Nitin Nabin elected BJP prez unopposed

NEW DELHI: Forty-five-year-old Nitin Nabin was Monday elected unopposed as the BJP national president, the youngest ever to occupy the post as it seeks to further expand its influence in uncharted territories. Nabin, a five-term Bihar MLA, emerged as the sole candidate for the top party post with Prime Minister Narendra Modi and other senior BJP leaders filing nomination papers in his support. Nabin will be formally declared as BJP president Tuesday. He will succeed JP Nadda, who has been at the helm for an extended period since 2020. "I hereby announce that only one name, that of Shri Nitin Nabin, has been proposed for the post of national president of Bharatiya Janata Party," K Laxman, the returning officer for the presidential election, said in a statement.

UNNAO: DELHI HC JOLT FOR SENGAR

NEW DELHI: The Delhi High Court Monday refused to suspend the 10-year jail term of expelled BJP leader Kuldeep Singh Sengar in the custodial death case of the Unnao rape survivor's father on the grounds of delay in trial, saying it was partly caused by the multiple applications he had filed in the matter. "The application seeking suspension of sentence is dismissed," said Justice Ravinder Dudeja. The judge observed that while Sengar has undergone prolonged incarceration of about seven-and-a-half years, relief could not be granted on the ground of delay alone, as the appellant had repeatedly moved applications for interim suspension, extension of bail and regular suspension of sentence. HIGH-SPEED TRAIN COLLISION LEAVES 39 DEAD IN SPAIN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adamuz (Spain), Jan 19: Spanish police said Monday that at least 39 people are confirmed dead in a high-speed train collision the previous night in the south of the country, as efforts to recover the bodies continue with authorities expecting the death toll to rise.

The crash occurred Sunday at 7:45 pm when the tail end of a train carrying some 300 passengers on the route from Malaga to the capital, Madrid, went off the rails at 7:45 pm. It slammed into an incoming train travelling from Madrid to Huelva, another southern Spanish city, according to rail operator Adif.

The head of the second train, which was carrying nearly 200 passengers, took the brunt of the impact, Spanish Transport Minister Oscar Puente said. That collision knocked its first two carriages off the track and sent them plummeting down a 4-metre (13-foot) slope. Puente said that it appeared the largest number of the deaths occurred in those carriages.

Andalusia regional president Juanma Moreno said Monday morning that emergency services were still searching what he described as a mass of twisted metal where the smashed carriages had derailed.

Passengers reported climbing out of smashed windows, with some using emergency hammers to break the windows, according to Salvador Jimenez, a journalist for Spanish broadcaster RTVE, who was on board one of the derailed trains. Spanish police said 159 people were injured, of whom five were in critical condition. A further 24 were in serious condition, authorities said.

Silver tops ₹3L/kg

Heightened geopolitical situation and robust industrial demand have propelled silver to an unprecedented ₹3 lakh per kg on MCX, while gold surged ₹1,900 to a record ₹1,48,100 per 10 gm. Investor sentiment turned cautious after US President Donald Trump threatened to impose additional tariffs of up to 25 per cent on European countries over Greenland if no agreement is reached by June. The renewed trade tensions triggered a flight to traditional safe havens such as gold and silver. Besides, a weaker rupee made silver both dearer and safer as ETFs, jewellers and even central banks rushed to hoard the metal

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: Silver prices surged ₹10,000 Monday to breach the record ₹3 lakh-per-kilogram mark in the national capital, driven by strong demand in domestic and global markets, according to metalmen.

The white metal traded at ₹3,02,600 per kilogram Monday against the previous closing level of ₹2,92,600 per kg.

Gold prices also witnessed robust gains in the local bullion market and scaled a fresh record. The yellow metal climbed ₹1,900 to ₹1,48,100 per 10 grams (inclusive of all taxes). It had finished at ₹1,46,200 per 10 grams Friday.

"Gold and silver surged to fresh record highs on Monday, driven by geopolitical tensions, and escalating tariff moves uncertainty after US President Donald Trump threatened to impose additional tariffs on several European countries over the weekend," Saumil Gandhi, Senior Analyst - Commodities at HDFC Securities, said.

According to forex.com, spot silver increased to touch a fresh record of USD 94.13 per ounce, while gold rose to hit an all-time high of USD 4,690.80 per ounce in the international market.

"Spot gold hit a fresh record high of USD 4,690 per ounce in the global markets on safe haven demand as Trump announced a 10 per cent tariff on eight EU nations in retaliation for their opposition to his Greenland initiative," Praveen Singh, Head of Commodities, Mirae Asset ShareKhan, said.

Meanwhile, Trump Saturday threatened to implement a 10 per cent tariff on goods from European nations, including Denmark, Sweden, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Finland, the UK and Norway, starting from February 1.

Tariff will be increased to 25 per cent June 1, 2026. The proposed tariff will be due and payable until a deal is reached for the complete and total purchase of Greenland.

President Trump's Greenland-related tariff moves endanger the NATO alliance, a Western security alliance that has been in place since the Second World War, Singh said.

Bank heist: Gold worth ₹7.5cr looted in Barbil

POST NEWS NETWORK

Barbil, Jan 19: Armed miscreants looted gold jewelry worth an estimated ₹7.5 crore and cash of about ₹4.34 lakh from the Bank of Maharashtra's Barbil branch in Keonjhar district Monday afternoon, police said.

The robbery took place at the branch located barely 200 meters from the Barbil sub-divisional police officer's (SDPO) office.

According to officials, five to six armed men entered the bank, threatened staff and customers at gunpoint, and forced bank officials to open the strong room. The assailants fled with around 5 kilograms of gold jewelry and cash before police could arrive.

Keonjhar SP Nitin Kusalkar Dagudu and his team rushed to the spot and launched an investigation. Police sealed the state borders and intensified search operations, Barbil IIC Ashok Nayak said.

Police flagged serious lapses in bank security, including the absence of a security guard and the alleged failure to follow SOPs.

The looters, wearing masks and helmets, entered the branch in the afternoon when BM Panjai Barnwal and ABM Priyam Ranjan Hota were on duty. An accountant, Subhas Adhikari, who entered the bank during the incident, was also accosted and relieved of his phone. The assailants remained inside the bank for about 20 to 25 minutes.

After news of the robbery spread, customers who had pledged gold ornaments to avail loans gathered outside the bank, expressing concern over the safety and recovery of their valuables.

Panic over gas pipeline burst

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Cuttack, Jan 19: A gas pipeline burst in the CDA area during construction work Monday, causing panic among the people, police said.

Emergency teams were rushed to the spot for immediate repairs, a senior officer said.

The incident took place at Sector 9 of the CDA area, where many former judges and senior advocates of the Orissa High Court reside.

An earthmover struck an underground pipeline of Gas Authority of India Limited (GAIL) during excavation work, causing it to burst. Panic spread among the people as LPG started leaking.

Cuttack Additional Commissioner of Police Ananya Awasthi, who has reached the spot, said that the area has been cordoned off as a preventive measure to prevent any untoward incident.

Fire services personnel also reached the spot and were co-ordinating with the gas company's technical team to repair the pipeline.

China's population shrinks to historic low

Beijing, Jan 19: China's population shrank for the fourth consecutive year as birth rates in 2025 fell by about 10 million from a decade earlier, a trend widely blamed on the long-term effects of the former one-child policy.

According to the data released by National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) Monday, only 7.92 million babies were born in 2025 compared to 9.54 million in 2024, a decline of 17 per cent.

This marked the lowest birth figure since records began in 1949 and broke the previous lowest record set in 2023, the year India overtook China as the most populous country, according to a United Nations report.

Based on the current fertility rates in China, the United Na-apart from during China's devastating famine from 1959 to 1961, the Hong Kong based South China Morning Post reported. Meanwhile, about 11.31 million people died last year. One of the highest totals in five decades.

China's serious demographic crisis is blamed on the decades-old one-child policy followed by the ruling Communist Party. Amid warnings that the demographic crisis will seriously impact the economy, China scrapped the one child policy in 2016 and permitted all couples to have two children.

As it failed to make an impact, China revised the population policy in 2021, allowing people to have three children in an attempt to address the reluctance of couples to have more kids due to mounting costs.

In the last few years China has implemented policies to boost the birth rates which included the national childcare subsidy scheme offering up to 10,800 RMB (USD 1,534) per year for each child. Beijing also increased the condom tax to encourage couples to have more children.

The pace of the decline of population in China is striking, particularly in the absence of major shocks, Su Yue, principal economist for China at the Economist Intelligence Unit.

The reluctance among young people to get married, along with rising economic pressures "particularly an increase for women in the perceived cost of stepping away from employment" served as major birth deterrents, she told the Post.

SJTA lodges complaint over Lord Jagannath's AI videos

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Puri, Jan 19: The authorities of the Jagannath temple in Puri Monday filed a police complaint against a social media account for circulating AI-generated photos and videos of Lord Jagannath that went viral, triggering widespread outrage among devotees.

The Shree Jagannath Temple Administration's (SJTA) complaint was filed at the Singhadwar Police Station against an account named "vishvrajcreation" for allegedly posting objectionable and fabricated visual of the deity on social media platforms.

"It has come to our notice that some unacceptable AI-generated photos and videos of Lord Jagannath have been posted on social media. These objectionable pictures and videos are being circulated by a person using the handle 'vishvrajcreation,' the SJTA said in a statement.

According to the complaint lodged by the temple administration's Special Security Officer, the AI-generated content has hurt the religious sentiments of devotees and sparked resentment.

One of the videos shows milk being poured over Lord Jagannath in front of the Puri temple using a crane-an entirely fabricated and unrealistic depiction with no basis in temple tradition, said Jagannath culture researcher Bhaskar Mishra.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL CERTAIN

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, Jan 19: Formation of a Legislative Council in Odisha now appears certain, a move expected to create political space for young leaders. The promise of a Legislative Council had earlier helped BJD pacify multiple ticket aspirants during 2014 and 2019 elections. Many of those youth later realised the assurance was largely hollow.

The BJD government approved a Cabinet proposal on forming a Legislative Council August 24, 2018, apparently to keep young leaders engaged. Had the party been serious, it could have pursued approval from the Centre, as several opportunities existed. Its failure to do so strengthened the perception that the promise lacked intent.

The issue has resurfaced amid plans to construct a new Lok Seva Bhawan and a new Assembly building on 71-acre land. The foundation stone was laid January 12, 2026. About the project, Works Minister Prithiviraj Harichandan said the existing Assembly building would not be demolished but preserved as a museum. If a Legislative Council is formed, the old building would be used for that purpose.

The minister's remarks suggest the government is planning with a long-term vision. Political observers say such a statement would not have

Works Minister Prithiviraj Harichandan has said the existing Assembly building would not be demolished but preserved as a museum. If a Legislative Council is formed, the old building would be used for that purpose, the minister asserted been made lightly or without deliberation. Under BJP rule, ministers are unlikely to make major announcements without consulting the Central leadership.

After Harichandan's statement, several young political aspirants are said to have gravitated toward the ruling BJP, hoping for a future berth in the Legislative Council. The claim has gained traction because Odisha now has a "double-engine" government, improving the prospects of implementing such decisions. As a result, the formation of a Legislative Council in Odisha is increasingly being viewed as inevitable.

India currently has 28 states and eight Union Territories (UTs). BJP-led governments are in power in 19 states and two UTs. Legislative Councils exist in six states — Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Telangana and Uttar Pradesh. Of these, four are governed by NDA, while Karnataka and Telangana have Congress governments. In the remaining states and UTs, BJP governments have shown little inclination toward forming Legislative Councils.

Salaries and allowances for Legislative Council members vary by state, but they are generally on par with those of MLAs, including pension benefits after completing a term. Many states argue that Legislative Councils are unnecessary. National-level debates have often noted that states with Councils have not shown significantly better governance or development because of them. A Legislative Council would also place an additional financial burden of several hundred crore rupees on a state/UT.

During Prime Minister Narendra Modi's first two terms, Rajya Sabha frequently posed hurdles to legislation. At state level, Legislative Councils function in a similar manner, though both Rajya Sabha and Councils have defined constitutional roles.

If Odisha establishes a Legislative Council, its structure is likely to follow the 2018 Cabinet proposal. The Council would have one-third the strength of the Assembly. With Odisha's Assembly having 147 members, the Council would have 49 seats. Of these, 16 would be elected by MLAs, 16 by local body representatives, nine nominated by the Governor, and eight elected by teachers and graduates.

It may also be recalled that the BJP, BJD and Congress recently joined hands to pass a Bill raising salaries and allowances for MLAs, ministers, the Speaker, Deputy Speaker, and former legislators.

CPI(M) MLA Laxman Munda opposed the hike. Public backlash followed, forcing Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi's party colleagues to seek withdrawal of the decision. The BJD and Congress later echoed the demand.

Against that backdrop, formation of a Legislative Council could once again raise concerns about additional financial burden on the state.

JSW accused of illegally extracting groundwater

POST NEWS NETWORK

Kujang, Jan 19: Even as the government has imposed curbs on groundwater extraction to conserve the fast-depleting resource, allegations have surfaced that JSW is illegally drawing large quantities of groundwater at its under-construction steel plant in Dhinkia-Charidesh area of Ersama block in Jagatsinghpur district.

Residents of Dhinkia-Charidesh —covering Dhinkia, Gadaguan and Nuagaon gram panchayats — have expressed concern that indiscriminate extraction of groundwater for the JSW project could have serious long-term consequences for the local population. They fear that unless immediate corrective steps are taken, the area may face an acute drinking water crisis in the coming years.

According to sources, the Central Ground Water Board (CGWB) had granted permission at the preliminary stage of the project to dig only three borewells for construction purposes. However, it is alleged that the company has illegally drilled more than 300 borewells and has been extensively using groundwater for construction activities.

Following complaints lodged with the CGWB, the company authorities reportedly removed the upper pipes of several borewells. However, fresh allegations have now emerged that borewells are again being drilled in the area to supply water to labour colony and batching plant.

allegations have now emerged that borewells are again being drilled in the area to supply water to labour colony and batching plant.

Earlier, several borewells exceeding depths of 1,000 feet were reportedly drilled and made operational. Locals now apprehend that excessive deep extraction could lead to saline water intrusion into shallow tube wells in Dhinkia-Charidesh area in the near future.

Such a development, residents warn, would severely affect the availability of potable and usable water, pushing the region towards a serious water crisis.

Despite this, no action has been taken by the CGWB or the district administration, said Deen Dayal Paradip Industrial Workers' Union president Kh irod Chandra Parida and Jindal-affected Dhinkia-Charidesh Unnayan Samiti convenor Biju Jay Ketai Sahu.

They warned that industrialisation should not be allowed to push human lives towards danger.

They said the company had earlier entered into an agreement to draw water through pipelines from the Jharkhandi area of the Mahanadi river for use in construction and other activities. However, no arrangements have been made for this so far.

Parida and Sahu said a proper inquiry would bring all facts to light and demanded an investigation into the matter.

Attempts to contact JSW project public relations officer Mithran Choudhury for comment were unsuccessful, as he did not respond to phone calls.

Cong: Cooperative institutions heading towards bankruptcy

BHUBANESWAR: All India Kisan Congress (AIKC) national coordinator Armiya Kumar Patnaik Monday alleged that cooperative institutions in Odisha are steadily moving towards bankruptcy. Patnaik said that during the last 25 years of BJD rule and under the present BJP government, cooperative institutions have turned into centres of large-scale corruption, while the legitimate demands of cooperative employees continue to be ignored. He alleged that cooperative-based oil mills, spinning mills and sugar mills have become defunct, and regulated market committees (RMCs) are failing to function effectively for farmers. The senior Congress leader said the acute shortage of warehouses for storing paddy and other crops, along with the complete absence of cold storage facilities for vegetables across the state. "State's cooperative institutions are surely heading towards bankruptcy," Patnaik said. To address these issues, Patnaik announced that the Odisha Pradesh Congress Cooperative Cell Monday launched the 'Cooperative Protection Campaign', starting from Ganjam district. The campaign aims to strengthen the cooperative sector from grassroots by making institutions active, transparent and free from corruption. He said the Congress has prepared a detailed roadmap to create widespread awareness about various welfare schemes implemented through cooperatives for people of all sections during previous Congress governments.

According to the complainants, a Facebook user named Tapi Mishra has been repeatedly sharing posts that insult and demean Dr Ambedkar.

YouTuber faces complaint over Ambedkar remarks

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, Jan 19: Several Ambedkarite groups Monday filed a complaint at the city's Capital police station against YouTuber Tapi Mishra for allegedly making derogatory remarks against BR Ambedkar on social media.

The protest was led by Sunil Panwar, National Chairman of RGPRS; Sudarshan Das, State Chairperson of RGPRS; and several senior executive body members and supporters, who sat in the agitation as a mark of protest, demanding the immediate restoration of MGNREGS.

Reacting to the issue, Panwar said that crores of poor people in the country, whom he described as the real owners of the nation, have been demanding their rightful share for a long time.

The Congress gave them the right to work in the form of MGNREGS, a rights-based law. However, last month the BJP government abolished the MGNREGS Act in the Parliament and brought in a new scheme-based law under the name VB-G RAM-G," he alleged. Panwar added that the fundamental difference between the two was that MGNREGS was a rights-based legis-litation, while VB-G RAM-G is a scheme-based programme that can be discontinued at any time.

"Under MGNREGS, registered job cardholders had the legal right to demand work within 15 days. That right has now been taken away under VB-G RAM-G," he said.

He also added that earlier, Panchayati Raj institutions had the authority to decide what kind of work would be undertaken in villages and when workers could seek employment during any month of the year.

"If work was not provided within 15 days, the worker was entitled to unemployment allowance. All these safeguards have been removed, depriving the labour class of their rights," Panwar said.

Criticising the revised funding pattern implemented by the Union government, Panwar said that earlier the Central government bore 100 per cent of the wage cost, while states were responsible only for administrative expenses.

"Now a 60:40 funding ratio has been imposed. States with weak finances will not be able to start development works, effectively denying employment to rural workers," he warned.

Addressing the gathering, Das alleged that the present BJP government has repealed the spirit of the original MGNREGS Act by introducing VB-G RAM G scheme, which, he claimed, dilutes the constitutional intent of the right to work enshrined under the Directive Principles of State Policy.

Newborn girl found dead at DHH toilet

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhadrak, Jan 19: The body of a newborn girl child was found in the toilet of the female geriatric ward at the Bhadrak district headquarters hospital (DHH) Monday, triggering shock and concern.

As per hospital sources, the incident came to light after a patient's relative noticed the newborn lying inside the bathroom of the female geriatric ward and alerted hospital staff. The infant was found dead.

Authorities suspect that a woman who had recently given birth abandoned the newborn in the bathroom and fled the hospital. It is believed that the baby may have died shortly after birth, though the exact cause of death is yet to be confirmed.

Neither on-duty health workers and staff nurses, nor security personnel did notice the incident until it was brought to their attention, raising serious questions about hospital supervision.

Hospital authorities said they have launched an internal inquiry to ascertain how the incident occurred and identify the woman involved. Efforts are also underway to determine the circumstances under which the baby was delivered and abandoned.

Police have been informed and further action will be taken after completion of preliminary inquiries and medical examination, officials said.

DFO writes to YouTube for removal of wildlife videosCONTENT CREATORS WARNED OF STRICT ACTION

POST NEWS NETWORK

Keonjhar, Jan 19: The Forest department has initiated action against posting of videos on social media that show harassment, capture or disturbance of wildlife for monetary gain ignoring existing restrictions. Keonjhar Divisional Forest Officer (DFO) Dhanraj HD has written to YouTube January 15 seeking the removal of a video which allegedly shows illegal wildlife hunting activity. The move has drawn public attention.

According to officials, a video titled "King Cobra Egg Rescue and Release in Keonjhar" was uploaded August 7, 2019, from a YouTube account named "Mirza Md Arif". The video shows a king cobra laying eggs in a nest made of dry leaves inside a protected forest area under the Ghatgaon range of Keonjhar forest division.

Without informing the Forest department, the individual allegedly destroyed the nest and removed the eggs, only to dump those later in another forest area. Officials said destroying a nest and removing eggs from within a protected forest is illegal.

The king cobra, also known as Ophiophagus hannah, is listed under Schedule I of the Wildlife (Protection) Act, making any disturbance to the animal, its nest or eggs a punishable offense. Under Section 2(16) of the Act, destroying the nest of any bird or reptile and removing its eggs constitutes hunting.

Citing these provisions, the DFO has issued a notice to YouTube seeking immediate removal of the video. The department has warned that in the next stage it may invoke Section 52 of the Wildlife (Protection) Act, related to abetment, against the platform if necessary, officials said.

The Forest department said it will issue a statutory summons to officials of YouTube, asking them to appear in Keonjhar to record statements in connection with an alleged wildlife law violation.

Officials said a file related to transactions carried out by a social media company on the account of snake handler Mirza was forwarded to the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in 2023 for scrutiny. The Keonjhar DFO is expected to open the file, sources said.

Subhendu Mallik, general secretary of the Snake Helpline, said Section 58(c) of the Wildlife (Protection) Act bars any company from deriving illegal benefit from wildlife offenses. Since platforms such as YouTube are allegedly involved, he said a case should be registered under Section 58 of the Act.

Mallik added that several videos showing snakes being caught with Mirza's assistance are available on social media. He called for the arrest of those who illegally posted such videos along with Mirza, and demanded an ED probe into the financial aspects.

In March 2013, then Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCF) and Chief Wildlife Warden Sushant Nanda declared that capturing wildlife for photographs or videos is illegal. Bhadrak-based snake handler Mirza Mohammad Arif was later arrested for violating the order by posting snake-catching videos. Subsequently, Monalisa Bhadra and her husband, Badri Narayan Bhadra, were arrested in Jajpur for videos showing monkeys being captured and fed. Despite those cases, illegal videos and photographs of captured wildlife continue to circulate on social media, allegedly due to lax enforcement.

SNIPPETSLife term for accused in Subhasmita murder case

Chhatrapur: A local court Monday sentenced a man to life imprisonment for the murder of his girlfriend in the 2021 Subhasmita case. Additional District Judicial Magistrate (ADJM) Pradeep Kumar Samal convicted Krishna Chandra Sahu for burning his girlfriend, Subhasmita Khadanga, alive inside an abandoned house in Pratappur village under the Purushottampur police limits in July 2021. According to the prosecution, Sahu and Khadanga were in a romantic relationship for more than six years. Khadanga repeatedly urged Sahu to marry her, but he refused saying his marriage had been fixed elsewhere. Even after learning about his impending marriage, Khadanga continued to insist. Investigators said Sahu, enraged and seeking to end the relationship, planned the murder and called Khadanga to his native village. He allegedly poured spirit on her and set her on fire. Khadanga later gave a dying declaration to the police, naming Sahu as the assailant. Police registered a case (334/2021) and arrested Sahu based on her statement. During the investigation, Sahu denied the allegations and claimed he was not present in the village at the time of the incident. After a thorough investigation and examination of evidence, the court found Sahu guilty and sentenced him to rigorous life imprisonment. The court also imposed a fine of ₹10,000 on the accused.

17 injured as auto falls into ghat in Gajapati

Berhampur: At least 17 people, including eight children and three women, were injured after an auto-rickshaw fell nearly 10 feet down a slope in Gajapati district Monday, police said. The accident occurred near Jara ghat under the Mohana police station limits, when the vehicle hit a roadside electric pole and overturned before plunging down the slope at the Ganjam-Gajapati district border, they said. All the injured, including the driver, were rescued and admitted to MKCG Medical College and Hospital here. The condition of five of them is stated to be serious, officials said. Police said the auto-rickshaw was travelling from Gobindapur to Badagada carrying 17 passengers at the time of the accident. Personnel from fire services units in Mohana and Badagada rushed to the spot and carried out rescue operations. The damaged vehicle has been seized and an inquiry initiated.

Marginal increase in saltwater croc count

The census was conducted using a boat-based direct observation total count method, with both day and night surveys. Daytime counts focused on sub-adult and adult crocodiles basking along riverbanks, while nighttime surveys used powerful spotlights to record hatchlings, yearlings and juvenile crocodiles, which are more visible due to eye-shine.

According to the final data, the highest concentration of estuarine crocodiles was recorded in the Kanika wildlife range. This was followed by the Rajnagar, Mahakalapara and Gahirmatha wildlife ranges.

Officials said the distribution pattern remains consistent with previous years, with Bhitarkanika continuing to serve as a stronghold for the species due to its extensive mangrove cover, protected waterways and prey availability.

In addition to the traditional census, the Forest department conducted a pilot drone-based survey in December to evaluate the feasibility of using unmanned aerial vehicles for crocodile monitoring. The initiative aims to supplement conventional counting methods, reduce observer bias and improve long-term population assessments.

Drone and camera-based identification techniques are being explored as part of future monitoring strategies, particularly in difficult-to-access creeks and dense mangrove areas.

Forest officials said the steady rise in crocodile numbers underscores the effectiveness of habitat protection, anti-poaching measures and community awareness programmes in the coastal ecosystem.

THE MOTHER

Ignoble Nobel

The world has been shocked by the way the medal of this year's Nobel Peace Prize – one of the most valued and respected prizes on earth – was transferred from its rightful owner to an unauthorized person. The awardee – Opposition leader of Venezuela María Corina Machado – and the usurper of the medal – US President Donald Trump – have not covered themselves with glory for their unprecedented action that has virtually devalued the coveted prize itself. The prize has often been a subject of controversy primarily for the political overtness that the choice of the awardees at times get. All the same it never lost its lustre as the winners are mostly hailed as tireless champions of peace. However, Trump relentlessly kept expressing his desire to get the prize ever since he first took office in 2017. In fact, he has been so obsessed with the prize that he did not hide his deep sense of insecurity that President Barack Obama had won it in 2009 soon after occupying the post for, as the Nobel committee put it, his "extraordinary efforts to strengthen international diplomacy and cooperation between peoples." Trump of course disputed it and recently said Obama "didn't even know why he got it." On the contrary, he has been touting that he deserves it fully as he has stopped "eight wars." Whatever the worth of the claims, his violent action in grabbing and arresting Venezuela's democratically elected President Nicolás Maduro and his wife from their presidential residence, in what some say an illegal raid, and his constant threat to possess Greenland rather disqualify him from getting the prize.

The show in the Oval Office of Machado transferring the Nobel medal to Trump was the least that was expected of the two political leaders. One can understand Trump's injured pride for being ignored for the prize, but the motives of Machado appear to be far more abhorrent. She seems to be using the honour as a quid pro quo, a bargaining chip for her political ambition to capture power in her country. Her party overwhelmingly won the 2024 presidential election in Venezuela, yet Trump did not even bother to install her as President in place of Maduro. Instead, he has begun working with his deputy Delcy Rodriguez, the interim President, and the entire political establishment owing allegiance to the former President.

Machado's gifting plan is, at least for the moment, not paying the calculated dividends. As she and Trump were meeting, the CIA director, John Ratcliffe, was in Caracas meeting with Rodriguez who was part of the forces that barred Machado from running in the election. In other words, Trump has chosen to operate Venezuela through the very people Machado fought. The prize, however, was mainly given to mark the bravery of those who stood up to the forces that Trump finds no difficulty in working with. Rodriguez seems to be too eager to do his bidding and grant US companies access to the world's largest oil reserve. Such an arrangement helps the US to run Venezuela's affairs by remote control without turning Trump's home constituency hostile.

This is not a conjecture. It was made amply clear after Machado handed over the medal to Trump who did not indicate any shift in his posture on Machado leading Venezuela, while the White House said his earlier assessment on Rodriguez had not changed.

Whether pressure was mounted on Machado or whether she offered the medal on her own is still in the realm of speculation. What is not difficult to understand is that both Trump and Machado made a mockery of a coveted prize for personal gains. The question remains whether the US President's personal whims and caprices should be allowed to influence the country's foreign policy as the Nobel medal is virtually being used as bait by Machado to fulfil her own personal desire to rule the country sooner or later with Trump's help. This is bribing.

However, the Director of the Norwegian Nobel Institute Kristian Berg Harpviken has bluntly told the truth that "receiving the symbols of the Peace Prize does not make anyone a Peace Prize laureate." The shameful incident should make the committee choosing the winner of the prize far more cautious when it selects future awardees. This is the lesson it can learn from the Trump-Machado medal swap deal scandal.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1778: During the reign of Kalanīpu'u, king of the island of Hawai'i, British explorer James Cook landed at Waimea, on Kauai island. Cook was the first European to visit what would become, in 1959, the U.S. state of Hawaii.

1934: Fujifilm is founded. The Japanese photography and electronics company soon became a global player in its field.

1942: Nazi officials meet to organize the extermination of Jews. During the Wannsee Conference in Berlin, the Nazis discussed what they called the "Final Solution to the Jewish question".

1945: U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated for an unprecedented fourth term in office.

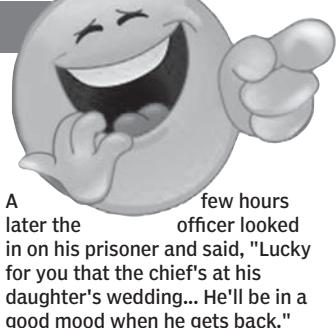

1961: Inaugural address delivered by John F. Kennedy. On this day in 1961, U.S. Pres. John F. Kennedy delivered his inaugural address in front of nearly 1 million people. He was the youngest person to have been elected president, and his speech garnered praise from across the world. His address was also marked by the famous phrase, "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

1981: The Iran hostage crisis ended when Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini released 52 Americans who had been held hostage for 15 months.

GROOM IN LOCKUP

A police officer stopped a motorist who was speeding down Main Street. "But officer," the man began, "I can explain." "Just be quiet," snapped the officer. "I'm going to let you cool your heels in jail until the chief gets back." "But, officer, I just wanted to say, "And I said to keep quiet! You're going to jail!"

A few hours later the officer looked in on his prisoner and said, "Lucky for you that the chief's at his daughter's wedding... He'll be in a good mood when he gets back." "Don't count on it," answered the fellow in the cell. "I'm the groom."

FOCUS VENEZUELA PETROSTATE DILEMMA

U.S. President Donald Trump's ongoing efforts to control Venezuela's oil rest on the assumption that the US can successfully "run" a country twice the size of Iraq. Rather than projecting strength abroad, however, this military overreach reveals the growing vulnerability of a president whose once-firm grip on American politics is steadily weakening.

Against this backdrop, the capture of Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro signals the beginning of a shift toward a more militarized global energy market. It also lays bare the consequences of deliberately destabilizing an oil-dependent economy. Far from resolving Venezuela's ongoing crisis, Trump's actions threaten to make it far worse. Regime change in Venezuela is unlikely to end with a clear "Mission Accomplished" moment. Iraq alone required at least nine years of sustained US involvement that plunged the country into a civil war, claiming the lives of more than 100,000 Iraqi civilians and costing American taxpayers roughly $2 trillion – an expense the US can hardly afford today. This conflict would also unfold much closer to home, less than 965 km from Puerto Rico.

Trump's intervention raises two critical questions: Who will govern Venezuela? And who will benefit, at least in the short to medium term, from its oil wealth? In petrostates, these questions are inseparable, as the survival of their regimes – whether democratic or authoritarian – depends on their ability to capture profits generated by oil exports and distribute them to key constituencies.

The current Venezuelan crisis sets several troubling foreign-policy precedents. Most notably, it is the first US military intervention to dispense entirely with humanitarian and security justifications in favor of an explicit resource grab.

It is also the first US military incursion into mainland South America. If past interventions in Central America and the Caribbean are any guide, it will likely result in the emergence of a criminal regime and new waves of mass migration. As with other resource-rich countries like Iraq, Libya, and Afghanistan, vast oil reserves will not protect Venezuela from a similar fate. Maduro's removal has left Venezuela with no good options. Its divided opposition may seek a power-sharing arrangement or elections, but a civilian government led by the Nobel Peace Prize laureate María Corina Machado is unlikely to survive for long.

Even during its earlier democratic period, Venezuela's oil sector was crippled by chronic inefficiencies

That is why the Trump administration may seek regime continuity through a negotiated settlement with the most powerful elements of the Chavismo coalition. Such an arrangement would leave the armed forces, security services, and civilian militias intact. Senior military officers, handsomely rewarded for preserving the status quo, would likely remain deeply embedded in key sectors such as construction, food distribution, and petroleum.

A second, more dangerous scenario is that Maduro's removal creates a power vacuum, fueling political and military fragmentation and triggering territorial struggles among competing armed groups and criminal organizations. A violent struggle over territory and illicit markets could transform Venezuela from a corruption-plagued but relatively stable country into a fractured battlefield resembling contemporary Libya. With its jungles, mountains, dense urban centers, and porous borders, Venezuela is particularly well suited to guerrilla warfare.

Political fragmentation and prolonged fighting would turn the country into a center of regional instability, perhaps drawing the US into another "forever war" that air and naval forces would be unable to contain. And the allure of gaining control of Venezuela's oil reserves would probably keep more armed groups in the fight longer. These reserves – larger than Saudi Arabia's and more than five times those of the US – represent enormous potential, especially for a relatively small economy with a large and dispersed population. But the operative word is potential. Even during its earlier democratic period, Venezuela's oil sector was crippled by chronic inefficiencies. Since 1998, production has collapsed by 75%, owing to a toxic mix of low oil prices, US sanctions, corruption, and economic mismanagement.

Who, then, will benefit from what's left of Venezuela's oil industry? Trump has announced that Venezuela will transfer up to 50 million barrels of oil to the US, and that the revenues will remain under his personal control. He has also urged major US oil companies to enter – or re-enter – the country, promising to reimburse them for the billions of dollars required to repair its broken infrastructure. In his telling, these investments would allow Venezuela to return to major-exporter status within 18 months. But this timeline is pure fantasy, since rebuilding Venezuela's oil industry would require an estimated $100 billion in investment over a period of 7-10 years. As ExxonMobil CEO Darren Woods put it (much to Trump's chagrin), high levels of economic and legal uncertainty make the Venezuelan market effectively "uninvestable."

Herein lies the petrostate dilemma. Global oversupply, low oil prices, and a shortage of investable capital mean that Trump's approach poses an existential risk to any Venezuelan government. Even without Maduro, the Chavista coalition remains bound together by access to oil rents, criminal networks, patronage systems, the threat of repression, and the emigration of nearly eight million potential dissidents.

Given that Chavismo's ideological core is oil nationalism, Trump's rhetoric could unite Venezuelans against what is widely perceived as the plundering of their country's natural resources. That backlash is already evident, with Maduro's opponents and allies alike condemning the US. Venezuela's staggering social and economic collapse during Maduro's rule underscores the dangers of Trump's approach. Between 2013 and 2021, the country's economy shrank to one-quarter of its previous size; inflation is projected to exceed 600% in 2026; and 80% of the population lives in extreme poverty. Diverting Venezuelan oil revenues to the US would necessarily deprive any government of the funds needed to tackle this crisis.

Trump could, in theory, declare victory and abandon his quest to seize Venezuela's oil. Such an outcome is of course unlikely. Trump came for the oil, and he is determined to get it. But contrary to his expectations, Maduro's removal may push that goal further out of reach, destabilizing the region and accelerating Trump's own domestic decline.

SPECTRUM BANKING

Lower cost of capital to stimulate growth

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is buying government bonds to reduce banks' borrowing costs and encourage economic growth. State and Central governments issue government bonds to raise funds for various projects and welfare initiatives, offering investors a fixed interest rate over the bond's term. This approach helps the government finance essential programmes that promote development.

Since April 2025, the RBI has invested over Rs 5 lakh crore in bonds via Open Market Operations (OMO) to boost liquidity and lower lending rates. However, rising bond yields pose a challenge, as higher yields reduce the likelihood of rate cuts and hinder credit flows. Recent data reveal a 0.57% increase in 3-month government bond yields and a 0.80% rise in 10-year yields, with an average of only 6.7% in 2025, the lowest in three years. As yields climb, the expected reduction in borrowing costs remains unlikely.

Increased bond yields have raised banks' operating costs, keeping interest rates high on loans such as home and auto loans, which negatively affects consumer spending and economic growth. In response, the RBI is considering further bond purchases to improve financial conditions. Additionally, rising gold and silver prices, along with geopolitical uncertainties and policies from international leaders such as President Trump, have led to foreign investors withdrawing capital, increasing pressure on RBI to provide additional liquidity.

OMO plays a crucial role in liquidity management. When market strains arise, RBI injects liquidity by acquiring government bonds, providing banks with capital to extend credit to businesses and individuals. Given global uncertainties and declining foreign investments, experts predict RBI may need to purchase bonds worth over Rs 2 lakh crore by March 2026. Since April 2024, the RBI has infused Rs 7.7 lakh crore into the banking system through OMOs and lowered the repo rate by 1.25% to support liquidity.

On the other hand, state governments are persistently borrowing from the market, exerting additional pressure on overall liquidity. To tackle this escalating situation, the RBI has scaled back state borrowing plans by Rs 10,000 crore, even as states aim to borrow an ambitious Rs 5 lakh crore by March 2026. It is crucial to understand that a persistent influx of bonds can drain market liquidity. Excessive government borrowing reduces market liquidity, complicates banks' lending, and raises loan interest rates.

Banks are currently facing a capital availability crisis for several reasons. Low deposit interest rates have made them less appealing to investors, and recent tax changes on deposits have discouraged savers.

Furthermore, attractive stock market and mutual fund opportunities are drawing investors away from traditional savings. Bank staff selling insurance products has also led customers to use deposits for payments, further reducing available funds.

There has been a noticeable gap between the growth rates of bank deposits and loan issuance, with deposits lagging loans, creating a shortage of affordable capital for banks. As of December 12,

INCREASED BOND YIELDS HAVE RAISED BANKS' OPERATING COSTS, KEEPING INTEREST RATES HIGH ON HOME AND AUTO LOANS

Hope & resilience

Sir, It is great news that Australian cricketer Damien Martyn, who fell in an induced coma on Boxing Day in December last year due to meningitis, an inflammation of the protective membranes around the brain and spinal cord, has miraculously pulled through and is back home now. Martyn's hospitalisation highlighted the serious nature of Meningitis, a condition that can have severe health implications. His hospitalisation deeply resonated with fans and fellow players alike, sparking an outpouring of goodwill and support as he battled a life-threatening illness. His recovery serves as a powerful reminder of the fragility of health and the importance of community support during difficult times. It has drawn significant attention to meningitis, raising awareness about its risks and the urgent need for medical intervention.

Martyn's story inspires hope and highlights the resilience of athletes facing adversity.

Lifestyle disease

Sir, The World Health Organization (WHO) identifies obesity as a major global public health challenge driven by lifestyle changes, industrialised food systems, and reduced physical activity. By 2022, one in eight people worldwide was living with obesity. Since 1990, obesity has doubled among adults and increased fourfold among children and adolescents. In 2022, about 2.5 billion adults were overweight, nearly 890 million of them obese, and by 2024 millions of children, including those under five, were also affected. WHO defines overweight as excess body fat and obesity as a chronic, relapsing disease caused by complex interactions of genetic, biological, behavioural, environmental, and market-related factors. Body Mass Index (BMI) is used to classify overweight (BMI ≥ 25) and obesity (BMI ≥ 30) in adults, while age- and sex-specific growth standards apply to children. Today, over one billion people live with obesity, with rapid increases in low- and middle-income countries, creating a double burden of undernutrition and obesity. Obesity greatly increases the risk of non-communicable diseases such as heart disease, diabetes, and certain cancers, and childhood obesity raises the likelihood of early and severe health problems, including mental health impacts. Obesity, the WHO emphasises, is a shared societal challenge requiring collective action.

voice of the people of India," he said.

Referring to his interaction with veteran Malayalam writer M Leelavathy at an award function, Gandhi said the 98-year-old author talked about "culture of silence".

Accusing the BJP and RSS, he alleged that their ideological attack was aimed at enforcing silence.

"They want India to be silent. They do not want India to express itself. They want to deliver the wealth of this country to a few business houses," he said, adding that silencing people was necessary to concentrate the nation's assets in the hands of a select few.

However, Gandhi asserted with certainty that the people of Kerala could not be silenced and would speak out through elections.

He also congratulated Congress workers and the United Democratic Front (UDF) for what he described as a strong performance in the local body elections in Kerala, especially at the panchayat level, the third tier of democracy.

He said the Congress and UDF delivered a superb performance at all levels of local self-government and expressed happiness over the results in panchayats.

Gandhi said that while there were differences of opinion among senior leaders during discussions in Delhi, he was confident that the Congress would win the local body and Assembly elections.

He added that the bigger question before the Congress and UDF leadership was what they would do after winning.

"There is a huge unemployment problem in the state, and the UDF and Congress have to provide answers to it," he said, expressing confidence that the leadership had the ability to understand people's needs and deliver.

Gandhi said that for any government to succeed, it must be close to the people and merge with them.

He said he was confident that the Congress and UDF leadership would remain humble and connected to the masses.

Calling the present phase an ideological and political battle, Gandhi said it was an honour for him to serve as a Member of Parliament from Kerala earlier.

He said he had learnt a great deal from the state, including its history, traditions, language and political depth, and above all, its ability to stand together despite diversity.

He said he felt pain at seeing thousands of Keralites go abroad due to unemployment, even as he felt pride at seeing professionals, including nurses, from the state working across the world.

"We need to free people so that what they do abroad can also be done here," he said.

Recalling his sister Priyanka Gandhi's decision to contest from Wayanad Lok Sabha constituency, Gandhi said he had advised his sister that it was an emotional choice, adding that she has since learnt new things from Kerala's society and political culture.

Kochi, Jan 19: Senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi Monday accused the RSS and the BJP of attempting to centralise power, while asserting that his party believes in decentralisation and strengthening grassroots democracy.

Speaking at a Mahapanchayat of newly elected Congress local body members here, he said the grand old party brought the 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendments to empower the three-tier Panchayati Raj system.

The Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha also alleged that the NDA government was "attacking" the MGNREGA because it was implemented through local self-government institutions.

He stressed that protecting the Constitution also meant protecting decentralised governance at the grassroots level.

The basic principle of democracy was that votes are the voice of citizens and that this voice must be protected, he added.

Drawing a contrast, Gandhi said the BJP and RSS stood for centralisation, while the Congress stood for decentralisation. "They want compliance from people for India, not the

TN CM lays foundation stone for Mamallan reservoir project

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Chennai, Jan 19: Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin Monday laid the foundation stone for the Rs 342.60 crore Mamallan reservoir project near Nemelai aimed at augmenting the drinking water resources for Chennai.

This will be the sixth dam for the city, which depends on Poondi, Cholavaram, Puzhal (Red Hills), Chembarambakkam, and Kannankottai-Theroy Kandigai.

In addition, the Veeranam lake and a few desalination plants, too, meet the requirement. "The reservoir is named after Narasimhavarman I, the Pallava emperor (who ruled from 630 - 668) as it is located in Mamallapuram (Mahabalipuram). This project is part of the DMK's consistent efforts to improve the water resources for Chennai and other parts in Tamil Nadu," the CM said after flagging off the work to commence the construction.

The project has been planned taking into account the ever-expanding boundaries of Chennai and will be etched in history, he remarked. "Some criticise that we have not contributed much. Former Chief Minister M Karunanidhi has done a lot to improve the water resources in the state. Till 2011, the DMK built 43 dams across the state during its rule in the state," Stalin said.

Apart from opening the Mettur dam on time to facilitate agricultural activities, the DMK government has ensured the desilting of the water bodies in the Cauvery delta region to the tune of Rs 450 crore and built 121 check dams.

On the Mamallan reservoir, the Chief Minister said the surplus water from 69 lakes that would invariably drain into the sea will be impounded. The dam will meet the drinking water needs of 13 lakh people in areas such as Sholinganallur, Medavakkam, Pallikaranai, Siruseri, Kelambakkam, Thirupurur, and Mamallapuram that have become part of Chennai City.

It would provide 120 million litres of water per day and in addition, ensure potable water to the suburbs, he added.

The Mamallan reservoir, located in the Kovalam sub-basin between Kelambakkam and Mamallapuram in neighbouring Chengalpattu district, aims to store the surplus floodwater which currently empties into the sea, and addresses the shortfall for drinking water in Chennai, state Water Resources Department Secretary J Jayakanthan said.

"This project will ensure 17 crore litres of water per day to Chennai and 6,605 crore litres per year and it is spread across 5,161 acres of land," he said.

Kerala Assembly budget session set to be stormy

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Thiruvananthapuram, Jan 19: The budget session of the Kerala Assembly, beginning Tuesday, is expected to be a stormy affair, with the ruling LDF and opposition UDF poised for intense confrontations over a host of politically sensitive issues ranging from the Sabarimala gold loss case to the arrest of expelled Congress MLA Rahul Mamkootathil.

The 32-day-long session, scheduled to conclude March 26, is the 16th session of the 15th Kerala Assembly and will begin with the governor's policy statement.

With the assembly polls just months away, the Congress-led UDF is expected to capitalise on its performance in the recent local body elections to target the Left government.

Another major flashpoint in the House could be the arrest of senior CPI (M) leaders, including former MLA and president of the Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB), A Padmakumar, in the sensational Sabarimala gold loss case.

Unnao rape: Delhi HC jolt for Sengar

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: The Delhi High Court Monday refused to suspend the 10-year jail term of expelled BJP leader Kuldeep Singh Sengar in the custodial death case of the Unnao rape survivor's father on the grounds of delay in trial, saying it was partly caused by the multiple applications he had filed in the matter.

"The application seeking suspension of sentence is dismissed," said Justice Ravinder Duleja. The judge observed that while Sengar has undergone prolonged incarceration of about seven-and-a-half years, relief could not be granted on the ground of delay alone, as the appellant had repeatedly moved applications for interim suspension, extension of bail and regular suspension of sentence.

Noting that Sengar was awarded the maximum sentence of 10 years in the case, Justice Duleja remarked that the offence committed was of "grave magnitude", having a "deep societal impact".

"Purpose would be served if the appeal were heard on merit in an expeditious manner," Justice Duleja said.

"In the facts and circumstances and after considering the statutory framework, the judicial principles governing suspension, the antecedents of the appellant and the absence of any new circumstance that has emerged, the court finds no ground to grant relief," the court opined. The court listed the appeal for hearing February 3.

phone from Delhi, the rape survivor expressed satisfaction with the court's verdict, saying the decision had brought her a sense of solace.

"I am very happy with the court's decision. Today, my father's soul has found some peace. I have not even performed my father's thirteenth-day rituals yet. Until his killers are sentenced to death, his soul will not find true peace," she said.

Reiterating her resolve to fight for justice, she said those responsible for her sexual assault and her father's death must face the strictest punishment.

"Kuldeep Singh Sengar, his brother Atul Singh Sengar, and everyone involved in this conspiracy must be awarded the death penalty," she said.

"This is not just my battle... it is a fight for justice and truth, and I will continue it till my last breath," she added. On March 13, 2020, Sengar was sentenced to 10 years rigorous imprisonment by a trial court, besides imposition of a fine of ₹10 lakh, in the case.

Seeking suspension of the sentence, Sengar's counsel submitted before the high court that he had been in custody since April 13, 2018, and spent more than half of his sentence in jail.

KARUR STAMPEDE CASE

CBI questions Vijay for over six hours

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: The CBI questioned TVK chief and actor Vijay for over six hours at its headquarters here for the second time in connection with the Karur stampede case, officials said.

A visibly relaxed Vijay came out of the CBI headquarters in his luxury SUV after questioning was completed at around 5 PM, got down and waved at his supporters and media, before leaving for the five-star hotel where he was staying. The actor-turned politician was earlier quizzed by the CBI

January 12. He was asked to come again January 13, but the actor sought another date due to Pongal, after which the agency summoned him Monday, they said. Dressed in a casual shirt, the actor arrived at the heavily barricaded agency headquarters on Lodhi Road with a fleet of luxury SUVs at around 10:20 am, they said.

"Lots of rumours are being spread around which are not true. We all know what happened in Karur... When last time the Home Minister was in Tamil Nadu, the state president of the BJP, Nainar Nagenthiran, had openly mentioned that Senthil Balaji who is sitting MLA from Karur was responsible for the death of 41 people and you who needs to be summoned and enquired," TVK Joint General Secretary C T Nirmal Kumar told reporters outside the CBI headquarters after Vijay's questioning ended.

Indore, Jan 19: Three houses, three autorickshaws and a chauffeur-driven car. One would think these belonged to a jeweller from Indore's Sarafa Bazaar, not a leprosy-afflicted man, who moves around inconspicuously on a wheeled board, seeking alms, but silently lending lakhs in the famed bullion market.

Officials in Indore were left stunned recently when an anti-beggar drive led them to a 50-year-old man who has reportedly amassed property worth several lakh rupees by seeking alms.

The man has lent money in the famous bullion market here and earns handsome daily interest from this business, an official said.

A leprosy patient, rescued from the Sarafa area based on information from the public, has become the talk of the city, said Dinesh Mishra, an official from the Women and Child Development Department, who is the nodal officer for the campaign to eradicate begging.

"We have learned that this man owns three concrete houses, including a three-storey building. Besides this, he also owns three autorickshaws that he rents out. He also owns a car in which he goes begging. He has even hired a driver for this purpose. He begs while moving about on a wheeled board," Mishra said.

Elaborating further on the 'riches in rags' story, the official said that the man, who has been begging since 2021, had lent ₹4.5 lakh to people in the bullion market here and charges interest that nets him between ₹1,000-1,200 per day.

In addition, he receives ₹400 to ₹500 daily in alms, the official said, adding the man was presently lodged in a shelter home. District Magistrate Shivam Verma said that Indore is a "beggar-free city" and such campaigns to rehabilitate those seeking alms in public are undertaken after information of such activities is received from the public.

However,

working to eradicate beggary, said the case of this leprosy-afflicted man should be viewed from a humanitarian perspective, claiming he did not amass his alleged wealth of millions of rupees by begging.

She explained that the man used to work as a mason a few years ago, but was unable to continue after suffering severe damage to his fingers and feet due to leprosy.

Facing social and family discrimination, he began begging at night near the famous Chaat Chowpatty in the Sarafa area, she said.

The Indore administration has imposed a legal ban on begging, giving alms, and even purchasing goods from them to make the city, already feted as the country's cleanest for the past decade, beggar-free.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Lucknow/Noida, Jan 19: The Uttar Pradesh government Monday removed the Noida Authority CEO and ordered an SIT probe into the death of the software engineer whose car plunged into a water-filled pit at an under-construction site in Noida's Sector 150, triggering widespread outrage, protests and allegations of official and developer negligence.

Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath took cognisance of the incident and directed the constitution of a high-level Special Investigation Team (SIT) to investigate the circumstances leading to the fatal accident and submit a report within five days. Adityanath has also ordered the immediate identification and rectification of accident-prone spots across Uttar Pradesh, officials said Monday. Shortly after, the state government shunted out Lokesh M, a 2005-batch senior IAS officer, from the post of Noida Authority CEO and placed him on a waitlist, according to an official order.

Lokesh M, who had assumed charge as Noida Authority CEO in July 2023 after replacing Ritu Maheshwari, also served as the de facto managing director of the Noida Metro Rail Corporation (NMRC).

A qualified dentist from Karnataka, he had earlier served as divisional commissioner in Kanpur and Saharanpur.

INDIA, UAE DEEPEN TIES

Under the defence partnership, India and the UAE are eyeing defence industrial collaboration and cooperation in advanced technologies, cyberspace training, special operations, interoperability of their militaries and counter terrorism

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: India and the United Arab Emirates Monday unveiled plans to have a strategic defence partnership and sealed an LNG deal as Prime Minister Narendra Modi and UAE President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan set a $200 billion annual trade target by 2032 while laying out a broad agenda to shore up the ties.

Modi welcomed Al Nahyan at the Delhi airport with a hug and then they travelled together in the same vehicle to the prime minister's residence, where they held talks in the restricted as well as delegation-level formats.

Out of the five documents inked by the two sides, the most striking one was the letter of intent to establish a strategic defence partnership, a move that came four months after Pakistan and Saudi Arabia sealed a defence pact to strengthen their decades-long defence ties.

Under the defence partnership, India and the UAE are eyeing defence industrial collaboration and cooperation in advanced technologies, cyberspace training, special operations, interoperability of their militaries and counter terrorism.

Artificial Intelligence was identified as another priority area of cooperation and it was decided to collaborate on setting up a supercomputing cluster in India with the UAE partnership, Misri said, adding the Gulf nation will also look at investments for expanding data centre capacities in India.

The foreign secretary said the two sides also set a target of USD 200 billion in annual trade by 2032. In 2024-25, the volume of two-way trade between the two sides was USD 100 billion.

To boost trade ties, Modi and Al Nahyan directed their teams to work towards interlinking the national payment platforms to enable efficient, fast and cost-effective cross-border payments. They also called for the expeditious implementation of key initiatives, such as the 'Bharat Mart', the 'Virtual Trade Corridor' and the 'Bharat-Africa Setu' to promote plant operations and maintenance and nuclear safety.

"This has been a short, but extremely substantive visit," Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri said at a media briefing after the UAE leader concluded his nearly three-and-a-half-hour visit that came amid increasing tensions in the Middle East and trade disruptions caused by Washington's policy on tariffs.

It said Modi and Al Nahyan acknowledged steady and strong bilateral defence and security cooperation as a core pillar of the comprehensive strategic partnership.

Another letter of intent was also signed for joint work in developing space infrastructure.

Under this initiative, both sides will look to set up new launch complexes, satellite fabrication facilities, joint missions, space academy and training centres, the foreign secretary said.

A separate document was inked to provide for the UAE's participation in the development of a special investment region in Gujarat's Dholera.

This initiative will look at the establishment of an international airport, a pilot training school, an MRO (Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul) facility, a greenfield port, a smart urban township, as well as projects related to railway connectivity and energy infrastructure, Misri added.

Mentally-ill homeless people destitute to extreme: SC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: The Supreme Court Monday described homeless people suffering from mental illnesses as "destitute to the extreme" and "most vulnerable", and gave the Centre a last opportunity to come up with standard operating procedures for rehabilitating them.

A bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta made the remarks while posting a public interest litigation (PIL) matter for hearing February 9, after the Centre's counsel sought some time to file a reply to the plea.

"We are giving you a last opportunity to frame the SOPs and file the reply. It is a sensitive issue and all depends on the effective implementation of the SOPs. These are people who are destitute to the extreme and most vulnerable. India ranks 16th in Responsible Nations' Index

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: Singapore ranked first and India 16th in the Responsible Nations' Index (RNI) launched by former president Ram Nath Kovind here Monday. Switzerland was second, Denmark third and the Central African Republic stood last on the 154-nation index.

India's neighbour Pakistan was in the 90th place. China was ranked 68th and the US 66th, according to the RNI. Kovind launched the RNI, a first-of-its-kind global index that evaluates countries based on how responsibly they exercise power towards their citizens, global community and the planet.

The RNI is a global evaluative framework developed by the think tank World Intellectual Foundation (WIF) in academic collaboration with Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) and methodological validation by the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Mumbai. Kovind underlined the importance of ethical governance, inclusive development, and moral responsibility in shaping sustainable national and global futures.

"The index is not a scoreboard which increases competition, but a mirror of morality and responsibility which reflects if countries are doing justice to their citizens," he said. Sudhanshu Mittal, Founder and Secretary, WIF, said the RNI represents a shift from power-centric assessments to responsibility-centric evaluation of nations.

"The Responsible Nations Index asks a fundamental question - how responsibly does a nation exercise its power? Prosperity without responsibility is unsustainable. The RNI seeks to encourage ethical governance, humane development and global stewardship," he said.

SC orders EC to display discrepancy list in WB

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: Observing that the Special Intensive Revision process in West Bengal should be transparent and not cause inconvenience, the Supreme Court directed the Election Commission (EC) Monday to display the names of those on the "logical discrepancies" list at gram panchayat bhavans and block offices, where documents and objections will also be submitted.

Logical discrepancies in progeny linking with the 2002 voter list include instances of a mismatch in the parent's name and the age difference between a voter and their parent being less than 15 years or more than 50 years

The top court added that under the "logical discrepancy" category, mismatches in father's name or parents' age, and a difference in the age of the grandparents were noticed by the authorities. The apex court said those likely to be affected by the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of the electoral rolls in West Bengal must be allowed to submit their documents or objections.

The top court directed that the office for submitting the documents and objections shall be set up within the panchayat bhavans or block offices and asked the West Bengal government to provide ade-

Bengaluru civic body polls will be held after May 25, says State EC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bengaluru, Jan 19: Elections to the five city corporations under the Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) will be held after May 25 with ballot papers instead of EVMs, Karnataka State Election Commissioner G S Sangreshi said Monday.

He also said that zilla and taluk Panchayat polls, which are expected later this year, will also be held using ballot papers.

"Elections will be held tentatively after May 25, after SSLC (class 10) and PUC (class 11 and 12) examinations are over, and before June 30," Sangreshi added.

The Supreme Court had last week asked the Karnataka government and the state election body to hold Bengaluru local body polls by June 30.

Speaking to reporters here, the Commissioner said, this time the GBA election will be held using ballot papers.

"There are two best practices to hold elections, ballot papers were being used since the beginning, but since 20-30 years ago EVMs are being used.

Use of ballot papers is not barred by law or by the judgements of the Supreme Court," he said, defending the decision to use ballot papers.

The Congress government in Karnataka in September last year had decided to recommend to the State Election Commission (SEC) to hold all the future panchayat and urban local body polls in the state using ballot paper instead of Electronic Voting Machines, claiming there is an erosion of confidence and credibility, among the people towards EVMs.

Noting that developed countries like America too use ballot papers, the state election commissioner said, most elections like Gram Panchayat, Cooperative polls are held using ballot papers, except Assembly and Lok Sabha elections. "However, last time the Bengaluru corporation polls in 2015 were held using EVMs," he noted.

NOBEL COMMITTEE GAVE 2025 PEACE PRIZE TO MACHADO, NOT TRUMP

The Norwegian Nobel Committee annoyed Trump by awarding the 2025 Nobel Peace Prize not to him but to Venezuelan opposition leader María Corina Machado. She gave her medal last week to Trump during a White House meeting, though the Nobel Committee said the prize cannot be transferred, shared or revoked.

In his message, Trump also repeated his accusation that Denmark cannot protect Greenland from Russia or China.

"... and why do they have a 'right of ownership' anyway?"

he wrote, adding, "The World is not secure unless we have Complete and Total Control of Greenland." Trump vowed Saturday to implement a wave of increasing tariffs from February 1 on EU members Denmark, Sweden, France, Germany, the Netherlands and Finland, along with Britain and Norway, until the US is allowed to buy Greenland, home to only 57,000 people.

TALKS WITH TRUMP IN DAVOS?

Norway's Stoere amended his schedule, announcing that he would attend the World Economic Forum in Davos Wednesday and Thursday, overlapping with Trump's planned appearance at the annual gathering of the global political and business elite.

Stoere had not been scheduled to attend this year's conference at the Swiss Alpine resort, where Trump is expected to deliver a keynote address Wednesday in his first appearance at the event in six years.

German Chancellor Friedrich Merz said he too would try to meet Trump Wednesday, adding that a trade dispute was not wanted.

Moscow, Jan 19: Russian President Vladimir Putin has received an invitation to join US President Donald Trump's Gaza Peace Board, and the invitation is under consideration, the Kremlin said Monday.

"Indeed, President Putin also received an offer through diplomatic channels to join this Peace Board," the Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters.

3

"We are currently studying all the details of this proposal, and we hope to contact the American side to clarify all the details," he said.

4

Several other countries have received offers from the US to join this body. Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Pakistani counterpart Shehbaz Sharif have also received invitations to join the Peace Board.

5

The US president unveiled the board as part of the second phase of a ceasefire agreement between Israel and Hamas in the Gaza Strip.

6

In October, Israel and militant group Hamas agreed to Trump's peace plan.

7

The board is being projected by Washington as a new international body to usher in peace and stability in Gaza and beyond, triggering speculations that it may respond to other global conflicts as well.

8

"Russia sees the Gaza Peace Board as the US attempt to create a rival of the United Nations Organisation with a broader mandate," Russia's Channel-1 TV said Monday in its 'Pryamoi Efir' (Live Broadcast) political show.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, Jan 19: The rupee depreciated 12 paise to close at 90.90 against the greenback Monday, a tad above its record low closing level, weighed down by robust greenback demand from metal importers and persistent foreign fund outflows.

Forex traders said rising geopolitical uncertainty, including renewed US expansionary signals, has increased risk aversion and kept emerging market currencies under pressure.

Selling pressure in domestic equities further dented investor sentiment. Moreover, investors were also concerned after US President Donald Trump announced tariffs on European countries if they resisted his plan to control Greenland.

At the interbank foreign exchange, the rupee opened at 90.68 and slid past the crucial 91.01 against the greenback during the session. It finally settled 12 paise lower at 90.90 against the dollar, just 3 paise above its record low closing level.

Gains in fast-moving consumer goods, which rose 0.7%, helped limit losses on the benchmarks.

Global sentiment remained shaky after US President Donald Trump vowed Saturday to implement a wave of increasing tariffs from February 1 on eight European Union members until Washington is allowed to buy Greenland.

Thirteen of the 16 major sectors logged losses on the day. The small- and mid-caps fell 1% and 0.4%. Among other stocks, RBL Bank and Yes Bank dropped 6.7% and 3%, while Federal Bank jumped 3.5% to a fresh record high after reporting its quarterly earnings.

Tech Mahindra rose 2.9% after surpassing third-quarter revenue expectations.

IndiGo jumped 4.2% after Jefferies said the $2.45 million fine imposed by India's aviation regulator for last month's mass flight cancellations appeared lower than feared.

STATE BORROWINGS MAY RISE FURTHER

State borrowings could rise further following the recent revamp of the rural jobs scheme, which shifts more of the financial burden onto state governments, the person said, adding that states may overtake the federal government in borrowings over the next few years.

In the current fiscal year, which runs from April to March, Indian states are set to borrow nearly as much as the central government, with gross higher state borrowings having eroded benefits from the 100 basis points in interest rate cuts this fiscal year and pushed up costs for corporate borrowers, four analysts and traders said.

The yield on the 10-year central government bond has risen by 10 basis points in the current fiscal year, while benchmark yields for top-rated corporates have increased by 30 basis points.

To keep yields in check, the RBI is expected to purchase about ₹5.7 trillion of central government bonds this year, an amount equivalent to more than half of the government's net borrowing, effectively easing the supply burden.

FARICAL FINAL

Senegal kings of Africa

Controversial penalty, disallowed goal, Senegal's walk-off, then extra-time drama crowned a chaotic AFCON final for the ages

REUTERS

Rabat, Jan 19: African football would have been hoping for a thrilling end to a slick and competitive Cup of Nations tournament but will wake up Monday with a major headache after the final between Senegal and hosts Morocco descended into farce.

Senegal, who won 1-0 after extra time, staged a walk-off after they had a penalty awarded against them deep in stoppage time at the end of the match.

They were ordered off the field by their coach Pape Bouba Thiaw, with some players going back to the dressing room, and

Senegal's team and fans were angered by being denied what shaped as a title-winning goal early in stoppage time of a 0-0 draw when the referee called a foul to rule out the goal

it was only after Sadio Mane calmed them back that the game continued.

"What did we say to each other? That's between us. We did it together and we came back together, that's all that matters," said goalkeeper Edouard Mendy, one of those involved in ugly scenes of jostling and arguing between the players.

A 14-minute delay between the awarding of the penalty, after a lengthy VAR review, and the taking of the kick was followed by a tame effort from Morocco's Brahim Diaz, who had been their star performer as they reached the final for the first time in 22 years.

His Panenka-style chipped effort floated into Mendy's arms, leaving the game goalless and having to go into extra time.

"He attempted the Panenka, but I stayed on my feet. We kept the team in the game, and I helped my team at that moment," Mendy added.

The penalty was awarded following a VAR check by Congolese referee Jean-Jacques Ndala after Brahim Diaz had been tugged to the ground by Senegal full back El Hadji Malick Diouf while defending a corner five minutes into stoppage time.

Morocco coach Walid Regragui said the delay did not help Diaz.

"But that doesn't excuse Brahim for the way he hit the penalty. He hit it like that and we have to accept it. We were one minute from being African champions. That's football. It's often cruel. We missed what for

The Indian duo then combined forces in the SL3-SL4 men's doubles event, where Bhagat and Kadam were awarded the gold medal following a walkover in the final against fellow Indians Umesh Vikram Kumar and Surya Kant Yadav, completing a memorable double-gold outing for both.

Bhagat showcased grit and experience in the SL3 men's singles final, defeating compatriot Umesh Vikram Kumar in a thrilling three-set contest.

After conceding a closely-fought opening game 19-21, Bhagat raised his intensity and tactical sharpness to take the next two sets 21-15 and 21-13, sealing victory in a match lasting over an hour.

In the SL4 men's singles category, Bhagat and Kadam underlined his consistency and mental toughness, overcoming India's Surya Kant Yadav in straight sets. Both games went down to the wire, with Kadam prevailing 27-25, 21-18 in a high-quality final.

Kadam, on his part, said, "The singles final was mentally demanding, and I had to stay composed till the very end. Partnering with Pramod in doubles and winning gold together is always special. This is exactly the kind of start we were aiming for this season."

ICC gives final deadline to BCB

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, Jan 19: The ICC has asked the Bangladesh Cricket Board (BCB) to decide on its participation in the T20 World Cup in India by January 21 or "risk being replaced by another team" in the tournament beginning February 7.

Despite the back and forth between ICC and BCB, no solution has been found to the crisis that was triggered by the removal of Bangladesh pacer Mustafizur Rahman from the 2026 Indian Premier League on BCCI's instructions for unspecified "developments all around." "The BCB officials have been told to decide on the participation by January 21. If they refuse to travel to India, then they should be ready to be replaced by another team as per rankings," said an ICC source.

In case Bangladesh continue to be unyielding, the replacement team would most likely be Scotland based on current rankings. Bangladesh is scheduled to play three leagues games in Kolkata and one in Mumbai. The BCB has remained adamant on either a change of venue or a change of groups to facilitate its games in Sri Lanka.

Pak halt preparations in solidarity with B'desh

Acting on its threat to withdraw from the upcoming ICC Men's T20 World Cup in support of Bangladesh's demand to move its matches out of India, the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) has halted its team's preparations for the event, to be organised by India and Sri Lanka next month, according to a news report. A day after Pakistan threatened to pull out of the T20 World Cup if Bangladesh's demand to relocate its matches out of India was not accepted, the PCB has acted and asked the team to ease up on its preparations for the event, Telecom Asia Sport reported Monday. "The Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) has put on hold all preparations for the national team ahead of the ICC T20 World Cup 2026, with the team management briefed about the plans," top PCB sources told www.
