Entertainment to respond over the issue of Shrirpur Gold Refinery, a Subhash Chandradel Essel Group firm.

The appellate tribunal has sent the matter back to the NCLT to decide afresh and pass an order after hearing both parties.

"We are of the opinion that the impugned order is required to be set aside primarily on the ground of non-compliance with the principle of natural justice. Accordingly, the impugned order is set aside and the matter is remitted to the NCLT to examine the same and pass appropriate order after hearing both the parties without being influenced by this order," said the NCLAT bench comprising Justice Rakesh Kumar and Alok Srivastava.

Earlier May 11, the NCLT had directed BSE and NSE "to review their earlier approval for Zee-Sony merger scheme and provide their fresh NOCs for the same before the next hearing date". The NCLT's direction came after counsels of NSE and BSE raised some fresh points relating to the scheme of merger and placed the recent Sebi order dated April 25, 2023, on Shrirpur Gold Refinery for the Bench's cognizance, where the Zee Promoters' names appear in the context of diversion of funds.

"The exchanges should also review and confirm that the non-compete clause of the scheme has been reviewed and approved by them and SEBI, and the manner of payment of non-compete fee from one Mauritius Entity to another is in compliance with the SEBI policies in this regard," the NCLT had said May 11.

This was challenged by Zee Entertainment Enterprise Ltd (ZEEL) before the NCLAT, contending that it was not granted an adequate opportunity by the NCLT to present its side and it didn't follow the principles of natural justice.

As per the scheme of the arrangement, Sony will indirectly hold 50.86 per cent of the combined company. The founder of Zee will own around 4 per cent and the rest will be with the other shareholders of ZEEL.

Moreover, Sony Group will also pay a non-compete fee of ₹1,100 crore to the Essel Group promoters. Earlier this month, Japanese conglomerate Sony Group Corporation Chairman and CEO Kenichiro Yoshida said he expects the merger to be complete within the first half of this fiscal.

In September 2021, Sony Pictures Networks India and ZEEL entered into a non-binding term sheet to bring together their linear networks, digital assets, production operations and programme libraries.

The combined entity will own over 70 TV channels, two video streaming services (ZEE5 and Sony LIV) and two film studios (Zee Studios and Sony Pictures Films India), making it the largest entertainment network in India.

Indian economy witnessing snowball effect: WEF Prez

WEF expects almost 6% economic growth for India which will be the highest growth for any big economies of the world

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 26: India is expected to clock the highest growth among the world's big economies this year and the country's economy is witnessing the "famous snowball effect" that will lead to more investments and more jobs, according to World Economic Forum (WEF) President Borje Brende.

"There have been reforms that have led to less red tape, better climate for investments and also the digital revolution is really happening in India," Brende said and stressed that he is "very bullish

When the snowball starts to roll, it gets bigger and bigger, and that is what is happening with the Indian economy. The growth will lead to more investments, more jobs... poverty is eradicated and more opportunities are there for young people," Brende told PTI in an interview in the national capital.

Brende, who was on a short visit to India, had discussions about ongoing collaborations as well as India's G20 presidency with stakeholders. He met various Union ministers and company executives, among others.

He highlighted that India has more of a broad ecosystem of startups than in any other developing country and that is growing. This is something that other countries can also be inspired by he added.

Geneva-headquartered WEF is an international organisation for public private cooperation, and is known for its annual Davos meeting, often described as the biggest congregation of the global elite. The Forum engages the foremost political, business, cultural and other leaders of society to shape global, regional and industry agendas.

This year, WEF expects almost 6 per cent economic growth for India and will be the highest growth for any big economies of the world, he said.

"We, at WEF see the growth path forward for India that is also strong... Overall, I am optimistic, provided there are no external factors that will influence negatively. We have no time for wars, conflicts and we have no time to be complacent," he said.

Earlier this month, the United Nations in a report said that India's economy -- the largest in the South Asia region -- is expected to expand by 5.8 per cent in 2023 and 6.7 per cent in 2024 (calendar year basis), supported by resilient domestic demand.

On what India needs to do in the short-term, Brende said the country is already seeing and capitalising on the yield from the reforms that have taken place.

"That should be the inspiration to continue with the reform agenda. Investing more in infrastructure, connecting different regions even better and India needs more investment in education, upskilling, reskilling and right skilling in the years to come," he said.

Earlier, Gill began sturdily and turned brutal in the second half of the innings, adding 138 runs for the second wicket with B Sai Sudharsan, who happily played second fiddle with a 31-ball 43 before he was retired out.

Gill hit three sixes off MI's hero of the last game, Akash Madhwal (1/53), in the 12th over to cross the 800-run mark. He brought up his fifty off 32 balls with two sixes and three fours and unleashed a flurry of sixes against seamers and spinners alike here at the Narendra Modi Stadium.

Gill also surpassed Yashasvi Jaiswal's 62-ball 124 to record the highest individual score this season, with Mumbai Indians being on the receiving end on both the occasions.

In the process, the 23-year-old also went past RCB's Faf du Plessis (730 runs) to claim the Orange Cap. Additionally, Gill's 129 bettered Virender Sehwag's 122 against Chennai Super Kings in the 2014 season as the highest score for a batter in the IPL playoffs.

After a 30-minute delay to the start due to rain, GT had made a sedate start. A vital moment had come at the end of the sixth over when Tim David at mid-on dropped a catch to provide Gill with a lifeline, with GT finishing the powerplay at 50/0.

Gill certainly had luck on his side as twice in as many balls he managed to survive, off Kumar Kartikeya. After Kishan could not run-out the batter who had gone down the track and had an inside edge deflecting the ball into his pads, Gill hit the next delivery in the air only to find the ball dropping very close to the fielder at deep midwicket.

BRIEF SCORES: GT 233/3 (Shubman Gill 129, Sai Sudharsan 43) beat MI 171 (Suryakumar Yadav 61, Tilak Varma 43; Mohit Sharma 5/10, Rashid Khan 2/33, Mohammed Shami 2/41) by 62 runs.

head advantage over Tunjung.

World No.9 Prannoy faces qualifier Christian Adinata, ranked 57, of Indonesia, who beat Kidambi Srikanth 16-21, 21-16, 21-11 in another quarterfinals, in the semifinals of Saturday Prannoy has never played against the 21-year-old Adinata, who began playing at the senior level just last year.

For World No.13 Sindhu, it was a revenge of sort for her round-of-32 loss to Zhang, ranked 18th, in the All England Open earlier this year. She had also beaten her Chinese oppoment in the same tournament last year.

The first game was an intriguing one. Sindhu found herself on the back foot as she trailed 0-5, but she made a fine recovery and made the score 10-all. After that, Sindhu led all through and clinched the first game 21-16.

In the second game, Zhang learnt her lessons and did not allow Sindhu to come back unlike in the first. From 2-all, it was Zhang who led all through till the end to make the tie 1-1.

The decider was neck-and-neck all through and it could have gone either way. From 12-all onwards, the shuttlers didn't give each other more than a two-point lead, and it went like that till 17-all.

But from there, Sindhu zoomed to take a 20-17 lead but Zhang won the next three points to level the score 20-20. But ultimately, Sindhu held onto her nerve to grab the next two points to win the third game and the match.

Prannoy also found himself in a neck-and-neck tussle with Nishimoto in the first game as the duo was level on 12-all, 17-all and 20-all. They were on level terms in the next three deuce points before Prannoy won 25-23.

The second game went just like first initially but Nishimoto zoomed ahead after 9-all to take 17-11 lead. Prannoy fought back to reduce the gap but it was not enough as his Japanese opponent made the tie 1-1.

The decider, however, turned out to be a one-sided affair in favour of Prannoy as he just outplayed his opponent after 4-all to win it easily and pocket the match.

Manchester United secure Champions League return

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manchester, May 26: It has not always gone smoothly for Erik ten Hag in his first year in charge at Manchester United. There is still much work to be done if the 20-time league champion is to be restored to their former glories.

But Thursday night, in front of a packed Old Trafford, Ten Hag achieved what he called his "main objective" of securing a return to the Champions League with a 4-1 win against Chelsea.

Goals from Casemiro, Anthony Martial, Bruno Fernandes and Marcus Rashford fired United to a victory that means a top-four finish is now certain. United moved up to third and two points above Newcastle going into the season finale.

It could get better still for Ten Hag, who has already lifted his first trophy — the League Cup in February. United will face Manchester City in the FA Cup final June 3 at Wembley.

While silverware adds sparkle to an encouraging debut season under the Dutch coach, qualification for the Champions League has been the ultimate measure by which his predecessors have been judged during a turbulent 10 years since iconic former manager Alex Ferguson retired.

Needing just a point from their last two games of the season, first half goals from Casemiro and Martial put United on course for the win against Chelsea that ensured there would be no late slip up to let in archrival Liverpool.

United's win assures Liverpool will finish fifth with a Europa League spot, which Mohamed Salah said is not good enough. The Liverpool forward tweeted that he's "devastated."

The jubilant scenes at Old Trafford were a world away significant setbacks — a 3-6 loss to Manchester City and a humiliating 0-7 rout by Liverpool as recently as March.

FIH PRO LEAGUE: INDIA CONCEDE LATE GOAL TO LOSE TO BELGIUM

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

London, May 26: India conceded a late goal to lose 1-2 against Olympic champions Belgium in a keenly-contested FIH Men's Hockey Pro League match here Friday. All the goals in the match came through penalty corners.

It was World No.2 Belgium who took the lead in the 18th minute through Thibeau Stockbroekx before India equalised via Mandeep Singh in the 25th minute. But the Indian defence crumbled in the dying minutes of the match as they conceded a few penalty corners, one of which was converted by Nelson Onana (60th minute).

The match was even-stevens till the final hooter with both the teams matching each other. India got the first chance in the fifth minute but Hardik Singh's effort from top of the circle was saved by an agile Belgium goalkeeper Loic van Doren with his extended left hand.

Belgium secured back-to-back penalty corners in the 18th minute and Stockbroekx broke the deadlock from the second chance, deflecting in Loick Luypaert's feed after India goalkeeper PR Sreejesh made a double save.

It took India seven minutes to draw parity through an opportunist Mandeep who tapped home from a rebound after skipper Harmanpreet Singh's flick from a penalty corner was saved by the Belgian defence.

India too had a few great chances to take the lead but Sukhjeet Singh and Gurjant Singh's efforts were saved by the Belgian custodian.

The Indian crumbled under Belgium's relentless pressure in the final minute of the game and conceded back-to-back penalty corners, the second of which was put into goal by Onana from a rebound after Sreejesh made the initial save.

India will take on hosts Great Britain in their second match of the Europe leg of the Pro League here Saturday.
