Wrap up Adani probe in 3 months, SC tells SEBI

AGENCIES

New Delhi, Jan 3: In a big relief to the embattled Adani Group, a Supreme Court bench Wednesday ruled that the fraud allegations against the apples-toairport conglomerate do not need more probes either by a special investigation team or CBI, as it gave capital market regulator SEBI three more months to conclude its over twoyear-old investigation.

Disposing of pleas seeking a third-party investigation into allegations of accounting fraud and stock manipulation levelled by US short seller Hindenburg Research, the three-judge bench of the top court comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoi Misra, said SEBI was conducting a 'comprehensive investigation' and its conduct 'inspires confidence'.

into two-dozen cases against the Adani group by August 14, 2023. In August that year, SEBI had sought 15 more days to complete the investigation into seven of the 24 issues that remained pending.

In November last year, SEBI told the court it will not seek any extension and that its investigation into 22 issues was complete.

The SC Wednesday asked the market regulator to wrap up the two pending investigations expeditiously, preferably within three months. Rejecting the pleas brought by public interest litigants, it said, the facts of this case 'do not warrant' ordering an in-in separate barracks while inmates belonging to other castes lodged in different cells. The petition filed by Sukanya Shantha contended that the prison manuals of various states sanction such discrimination and forced labour on the ground of caste. The petitioner submitted that the Odisha government amended its prison manual in the year 2020 and replaced the 78 year old prison manual, in line with the Model Prison Manual. "Clauses relating to banning management of kitchens or cooking food on caste or religious basis, acting on the basis of caste or religious prejudices are included. It also restricts the right of criminal tribe prisoners from availing extramural employment. While Odisha adopted the Model Manual, it continued to retain the discriminatory provision against criminal tribes," the petition reads.

SC notice to state on 'caste bias' in jails

POST NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi, Jan 3: A threejudge bench of the Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud Wednesday issued notice to the Union government and 10 states, including Odisha on a petition alleging that the jail manuals of these states encourage caste based discrimination.

The SC bench move came on a public interest litigation (PIL) that claimed that jail manuals of these states discriminate in allocation of work in the prisons. The apex court also called upon solicitor general Tushar Mehta to assist court.

The other respondents include Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal, Madhya Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Punjab, Jharkhand, Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra. "This is a very important issue which has been raised. We request SG Mehta to assist this court. Let all the state manuals be put in a tabulated chart," the bench, also comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, directed.

Senior advocate S Muralidhar, appearing for the petitioner, submitted in the court that inmates are being lodged on the basis of their caste. He submitted that there have been several instances when Dalits have been lodged

103 KILLED IN IRAN BLASTS PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Dubai, Jan 3: Two bombs exploded minutes apart Wednesday at a commemoration for a prominent Iranian general slain in a US drone strike in 2020, officials in Iran said, killing at least 103 people and wounding at least 188 as the Middle East remains on edge over Israel's war on Hamas in the Gaza Strip.

No one immediately claimed responsibility for what appeared to be the deadliest militant attack to target Iran since its 1979 Islamic Revolution. The blasts shook the city of Kerman, about 820 kilometers (510 miles) southeast of the capital, Tehran, and sent shrapnel hurtling into a screaming crowd fleeing the first explosion.

The gathering marked the fourth anniversary of the killing of Gen Qassem Soleimani, the head of the Revolutionary Guard's elite Quds Force, in a US drone strike in Iraq in January 2020. The explosions occurred near his grave site as long lines of people gathered for the event. Iranian state television and officials described the attacks as bombings, without immediately giving clear details of what happened. Ahmad Vahidi, the Interior Minister, told state television that the first bomb detonated around 3pm with the other going off some 20 minutes later.

Irate locals staged a protest in front of the Town police station demanding compensation to the victim's family and strict implement of rules prohibiting entry of heavy vehicle into the city. The police later brought the situation under control.

UK teen 'gangraped' in Metaverse game

AGENCIES

New Delhi, Jan 3: Police in the United Kingdom (UK) are investigating the first case of an alleged gangrape of a 16-year-old girl's avatar - her digital character - in online virtual reality game, 'Metaverse'

According to a report in the New York Post, the teen was wearing a virtual reality headset in an immersive game when she was allegedly raped by a group of men. Though she was not physically attacked, officers investigating the case said she received the same emotional and psychological traumas as someone who has been raped in the real world.

The case is believed to be the first virtual sexual offence investigated by the police.

"This child experienced psychological trauma similar to leged offence.

The investigation into the landmark case has now prompted questions about whether police should be pursuing virtual offences, given police and prosecutors are currently struggling with an enormous backlog of actual rape cases.

However, UK Home Secretary James Cleverly has defended the virtual reality rape probe saying that the child has gone through 'sexual trauma'.

"I know it is easy to dismiss this as being not real, but the whole point of these virtual environments is they are incredibly immersive," Cleverly told news outlet LBC.

"It's also worth realising that somebody who is willing to put a child through a trauma like that digitally may well be someone that could go on to do terrible things in the physical realm," Cleverly added

CM gave global identity to Sundargarh: Pandian

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, Jan 3: Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik has given a global identity to Sundargarh as it is his strong determination that led to the construction of world's largest fully seated hockey stadium - Birsa Munda Hockey Stadium – in the tribal-dominated district in a record 15-month time, 5T and Nabin Odisha Chairman Kartik Pandian said, Wednesday.

Addressing the public in Sundargarh Sadar and Balisankara block during his visit to the district for reviewing several development projects of the state government there, Pandian said in 2019, when Odisha was chosen by FIH (International Hockey Federation) to host the hockey world cup 2023, the CM insisted on organising the mega event at Sundargarh's Rourkela.

"FIH expressed concern over

CM's decision to organise the event at Rourkela as the Steel City then lacked hockey stadium, hotels and airport. The CM, however, said

we're committed and we'll get it done. Despite the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic, we managed building Birsa Munda Hockey Stadium - world's largest fully seated hockey stadium - in a record 15-month time. Apart from the stadium, a 225-room accommodation and an airport were also built in a record time," Pandian said.

Pandian added, "The CM said that it was a tribute to Sundargarh for its contribution towards hockey in India.

The 5T Chairman reviewed major development projects, including mega lift irrigation projects at Semina, Riughat, Khairidihi and Satara and mega piped water supply schemes.

He also attended meetings in Sundargarh Sadar and Balisankara block and received grievances on various issues and assured early resolution to the issues.

7 state products get GI tag Govt issues rules for school buses

ARINDAM GANGULY, OP

Bhubaneswar, Jan 3: Keeping in view non-compliance of guide lines issued by the Supreme Court by several school buses, the state Transport department Wednesday issued a fresh set of regulations.

As per the department, the Supreme Court has issued these rules but these are being largely flouted across the country.

According to the guidelines, the term 'School Bus' must be prominently written on rear and front of the van/private bus. If it is a hired bus/van, 'On School Duty' should be prominently displayed. The vehicle must have a first-aid box and fire extinguisher. Windows must be fitted with horizontal grills. The driver should not exceed a speed of 50 kmph.

Moreover, the name of the school and its telephone number must be written on the bus. The doors of the bus should be fitted with reliable locks. The driver should have a valid licence and at least five years of heavy vehicle driving experience.

There should be at least one conductor in a school bus. There should be space under the seat to keep bags. The vehicle should have an escort from the school. All vehicles should possess valid annual fitness certificates. The Bhubaneswar, Jan 3: In a New Year gift for Odisha, the Geographical Indication Registry (GIR) in Chennai has accorded GI tag to seven more items of the state, taking the total count of such tagged items to 25.

The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) department Wednesday said that Gajapati Date Palm Jaggery (Khajuri Guda), Dhenkanal Magji, Mayurbhanj Kai Chutney, Nayagarh Kanteimundi brinjal, Dongria Kondh Embroidered Shawl of Rayagada, Koraput Kalajeera Rice and Painting of Lanjia Saura have got the GI

Kendrapada Rasabali had got GI tagged in October last year.

Chennai-based GIR - the national body for GI registrations - has recently advertised applications for the seven unique products of the state. "All these products are categorised under food, handicrafts and agriculture categories and the GI applications were filed between 2020 and 2021, sources said.

Kalajeera Rice is grown in Koraput district's Tolla, Patraput, Pujariput, Baliguda and Mohuli areas. According to ancient text, Kalajeera Rice improves memory and controls diabetes as well.

'Idital' painting art belongs to 'Lanjia Saura' (or 'Lanjia Savara/Sabara) tribe, one of the PVTGs of Rayagada district. These paintings were originally in forms of exterior murals (wall painting) of the tribal homes.

In Mayurbhanj, red weaver ants are consumed in the form of chutney known as 'Kai Chutney'. It is known to serve medicinal purposes apart from being a delicacy.

Kanteimundi brinjal, grown in Kantilo area of Nayagarh, are loaded with seeds and have prickly thorns. This brinjal variety is said to have originated in Badabanapur and Ratnapur areas of Nayagarh. Grown in a sandy soil, it is known to have a unique taste among brinjal genotypes Odisha Khajuri Guda (jaggery) of Gajapati district is a natural sweetener obtained from sweet juice (neera) of date palm trees. The jaggery prepared in trapezoidal form called 'Patali gur' traditionally, is purely organic. Dark brown in colour, it has a unique taste.

Magji, a sweet made of buffalo milk cheese, is unique to Gondia block of Dhenkanal and is being made for over 100 years now.

Kendrapara Rasabali owes its origin to the 262-year-old Sree Baladevjew temple in the coastal district. The presiding deity of the

The Deer Park authorities said it has become imperative to shift the deer to the large enclosure at Ambilo due to congestion issues owing to rapid increase in the deer population. The new enclosure is spread over 3.5 ha of forest land within Chandaka Wildlife Sanctuary and will have ample space to accommodate the entire pop-ulation of the deer park.

The relocation of the deer comes in the wake of an order issued by the High Court four years ago directing the Cuttack Municipal Corporation (CMC) to set up another

> The Deer Park in Cuttack was established on 2.5 acres land on Mahanadi River banks way back in 1981. The park which was established with only five deer now has a population of 296. Meanwhile, many in Cuttack have expressed their unhappiness over the closure of the Deer Park

As per Central Zoo Authority (CZA norms), a maximum of 15 deer can be accommodated within 2.5 acre of land. The civic body's move came following Central Zoo Authority (CZA)'s warning with regard to providing adequate space and proper environment for the deer population.

The CZA had withdrawn its recognition for Cuttack Deer Park citing lack of adequate space for the animals in 2021.

HI-TECH HOSPITAL BLAST

Seriously injured man dies as toll rises to 2

EXPLOSION OF A CYLINDER USED FOR FILLING REFRIGERANT GAS IN AIR-CONDITIONERS AT THE HOSPITAL INJURED FOUR PEOPLE, DECEMBER 29

PNN/AGENCIES

Bhubaneswar, Jan 3: Another man who was seriously injured in an explosion in a private hospital here December 29, died Wednesday, the police said.

With the death of Sritam Sahu (23) who hailed from Delang village in Puri district, the toll in the blast rose to two.

Two other injured persons are under treatment at the same hospital and their condition is stated to be stable, the police said.

The explosion of a cylinder used for filling refrigerant gas in air-conditioners at the hospital left four people injured.

Dilip Samantaray, an AC mechanic, died two days after the blast. His wife Somvashree had gone into depression following her husband's death and allegedly died by suicide, Monday. "Our AC maintenance work is carried out every year through a third party agency. On that day, the mechanics were working on the rooftop. Due to a short circuit, the explosion occurred and four workers suffered serious burn injuries," said Jvotiranjan Panda, chief operating officer of the hospital.

All the injured workers were admitted to the hospital and of them, two died, he said. It is to be mentioned that at least three persons were injured after a cylinder used for filling refrigerant gas in air-conditioners exploded at the Hi-Tech Hospital at Pandara, December 29. There was no patient and outsiders on the floor when the cylinder exploded.

The injured people were admitted in the ICU.

Two day after the blast, the injured Dilip Samantaray died sending shockwaves to his wife Soumyashree, 24, who ended her life by suicide at Nuagaon Gandhinagar under Jatni Municipality.

She was found hanging from a ceiling fan by her father Sadashiv Jena who took her to Jatni community health centre where doctors declared her dead. According to sources, Soumyashree didn't respond when her father knocked on the door repeatedly Monday morning following which Sadashiv had to break open the door. Jatni police registered a case (01/24)of unnatural death and sent the body to Capital Hospital for postmortem.

Notably, Soumyashree was staying at his paternal place following the death of her husband Dillip. Soumvashree and Dillip. a resident of Harirajpur Banga village under Delang police limits, had tied the nuptial knot in 2022.

State Cong proposes 3 routes for Rahul's Yatra

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bhubaneswar, Jan 3: The state unit of Congress has prepared three routes for senior party leader Rahul Gandhi-led 'Bharat Nyay Yatra' that is expected to pass through Odisha.

State Congress president Sarat Pattanayak said the three proposed routes would be put before the AICC, which would finalise one, considering time, geography and security.

Pattanayak was speaking to reporters before travelling to Delhi to attend the All India Congress

Committee (AICC) meeting to discuss strategies for the Lok Sabha elections and the assembly polls which usually coincide, besides the 'Bharat Nyay Yatra'.

He said that as per schedule Gandhi is likely to travel from West Bengal to Bihar and then to Jharkhand, and from there he will enter Odisha and head to Chhattisgarh.

Ancient maritime lamp post found in Puri village Khurda Road-Dasapalla rly section inspection by ECoR General Manager

POST NEWS NETWORK

Cuttack, Jan 3: A team from Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage (INTACH) Cuttack Chapter has stumbled upon the ruins of an ancient maritime lamp post at Telikuda village under Kakatpur block of Puri district. The broken lamp post was seen in a neglected condition over a sand dune on the bank of Kadua River near its estuarine point.

The existence of the lamp post was reported to INTACH's Cuttack Chapter by a local heritage enthusiast Satyajit Swain, said sources

The remnants on the top of the sand dune were found when the place was cleared of vegetation for making a temple. An INTACH team led by Deepak

Kumar Navak which also included Anil Dhir, Biswajit Mohanty and Bikram Nayak had gone to Telikuda to document this historical site. The lamp post was constructed using burnt bricks and stone slabs. The post had collapsed a few decades back which was repaired by locals using cement plaster and bricks. However, the old bricks and stone slabs are still present in the foundation and lower portion of the fallen tower.

According to Deepak Nayak, coconvener of INTACH's Cuttack Chapter, "The finding of this ancient light post can throw light on the maritime history of

Tourists take rickety boats to Hukitola as admin sits pretty

POST NEWS NETWORK

Mahakalapara, Jan 3: With winter setting in, tourists have been thronging the historically important Hukitola island for picnics and to enjoy the picturesque location in the lap of nature.

This island falls under the jurisdiction of Gahirmatha Marine Sanctuary which is famous for the nesting of the rare Olive Ridley turtles.

However, visitors are forced to take perilous rides in rickety country boats operating sans registration to reach the island in the absence of government boats. These private boats lack essential equipment like life jackets in case there is any mishap. With owners eyeing big bucks, these boats are always overloaded being even more prone to accidents.

The administration does not seem to have learnt a lesson from the tragedy in which 10 tourists, including eight children, drowned after the boat they were travelling in overturned in Nipania Khola river while returning from Hukitola island, January 2, 2019. The boat was overloaded with 50 picnickers from Kujang area in nearby Jagatsinghpur district. The ban on using fishing boats and unsafe vessels for ferrying tourists to Hukitola island is flouted with impunity. It is alleged that the district administration and the Forest department are aware of the unsafe boat rides and the lurking danger but have done little to safeguard the lives of the tourists. A week back, some picnickers of Ramnagar area were returning home in a private fishing boat which got stuck mid-sea after the boat's engine developed technical snag. They finally got a new lease of life after a joint team of Gahirmatha Marine Sanctuary personnel and Jambu police personnel rescued and brought them to the shore along with the defunct boat. Reports said that the famed Hukitola island is situated under Mahakalapara block in Kendrapara District located close to Jambu island in the Bay of Bengal. The historic building here has a plinth area of over 7,000 sq ft and was constructed on the island during the British rule in 1866-67 during the infamous 'Naanka' famine.

This large building was used to store rice imported from Burma and other places through sea route and it bears testimony to the advancement made in architecture in the 19th century.

The monument, a majestic building, has an underground rainwater harvesting system and is a symbol of the state's glorious past in maritime trade. The place attracts students, scholars, and history and nature lovers throughout the year and particularly during the winter season owing to its scenic location and historical significance.

The port and the palace started losing importance in 1924 when the Britishers established a port at false point. This island witnesses maximum footfall mostly during Christmas to New Year day. The vast expanse of mangrove forests here, dolphin sightings in the blue waters of the sea and the sight of red and horseshoe crabs on the sandy beach fascinate the nature lovers and picnickers.

However, one has to take a boat from Jambu jetty and travel for 10 km to reach Hukitola. Similarly, one can also travel by a boat via Ramnagar, Kharinasi and Paradip river mouth to reach Hukitola. The tourists and picnickers while travelling by boats get to enjoy the scenic beauty of mangrove forests, spotted deer, colourful migratory birds and the dreaded crocodiles basking on the river islets.

However, the tourists are forced to endanger their lives by travelling in registrationless private boats to get to the island.

Social activists Lakhsmikanta Swain. Biranchi Naravan Das and Nath Kumar Bhol have demanded the state government to intervene and provide registered boats with all life saving equipment to ferry the tourists to Hukitola.

Gahirmatha forest ranger Pradosh Kumar Moharana assured that the safety check of the tourist boats will be intensified in coming days

Is BJP planning something big for 2024?

RAJESH MOHANTY, OP

Rourkela, Jan 3: Is there a big political plan afoot for Odisha by the BJP and its parent organisation RSS? The answer to this question seems to be in positive keeping in mind the unfolding of the situation here.

Suddenly, Rourkela, which is generally not in the map of any political party for any activity has found itself in the middle of it.

The Steel City has hosted RSS supremo Mohan Bhagawat for the last two days and will continue to do so for the next two days. Speculation is rife in the media circle that most of the top functionaries of the organisation are here to participate in a five-day 'Chintan Shivir'.

When such camps are generally held at Nagpur, why Rourkela this time, is the question every one has in mind. And adding to that, this is his second visit within a year. As usual there is no media briefing in this regard. The RSS meet ends January 5.

Adding to that, now the BJP state unit is going to hold its 'Chintan Baithak' for the 2024 general elections. The meeting will start January 4 evening and will continue till next day evening. Top saffron leaders like Sunil Bansal. Ashwini Vaishnaw, Dharmendra Pradhan, Bishweswar Tudu, Aparajita Sarangi and not to forget, state president Manmohan Samal will be present in the meet. The meeting will also host most of the MPs and some MLAs.

With everybody being tightlipped about the meet, a source confirmed the duration of the 'Chintan Baithak' and the names of the leaders coming here.

The meeting was originally scheduled to be held in the picturesque location of Khandadhar. However, in the last minute, it has been shifted to Rourkela and will be held at Hotel Mayfair. The source added that the party is taking the state elections very seriously.

A party functionary requesting anonymity commented, "Two very important developments taking place at one venue just cannot be coincidence." Meanwhile, mobile phones of most of the leaders were found switched off.

Road To Autocracy

Following Donald Trump's victory in the US presidential election in 2016, many pundits predicted a worldwide breakdown of democracy, and some warned of civil war. But, aside from Africa's Sahel region, military coups remain rare, and civil wars rarer still. Instead, democracies have tended to break down through civilian coups.

Such coups have been of three types in the post-Cold War era. Two have attracted much media attention; the one that should worry us the most, especially given the spectre of Trump's return to power in early 2025, has not.

The first model of democratic retreat is exemplified by Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orbán. Having passed a draconian media law after returning to power in 2010, Orbán and his political party, Fidesz, have used every major outlet to manipulate fear of immigrants and LGBT activists and to portray the prime minister as a national savior. Orbán also exploits regional tensions, such as the war in Ukraine, to squeeze sponsors – both Russia and the European Union – for resources to fund lavish social spending.

Finally, Fidesz has rewritten Hungary's election rules to ensure it an unassailable parliamentary majority. This model thus relies not on force, but on spin and the ability to dismantle checks and balances through the political process.

When the right-wing American media personality Tucker Carlson started openly celebrating the Orbán model, many feared that the Hungarian system would appeal to conservatives worldwide. But it didn't, because few Orbánists beyond Hungary have been able to wield all three weapons, especially the power of a mass party.

The second form of democratic retreat is more common, and can be found in big countries, like Russia under Vladimir Putin, and in small ones, like Nicaragua under Daniel Ortega. In this model, a dramatic national crisis gives rise to a strongman, not a movement, to lead the country and create a patronage network in his image.

In both Russia and Nicaragua, the opportunity came from an economic implosion. The strongman will hyperventilate about threats, especially from America, and use isolation to cement power. Putin, for example, has been expropriating foreigncompany assets to distribute to friends like feudal war booty, while relying on thuggery to muzzle domestic dissent.

The result is a web of cronies who depend on the caudillo and ritualistic, low-turnout elections. Instead of relying on an institutionalised party like Orbán's, they turn the state into a family-and-friends business protected by geops in SUVs when per ness, protected by goons in SUVs when necessary.

This second model has also been rarer than many previously feared. A successful family-and-friends strategy implies that democratic institutions were already weak, and the opposition feeble. The private sector depends on the state, and the latter – especially the judicial system – is vulnerable to capture. With few alternative political forces or institutional bases of power, the caudillo has plenty of room to maneuver.

True, checks and balances can degrade gradually and tilt fortunes in favour of a caudillo. But mostly, they tend to hold, partly because would-be caudillos in a well-institutionalised system motivate opposition coalitions that rise up to thwart them, as happened to Trump in 2020. Trump and his backers will have heeded that lesson, which is why we must be mindful of the third form of autocratic advance. It relies on neither dominant parties nor domineering kleptocrats, but it does still exploit national emergencies (real or manufactured). A contemporary exponent of this approach is El Salvador's strongman, Nayib Bukele, who has devised a playbook that should worry democrats.

Exploiting a state of exception is a handy script for ruling in uncertain times. It allows extreme measures without ending formal democracy TEST FOR DEMOCRACY tion year, when democracy will undergo a major test with elections in approximately 70 countries including the US, India, Mexico and South Africa. More than 3.7 billion voters will head to the polls, and their results may have global impact and ramifications. The current year will be the greatest year for democracy and democratic institutions worldwide. The greatest power in the world (the US), the mostpopulous country (India), the biggest trading bloc (the European Union), the largest Muslim country (Indonesia), the largest Spanish-speaking country (Mexico) and the territory that is the most contentious one between the two superpowers of this century (Taiwan), all will hold elections in 2024.

The verdict of these polls may have profound consequences on the lives of people and on a world that is going through a turbulent time, with on-going brutal wars in Ukraine and Gaza, as the West seems falling into decline, with no clear alternative. Major disruptive results include the return of Donald Trump to the White House, a third consecutive victory in Taiwan by candidates that Beijing considers hostile, or a consolidation of the extreme right in the EU, all of which could lead to farreaching consequences. In addition to these, other elections to watch out for include the potential presidential elections in Venezuela to those in Ukraine, from Indonesia to South Africa and Mexico, besides the UK -where a substantial change of course would not be expected regardless of the outcome.

However, what might be the worrisome aspect of these elections is the litmus test which democracy will undergo. Surveys by different international think tanks and institutes indicate dissatisfaction with the present-day working of democratic institutions - a sentiment common throughout the nations of the West - meaning, the US and Europe - even though they see themselves as democracy's home ground. A

The geopolitical and economic impacts of so many ballot box battles, occurring more or less at once, may combine to further destabilise an unstable world -- for good or bad recent Ipsos opinion poll in Western countries found a widespread belief that current democratic systems favour the rich and powerful and ignore everyone else. Freedom House, the independent US-based watchdog concluded in its 2023 report that the Global Freedom Index declined for the 17th consecutive year. The principle of free speech, essential to a fully functioning democracy, is also under attack. Paradoxically, this unprecedented vote-fest comes at a moment when classia forms of lib ment when classic forms of liberal democracy are under existential attack from authoritarians and dictators such as China's Xi Jinping and Russia's Vladimir Putin, far-right nationalist-populist parties such as in Austria, Hungary and Scandinavia, and military coup plotters and Islamists from Venezuela to Chad. Yet the report said while 35 countries experienced declines in political rights and civil liberties, 34 saw overall gains. Autocrats were neither infallible nor unbeatable. The geopolitical and economic impacts of so many ballot box battles, occurring more or less at once, may combine to further destabilise an unstable world -- for good or bad.

The European continent will see elections in Austria, Belgium, Croatia and Finland, as well as for the European Parliament in June. The pervasive fear is that they may accelerate advances by nationalist-populist, anti-migrant, xenophobic parties of the far right, matching those seen recently in Italy, the Netherlands and Slovakia. The results will shape the new chamber, with possible new legislative majorities that will influence the leadership of the EU. One wonders how high the far-right wave may rise.

For India, which itself will be holding the general elections, in which incumbent Prime Minister Narendra Modi is expected to score a hat trick, will watch closely elections in its neighbourhood in Pakistan and Bangladesh which may have a major regional and strategic impact.

Pakistan is plagued by a serious economic crisis and high political tensions, including arrests and attempted assassinations of political leaders. Following the dissolution of Parliament back in August, elections should have been held within 90 days, but have been postponed twice. They are now scheduled for February. The country -- with some 240 million inhabitants -- has enormous strategic depth, not only due to its nuclear arsenal, but also due to its close relationship with China. The Beijing-Islamabad axis is New Delhi's biggest concern.

The first election of 2024 could be one of the most contentious. Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina and the ruling Awami League have dominated Bangladeshi politics for the past 15 years. Over that time, they have increasingly eroded Bangladesh's democracy. The US has been pressing Sheikh Hasina for months to hold freeand-fair elections. That pressure has yet to pay off.

At the global level the US elections and those of the EU may have a major bearing on India's foreign and defence policies with some overlap on its internal politics, too. The US presidential elections in November have immense disruptive potential. The possibility that Trump will be the Republican candidate and return to the White House is still not ruled out. A Trump-return to the White House would represent a major shake-up with associated risks. It would be a step towards American isolationism at a time when rival powers are questioning the world order that Washington has created.

Trump would embody a break with 'America for the world' scenario; his 'America first' doctrine means limiting efforts and expenses in distant horizons. It's doubtful whether he would commit to supporting Taiwan if it comes under attack, or whether he would maintain financing and security guarantees made to Ukraine and NATO. New trade wars would be likely, as would a withdrawal of commitments against climate change.

In addition, the elections in 2024 will further highlight the manner in which our lives have become slaves to the social media and this will have an impact on the election processes too. As Kay Spencer, programme director of elections at the Washingtonbased National Democratic Institute puts it, the year 2024 is a big year for social media plat forms and it will be important to monitor how they will manage all the elections that are coming up. Indeed 2024 might prove to be a year which consolidates the liberal democratic principles and institutions, or leads to their further erosion.

Real issues getting eclipsed

After years of trouble, El Salvador's economy is buoyant, with remittances and lavish public spending powering private consumption.

Moreover, the country's infamous gang warfare is a thing of the past. A combination of payoffs to gang leaders and mass incarceration has pacified the country's neighbourhoods. In March 2022, Bukele suspended certain civil liberties, notably due process for alleged criminals. The police have arrested almost 70,000 people, mainly men aged 16 to 30, on suspicion of gang membership.

As a result, Bukele enjoys approval ratings that make him the envy of politicos everywhere. He has swatted aside constitutional restrictions barring him from a second term, and current polling suggests he will win re-election in February with a staggering 68.4% of the vote.

This regime-of-exception model formally accepts the importance of rules and checks and balances, and even tolerates domestic discord and dissent, up to a point. In fact, exceptionalists point to them to justify their regime. The argument is that while constraints are vital to republics in normal times, emergencies require their suspension. "See? Congress doesn't work. See? Our borders are sieves for the unwashed. See? Wokeism has swept our most cherished institutions." By turning emergency powers into semi-permanent rule, Bukele has established a new regime, one that exempts itself from constraints in the name of restoring the republic.

This is the road to autocracy that we should be worrying about as Trump's run for the White House shifts into high gear. If he wins, his governing playbook won't come from Hungary. The Republican Party is too riven, the Democrats are too strong, and the US states are too resilient for that. Nor will Trump have the option of turning government into a friends-and-family business; the US private sector is too autonomous and complex, and his earlier attempts at thuggery backfired in Lafayette Square and on January 6.

Still, the perception of danger at the border, fragile norms in cultural institutions, Ukraine war fatigue, and a quagmire in Congress would embolden Trump to adopt a more muscular approach. Exploiting a state of exception is a handy script for ruling in uncertain times. It allows extreme measures without ending formal democracy. It shifts attention to security (especially at borders) without martial law. And, above all, it preys on disenchantment with democracy without repudiating it.

imicry and sarcasm in various forms has be-L come a part and parcel of Indian politics, especially in recent times. Sarcasm over something said which goes against societal norms may not be considered offensive and can be taken with a pinch of salt. But certain kind of mockery that is seen today is quite nasty in nature and is unacceptable in an educated and civilised society. Mention may be made of instances of the powerful flinging mockery down at the powerless, men taking pot shots at women, the 'savarna' rich laughing at people from lower castes or with less money, the mainstream sneering at marginalised groups. Even references criticising others' religious sentiments and habits can be viewed as in poor taste.

The recent controversy triggered during the winter session of Parliament with TMC MP Kalyan Banerjee mimicking Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankar outside the House did hit headlines alright, and at the same time raised questions over the correctness of the latter's reaction. The Opposition rightly pointed out that the entire Modi ecosystem was galvanised on the socalled mimicry non-issue, while it remained silent on the real issue of security lapse in Parliament and why and how a BJP MP from Mysuru facilitated entry of two intruders into Lok Sabha on December 13.

The present type of mimicry witnessed nowadays by politicians, particularly during the election season is distasteful, and needs to be curtailed. Unfortunately, resorting to sarcasm or mimicry is increasingly getting cheers from the crowds, the uneducated masses and the politicians revelling in it. The moderate section of the BJP, say someone like Atal Behari Vajpayee may have eschewed the mode due to his elegant outlook and concern for ethics in politics and society. Living as we currently are in a mimicry of democracy with a mimicry of hollowed out checks and balances, with not even a pretence of a free media in existence across most of the country, perhaps the only choice we have is to keep enacting sharply revealing mimicries.

For political culture to develop there is a genuine need for educated and dedicated personalities. An example could be of Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik, who has the vision and capacity to take prompt decisions and is interested in serving the masses. The state is a classic case which has been transformed from a food deficit one to a food surplus state with its economy growing over 18 times in a little over two decades from around ₹47,000 crore in 2001-02 to ₹8.6 lakh crore in 2022-23. Moreover, it may be pointed out that the Eastern region's educational hub has shifted from Kolkata to Bhubaneswar. How has this been accomplished? Perhaps, he brags less than his counterpart in West Bengal, who too has a penchant for indulging in mimicry against rival BJP and humouring the masses. But such political manoeuvres may not last long as awareness is growing, and people want results. Political change is necessary, and this can come about if there is professional ethics among party cadres. Moreover, fanaticism by the political establishment that they preach to gain false popularity among the uneducated masses must come to an end.

Indian politics has reached a vicious stage where the situation is making the voter feel useless and small. There is little bondage amongst the community and animosity, narrow-mindedness and jealousy in society is dangerously rising. Our struggle today cannot be limited to one political party or its affiliates. The question is whether a change in government may make a fundamental difference.

Political transformation is called for and this can be accomplished by leaders who are qualified, sincere, honest, and earn the confidence of the common people. Mimicry, as is being indulged in can evoke a few laughs alright but it can't hide reality that the government must perform and serve the people. The polity must remember Abraham Lincoln's famous words: "You can fool all people some of the time and some people all the time. But you can never fool all people all the time.' INFΔ tough on terror players. The sentencing of dreaded terror mastermind and Lashkar-e-Taiba founder Hafiz Saeed in 2020 and 2022 had the unmistakable imprint of the Pakistan government. This was aimed at placating global bodies like the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) Islamabad never acceded to New Delhi's requests to extradite Hafiz Saeed. That's why its rejection of India's fresh request to hand over Hafiz Saeed has not come as a surprise. As is its wont, Pakistan has cited the absence of a bilateral treaty for its 'decision'. It is worthwhile to remember that both the LeT and the Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM), another Pakistan-bred terror group, are in the Foreign Terrorist Organisation (FTO) list of the United States since 2001. So, while Islamabad is trying all tricks of the trade to protect its big-time terror players like Hafiz Saeed, countries like the US and India have made sure that it is systematically isolated.

Diplomatic victory

Sir, The verdict of an appellate court in Qatar commuting the death sentence of eight former Indian Navy personnel, arrested in an alleged espionage case in that country, comes as a huge relief to the anxious families and the nation as a whole. The commutation of the death sentence is indeed a victory of India's foreign policy and diplomatic efforts taken by the concerned ministry. It goes to show that the meticulous moves made by the ministry and also the strength of India's foreign policy under the leadership of PM Modi who has been in good terms with all Gulf nations and the West Asian nations and the various power blocs around the world. The Prime Minister had met the Emir of Qatar, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al-Thani, on the sidelines of the COP28 Summit in Dubai some weeks ago. The PM said then that they discussed the well-being of the Indian community in Qatar. The government will now have to push for further diplomatic tactics so that the eight who are in Qatar's custody could bebrought to their motherland.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bhopal, Jan 3: Senior Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) leader and former Madhya Pradesh chief minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan has said sometimes one ends up in 'vanvas' while waiting for 'rajtilak' (coronation)

After the BJP's landslide victory in the Madhya Pradesh Assembly polls held in November 2023, the party chose Mohan Yadav as the chief minister, replacing Chouhan who served as the state's CM for four times.

Chouhan, while addressing a gathering in Shahganj town under his Budhni Assembly seat Tuesday evening, got emotional and said he will continue to be among the people, especially his sisters.

"I will not go anywhere. I will live here and die here,' Chouhan said when a couple of women sitting in the audience shouted, "Bhaiyya (brother), don't go anywhere leaving us alone.

The former chief minister said all the works started by the previous BJP government, including the Ladli Behna Yojana (for women's welfare), housing scheme for beneficiaries of the Ladli Behna scheme, a scheme of one job in each family and promises made to farmers, will be fulfilled by the present government.

The new government will take forward all these works. There must be some big objective somewhere, sometimes by the time 'rajtilak' takes place, one even ends up in 'vanvas' (exile). But all this happens to fulfil some or the other objective, Chouhan told the gathering.

He said the present ruling dispensation will implement all these schemes as there is BJP's government in the state and not of the Congress. The former CM also noted that children who were among the audience had come to show their love for mama (maternal uncle - as Chouhan is popularly referred).

Earlier, a large number of BJP workers and women welcomed Chouhan on his arrival in Shahganj.

Chouhan won the election from Budhni assembly seat by a margin of more than 1.04 lakh votes over his Congress rival

Chouhan's government accommodation is located off Link Road No. 1 in the posh 74 Bungalows locality in the state capital where he moved after vacating the Chief Minister's house on relinquishing the top post last month. On Wednesday, Chouhan (64) shared photos of the naming of his bungalow as 'Mama Ka Ghar', nearly a month after he resigned as Chief Minister following the BJP's decision to select threeterm MLA Mohan Yadav as his successor on winning the November 17 Assembly polls. Kochi, Jan 3: In what is believed to be the launch of BJPled NDA's Lok Sabha election campaign, Prime Minister Narendra Modi Wednesday addressed a large public rally of women at Trissur, where he tore into Kerala's ruling CPI-M-led Left and the Congress-led opposition, describing them as 'one' with the same ideology as they both are part of the INDIA bloc.

The Prime Minister arrived at the rally venue where about two lakh women were present after holding a roadshow, with thousands of people lined up on both sides of the road.

Unlike in Kochi recently, where he walked for more than a kilometre, in Trissur he rode on a special vehicle brought from Gujarat, accompanied by state BJP chief, K. Surendran, superstar Suresh Gopi, and Mahila Morcha leader Nivedida.

Addressing the rally, the Prime Minister said the traditional rival political fronts in Kerala have done nothing for the women

MP CM transfers collector who questioned 'aukat' of truck driver

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bhopal. Jan 3: The Madhva Pradesh government has removed Kishor Kanyal from the post of Shajapur district collector after he questioned the 'aukat' (status) of a driver amid a protest by truckers.

Chief Minister Mohan Yadav, while sharing the decision of removing Kanyal from the collector's post, Wednesday said such type of language will not be tolerated under his government.

According to the Chief Minister's Office (CMO), Kanyal was removed from the post of Shajapur collector on Yadav's directives.

The state government Wednesday issued an order shifting Kanyal to the post of state deputy secretary. Narsinghpur's collector Riju Bafna has been made the new collector of Shajapur.

During a meeting with representatives of a drivers' union Tuesday, Kanyal lost his cool and later expressed regret if anyone

Reacting to the episode, CM Yadav said, "Under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, we work for the uplift of the poor. Kanyal got angry and asked the person concerned, "Kya karoge tum, kya aukat hai tumhari?' The man replied saying they are fighting this battle for the very reason that they don't have any "aukat" (social standing). A policeman then whisked away the man from the spot.

Kanyal later posted a video on the district collector's official X account saying a meeting of about 250 truck and bus drivers was convened Tuesday, a day after many of them created a ruckus and staged protests.

"The meeting was held to tell them to raise their issues democratically but one of them was trying to incite others and threatening to intensify the stir, because of which I used these words. I express regret if anyone is hurt by my words," he said.

However, nobody will be allowed to take the law in his hand, he added.

state ministers, top leaders and personalities, besides top officials are invited INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Thiruvananthapuram, Jan 3: The standoff between Kerala Governor Arif Mohammed Khan and Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan continues unabated, as the latter did not invite the former for the customary Christmas-New Year lunch here Wednesday.

While Khan was not invited, the Congress-led Opposition that was invited to the lunch by the Chief Minister boycotted it as part of its protest against his high-handedness and style of functioning. The customary lunch hosted by the Chief Minister is an annual affair where the Governor, state ministers, top leaders of various political parties, important personalities, besides top officials are invited.

The standoff between Khan and Vijayan has taken several twists and turns in the past and has now touched rock bottom with the two veterans slamming one another publicly.

Things have come to such a pass that last Friday the two refused to greet each other when Vijayan arrived at Khan's official residence to take part in the swearing-in of two new ministers.

New Delhi, Jan 3: The Supreme Court Wednesday sought a reply from the Lok Sabha secretary general on Trinamool Congress leader Mahua Moitra's plea challenging her expulsion from the Lower House.

"We will consider your plea for interim relief in March," Justice Khanna told Senior advocate Abhishek Singhvi, who appeared for Moitra.

The current Lok Sabha will have one more session- the Budget Session-before the general elections are held. Justice Khanna said he is not

On December 8, after a heated debate in the Lok Sabha over the panel report, during which Moitra was not allowed to speak, Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi moved a motion to expel the TMC MP from the House for "unethical conduct". The motion was adopted by a voice vote.

The ethics committee found Moitra guilty of "unethical conduct" and contempt of the House as she had shared her Lok Sabha members' portal credentials user ID and password -- with unauthorised people, which had an irrepressible impact on national security, Joshi had said.

The committee had also rec ommended that in view of the "highly objectionable, unethical, heinous and criminal conduct' of Moitra, an intense legal and institutional inquiry be initiated by the government with a set deadline.

ADANI-HINDENBURG ROW Cong slams SEBI over SC verdict

AGENCIES

New Delhi, Jan 3: The Congress Wednesday said the Supreme Court judgment on certain matters relating to transactions by the Adani Group has proven to be "extraordinarily generous" to SEBI and asserted that the party's fight against crony capitalism and its ill-effects on prices, employment and inequalities will continue.

In a statement on the judgement, Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh hit out at Adani, saying "truth dies a thousand deaths when we hear Satyameva Jayate from those who have gamed, manipulated and subverted the system this past decade"

CPI (M): Judgement is disappointing

New Delhi: The Communist Party of India (Marxist) polit bureau Wednesday called the Supreme Court judgement in the Adani case "disappointing" and said the apex court has not enhanced its credibility with this verdict.

Ramesh said the Supreme Court judgment on certain matters relating to transactions by the Adani Group has proven "extraordinarily generous" to the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), not least by extending its original investigation deadline of August 14, 2023 by another three months to April 3, 2024.

It is noteworthy that SEBI has "failed" to complete its investigation into the violation of securities laws and stock manipulation by the Adani Group and its associates ten months after the Supreme Court's expert committee asked it to do so, Ramesh said. "It is unclear what will change in the next three months other than the Model Code of Conduct for the Lok Sabha elections coming into effect," he said. Meanwhile, a series of exposés from credible news sources has turned the glare on the Adani Group's "illicit activities" conducted under SEBI's "benign gaze", Ramesh said.

Chang Chung-Ling and Nasser Ali Shaban Ahli held 8-14% of benami holdings in Adani Enterprises. Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone, Adani Power and Adani Transmission, he alleged. This was via shell companies in Mauritius, UAE and British Virgin Islands in blatant violation of SEBI's minimum shareholding laws.

Ramesh claimed. "It is also worth noting that, regarding the Modani MegaScam, SEBI's mandate is limited to violations of securities regulations. It will not, for instance, look into how the Modi government manipulating bidding conditions over the objections of the NITI Aayog and Finance Ministry to hand Adani a complete airports monopoly, and has misused the ED and CBI to force critical national assets into the hands of the PM's cronies," he alleged.

ED raids J'khand CM's press advisor, others

Ranchi: The Enforcement Directorate Wednesday raided premises of Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren's press advisor, officials of Sahibganj district and a former MLA as part of a money laundering probe into alleged illegal mining in the state, sources said. About a dozen locations in the state, including in state capital Ranchi and a premise in Rajasthan, are being raided by the central agency under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), they said.

Varanasi district court judge A K Vishvesh then adjourned the matter till Thursday, Hindu side counsel Madan Mohan Yadav said.

According to the lawyer, the ASI requested the court for four more weeks before the sealed survev report is opened. Yadav said the ASI referred to a recent judgment of the Allahabad High Court while seeking four weeks' time.

The Allahabad High Court had December 19 dismissed several pleas from Muslim sides challenging the maintainability of a suit seeking restoration of the temple where the Gvanvapi mosque now stands in Varanasi.

In its observation, Justice Rohit Ranjan Agarwal had said the Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act, 1991 did not define religious character and this can only be determined through evidence presented in the court by opposing parties.

India sees 2nd highest cancer deaths in Asia: Study

Researchers found that India, along with China and Japan, were the three leading countries in Asia in terms of number of new cases and deaths, where they say cancer has become a more significant public health threat with 94 lakh new cases and 56 lakh deaths in 2019

AGENCIES

New Delhi, Jan 3: India registered about 12 lakh new cancer cases and 9.3 lakh deaths in 2019, becoming the second highest contributor to the disease burden in Asia for that year, according to a new study published in The Lancet Regional Health Southeast Asia journal. Of these, while China contributed the most with 48 lakh new cases and 27 lakh deaths, Japan recorded about 9 lakh leading cancer was that of tracheal, bronchus, and lung (TBL), resulting in an estimated 13 lakh cases and 12 lakh deaths. It was also found to be most frequent in men and third most frequent in women.

Specifically among women, cervical cancer is ranked second or among top-5 cancers in several Asian countries. The human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccine, introduced in 2006, has proved to be effective in preventing the disease and reducing HPV-related deaths, the researchers said

AI may be effective

New Delhi: Researchers have developed a new artificial intelligence (AI) tool that interprets medical images with unprecedented clarity and may help clinicians diagnose and better treat cancers that might otherwise go undetected. The tool, called iStar (Inferring Super-Resolution Tissue Architecture), and developed by researchers at the University of Pennsylvania, US, provides both highly detailed views of individual cells and a broader look at the full spectrum of how people's genes operate.

Overall, in the continent and individual countries, TBL, breast, colon and rectum cancer (CRC), stomach and non-melanoma skin cancer were among the top five most frequent cancers in 2019 with few countries having leukemia, prostate, liver and pancreatic cancers in the list, they said in their study. #### AT LEAST 103 PEOPLE KILLED, 188 WOUNDED IN BLASTS AT CEREMONY HONOURING SLAIN GENERAL

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dubai, Jan 3: Two explosions minutes apart Wednesday in Iran targeted a commemoration for a prominent general slain in a US drone strike in 2020, killing at least 103 people and wounding at least 188 others as the Middle East remains on edge over Israel's war on Hamas in the Gaza Strip.

No one immediately claimed responsibility for what appeared to be the deadliest militant attack to target Iran since its 1979 Islamic Revolution. The blasts shook the city of Kerman, about 820 kilometers (510 miles) southeast of the capital, Tehran, and sent shrapnel hurtling into a screaming crowd fleeing the first explosion.

Sunni extremist groups including the Islamic State group have conducted large-scale attacks in the past that killed civilians in Shiite-majority Iran, though not in relatively peaceful Kerman.

Iran also has seen mass protests in recent years, including those over the death of 22-yearold Mahsa Amini in 2022. The country also has been targeted by exile groups in attacks dating back to the turmoil surrounding its 1979 Islamic Revolution.

The blasts struck an event marking the fourth anniversary of the killing of General Qassem Soleimani, the head of the Revolutionary Guard's elite Quds Force who died in a US drone strike in Iraq in January 2020. The explosions occurred near his grave site in Kerman.

Iranian state television quoted Babak Yektaparast, a spokesman for the country's emergency services, for the casualty figure. Authorities said some people were injured while fleeing afterward. Footage suggested that the second blast occurred some 15 minutes after the first. A delayed second explosion is often used by militants to target emergency personnel responding to the scene and inflict more casualties.

Kerman's deputy governor, Rahman Jalali, called the attack 'terroristic," without elaborating. Iran has multiple foes who could be behind the assault, including exile groups, militant organisations and state actors. Iran has supported Hamas as well as the Lebanese Shiite militia Hezbollah and Yemen's Houthi rebels

WHO WAS SOLEIMANI?

Soleimani was the architect of Iran's regional military activities and is hailed as a national icon among supporters of Iran's theocracy. He also helped secure Syrian President Bashar Assad's government after the 2011 Arab Spring protests against him turned into a civil, and later a regional, war that still rages today. Relatively unknown in Iran until the 2003 US invasion of Iraq, Soleimani's popularity and mystique grew after American officials called for his killing over his help arming militants with penetrating roadside bombs that killed and maimed US troops.

A decade and a half later, Soleimani had become Iran's most recognizable battlefield commander, ignoring calls to enter politics but growing as powerful, if not more, than its civilian leadership.

Ultimately, a đrone strike launched by the Trump administration killed the general, part of escalating incidents that followed America's 2018 unilateral withdrawal from Tehran's nuclear deal with world powers.

His death has drawn large processions in the past. At his funeral in 2020, a stampede broke out in Kerman and at least 56 people were killed and more than 200 were injured as thousands thronged the procession. Otherwise, Kerman largely has been untouched in the recent unrest and attacks that have struck Iran. The city and province of the same name sits in Iran's central desert plateau.

hits record $34tn

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Washington, Jan 3: The federal government's gross national debt has surpassed $34 trillion, a record high that foreshadows the coming political and economic challenges to improve America's balance sheet in the coming years.

The US Treasury Department issued a report Tuesday logging US finances, which have become a source of tension in a politically divided Washington that could possibly see parts of the government shut down without an annual budget in place. Republican lawmakers and the White House agreed last June to temporarily lift the nation's debt limit, staving off the risk of what would be a historic default. That agreement lasts until January 2025. Here are some answers to questions about the new record national debt.

The national debt eclipsed $34 trillion several years sooner than pre-pandemic projections. The Congressional Budget Office's January 2020 projections had gross federal debt eclipsing $34 trillion in fiscal year 2029.

But the debt grew faster than expected because of a multiyear pandemic starting in 2020 that shut down much of the US economy. The government borrowed heavily under then President Donald Trump and current President Joe Biden to stabilise the economy and support a recovery. But the rebound came with a surge of inflation that pushed up interest rates and made it more expensive for the government to service its debts.

Islamabad: Pakistan's top election body Wednesday indicted iailed former Prime Minister Imran Khan and his Chaudhry in a contempt case. Khan, 71, is the founding chairman of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaaf (PTI) and Chaudhry, a senior former member of his party. The two leaders were booked in 2022 for using foul language against the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) and Chief Election Commissioner Sikandar Sultan Raja. He was ousted through a vote of noconfidence in April 2022. More than 150 cases have been registered against him since his ouster from power.

TO AVOID A FUTURE IN WHICH ISRAEL IS FORCED TO RESIST ARSENALS OR UNSC

he most massive intelligence and operational failure in Israel's 75-year history has left the country's citizens still in shock. Israel's long-standing belief that Hamas would be controlled by 'smart fences' and the influx of foreign funding has come undone. Almost 1,200 people were killed and over 240 taken hostage in the Hamas' raid on southern Israel October 7.

Following the attack, the Israeli government mobilised the Israel Defense Forces on an emergency basis. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu pledged to 'finish' a war that the Israeli people 'didn't want.' According to Netanyahu, the campaign's objectives are to destroy Hamas, rescue every Israeli person who has been abducted, and make sure that Gaza's terrorist organisation never poses a threat to Israel. However, neither the timeline nor the details of a workable conclusion for Gaza are clear. Nor are the goals of the massive IDF offensive.

What is abundantly clear, however, is that Israel's latitude to pursue its stated war objectives would be vastly constrained were it not for the emphatic support of the United States. As the fighting persists and gaps emerge between the US and the Israeli positions, Israel has strong reasons to invest in keeping its primary alliance intact. To ensure that its bond with the US survives this war, Israel must not only manage the current military campaign judiciously but also tackle domestic political problems and determine once and for all how it plans to settle its conflict with most notably, National Security Minister Itamar Ben-Gvir and Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich—promising to hold the prime minister personally accountable for the actions of his government.

Palestinians. The Biden administration has made no secret of its dissatisfaction with Netanyahu's choice of coalition partners from Israel's extreme right-

Clashes between the Netanyahu government and the Biden administration over the intended transformation of Israel's judiciary also spilled regularly into public view. In January 2023, Secretary of State Antony Blinken—on his first trip to Israel since the country's November 2022 electionadded quality time with civil society representatives to his itinerary, giving a morale boost to critics of Netanyahu's agenda and delivering a not-so-subtle hint of US concern about the fate of Israeli democracy.

Despite early frictions, the Biden administration's support for Israel since October 7-expressed in words and deeds-has been uncontestable. US civilian and military officials have been constant fixtures in Israel, often participating in consultations with Israel's war cabinet.

Israelis have always attributed staunch US support for their country to a set of shared values-including freedom, pluralism, and democracy-and interests, such as the promotion of peace and stability. That ground is shifting now, especially as younger Americans express dramatically less affinity for Israel than older generations. Joe Biden, who has asserted often that "you don't have to be a Jew to be a Zionist," may well be the last Democratic president with impeccable pro-Israeli credentials.

This trend should, and does, worry Israel. Hedging its bets, as other Middle Eastern countries have done, by building relationships with China and Russia—permanent members of the UN Security Council that have both taken the side of Hamas—is not an option for Israel. And lately, even Biden himself has begun to qualify his statements about the war in Gaza. In a speech December 12, he affirmed that "Israel's security can rest on the United States," but he added that Israel is "starting to lose" its support in other parts of the world.

To avoid a future in which Israel is forced to resist existential perils without recourse to US military arsenals or UN Security Council vetoes, Israeli policymakers must change tack. First, they must take care in prosecuting the Gaza campaign.

The inclusion of opposition party members in the war cabinet was a responsible step in that direction. As the war proceeds, the IDF should pursue its aims-which Israelis overwhelmingly endorse-as quickly as possible while minimising collateral damage and the injury of innocents. To that end, the IDF chain of command should be meticulous in identifying legitimate operational targets, authorising attacks only when those standards are met.

Israel desperately needs to prioritise national security over politics. A supplementary 2023 budget passed December 14, which was meant to cover the unanticipated expense of the war in Gaza, diverted precious funds to unrelated bureaucracies-including the Ministry of Jerusalem and Heritage and the Ministry of Settlement and National Missions-to satisfy kev constituencies of the Netanyahu coalition instead.

Finally, and most urgently, Israel needs to formulate a clear position on the Palestinian issue. When the state of Israel was created 75 years ago, it had to fight off threats to its survival; today, Israel's stewards must articulate a coherent vision of its ultimate destination. Otherwise, they will struggle to convince the US and other countries to remain by Israel's side.

Electric 2W sales up 17%

Electric two-wheeler (E2W) sales volume in India rose 17 per cent year-on-year in December as electrification improved after a recent hiatus, a report showed Wednesday. In the E2W space, Ola Electric (Ola) remained the market leader by volume and gained market share, reaching 40 per cent.

Ola gained the most market share, followed by Bajaj Auto while TVS Motor lost the most, according to BNP Paribas India EV report. "Improvement in Ola's market share was largely driven by the company's aggressive marketing campaign 'December to Remember', under which it offered aggressive discounts to customers and also reduced prices of its products," the report mentioned. Ola slashed its S1X+ escooter prices by ₹20,000 or by 18 per cent. Among the states, sales volume declined (month-onmonth) for most of the states except Delhi, West Bengal and Uttar Pradesh.

Penetration improved the most in Delhi to 19.8 per cent from 6.9 per cent in November, almost entirely driven by Ola. EV penetration improved in December for electric passenger vehicles, electric three-wheelers and electric two-wheelers - reaching alltime highs for E3Ws and nearing all-time highs for EPVs.

2023-24 CROP YEAR

Wheat output may touch new record

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 3: Wheat production is expected to touch a new record of 114 million tonne in the ongoing 2023-24 crop year on higher coverage and provided weather conditions remain normal, a top food ministry official said Wednesday.

The last leg of sowing of wheat, the main rabi (winter) crop, is underway and will continue till next week. Till last week, wheat was planted in 320.54 lakh hectares, as per the official data.

Wheat production stood at a record 110.55 million tonnes in the 2022-23 crop year (July-June), compared to 107.7 million tonne achieved in the previous year.

"We expect that total area under cultivation of wheat will increase this year and God willingly if the climate is alright, the production will be 114 million tonne that's what the agriculture ministry has indicated informally to us," Food Corporation of India (FCI) Chairman and Managing Director Ashok K Meena told reporters.

Area sown to wheat crop is also showing an increase compared to the last year. There was a deficit of one per cent in some states but that will also be made up in the first week of January,

"If that is the level of production, we are very confident he said.

that we will be able to procure more than our requirement and also additional stocks needed for the Open Market Sale Scheme (OMSS) for next year," he noted.

When asked if the central nodal agency plans to step up procurement considering the opening wheat balance of 76 lakh tonne to be April 1, which is just enough to meet the buffer requirement, the FCI chief said: "We will try our best to provide minimum support price (MSP) to all farmers. Because of the open market sale, the indications are prices have stabilised and are not higher than it was last year. 'Since the wheat MSP is higher by 7 per cent than the last year, we hope that lot of farmers will be willing to give their produce to the FCI," Meena said

Last year, the FCI's wheat procurement stood at 26.2 million tonne, higher than the annual buffer requirement of 18.4 million tonne.

This year's wheat crop will be ready for harvest from April onwards

FCI is the central nodal agency that buys rice and wheat to ensure MSP to the farmers and distributes the grains for free to 81 crore poor via ration shops. It also uses surplus grain via OMSS to boost domestic availability and check prices.

According to FCI, 5.9 million

tonne of wheat has been sold in the open market through weekly e-auction under the OMSS since June 2023, which has helped stabilise the retail prices.

"There has been hardly any increase in retail wheat prices on YoY basis." the FCI Chairman said, adding that wheat OMSS will continue only till March 15.

However in the case of rice, there is "of course an uptick in prices visible in the open market but the mere fact that we are making huge quantity of rice available through OMSS, I hope that the prices will also not increase substantially", he said.

There has been a lukewarm response for rice under OMSS and so far the FCI has been able to sell only 1.45 lakh tonnes at ₹29 per kg through weekly auctions.

The FCI is using surplus foodgrain stock of 15.6 million tonne for undertaking market intervention to stabilise the prices of two key commodities.

Siraj's achieve career-best figures in Tests before India lose six wickets for zero run to take 98-run lead

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Cape Town, Jan 3: Mohammed Siraj got 6/15 in a breathtakingly menacing morning spell but to his horror found India losing six wickets in a space of eleven balls in the final session before regaining the advantage against South Africa on a rivetting day one of the second Test here.

After Siraj's career-best figures decimated South Africa for their lowest post-apartheid score of 55, India were 153/4 before losing six wickets without addition of single run in a space of 11 deliveries to end with a 98-run lead. There were six Indian batters, who failed to open their accounts and one who remained not out also didn't trouble the scorer, making it a statistician's nightmare.

Lungi Ngidi (3/30) and Kagiso Rabada (3/38) got five of those six wickets keeping the lead below 100 and gaining the necessary psychological advantage.

South Africa were more cautious despite being aggressive as they scored 62/3 in their second innings at stumps to bring down the deficit to 36 runs. Aiden

DREAMI

Markram (36 batting) looked solid in the middle. The maximum number of wickets lost on Day 1 of a Test is 27 and that happened in an England-Australia Test back in 1888.

Dean Elgar, in his last Test match, would like to forget that he got out twice in a day's play while Mukesh Kumar (2/0 and 2/25) was rewarded for consistently pitching the ball in right areas, getting enough away movement against southpaws. Any chance of the match going into the third day looks remote.

On a Newlands track that offered steep bounce and would certainly come under the ICC match referee Chris Broad's radar, the red Kookaburra ball took off like jumbo jet from the length making it impossible for batters to survive. Between shoulder blades to lower abdomen. batters got hit everywhere as the bounce became variable towards the end of the day.

Rohit Sharma (39) lived dangerously but played attacking cricket. Ditto for Virat Kohli (46) and Shubman Gill (36), who also showed right intent. The rest of the batters hardly troubled the scorers. Before Siraj's special effort, the only Indian in country's 92 year Test history to take five wickets before lunch was left-arm spinner Maninder Singh, who achieved the feat against Pakistan in Bangalore back in 1986-87.

On a humid Wednesday morning, South African batters found what a great leveller the game of cricket is with Siraj ripping the heart out of the Proteas batting with a masterclass of pace, swing and seam movement. The Proteas innings ended in just 23.2 overs.

Kyle Verreynne (15) were the only two batters to hit the double digits as the South African supporters in stands were stunned into silence. Jasprit Bumrah (2/25) also kept the pressure from the other end.

Cuttack, Jan 3: Defending champions Odisha Juggernauts notched up a convincing 32-21 victory over Rajasthan Warriors, in Ultimate Kho Kho Season 2 here, Wednesday. The victory was built on the back of a stellar defensive performance by the Juggernauts that saw them score 10 dream run points.

In turn-1, Vishal, Gowtham MK and Dilip Khandavi stayed on the mat for six minutes and 22 seconds. scoring seven dream run points. With all three players of Juggernauts' second batch remaining unconquered, they took a 7-6 lead into turn-2. It was the first time in UKK history that a defending team had taken the lead in a turn. Warriors set about limiting the damage in turn-2, with their first batch of Vijay Hajare, Sushant Hajare and Vrushab Wagh notching up three dream run points.

In turn-3, after losing the first batch early, Juggernauts' second batch frustrated Warriors which left Warriors with a slender 21-18 lead. Juggernauts attackers had no problems overturning that in turn-4.

Earlier, Telugu Yoddhas stamped their dominance over an off-colour Mumbai Khiladis, notching up a 40-22 victory. This was the biggest margin of victory this season.
